EXAMINATIONS FOR THE INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE.

An open competitive examination will be held in London, commencing on August 1, 1921, under the following regulations. Particulars as to time and manner of making application will be issued later.

Regulations.

1. An examination for admission to the Indian Civil Service, open to all qualified persons, will be held in London in August of each year for such number of appointments to that Service as the Secretary of State may on each occasion determine. The date of the examination and the number of appointments to be made for each Province will be announced beforehand by the Civil Service Commissioners.

2. No person will be deemed qualified who shall not satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners :—

(i.) (a) That save as hereinafter provided he is a British subject.

(b) That if he (being a British subject) or his father or his mother was not born within His Majesty's Dominions and allegiance then at the time of his birth his father was a British subject or the subject of a State in India, and that such father still is or continued to be until his death a British subject or the subject of such State in India.

Provided that a ruler or subject of any state in India in respect of whom the Governor-General in Council has made a declaration under section 96-A of the Government of India Act, 1915, as amended by section 3 of the Government of India (Amendment) Act, 1916, may be considered eligible.

(ii.) That he had attained the age of twenty-two, and had not attained the age of twenty-four on the first day of August of the year in which the examination is held, or that he is in a position to claim such a concession under the provisions of the Appendix to these regulations as will render him eligible.*

[N.B.—In the case of Natives of India it will be necessary for a candidate to obtain a certificate of age and qualification under Regulation 2 (i.) issued under Notification of the Government of India, No. 1,114, dated September 12, 1918, and signed, should he be a resident in British India, by the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division within which his family resides, or should he reside in a Native State, by the highest Political Officer accredited to the State in which his family resides.]

(iii.) That he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity, unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the Indian Civil Service. †

2 A. No person will be eligible for admission to the Indian Civil Service who has made before any tribunal established under the Military Service Acts, 1916, an application for the issue to him of a certificate of exemption from the provisions of those Acts on the ground of a conscientious objection to the undertaking of combatant service.

3. No person who, in a previous year, accepted the offer of a nomination as a selected candidate for the Indian Civil Service and subsequently resigned his position as a selected candidate, will be admitted to the examination.

4. Should the evidence upon the above points be prima facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the candidate, on payment of the prescribed fee, will be admitted to the examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion, at any time prior to the grant of the certificate of qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary; and if the result of such inquiries in the case of any candidate should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects he will be ineligible for admission to the Indian Civil Service, and, if already selected, will be removed from the position of a Probationer.

Instead of a translation paper candidates may also take as extra numerum subject either of the subjects 62 and 63.

In addition to taking one of the subjects 62 and 63 as extra numerum, candidates whose mother tongue is an Indian language may take the other of these subjects in place of subject 5.

From the marks assigned to candidates in each subject such deduction will be made as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary in order to secure that no credit be allowed for merely superficial knowledge.

Moreover, if a candidate's handwriting is not easily legible a further deduction will, on that account, be made from the total marks otherwise accruing to him.†

6. A list of the competitors shall be made out in order of their proficiency as disclosed by the aggregate marks finally awarded to each competitor, and in that order so many competitors, up to the determined number of appointments, as are found by the Civil Service Commissioners to be qualified by examination, shall be designated to be selected candidates for the Indian Civil Service, provided that they appear to be duly qualified in other respects. Should any selected candidate become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled or not. In the former case the candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected candidate.

7. Selected candidates, before proceeding to India, will be on probation for one year, at the end of which time they will undergo an examination, called the Final Examination, in the following compulsory subjects‡:—

For Bihar and Orissa	Hindustani	} Unless it is the candidate's mother tongue.
For Burma	Burmese
For Bombay	Marathi

* Candidates who propose to offer any of these subjects must inform the Civil Service Commissioners by the 1st of August of the preceding year, furnishing evidence that their knowledge and skill is likely to be of suitable standard.

† It is notified for general information that the number of marks deducted for bad handwriting may be considerable.

