CONCILIATION BOARD.

SIR,—I HAVE the honour to forward herewith the proceedings, report and award of the Board recently appointed by you to inquire into a dispute on Holmwood estate, Agrapatanas. I regret the delay in achieving finality in the matter. As will be seen from the addendum to the report, although complete unanimity was expressed at the Board's final meeting on March 8, one of the members subsequently retracted his agreement, with the result that considerable further correspondence became necessary.

2. I regret also being unable to forward a unanimous report ; the majority report is signed by myself and Mr. Trotter, the employers' representative, subject to one rider and the minority by Mr. Letchumanan Chettiyar, the labourers' representative. The award, however, is unanimous.

3. The names of the nominees under section 6 (5) of the Ordinance appear at page 61.

4. Kindly acknowledge receipt of these proceedings.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,
(Sgd.) C. F. INGLEDOW,
Chairman.

The Controller of Labour.

REPORT.

WE were appointed on February 24, 1940, by the Controller of Labour as a Board to inquire into a dispute which has arisen between the Superintendent and the labourers of Holmwood estate, Agrapatanas, in regard to the dismissal of certain labourers from that estate.

We met at the Office of the Deputy Labour Controller, Hatton, on February 26 and thereafter, by courtesy of the estate authorities sat for several days, recording evidence at the estate itself. A full inquiry was held, and the evidence of a very considerable number of witnesses was recorded. Both sides were afforded every facility to adduce any evidence they considered might help their case, and bring light to bear on the points in dispute.

Following the conclusion of the inquiry proper, a further meeting was held at the Secretariat, Colombo, on March 8, 1940, when the evidence recorded was reviewed seriatim and the individual case of each dismissed labourer concerned, as well as the more general aspects of the whole dispute were discussed.

We are glad to be able to record that we have reached unanimity on our decisions (see at end).

2. Preliminary Steps.—Before proceeding to enlarge on the course of our inquiry proper, we think it well to give a brief outline of the state of affairs existing at the time we commenced our task.

Certain labourers had been dismissed by the estate on February 9 and 12, 1940, after a lengthy period of general unrest. Following the latter date, a large number of labourers, varying from day to day, refused to turn out to work. Certain of the labourers who apparently belonged to that body had appealed for intervention to the Ceylon Workers' Federation, the President of which is Mr. Natesa Iyer. This gentleman inquired into the matter, and interviewed the estate authorities. It appears that he announced his intention of asking for a Conciliation Board to deal with the dispute, but there is no evidence as to any definite result of this intention. Meanwhile other labourers appear to have appealed for intervention to the Ceylon Indian Congress. This latter body took steps to interrogate the labourers, and also interviewed the Labour Controller in Colombo. Certain "interim" arrangements were discussed, to which however, the estate, which was not represented at the interview, was not a party. On the representations of the Congress, the Labour Controller agreed to appoint a Board to investigate the dispute, and so we came into being. It may here be noted that from the time the possibility of appointment of a Board was mooted, the number of labourers turning out for work increased every day. Thus on February 26—the date of the Board's first sitting—approximately two-thirds of the entire labour force were working, and this figure has been well maintained since.

3. Efforts of Labour Control Department.—An account of the steps taken immediately preceding the opening of our inquiry would be incomplete without a statement of the efforts to bring about a settlement made by the Deputy Controller of Labour, Hatton, Mr. M. Rajendra. This Officer visited the estate on a number of occasions, interviewed the estate authorities, and also a number of the labourers, including an individual talk with each of those dismissed. The main facts of his inquiry appear in the evidence given by him before us. Though his efforts to settle the matter were unsuccessful, his evidence has been of very material assistance to us in determining on the genuineness or otherwise of the grievances voiced by various labourer witnesses at our inquiry.

4. Cause of Strike.—As to the cause of the actual strike, there does not appear to be any question.

The Deputy Labour Controller has informed us that he made the most searching inquiries on the point, among the labourers generally, and the sole grievance that he could discover was the dismissal of their fellow labourers on February 9 and 12. Nor does any other grievance, collective or individual, appear to have been communicated either to the Workers' Federation or the Ceylon Indian Congress. This is further corroborated by the fact that at our inquiry no evidence whatever of any other grievance, on the part of the remaining estate employees, was forthcoming.

