DRAFT ORDINANCES.

MINUTE.

The following Draft of a proposed Ordinance is published for general information:—

An Ordinance further to amend "The Criminal Procedure Code, 1898."

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the provisions of "The Criminal Procedure Code, 1898," with reference to the commutation of sentences: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of Ceylon, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows:

Short title.

1 This Ordinance may be cited as "The Criminal Procedure Code (Amendment) Ordinance, 1911."

New section 329.

2 Section 329 of "The Criminal Procedure Code, 1898," is hereby repealed, and the following is hereby substituted in lieu thereof:

The Governor may, without the consent of the person sentenced, commute any one of the following sentences for any other mentioned after it:

Death.

Rigorous imprisonment for life.

Rigorous imprisonment not exceeding twenty years.

Simple imprisonment for any term not exceeding that to which such person might have been sentenced.

Fine.

By His Excellency's command,

L. W. BOOTH,

Colonial Secretary's Office, Acting Colonial Secretary.
Colombo, September 28, 1911.

Statement of Objects and Reasons.

THIS Ordinance is proposed on two grounds. In the first place, its object is to facilitate the application of the Prisoners Removal Ordinance. It is found that it is not in accordance with the rules of the Convict Prison in the Andaman Islands that any prisoners should be confined there except those sentenced to imprisonment for life. The maximum sentence of imprisonment which may be imposed under section 329 of the Criminal Procedure Code is rigorous imprisonment for twenty years. It is accordingly proposed to give the Governor power in such cases to commute the sentence to imprisonment for life—a sentence which in practice, according to the Rules of the Andaman Convict Prison, is reduced by good conduct to a term of twenty years.

2. It is also felt that it ought to be in the power of the Governor, in commuting a sentence of death, to impose as an alternative a sentence calculated to have the greatest possible deterrent effect. The sentence of twenty years at present allowed by the Code is in practice reducible to one slightly over fifteen years. It is considered that such a term of imprisonment, as a maximum in such cases, is not adequate to the seriousness of the offence, and that it should be in the power of the Governor, when the occasion requires, in commuting a death sentence, to impose a sentence of lifelong imprisonment.