‡ Instructions, showing the extent of the examination, will be issued to selected candidates as soon as possible after the result of the open competition is declared.

In Hindustani the candidate will be required to be acquainted with both the Persian and the Nagari character.

A candidate assigned to Bengal or Assam, whose mother tongue is Bengali, must offer for examination Hindustani; a candidate assigned to Bombay, whose mother tongue is Marathi, must offer for examination Hindustani; and a candidate assigned to Madras, whose mother tongue is either of the languages shown against his Province, must offer the other for examination.

8. Selected candidates may in addition offer in the final examination one of the following optional subjects:—

	Marks.		Marks.
1. Hindu and Muhammadan Law	450	4. Persian	400
2. Sanskrit	400	5. Hindustani	400
3. Arabic	400

No candidate who offered Sanskrit or Arabic at the open competition may offer the same language at the final examination; and only candidates assigned to the Province of Burma may offer Hindustani as an optional subject.

9. In the final examination, as in the open competition, the merit of the candidates examined will be estimated by marks (which will be subject to deductions in the same way as the marks assigned at the open competition), and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it. The examination will be conducted on paper and visà voce, as may be deemed necessary.

If any candidate is prevented by sickness or any other adequate cause from attending such examination, the Commissioners may, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State for India in Council, allow him to appear at the final examination to be held in the following year, or at a special examination.

10. The selected candidates will also be tested during their probation as to their proficiency in riding. The examinations in riding will be held as follows:—

- (1) Shortly after the result of the open competitive examination has been declared, or at such time or times as the Commissioners may appoint during the course of the probationary year.
- (2) Again, at the time of the final examination. Candidates who may then satisfy the Commissioners that they are sufficiently at home in the saddle for the efficient performance of all the duties of the Indian Civil Service will be awarded marks ranging between 101 and 200 according to the degree of proficiency displayed, to be added to their marks in the final examination. Candidates who fall short of this adequate proficiency, but show such minimum proficiency as is evidence that with a moderate amount of practice they can attain full proficiency, will receive marks ranging between 1 and 100; they will be allowed to proceed to India and will on their arrival there be subjected to such further tests in riding as may be prescribed by their Government, and shall receive no increase to their initial salary until they have passed such tests to the satisfaction of that Government.

A candidate who fails at the end of the year of probation to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners that he has reached the minimum standard of proficiency in riding, will be liable to have his name removed from the list of selected candidates.

11. The selected candidates who, on examination, shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in regulation 7, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character, conduct during the period of probation, and ability to ride, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Indian Civil Service, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force, at the time, for that Service.

12. Persons desirous to be admitted as candidates must apply on forms, which may be obtained from "The Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners, London," at any time after December 1 in the year previous to that in which the examination is to be held. No person will be admitted to the examination from whom the Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners has not received on or before June 1 (or, if that date should fall on a Sunday or public holiday, then, on or before the first day thereafter on which their office is open), in the year in which the examination is to be held, an application, in the handwriting of the candidate, on the prescribed form.

APPENDIX.

1. Any person who has joined since August 4, 1914, the Army or Navy or Royal Marines or the Royal Air Force, or has rendered since that date actual military service in the Special Reserve or Territorial Force, Royal Naval Reserve, or Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve, may, if eligible in point of age under the regulations as they now stand for admission to the open competitive examination held in 1920, but over age in 1921, deduct from his actual age at the time of the open competitive examination held in 1921:—

(a) The actual period of such service, if it has not exceeded three months.

(b) One year, if the actual period of service has exceeded three months. No candidate will be allowed to deduct more than one year from his actual age.

2. The same concession may also be granted to those who have been employed during the same period in connection with the armed forces of the Crown at home or abroad giving their whole time and under obligation to serve for the duration of the war or until their discharge, or for any period not terminable at their own option, provided that their employment be not on ordinary commercial terms, such as that of Assistant Paymasters, Clerks, artisans, and the like.