5. Issues.—The cause of the strike being thus determined, the issues before the Board were obviously narrowed down to the sole question was the dismissal of the employees concerned, on February 9 and 12, justified either, wholly or partially, and if the latter, to what extent ?

If the answer to this question is in the affirmative, there can clearly be no valid reason for any continuance of the strike ; if in the negative, the duty is cast on the Board of deciding what steps have got to be taken to restore harmony, banish unrest on the estate, and reassure all the estate employees that they will be fairly treated in future. This issue was framed by us early in our proceedings, and so far as we might we have limited the evidence to such as bears upon it.

6. "Reasonable" Cause.—We may here admit that it is not without some difficulty that we have been able to arrive at agreement as to what can and cannot be considered as "reasonable cause" for dismissal. The problem is not an easy one. But we may here say that in our opinion the question of mere "legality" is not the sole or main consideration. Under the statutory law it is true notice together with a month's wages "in lieu", satisfies all legal requirements. But in our view, our functions as a Board are concerned more with equity—the common rights, so to speak, as between man and man—rather than the strict interpretation of the law governing contractual relations as between employer and employee. It is obvious first that "reasonable cause" may consist of factors which have nothing to do with any act or omission on the part of the employee, e.g., dismissal of employees owing to loss experienced in carrying on business, or the closing down in whole or part of an estate or factory. But in cases where the reaon for dismissal of an employee is alleged to be an act or omission of such employee himself, the situation is rather different. In such cases, in our own opinion, equity demands an answer to the question whether that allegation is true, and whether the dismissal is reasonably justified. It may be noted that the terms of the statutory law deal only with the termination of a particular employment : their scope does not extend to the consideration of any future following such termination.

But in equity, the effects of such termination on the dismissed employee's chances of future employment have also to be considered : such chances should not be jeopardized or unduly minimized by any unjustifiable act of dismissal. There appears to us a real need for some clarification of the position on this point, and this we offer as our excuse for having dwelt at some length upon it.

In the present case the estate has given definite reasons for the dismissal of each employee concerned. The charges involved are of insubordination, direct disobedience, repeated bad work, absence without leave, continued slackness and deliberate shirking. On charges such as these, the issue is clearcut ; if proved, they fall without a doubt, into the category of "reasonable cause" for dismissal. It will also be clear, however, that if not proved, if, in fact unjustly or lightly levelled, they would prove a very serious bar to any chance of future employment. As already stated, we have finally reached a broad basis of agreement upon the somewhat difficult point, and it is from this basis that we have carefully examined the circumstances of each dismissal.

7. Charge of prejudice against joining organized bodies.—We have been struck in the course of our proceedings, by the continued re-iteration of one main reason by all the employees concerned for their dismissal. This was that the estate authorities had resented the joining by their labourers, of any organized trade union or political association. The bodies concerned in the present case are the Workers' Federation, which we understand to be a Trade Union, and the Ceylon Indian Congress, which is more of a political organization. We have examined the allegation with great care, and we have come to the conclusion that it is entirely without foundation. Indeed, on the contrary, there is evidence on record, which we believe to be reliable, that the estate authorities, so far from resenting the "intrusion" of any organization qualified to speak for the labourers, would have welcomed it, one of their main difficulties in dealing with the situation being that they were more or less in the dark as to exactly what organization, whether political or trade union or both their labourers claimed to represent. That this uncertainty did really exist is further borne out by facts of which we shall speak presently. There appears to us, however, good proof, that, in spite of such uncertainty, the estate authorities maintained throughout a conciliatory attitude, and went as far as they could reasonably go to satisfy all legitimate demands of their employees. It is indeed, a moot point, we consider whether this forbearance was not actually carried a little too far and whether it would not have been to the interest of all concerned if the estate authorities had elected to take a firmer stand somewhat earlier. We would point, in this connection, to the removal of the estate Kanakapulle in order to satisfy what was apparently a groundless complaint, the failure to take proper disciplinary measures against those responsible for disorderly scenes, and the action of the estate in concontinuing to give a full day's pay for only a part day's work. We are given to understand that the object of the estate authorities was to explore thoroughly the causes of the prevailing unrest and remove all possible grievances that might exist, before proceeding to take far firmer measures. This is entirely a laudable attitude : it is however a truism, that conciliation, carried too far, is liable to be construed as weakness, and it appears to us more than possible that in the present case the trouble may have been aggravated by some such misconstruction. The delay in taking decisive action, moreover, as each successive case arose, has had, in our opinion, this further unfortunate result : it has laid the estate authorities, when they did determine to take a stand against the growing disorder, open to the charge of having singled out a number of ring leaders for victimization.

