Owing to the unusual drought much inconvenience is felt in transplanting. Too early to form an estimate of crop. Amu being sown. Yala fields harvested; crops fair. Kurakkan harvested; crops fair. Paddy plants in fields irrigated by river water look healthy ; but the plants in fields dependent on rain water are dying owing to the drought. Too early to form an estimate of the crop. Yala fields and kurakkan chenas harvested ; crop good. About half of the fields usually cultivated for the maha have been abandoned for want of rain.

MÁTALÉ.
Mátalé South ...	6-54	25-83	46-87	1 75	1 75	—	Kurakkan	1 25	1 50	—	The yala crop reaped during the quarter was exceptionally small owing to the absence of rain. In Kohonsiyapattu the only fields harvested are Tibbotuwawa 5 amunams = 200 bushels, Puriggala 20 amunams = 800 bushels, Nagolla 15 amunams = 600, and Makulemudda 10 amunams = 400 bushels. In two kóralés only has a satisfactory crop been reaped—i.e., in Udasiyapattu and Gampahasiyapattu, the former having the advantage of streams and the latter the aid of river water. The Asgiri kóralés had practically no paddy crop. The garden produce was also very scanty owing to the excessive heat. The people, however, find employment on neighbouring estates. All the wells and many of the springs have dried up, and streams are very low. Rain is wanted urgently for maha cultivation. There has been no such continuous drought for many years ; tea and cocoa estates are feeling the effects. In certain places the more energetic have tried bill-paddy sowing on mud lands as an experiment, the result of which is watched with anxiety, the seed paddy having been procured at great expense. Coast rice is dear in the market.
Mátalé North ...	5-43	21-56	30-83	1 50	1 75	—	Kurakkan	1 50	1 50	—	The people of Mátalé North have had a most unfortunate time during the quarter, and rain is required immediately. Last season they did not plant many chenas, as they trusted to get a good paddy crop, but they were disappointed ; the result is that in Kandapalla, Wagapanaha Pallesiya pattuwa, and Inamalawa there is some distress. Government has, however, work for them at Bowetenna, though they have not availed themselves of it, as it is some distance from their homes. A considerable extent of chenas has been cleared for the coming crop. The Pallepola-oya, a large stream rising in Asgiri and flowing through Nalanda, and on which a good many fields depend, has run quite dry, which has not been the case before, it is said, within the memory of man ; the wells are almost dry.
Mátalé East ...	9-60	70-1	—	1 25	1 50	—	Kurakkan	1 0	1 25	—	Drought is severe ; however, the cultivation and crops are satisfactory.