3. The grant of the concession described in paragraph 2 will be at the discretion of the Civil Service Commissioners, whose decision in each case will be final. Candidates who contemplate applying for an age deduction under 2 will do well to apply to the Civil Service Commission for a ruling on their case.

4. Candidates to be eligible for the concessions in 1 or 2 must furnish an official certificate of the period and satisfactory character of their service, and if any doubt arise whether the service of any candidate is of the kind contemplated, the Secretary of State for India in Council reserves to the Civil Service Commissioners the right to decide the case upon its merits.

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements:—

(i.) Selected candidates will be allotted to the various Provinces upon a consideration of all the circumstances, including their own wishes; but the requirements of the Public Service will rank before every other consideration.

(ii.) Except in the case of persons continuing to receive Scholarship allowances of equal or greater amounts from the Government of India, an allowance amounting to £200 will be given to any candidate who passes his probation at one of the Universities or Colleges which have been approved by the Secretary of State, viz.: the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Dublin, Glasgow, Edinburgh, St. Andrews, and Aberdeen; the School of Oriental Studies, London Institution, Finsbury Circus; Victoria University, Manchester.

This allowance will be paid to the selected candidate in four instalments on the following dates respectively:—
December 24, after his selection, March 25, June 24, and the date of his signing his covenant on being finally appointed to the Service.

An allowance on account of passage to India will be paid to each newly appointed civilian to the amount of £40, for passage to Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, and £50 for passage to Rangoon. These allowances will only be paid after production of evidence that the officer has engaged a first class passage. An officer who prefers it can have a first class passage taken for him by the India Office in lieu of receiving a passage allowance. Applications giving proposed dates of sailing should be made to the Secretary, Judicial and Public Department, India Office, London, S.W. 1.

The payment of each of the first three instalments will be conditional on the receipt, by the Secretary of State, through the Civil Service Commissioners, of a certificate that the candidate has fulfilled up to date the requirements of the authorities, and shown satisfactory conduct at the Authorized University or College; the fourth and final instalment will be paid as soon as the selected candidate has signed his covenant, and for its payment no certificate from College Authorities will be required.

The whole probation must ordinarily be passed at the same institution. Migration will not be permitted, except for special reasons approved by the Secretary of State.

(iii.) Each candidate will be required before receiving the first instalment of his allowance to execute an agreement binding himself and one surety, jointly and severally, to refund all monies he may have received from the Secretary of State for India in the event of—

- (1) His failure to pass the final examination within the time prescribed by the regulations, and to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners of his fitness for admission to the Indian Civil Service; or
- (2) His subsequent failure to execute the usual covenant, and to proceed to India, as and when he shall be directed by the Secretary of State for India.

(iv.) All candidates obtaining certificates will be also required to enter into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to make such payments as under the rules and regulations for the time being in force, they may be required to make towards their own pensions or for the pensions of their families. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1.

(v.) The seniority in the Indian Civil Service of the candidates obtaining certificates will be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the combined marks of the open competitive and final examinations, but may ultimately be affected by appointments made by the Secretary of State under the Temporary Provisions Act, 1915.

(vi.) Candidates obtaining certificates will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their certificates of qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct.

(vii.) Candidates who fail to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners at the final examination held in any year will be definitely rejected, and will not be allowed to present themselves for re-examination, unless it shall appear to the Secretary of State in Council, after reference to the Civil Service Commissioners, that such failure is due to circumstances wholly exceptional and beyond the control of the candidate.

 - It is the duty of the jail guards to protect Government property, although it may not have been specially delivered into their charge.
 - Every sentry shall mount guard with his carbine unloaded, but with ten rounds of ball ammunition in the ball-bag.
 - Sentries shall enforce firmly the orders given to them without distinction of person.
 - The sergeant of the guard shall post the reliefs, and shall visit all his sentries at least once between each relief.

 - No police officer of the jail guard shall leave the jail premises, on any pretext whatever, without permission from the officer in charge of the guard, and such permission shall not be given except in cases of urgent necessity.

Assembly of the guard.

Sending for superior officers, and loading.