We do not in fact, in the light of our investigation of each particular dismissal believe that this was the case : it seems to us however unfortunate that the circumstances were sufficiently colourable to allow of the suggestion being put forward.

8. Real Character and Aims of Estate Association.—In the course of our inquiry into this allegation of prejudice on the part of the estate authorities against organized associations we elicited some very significant facts as to the real standing and character of the "union" claiming to represent the labourers on the estate.

Thus it appears from the evidence that not only the acts complained of by the estate authorities, but also the whole sequence of events on the estate, of which these actions were merely part were in no way inspired or instigated by—in fact, had no connection whatsoever with the activities, of any recognized political or trade Union body. It is on the contrary, apparent that, although the names of the Congress and the Workers' Federation were employed to cover the formation of a local estate "faction", the activities of the faction were at no time controlled or directed by any main organized association. They appear in fact to have been simply and solely the outcome of a plan of campaign formulated and put into action by a few of the rowdier element among the labourers themselves. It is in evidence that apart from the "enrolment" of labourers in the names, ostensibly, of the two bodies mentioned, all the action of the union so formed were directed by one Vaitilingam and his immediate associates and by no one else. It is further in evidence that no guidance or code of conduct, general or particular, governing the scope and direction of this local "sangam's" activities, was ever either sought or obtained from any responsible outside organization.

In fact for a period of over 4 months, during which unrest on the estate was growing by leaps and bounds and subversive tactics were being employed almost daily, up to the beginning of February, 1940, there is no evidence that either of the two parent associations was ever approached by Vaitilingam and his associates.

It seems clear, too, that neither of these parent bodies was aware of the methods and tactics which were being employed in their name by the local leaders on the estate—methods which no recognized organization worthy of the name would countenance for a moment. The character of these methods appears sufficiently in the evidence and need not be stressed here. There is reliable evidence of the open flouting of estate authority, the gradual creation of a state of disorder, and lawlessness and studied interference with estate working and routine. The point we wish to emphasize here, however, is that these actions were not, as appears to us part of a policy approved and laid down by any responsible organization seeking to further the interests of the labour force ; they were rather the irresponsible acts of a few self-seeking agitators whose aim it was to use a number of credulous labourers as a tool for the furtherance of their own interests. The harm done to all sections of the community concerned by the toleration of such vicious activities will be apparent at a glance. The good name and reputation of organizations whose genuine and sincere aim it is to protect the labourers' interests, is besmirched. The estate authorities are faced with the prospect of pecuniary loss, and are moreover undeservedly harrassed and thwarted in their efforts to deal justly with their employees. But it is, in our view, the labourers themselves to whom the gravest harm is caused or threatened. Not only are they as a body, exposed to the risk of general dismissal, if an estate, severely hit by such methods, is compelled to close down, but they are also individually liable to summary dismissal for acts blindly committed at the behest of self-interested leaders. So strongly has the possibility impressed us, that in reviewing the case of each dismissed employee, it has been one of our main cares to ensure that no innocent victim should suffer for the mischievous activities of others.

We wish to emphasize this aspect of the matter because it appears to us that, in the interests of all the parties concerned prompt action is called for. Legitimate intervention by a properly constituted and recognized trade union, acting in the genuine interests of the labourers, is one thing ; the irresponsible stirring up of trouble, for their own ends by one or two self-seeking individuals, is altogether another.

