NOTIFICATIONS UNDER "THE PATENTS ORDINANCE, 1906."

THE following Specification has been accepted :—

General Rubber Company.

No. 1,544 of August 2, 1917.

"Improvements in rubber compositions and processes for the production thereof."

Abstract.—The inventors state :—

This invention relates to rubber or similar vulcanizable plastic compositions and to processes for producing the same. It is more particularly directed to a softened rubber composition and the process employed in its production.

Softened rubbers heretofore known have consisted of natural rubbers of high resin content or material produced by the admixture of castor or other oils or resins with rubber. Natural rubbers of high resin content have little ability to withstand wear and oil—or resin-treated rubbers are comparatively expensive.

One object of the present invention accordingly is to produce an inexpensive rubber composition having ability to withstand wear, good adhesive properties, and other desirable characteristics. Another object is to improve the curing properties of the rubber. Another object is to provide a simple process for the production of such material.

The preferred material is made according to the following process :—Hevea or other rubber-producing latex is treated with 0.2 per cent. of sodium fluoride based on the weight of the latex. After five to eight hours the latex thickens or becomes coalesced, whereby its viscosity is increased and a medium produced in which various materials, such as oils, fibres, &c., may be uniformly suspended. The term "coalesced" as here employed is intended to designate a thick molasses-like state assumed by the latex as distinguished from the stiff form which the latter assumes upon coagulation. To the coalesced latex are added pulped Hevea seeds which have previously been hulled and ground to an emulsion. The quantity of pulped seed employed will vary in accordance with the desired characteristics of the resultant product. For a somewhat soft rubber suitable for tube stock and the like, a small proportion of the seed based on the coalesced latex will be used. For a sticky rubber suitable for rubber tape and the like, a relatively larger percentage will be employed. The pulped seed emulsion is disseminated throughout the mass and is retained in substantially uniformly suspended condition until coagulation occurs. Sulphur or other vulcanizing agent may be added along with the pulp or the addition may be made prior to that of the pulp, or at any time before vulcanization. The rubber may then be vulcanized.

The claims are :—

1. A composition of matter comprising an admixture of a vulcanizable plastic material and a naturally oleaginous vegetable tissue, substantially undeprived of its original oil content.

2. A composition of matter comprising an admixture of rubber and seeds, substantially undeprived of their original oil content.
3. A composition of matter comprising an admixture of a vulcanizable plastic and rubber seed pulp, substantially undeprived of its original oil content.
4. A composition of matter comprising an admixture of rubber and Hevea seed pulp, substantially undeprived of its original oil content.
5. A composition of matter comprising rubber derived from latex coagulated in the presence of a naturally oleaginous vegetable tissue, substantially undeprived of its original oil content.
6. A composition of matter comprising rubber derived from latex coagulated in the presence of seed pulp, substantially undeprived of its original oil content.
7. A composition of matter comprising rubber derived from latex coagulated in the presence of rubber seed pulp, substantially undeprived of its original oil content.
8. A composition of matter comprising rubber derived from latex coagulated in the presence of Hevea seed pulp, substantially undeprived of its original oil content.
9. The step in the process of treating vulcanizable plastics which consists in incorporating a naturally oleaginous vegetable tissue, substantially undeprived of its original oil content with a vulcanizable plastic.
10. The step in the process of treating vulcanizable plastics which consists in incorporating seeds, substantially undeprived of their original oil content with a vulcanizable plastic.
11. The step in the process of treating vulcanizable plastics which consists in incorporating a naturally oleaginous vegetable tissue, substantially undeprived of its original oil content with rubber-producing latex.
12. The step in the process of treating vulcanizable plastics which consists in incorporating seeds of a rubber-producing plant, substantially undeprived of their original oil content with a vulcanizable plastic.
13. A process of the kind described which comprises, incorporating a naturally oleaginous vegetable tissue, substantially undeprived of its original oil content with rubber-producing latex, and coagulating the latex.
14. A process of the kind described which comprises, incorporating oily seed pulp, substantially undeprived of its original oil content with rubber-producing latex, and coagulating the latex.
15. A process of the kind described which comprises, causing coalescence in rubber-producing latex in any suitable or well known manner adding thereto an oleaginous vegetable tissue, substantially undeprived of its original oil content, and coagulating the latex.
16. A process of the kind described which comprises, causing coalescence in rubber-producing latex in any suitable or well known manner adding thereto oily seed pulp, substantially undeprived of its original oil content, and coagulating the latex.
17. A process of the kind described which comprises, causing coalescence in rubber-producing latex in any suitable or well known manner adding thereto pulped Hevea seeds, substantially undeprived of their original oil content, and coagulating the latex.

BUSINESS.

