By His Excellency's command,

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, October 8, 1918.

R. E. STUBBS,
Colonial Secretary.

Statement of Objects and Reasons.

THE object of this Ordinance is to amend the principal Ordinance on three points.

2. First, it seeks to modify the limitation imposed in subsection (2) of section 11 of the principal Ordinance, so as to place outside that limitation the cases of certain notaries whether appointed under section 6 of the principal Ordinance, or the corresponding provision in the Ordinance No. 2 of 1877. The areas contemplated in section 6 of the principal Ordinance are either situated in unhealthy parts of the Island, or such as yield but a poor income to a notary practising in them. It is felt desirable that a notary who has practised his profession in such areas for not less than the period named in this Ordinance might be given an opportunity of working under less unfavourable circumstances.

3. It is the common practice for notaries and clients to agree upon the fee irrespective of the scale under section 3 of the principal Ordinance. But this practice is not quite in accordance with the provisions of section 34. The amendment seeks to legalize this practice.

4. It having been brought to the notice of Government that the fees in Schedule III. are inadequate, a Committee was appointed which considered the subject. The new schedule contains the fees recommended by that Committee.

- (4) For the purposes of the immediately preceding sub-section "competent court" shall mean—
- (a) A Police Court in the exercise of its jurisdiction under "The Maintenance Ordinance, 1889," in respect of an order made under section 3 thereof, where such entry or order directs the payment periodically of a sum of money in so far as such entry or order directs such payment ; provided that an entry or order in favour of the woman divorced shall be cancelled only upon proof that she has been cohabiting with any man since the date of such order.
- (b) A District Court or Court of Requests having jurisdiction in an action between the parties founded upon an agreement where such entry or order or part thereof is not of the nature mentioned in paragraph (a) hereof in so far as such entry or order or part thereof is not of such nature.

A. B.,
Provincial Registrar.

By His Excellency's command,
Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, October 14, 1918. R. E. STUBBS,
Colonial Secretary.

Statement of Objects and Reasons.

THE object of the amendment in section 3 is to enable Registrars to earn a fee for copies supplied to each of the parties to a marriage. At present these Registrars are paid a very small fee by Government for registering marriages under the Ordinance.

2. The object of the amendment in section 4 is to empower Provincial or Assistant Provincial Registrars, when dissolving a marriage between Kandyan, to make order in suitable cases for the maintenance of the children and for alimony for the wife by entering such order in the Register of Dissolutions. The amendment also provides that such orders may be enforced or cancelled or varied by courts of competent jurisdiction in the same manner as if the orders had been made originally by such courts. Under the Civil Procedure Code a District Court has jurisdiction to make orders for provision for the wife and children of a marriage which it declared dissolved. There seems no reason why Registrars who dissolve marriages between Kandyans should not have similar powers.

3. The suggestion for this amendment, which came from the Registrar-General, was put to the Kandyan Chiefs, and the balance of opinion was in favour of the amendment. It was felt that the facilities for divorce afforded by the Kandyan law are sometimes abused by persons seeking to relieve themselves of the obligation to support their wives and children.