9. Causes of Unrest.—We have sought in the course of our inquiry to discover the underlying causes of the unrest prevailing on the estate for the last few months, which has now culminated in the present dispute. To this end we have questioned both estate and labourer witnesses and also the Labour Controller, in order to discover what, if any genuine grievances underlay the action taken by the labourers. We have been able to discover none. It is true that before us a few of the labourer witnesses have spoken of enmity and bad feeling against them on the part of the head kangany and the tea maker—members of the subordinate staff. But these, even if genuine—and in this connection it is significant that they were not considered of sufficient importance to be mentioned either to the Deputy Labour Controller or to Mr. Natesa Aiyar, at their inquiries—are purely individual cases and altogether insufficient to account for the general attitude towards work and discipline shown of the labourers generally.

We are therefore forced to the conclusion that the unrest has been artificially created and deliberately fomented by the individuals we have already alluded to. No other theory appears to us to fit the facts. That the "slow-down" in work was general throughout the estate appears to us to be proved. That at one period it completely stopped, only to commence again at a moment's notice also appears from the evidence of the estate superintendent, whose word on this point we see no reason to disbelieve.

It appears to us, then that this also was part of the policy of the local leader in pursuance of his attempt to oust the estate authority. The evidence given by the Superintendent of the loss caused to the estate by this policy is not in our opinion, quite so conclusive as it might have been.

It is difficult, possibly, without a great deal of preparation to show with any clearness a rise or fall of costs over a few months when the whole estate accounts and estimates are based on a full year's working. But the evidence adduced of actual and probable loss to the estate was, we consider, quite sufficient to warrant the gravest apprehension on the part of the estate authorities. An estate is not a charitable institution ; those who invest their money in it naturally expect a return, and it is for them to say whether that investment is worth continuing. It is in evidence that the estate authorities at one time did actually discuss the advisability of wholly or partly closing down the estate.

While we do not consider that the loss, up to date, has attained any considerable figure, it will be obvious that its continuance and possible increase, was sufficient justification for the estate to take all possible measures to combat it. It has been for us to discover whether the individual acts taken to that end are likewise justified.

10. Justice of individual dismissals.—In coming to a decision on this point, we have taken the utmost care to act solely on evidence which we can feel to be beyond suspicion. It has already been said that certain allegations against various members of the subordinate staff have been made before us. We are not, in the main, very much impressed by those allegations, most of which are entirely unsupported by corroborative evidence, and are made apparently for the first time. We do however, think it fairly clear that some at least of the activities of Vaitilingam and his associates must have so far affected the interests of certain of the subordinate staff and in particular, of the head kangany, as to cause a certain amount of heart burning and resentment. To that extent it is therefore possible that the evidence of parties so affected might not be altogether disinterested. But it is not so in the case of the estate superintendent. Possibly the most remarkable feature of this inquiry has been the unanimity with which all the labourers, employed and dismissed alike, have acknowledged the justice, fairmindedness and complete honesty of purpose of the Superintendent, Major Lepper. While his assistant, Mr. Fowke has been only a short time on the estate and is not so well known to the labourers we were much impressed by the frank and straightforward way in which he gave his evidence. No personal motive, no reason for pre-varication whatsoever was at any time imputed to the two witnesses in the course of a searching cross-examination. We feel therefore that we can rely with confidence on the evidence of these two witnesses and this feeling is strengthened by the restraint and moderation which has characterized the acts of the estate superintendent throughout.

Where, therefore, definite personal experience of bad and slack work and insubordination has been testified to by these two witnesses and the main facts of such evidence have not been shaken or controverted in cross-examination, we have not hesitated to accept it. But in order to give the accused employees every possible latitude we have not thought fit to act on any other evidence which might possibly be impugned.

