2 For the section which by section 3 of Ordinance No. 7 of 1901 was substituted as section 27 of the principal Ordinance, the following section shall be substituted:

No goods shall be unladen from any ship until a sufferance shall have been granted by the Collector for the landing of the same, and no goods shall be landed except at the place appointed and expressed in such sufferance, and all goods so landed shall be taken and deposited in the King's warehouse, and within three clear days from the date of landing, exclusive of Sundays and public holidays, the importer shall make a full and complete entry thereof as hereinafter provided, and shall either pay down all duties which shall be due and payable on such goods, or shall duly warehouse the said goods, or, if the goods be free of duty, shall so enter the same; and in default of such entry being made and the said goods being removed within three clear days as aforesaid, such goods shall be liable to double rent for every period of twenty-four hours and for every part of such period during such time as they may remain in the warehouse; and all goods unladen, landed, or removed without such sufferance, or contrary to the directions in such sufferance, shall be forfeited.

By His Excellency's command,

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, May 30, 1910.

H. L. CRAWFORD,
Acting Colonial Secretary.

Statement of Objects and Reasons.

It has been the practice in the Customs for many years, in cases where goods are not removed from the warehouse within three days of the date of landing, to charge double rent for every day and for every fractional part of a day during which the goods are allowed to remain in the warehouse after the expiration of the prescribed period of three days.

The charge for fractional parts of a day has been pronounced by the Supreme Court not to be in accordance with the terms of section 27 of the Customs Ordinance, No. 17 of 1869.

The object of the present Ordinance is to legalize the existing practice.

Colombo, April 29, 1910.

ALFRED G. LASCELLES,
Attorney-General.