Loading carbines, &c.

Warning to be given.

When to use arms and when to desist.

To be prevented with as little violence as possible, but guards may defend life and limb in the execution of their duty with their arms if absolutely necessary.

Outbreaks.

18. In the event of an attempt to break into or out of the jail, or of any serious disturbance, the guard shall immediately fall in, and the senior officer present shall at once despatch a messenger, who, if possible, shall not be one of the guard, to the Jailer, one to the Superintendent of the jail, and one to his own officers.

19. The guard will then load, and will, if necessary, even before the Jailer or Superintendent of the jail arrives, use their arms to save life or limb, or to drive back persons attempting to break out of or into the jail. Warning shall be twice given, however, in a loud clear voice by the officer present commanding the jail guard, before firing or charging with fixed swords. On the arrival of an officer of police of rank not lower than an Inspector, the officer commanding the guard shall obey his orders, but should no such senior officer of police arrive, the officer commanding the guard shall obey the senior prison officer of rank not lower than a Jailer or Deputy Jailer.

20. The police shall endeavour to carry out their duty and their lawful orders on all occasions and in the face of opposition and danger. To enable them to do so they are furnished with arms, and these they are entitled to use in defence when the lives or limbs of themselves or others are endangered by those who unlawfully oppose them. They shall, however, be cautious never to use more force than is absolutely necessary, nor to continue it longer than is absolutely necessary. This is the only general rule that can be laid down for the use of arms.

Escapes.

21. A jail guard sentry mounted over a jail may fire at or use his bayonet against a prisoner escaping from prison custody, if he cannot prevent his escape by any other means, or if the prisoner attacks him. It is the duty of sentries to prevent the escape of persons in prison custody at all hazards.

When an escaping prisoner is fired at, it is advisable that the first shot at least should be fired wide of the mark; and if it is necessary to fire again, that the aim should be low, so as to avoid the danger of inflicting a fatal injury.

The rule for the use of arms given in the last regulation should be strictly adhered to.

Abstract.—The cover of a collecting vessel is made funnel-shaped with the stalk of the funnel reaching nearly to the bottom of the vessel. It is said that after the level of latex in the collecting vessel has reached above the bottom of the stalk of the funnel no rain water that may then enter the funnel will enter the vessel, but that latex can still be collected in the vessel. There is a vent hole in the cover, to be used as well for emptying the vessel.

The claims are:—

1. In collecting vessels for rubber latex and the like a cover or lid made of any suitable material and characterized by being formed as a funnel and provided with an air vent, substantially as described and illustrated.
2. In collecting vessels for rubber latex and the like a cover or lid characterized as in claim 1, and a collecting vessel of any suitable shape and of any suitable material in combination.

"An immersible salvage vessel."

Abstract.—The present invention relates to the construction and use of a submersible vessel of the type in which a central tunnel of an inverted U section forms a chamber enclosed as to its sides and roof and open below to the sea water. A smaller vessel can be enclosed in this tunnel, a cushion of air at the top and sides preventing contact between the inner and outer vessels. The outer vessel can at any time be submerged below the surface by admitting water into suitably arranged compartments.

The claims are:—

1. A submersible salvage vessel of the type described, wherein the hull of the vessel is ballasted partly by solid ballast and partly by means of water ballast chambers.
2. A submersible salvage vessel according to claim 1, in which doors are provided at one or both ends of the vessel and in their closed vertical positions form air-tight joints for the ends of the tunnel between the limbs of the vessel.
3. A submersible salvage vessel according to claim 2, in which the doors are pivoted about the horizontal hinge and can be raised into a horizontal position when the vessel is propelled on the surface of the water.
4. Means for rendering the doors claimed in claims 2 and 3, water-tight in the closed position and for holding them against the air pressure to which they are exposed, substantially as described.