11. The results of our scrutiny and sifting of this evidence against the accused employees, appear in our award. In all eleven male labourers were dismissed, the remainder being their wives and familes who could obviously not remain on the estate when their male relatives had left. In the case of 9 of these, we are entirely convinced that their dismissal was fully justified. We are satisfied that they did in fact commit the offences with which they were charged, with full understanding of the nature and consequence of their action. These employees should not in our opinion be allowed to remain on the estate.

In the case of one labourer although we are satisfied that the offence alleged was actually committed, we are of opinion that he was merely an unwitting tool in the hands of an unscrupulous leader and we recommend that the notice be cancelled and he be allowed to remain on the estate.

In the case of the last labourer while in our opinion reasonable cause for dismissal has been proved, the particular circumstances are such that some special concession we consider is called for from the estate. This we have outlined in our award.

12. Attitude of Estate Authorities.—We think it only right here to make some reference to the attitude of the estate authorities during these proceedings. Their attitude has throughout been most helpful and conciliatory and entirely without vindictiveness. They have shown themselves willing to consider the question of reasonable repatriation of labourers wishing to leave and they have readily acceded to our suggestion to allow rice to be issued to all who needed it, whether under notice or not. While we regret that it has not been found possible to reach a settlement during the course of our inquiry, we think it incumbent on us to express our appreciation of the assistance which their helpful attitude has afforded us.

13. General Remarks.—We have no wish to go outside the terms of our reference but we feel that it might not be out of place here to emphasize one or two points which have impressed us forcibly during our inquiry. The first of these—the urgent need of machinery to eliminate the self-seeking agitator as opposed to the orderly intervention of a recognized association—we have already stressed. It is however hardly for us, we feel to suggest the ways and means.

Another point that has struck us somewhat forcibly is the apparent entire lack of means under the existing law, of enforcing discipline otherwise than by dismissal. A warning is insufficient : it may be heeded or it may not. In the present case the evidence reveals that repeated warnings proved of no avail. We understand that a fine—a form of punishment which the ordinary labourer can understand and take to heart, is out of the question, as according to law the labourer's whole wage has to be paid over to him without any deduction. This provision was doubtless framed in the labourers' interests : actually from what we have learned during this inquiry, we are inclined to doubt if it is so. As things stand, if a warning is unheeded the employer's sole remedy is dismissal—surely as unnecessarily drastic remedy. The introduction of some sort of deterrent midway between these two extremes would seem to be called for in the labourers' own interests. Finally, we are very definitely of opinion that the calling in of Police assistance, except when actual pressing future danger is apprehended, is a course very strongly to be deprecated. We do not here refer to the ordinary Police patrols on estates generally, but to their being called in, presumably for the purpose of overawing possible recalcitrants to assist the estate superintendent in his ordinary dealings with his employees. This course is bound, we consider to have a prejudical effect on the minds of the labourers generally and tend to create an atmosphere of distrust and apprehension even among the more loyally-minded labourers. The dealings of an employer and his subordinates, we feel, should be absolutely free from any threat or suspicion or threat of outside pressure. We fully realize that this problem is an exceedingly delicate one and our remarks we need not say, are not meant to apply to cases where actual violence has been used or threatened to any controlling authority. We realize that the estate authority is responsible for any harm or injury resulting from an omission to take proper precautions. We realize too that conditions generally at the present time are very difficult. But we would still urge that there may be ways and means preparing against such eventualities without the actual introduction into the dealing between employers and employed of an outside element which is liable to cause resentment and accentuate existing differences.

Award 14. Our award is annexed.

ADDENDUM.

At the final meeting of the Board on March 8, 1940, as already stated, unanimity was reached on the issues to be decided and the Chairman was authorized to draw up a report which all members of the Board expressed their willingness to sign. This report was therefore drafted on that basis. Subsequently, however, Mr. Letchumanan Chettiyar has intimated that he was unable to agree with the general conclusion as expressed in the report and has forwarded with this dissent, a separate minority report, which is annexed. The majority report is therefore signed by the Chairman and Mr. Trotter only. Under the circumstances it has not been thought necessary to redraft the report, the more so as the award itself has the unanimous approval of the Board.

AWARD.