2. The Company shall proceed to carry on business as soon after the registration thereof as the Directors shall think fit; and notwithstanding the whole of the shares shall not have been subscribed, or applied for, or allotted, they shall do so as soon as, in the judgment of the Directors, a sufficient number of shares shall have been subscribed, applied for, or allotted.

30. The above-mentioned General Meetings shall be called Ordinary Meetings. All other General Meetings shall be called Extraordinary.

31. The Directors may, whenever they think fit, and shall upon a requisition made in writing by any number of Shareholders holding in the aggregate not less than one-fifth part of the shares of the Company, convene an Extraordinary General Meeting.

32. Any requisition so made by the Shareholders shall express the object of the meeting proposed to be called, and shall be left at the registered office of the Company.

33. Upon the receipt of such requisition the Directors shall forthwith proceed to convene a General Meeting; if they do not proceed to convene the same within twenty-one days from the date of the requisition, the requisitionists or any other Shareholders holding the required number of shares may themselves convene a meeting.

34. Twenty-one days' notice at least, specifying the place and the hour of meeting, and the purpose for which any General Meeting is to be held, shall be given by advertisement or in such other manner, if any, as may be prescribed by the Company.

40. The Chairman may, with the consent of the meeting, adjourn any meeting from time to time and place to place, but no business shall be transacted at any adjourned meeting other than the business left unfinished at the meeting from which the adjournment took place.

41. At any General Meeting, unless a poll is demanded by at least five Shareholders, a declaration by the Chairman that a resolution has been carried and any entry to that effect in the book of proceedings of the Company, shall be sufficient evidence of the fact without proof of the number or proportion of the votes recorded for or against such resolution.

42. If a poll is demanded in the manner aforesaid, the same shall be taken in such manner as the Chairman directs, and the results of such poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the Company in General Meeting.

43. Every Shareholder shall have one vote for every share held by him.

44. If any Shareholder is a minor, lunatic, idiot, or a prodigal, he may vote by the person legally appointed to the charge and administration of his property.

45. If two or more persons are jointly entitled to a share or shares, the person whose name stands first in the register of Shareholders as one of the holders of such share or shares, and no other, shall be entitled to vote in respect of the same.

46. No Shareholder shall be entitled to vote at any meeting, unless all moneys due from him to the Company are paid.

47. Votes may be given either personally or by proxy, and proxy shall be appointed in writing under the hand of the appointer, or if such appointer is a corporation under that seal, and such writing shall be stamped according to the stamp law in force at that time.

48. No person shall be appointed proxy who is not a Shareholder, and the instrument appointing him shall be deposited at the registered office of the Company not less than twenty-four hours before the time of holding the meeting at which he proposes to vote; but no such instrument shall be valid after the expiration of three months from the date of its execution.

DIRECTORS.

49. Until otherwise determined by a General Meeting, the number of Directors shall not be less than seven nor exceed fifteen.

53. As remuneration for the services the Directors shall be entitled to receive out of the funds of the Company such annual sum as may be voted by the Shareholders in General Meeting. Such remuneration shall be exclusive of any sum paid by way of salary or remuneration to any Managing Director or Directors, and shall be divided among the Directors, as they may determine.

54. The office of a Director shall be vacated—

- (1) If he ceases to hold a number of shares or votes qualifying for the office.
- (2) If by notice in writing to the Company he resigns.
- (3) If he becomes insolvent.
- (4) If he is found lunatic or become of unsound mind.

55. The Company may, by special resolution, remove any Director before the expiration of his term of office and appoint any Shareholder in his stead.

56. At every Ordinary Meeting of the Company the whole of the Directors shall retire from office, but they shall be eligible for re-election.

57. The Directors may from time to time appoint one or more of their body to be Managing Director or Directors of the Company, either for any fixed term or without any limitation as to the period for which he is to hold such office, and may, subject to any contract between him and the Company, from time to time remove or dismiss him from office and appoint another in his place. The remuneration of the Managing Director shall be fixed by the Directors and may be by way of salary, commission, percentage, or participation in profits, or by any or all of these modes. The Directors may from time to time entrust to and confer upon the Managing Director such of the powers exercisable by them as they think fit, subject to such terms and conditions as they may prescribe.

58. The Directors may meet together for despatch of business, adjourn, and otherwise regulate their meetings as they think fit; and may determine the quorum necessary for the transaction of business; until otherwise determined, seven shall form a quorum.

59. A Director may, and the Secretary at the request of any Director shall, at any time convene a meeting of the Directors. Questions arising at any meeting of the Directors shall be decided by a majority of votes of the Directors present, and in case of equality of votes the Chairman shall have a casting vote.

60. The Directors may elect a Chairman of their meetings and may determine the period for which he shall hold office. If such Chairman has not been appointed, or if he is not present at the time appointed for a meeting, the Directors present shall choose some one of those present to be Chairman of such meeting.