6. A submersible salvage vessel according to claim 5, in which the struts of the tower are adapted to convey atmospheric air to and from the vessel.
7. A submersible salvage vessel according to claim 5, in which a lift is provided in the tower and a platform arranged near its upper end.
8. In the deck of a salvage vessel according to claim 1, a hatchway on the vessel into which a floating air-lock can be inserted and means for forming a water-tight joint between the air-lock and the casing.
9. In a salvage vessel according to claim 1, a chamber which can be placed in communication with the atmospheric air and into which water from the holes of the wreck can be forced by the air pressure within the tunnel.
10. In a salvage vessel according to claim 1, pipes opening into the air space between the limbs of the vessel at varying depths through which contaminated air can be exhausted and replaced by fresh air.
11. In combination with a submersible salvage vessel of the type described, a car suspended by cables from the vessel and provided with electromagnets adapted when energised to adhere to the plating of the wreck with which they are adjusted in contact.
12. In combination with a submersible salvage vessel of the type described, a car suspended by cables from the vessel, one or more openings disposed in the side of the car adjacent to a wrecked vessel and plates attached to lifting cables and suspended from the vessel at the front of each opening and adapted to be secured to the plating of the wreck.
13. In combination with a submersible salvage vessel of the type described, a car as claimed in claim 12, suspended from a trolley rail made fast to the roof of the tunnel between the legs of the vessel.

"Improvements relating to submersible vessels."

Abstract.—The invention consists in a device which enables a vessel of ordinary construction to be submerged below the surface to any required depth, while at the same time the upper decks and the upper parts of the sides of the vessel are surrounded by air. The submersion of the vessel can be effected at any time when it is deemed expedient. The depth of immersion can be rapidly and easily controlled, and the vessel can proceed under these conditions to her destination.

The vessel is submerged by the pressure exerted on a cushion of air contained between the vessel and an outer vessel which surrounds the submerged vessel, both from above and on each side.

Means are provided according to the invention for readily passing from the vessel or the outer structure into the water through air and water locks and for returning through the locks from the water.

The cushion of air enclosed between the vessels can be used as a reservoir of compressed air for the combustion of the fuel in oil driven engines, which may be placed in either vessel or divided between them, but which are preferably contained in the outer vessel. The storage capacity of the air cushion in a vessel of moderate dimensions, having a length, for example, of 300 feet would be equivalent to about half a million cubic feet of air at atmospheric pressure. This supply can be maintained at an approximately constant pressure by compressors placed in the outer vessel and drawing in atmospheric air by means of a suitably arranged pipe, raised or lowered as required.

The vessels could be propelled under all conditions by internal combustion engines and no auxiliary source of motive power, such as electric accumulators, would be required.

Guns of any required calibre could be mounted in the outer vessel and when in use could be raised in known manner on platforms by elevating gear to the level of the water; observation hoods can be similarly fitted.

The inner vessel can be utilized for storing cargo and munitions of any description, and the outer vessel for the conveyance of men and cargo.

The claims are :—

1. A submersible vessel constructed so as to house between its sides and bottom plating a second vessel, an air cushion being present between the adjacent parts of the two vessels, substantially as described.
2. A submersible vessel according to the preceding claim, in which the cross section amidships has approximately the form of an inverted U, substantially as described.
3. A vessel according to the preceding claim, in which the limbs of the inverted U are divided into water-tight compartments, and means are provided for filling the compartments with water ballast and for emptying the compartments, substantially as described.
4. Means for propelling the vessel claimed in claim 1, in which the air required for the combustion of the fuel of internal combustion engines, placed either in the inner or outer vessel, is obtained from the air cushion between the vessels.
5. In a submersible vessel, air compressors for supplying air as required to the air cushion referred to in claim 1, and means by which this supplementary supply of air is obtained from above the surface of the water in which the vessel floats or is submerged.
6. Means according to the preceding claim, comprising a swivelling tube connected to a float resting on the surface of the water, substantially as described.
7. In connection with the swivelling tube, claimed in the preceding claim, means for automatically closing the tube, if any water enters it, substantially as described.
8. In connection with the internal combustion engines referred to in claim 4, means for intermittently discharging the exhaust gases and for expelling any water which has entered the compartment in which the gases are collected, substantially as described.
9. The provision of gates at the stern of the submersible vessel claimed in claim 1, adapted to be opened when the inner vessel is to be housed, substantially as described.
10. Means for maintaining the vessels claimed in claim 1, at the required depth, substantially as described.
11. In a submersible vessel according to claim 1, the provision of air and water locks which permit a diver to have communication between the sea and the vessel.
12. In connection with the air locks claimed in the preceding claim, means for the ejection of water from the compartments of the lock adjacent to the sea, substantially as described.
13. In a submersible vessel, according to claim 1, observation hoods and gun platforms, which can be raised or lowered, as required substantially as described.
14. In observation hoods or gun platforms, according to the preceding claim, means for automatically removing any water that has entered the structure by closing hinged covers provided, substantially as described.
15. Submersible vessels, substantially as described with reference to the accompanying drawings.