The Award of the Board is as follows :—

1. The notice served by the estate on the following labourers, viz., Sengan Kangany, Ramasamy, Rengasamy, Vaitilingam, Mariadas, Nallayan, K. Thirumaly, G. Thirumaly, and Govindaraj, is confirmed, and these labourers are to leave the estate, within one week of publication of this Award and without trouble or disturbance.

2. Subject to the foregoing condition being carried out, the estate will provide each of the above labourers who wishes to return to India, together with his wife and family to a total not exceeding 7 (seven) persons in the case of each labourer, with a ticket to his destination in India, together with a sum of Rs. 4 per head for necessary journey expenses.

3. The notice served by the estate on the labourer Bodi Kangany is cancelled and this labourer is to be allowed to remain on the estate if he so wishes. Should he elect to return to India, the provisions of paragraph 2 of the Award are to be applied to him also.

4. The notice served by the estate on the labourer Ponnusamy is confirmed and he is to leave the estate within one week from the publication of this Award and without disturbance or trouble. RIDER TO THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CONCILIATION ON THE DISPUTE ON HOLMWOOD ESTATE SUBMITTED BY MR. A. M. G. TROTTER.

While fully subscribing to the award and to the main features of the report I must strongly dissent from the final paragraph of the latter dealing with the presence of the Police on the estate.

I imagine that this was intended to have a general application only, since, as a reference to this particular dispute, it is not supported, in my view, by the evidence.

I took particular pains to ascertain from witnesses whether the Police in any instance exceeded their duties, which were solely to prevent a breach of the peace. I am entirely satisfied that they did not.

It is obviously the duty of an employer to take precautions to prevent a breach of the peace. And when, as in this case, several members of the subordinate Staff had officially intimated to the Superintendent that they apprehended violence the Superintendent had no option but to acquaint the Police of this fact.

There is nothing in the evidence to substantiate the suggestion that the Police were called in " to assist the Estate Superintendent in his ordinary dealings with his employees ". On the contrary the evidence, in my opinion, amply proves that the Police were summoned solely to prevent violence and that this action was fully justified by the situation at the time.

(Sgd.) A. M. G. TROTTER.

REPORT SUBMITTED BY MR. V. R. M. LETCHMANAN CHETTIYAR, MEMBER, BOARD OF CONCILIATION, HOLMWOOD ESTATE, AGRAPATANA.

I am unable to agree with the summing up of the origin and course of the dispute on Holmwood estate as given in the report of Mr. Ingledow.

If the conduct of each individual labourer was considered without reference to the origin and course of the dispute and the unrest that appears to have existed in the Holmwood estate I agree that the award given by the Chairman and Mr. Trotter is correct. The frankness with which the labourers admitted that the Superintendent was just and fair clearly indicates that they were not out to find imaginary grievances. As far as they are concerned the Superintendent is one to whom they may take complaints against their immediate superiors, the Head Kangany, the Kanakkupulle and/or the Teamaker. The only fault they find with the Superintendent is that he allows himself to be misled by these, their immediate superiors.

The key to the situation lies in their one complaint that the labourers had against the Superintendent, that he relies too much upon the staff. It is not surprising that the formation of sanghams or any other organization is looked upon by those subordinate staff with scarcely veiled dislike. Little things like the refusal of labourers to fetch bottles of arrack which has occurred on this estate is sufficient to provoke the unfriendly attitude on the part of the subordinate staff towards their sanghams : (vide evidence of Vytilingam). I would believe the labourers when the labourers allege that the sangham was looked upon with disfavour by those over them. In this state of affairs the Superintendent has been hinting that he would be getting rid of 30 to 50 labourers (See Teamaker, Mr. Benjamin's evidence). It is most unfortunate that such a proposal was made by the Superintendent when the sangham was being formed. The labourers naturally believed that the men to be got rid of would be the men who are in disfavour with the Kanakkupulle and the other members of the subordinate staff.