61. The Directors shall cause minutes to be made in a book or books provided for and solely used for the purpose—

- (1) Of all appointments of officers made by the Directors.
- (2) Of the names of Directors present at each meeting of the Directors.

- (4) Of all resolutions and proceedings of meetings of the Company and of the Directors. And any such minute as aforesaid, if signed by any person purporting to be the Chairman of any meeting of Directors duly called and constituted, shall be receivable in evidence without further proof.

62. A resolution in writing signed by all the Directors shall be as valid and effectual as if it had been passed at a meeting of the Directors duly called and constituted.

63. The Directors may delegate any of their powers to committees consisting of such member or members of their body as they think fit, and may revoke the appointment of any such committee. Any such committee so formed shall, in the exercise of the powers so delegated, conform to any regulations that may from time to time be imposed on it by the Directors.

64. The meetings and proceedings of any such committee consisting of two or more members shall be governed by the provisions herein entered for regulating the meetings of Directors so far as the same are applicable thereto and are not superseded by the express terms of the appointment of the Committee or by any such regulations as aforesaid.

DIVIDEND.

65. The Directors may, with the sanction of the Company in General Meeting, declare a dividend to be paid to the Shareholders in proportion to their shares.

66. No dividend shall be payable except out of the profits arising from the business of the Company and with the sanction of the Directors.

67. The Directors may, before recommending any dividend, set aside out of the profits of the Company such sum as they think fit as a reserve fund to meet contingencies or for equalizing dividends or for repairing or maintaining the works connected with the business of the Company or any part thereof, and the Directors may invest the sums so set apart as a reserve fund upon such security as they may, with the sanction of the Company, select.

68. The Directors may deduct from the dividends payable to any Shareholder all such sums of money as may be due from him to the Company on account of calls or otherwise.

69. No dividend shall bear interest as against the Company.

70. Notice of any dividend that may have been declared shall be given to each Shareholder, or sent by post or otherwise to his registered place of abode; and all dividends unclaimed for three years, after having been declared, may be forfeited by the Directors for the benefit of the Company.

71. The Directors shall cause true accounts to be kept of the moneys received and expended by the Company and of all matters in respect of which such receipts and expenditure take place and of the property, assets, credits, and liabilities of the Company. 73. The statement so made shall show, arranged under the most convenient heads, the amount of gross income distinguishing the several sources from which it has been derived and the amount of gross expenditure distinguishing the expense of the establishment, salaries, and other matters.

74. Every item of expenditure fairly chargeable against the year's income shall be brought into account, so that a just balance of profit and loss may be laid before the meeting; and in cases where any item of expenditure which may in fairness be distributed over several years has been incurred in any one year, the whole amount of such item may be stated with the addition of the reasons why only a portion of such expenditure is charged against the income of the year.

75. At the Ordinary Meeting in each year the Directors shall lay before the Company a balance sheet containing a summary of the property and liabilities of the Company.

76. A printed copy of the balance sheet shall, twenty-one days previously to such meeting, be delivered or sent by post to the address of every Shareholder.

77. The accounts of the Company shall be examined and the correctness of the balance sheet ascertained by one or more Auditors to be elected by the Company in General Meeting.

78. The remuneration of the Auditors shall be fixed by the Company at the time of their election.

79. If any casual vacancy occurs in the office of Auditors, the Directors shall forthwith call an Extraordinary General Meeting for the purpose of filling such vacancy.

80. The Directors shall appoint the first Auditors to audit the accounts of the Company until the First Ordinary General Meeting and fix the remuneration payable to them.

81. Every Auditor shall be supplied with a copy of the balance sheet, and it shall be his duty to examine the same with the accounts and vouchers relating thereto.

82. Every Auditor shall have a list delivered to him of all the books kept by the Company, and he shall at all reasonable times have access to the books and accounts of the Company. He may at the expense of the Company employ accountants or other persons to assist him in investigating such accounts and he may in relation to such accounts examine the Directors or any other officers of the Company.

83. The Auditors shall make a report to the Shareholders upon the balance sheet and accounts, and in every such report they shall state, whether in their opinion, the balance sheet is full and fair containing the particulars required by these regulations and properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the Company's affairs; and in case they have called for explanations or information from the Directors, whether such explanations or information have been given by the Directors, and whether they have been satisfactory; and such report shall be read, together with the report of the Directors, at the Ordinary Meeting.

84. Notices requiring to be served by the Company upon the Shareholders may be served either personally or by leaving the same, or sending the same through the post at their registered places of abode.

85. Every Shareholder shall give an address which shall be deemed his place of abode and shall be registered as such in the books of the Company.