“The process of manufacturing a substance called Linocrete for making roofs and floors, walls, stairs, ceilings, and ornamental tiles and slabs generally, and for colouring the same, and cement, and other substances.”

Abstract.—The inventor states :—

The process consists of the manufacture of a material or substance which may be called Linocrete from any slow setting cement, together with any kind of saw dust, waste, coconut fibre, or other like fibrous organic material and silicate of soda, and colouring the same, or any other substance with any desired colour by the use of any suitable colouring material, preferably oxide of iron, in manner hereafter described.

The proportions in which these materials are used vary according to the article to be manufactured.

For roofing tiles the proportions should be—

- One of cement.
- One of saw dust.
- One of coconut fibre or other organic fibrous material.

Or one or either of these organic constituents may be used with the cement or other materials.

A quarter per cent. of silicate of soda and the addition of sufficient colouring matter applied in manner described to give the tint required.

For flooring tiles or walls, or for tiles for ceilings, or for ornamental tiles, or for stairs the proportions should be—

- One of cement.
- One of saw dust or fibre or both.
- A quarter per cent. of silicate of soda.

And sufficient colouring matter added in manner described to give the required tint.

2. The process of colouring Linocrete or pure cement or any other substance by infusion of the desired colouring matter in the substance to be coloured while in a semi solid or pasty condition, in manner above described.
3. The manufacture in manner above described of tiles or slabs of Linocrete for making roofs and floors, walls, stairs, ceilings, and tiles and slabs generally, with ornamental designs or otherwise, and coloured in manner above described.
4. The manufacture of ornamental tiles or slabs with pure cement and Linocrete coloured in manner above described.

"Improvements in and in the production of pectous substances."

Abstract.—By the present invention a jellifying extract for use in the manufacture of jam may be made from certain kinds of fruits, such as apples, and of vegetables, such as carrots, and give relatively large yields; and the use of pressed apple and pear pomace, the residue of those fruits obtained after the expression therefrom of their juices as a by-product in the manufacture of cider and perry, is in particular preferred both on account of the cheapness of such material and also of the economic importance of utilizing a hitherto largely wasted by-product of an established industry.

The nature of the process is indicated in the claims as follows:—

1. A pectous extract obtained from practically acid-free plant tissue containing pectose and its derivatives by first rendering the pectous matter readily soluble by treatment with steam and subsequently dissolving same in water.
 2. A pectin-sugar compound comprising a practically non-acid pectous extract as claimed in claim 1, to which sugar is added in sufficient quantity to produce the desired preservative effect.
 3. A process for producing pectous substances consisting in the treatment of fruit, vegetables, or other plant material containing pectose and its derivatives to remove the natural acid therefrom, steaming the residual pulp to render the pectous substance readily soluble, and preparing an aqueous extract from the steamed pulp.
 4. A process as claimed in claim 3, wherein the extract is concentrated without decomposition by evaporation either to a syrupy concentrate or to dryness.

"Improvements in wireless telegraphy."