The action of Mr. Fowke on February 9, in giving notice and discharge ticket to Vytilingam is capable of arousing justifiable suspicion that Vytilingam was being victimized. According to the estate authorities there had been widespread slow down in work for a considerable time ; but it is Vytilingam admittedly the leader of the sangham that is chosen as the first victim. According to Mr. Fowke himself Vytilingam was not given notice on February 9, for insubordination, direct disobedience continued slackness and deliberate shirking, reported bad work or absence without leave. Mr. Fowke on that day does not appear to have made up his mind that Vytilingam had merited summary dismissal. Rightly or wrongly Mr. Fowke believed that Vytilingam had not done his full task for the day, i.e., although he had completed the allotted task the task has not been done properly (it is in evidence) and he gave Vytilingam the choice of receiving the discharge ticket or accepting the ½-name. This was deliberately with legal advice. Vytilingam dared to insist upon a full name being given and entered. (See page 19 of the Report). This appears to have so upset the management that the notices on the other labourers who sympathized with Vytilingam and requested the Superintendent to reinstate him were given on the 12th in the company of the Police.

To me the worst feature in the whole episode is the bringing in of the Police to serve notices on labourers and even have a sort of Police Station on the estate. This procedure which is becoming common on estates cannot be condemned too strongly. The presence of the Police could have been brought solely for the purpose of impressing on the labourers that the estate management had the backing of the Police. There is not even the slightest suggestion that these labourers threatened any violence. Shouting by and among labourers is not so uncommon as to have genuinely scared anyone who knows the Indian estate labourer.

Much is made of the fact that Vytilingam was not a leader authorized by the Workers' Federation or the Ceylon Indian Congress and that the estate authorities were prepared to welcome their labourers joining the recognized organizations. But the estate sangham activities were obviously the initial activities seeking affiliation with central organizations. Vytilingam canvassed members for the Congress. There is nothing unsavoury in arranging meetings of such members. When labourers meet in such manner it is to be expected that the conduct of their immediate supervising officers would come in for some comment. Even in more enlightened groups grousing without much cause is not uncommon. It is not wise to exaggerate this grousing into rebellion, revolution and sedition. Groups of this kind take time to absorb the ideas of ordered progress held out by the parent organizations to which they seek to affiliate themselves. This stage of awakening requires sympathetic direction. Unfortunately on this estate at this critical juncture there had arisen a talk of discharging 30 to 50 labourers and this talk had sown the seeds of distrust. If responsible leaders of the parent organization had been invited immediately and the subordinate staff had taken more sympathetic attitude the opposition could have been availed of to bring in speedily an ordered organization of the estate labourers on this estate. Even at a later stage cancellation of the notice with a warning from the leader of the organization as suggested by Mr. K. Natesa Iyer to Major Lepper would have straightened out the position for the benefit of the management and the labourers. A panel of men trusted by the labourers in place of the panel of planters would have been more appropriate and proved more effective.

The management is loath to bring in responsible leaders between themselves and the labourers to settle matters but resort to intimidation of labourers by demonstrating that the might of the Police force is on their side. Even Major Lepper appears to have felt that intimidation by bringing the Police force on to the estate was not justifiable. He denies intimidation. I am unable to see how the presence of the Police on the estate at the instance of the management and perhaps as guests of the estate for the express purpose of watching them can fail to be a source of intimidation to the labourers. Persons interested in the estate labourers can be excused if they believe the policy is that the awakening among the labourers should be repressed—and nipped in the bud by such acts of intimidation.

On the whole I feel that the disputes could have been settled by the intervention of some leaders trusted by the labourers and that the notices could have been withdrawn after obtaining an undertaking from the labourers with the aid either of the Federation or the Ceylon Indian Congress and the labourers given another chance.

General and mutual sympathy amongst the labourers which tends to unite them for combined action is not reprehensible. Employers who so effectively combine to demand and secure their rights should encourage the feeble efforts of the labourers in the same direction. Sengan Kangany, Rengasamy, and Ramaswamy have been specially remembered as leading the party of labourers who requested the Superintendent Major Lepper to cancel the notice for discharge on Vytilingam.

It is also regrettable that the existence of the two organizations appear to have caused some confusion. But a way out could have been found. Such a solution would be more effective in securing a permanent settlement and goodwill between the labourers and the estate management than the present award. But it is most unfortunate that the Superintendent would not hear of withdrawing the notices. To me the refusal to withdraw the notices which was given on some labourers for refusing to admit short work and submit to half-name is not consistent with an attitude eager for the restoration of settled conduct on the estate staff and labourers.

I agree with the award because victimization of the LABOURERS FOR GOING INTO organizations has not been definitely proved.

S. P. WICKRAMASINHA,
Municipal Commissioner, Colombo.

THE GALLE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

Minutes of Proceedings of a General Meeting of the Municipal Council of Galle held at the Municipal Office on Tuesday, February 13, 1940, at 2.30 p.m., pursuant to notice dated February 7, 1940.

Present :—Mr. W. Dahanayake, the Mayor, presiding ; and Messrs. A. I. H. A. Wahab, Deputy Mayor ; F. Magdon Ismail ; R. L. Ephraums ; A. H. E. Fernando ; E. de S. Wijayaratne ; A. William Wijeratne ; W. T. Wijekulasuriya ; E. D. Nagahawatte ; P. Dahanayake ; A. M. Saheed ; T. W. Roberts ; and Thomas Amarasuriya.

1. The Minutes of the General Meeting held on January 18, 1940, copies thereof having been furnished to each Member, were taken as read and confirmed.

2. Mr. E. de S. Wijayaratne pointed out that three motions, notice of which had been given by him on February 9, 1940, had not been included in the Supplemental Agenda for the day, although, in his opinion, he had complied with the relevant by-law on the subject, which required that notice of motions should be given three clear days before the Meeting. He contended that the words " before the Meeting " should be held to mean " before the time of the Meeting ". He accordingly asked for a ruling on the matter.

The Mayor said that the Chairman of the old Council had previously given a ruling on the point raised by the Member, and that he (the Mayor) would now give the same ruling, viz., that the three clear days referred to in the by-law could not include either the day of the Meeting or the day on which the notice was received.

3. The Mayor announced that printed copies of the budget, in Sinhalese, which had been prepared on a motion by Mr. E. D. Nagahawatte, were now available, and could be obtained at the Municipal Office for 25 cts. each.

4. Pursuant to notice, Mr. A. William Wijeratne moved :—" That as the conservancy fees charged at present cause very great hardship on the poor, a Special Committee of this Council be appointed to submit recommendations on its abolition as early as possible ". The Mayor seconded, and Mr. Thomas Amarasuriya supported the motion. Messrs. E. D. Nagahawatte and P. Dahanayake also spoke. The mover replied. The motion was then put to the Meeting and carried.

It was resolved that the Special Committee do consist of the Mayor, and Messrs. A. I. H. A. Wahab, E. de S. Wijayaratne, A. William Wijeratne, W. T. Wijekulasuriya, and Thomas Amarasuriya.

5. Pursuant to notice Mr. F. Magdon Ismail moved :—"That this Council do engage the services of the Galle Police Band to give five-monthly performances in such places in the Town as approved by Council. Mr. T. W. Roberts seconded. Mr. P. Dahanayake moved as an amendment that a Special Committee be appointed to consider the question of engaging the services of the Galle Police Band and/or providing music at public places by other means. Mr. W. T. Wijekulasuriya seconded. The mover and seconder agreed to the amendment which was then put to the Meeting and carried unanimously.

It was resolved that the Special Committee do consist of the Mayor and Messrs. F. Magdon Ismail, W. T. Wijekulasuriya, P. Dahanayake, and Thomas Amarasuriya.

6. To approve the alteration of name in the case of the accepted tender for the lease of the Fish Auction Shed rights for 1940.

The Mayor moved Council into Committee to consider this item. Mr. A. I. H. A. Wahab seconded.—Carried.

Council in Committee :—

After discussion, Mr. A. I. H. A. Wahab moved that the alteration of name from M. G. Robert to G. Ranasinghe be approved. Mr. W. T. Wijekulasuriya seconded.