Abstract.—The inventors state:—

In direction finding systems, such as the Bellini-Tosi, practical difficulties of operation arise owing to the necessity for every accurate tuning of the aerials. This close tuning is required in order that the currents generated in the aerials may bear the correct phase relationship to each other.

According to the present invention we obviate this difficulty by constructing a Bellini direction finder so that the mutual inductance between the field coils and an exploring coil is as great as possible, and by connecting in the circuit of the exploring coil a single variable condenser we are then able to use closed loop aerials which have of themselves no definite natural period as we can obtain all the necessary tuning by varying the capacity of the aforesaid condenser. We also find that by this invention any errors owing to slight inaccuracies in laying out of the aerials are rendered of less effect.

1. The combination of two closed loop aperiodic aerials with an inductance coupled to them and connected to a variable condenser, substantially as described.
 2. The combination of two closed loop aperiodic aerials, each having an inductance the middle point of which is earthed, with an inductance coupled to them and connected to a variable condenser, substantially as described.
 3. Wireless telegraph direction finding systems, substantially as described with reference to the drawing.

39. Registration of persons entitled to shares otherwise than by transfer.—Any curator of any minor Shareholder, any committee of a lunatic Shareholder, or any person becoming entitled to shares in consequence of the death, bankruptcy, or liquidation of any Shareholder, or the marriage of any female Shareholder, or in any other way than by transfer, shall, upon producing such evidence that he sustains the character in respect of which he proposes to act under this clause, or of his title, as the Company think sufficient, be forthwith entitled, subject to the provisions herein contained, to be registered as a Shareholder in respect of such shares on payment of a fee of Rs. 2.50; or may, subject to the regulations as to transfers hereinbefore contained, transfer the same to some other person.

40. Failing such registration, shares may be sold by the Company.—If any person who shall become entitled to be registered in respect of any share under clause 39 shall not, from any cause whatever, within twelve calendar months after the event on the happening of which his title shall accrue, be registered in respect of such share, or if in the case of the death of any Shareholder no person shall, within twelve calendar months after such death, be registered as a Shareholder in respect of the shares of such deceased Shareholder, the Company may sell such shares either by public auction or private contract, and give a receipt for the purchase money; and the purchaser shall be entitled to be registered in respect of such share, and shall not be bound to inquire whether the events have happened which entitled the Company to sell the same; the nett proceeds of such sale, after deducting all expenses and all moneys in respect of which the Company is entitled to a lien on the shares so sold, shall be paid to the person entitled thereto.

SURRENDER AND FORFEITURE OF SHARES.

41. The Directors may accept surrender of shares.—The Directors may accept, in the name and for the benefit of the Company, and upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon, a surrender of the shares of Shareholders who may be desirous of retiring from the Company.

42. (a) If call or instalment be not paid, notice to be given to Shareholder.—If any Shareholder fails to pay any call or instalment on or before the day appointed for the payment of the same, the Directors may at any time thereafter, during such time as the call or instalment remains unpaid, serve a notice on such Shareholder or his executors or administrators, or the trustee or assignee in his bankruptcy, requiring him to pay the same, together with any interest that may have accrued, at the rate of 9 per cent. per annum, and all expenses that may have been incurred by the Company by reason of such non-payment.

(b) Terms of notice.—The notice shall name a day (not being less than one month from the date of the notice) on and a place or places at which such call or instalment and such interests and expenses as aforesaid are to be paid; the notice shall also state that, in the event of non-payment at or before the time and at the place appointed, the shares in respect of which the call was made or instalment is payable will be liable to be forfeited.

(c) In default of payment, shares to be forfeited.—If the requisition of such notice as aforesaid be not complied with, every or any share or shares in respect of which such notice has been given may at any time thereafter, before payment of calls or instalments, with interest, and expenses due in respect thereof, be declared forfeited by a resolution of the Board to that effect.

(d) Shareholder still liable to pay money owing at time of forfeiture.—Any Shareholder whose shares have been so declared forfeited shall, notwithstanding, be liable to pay and shall forthwith pay to the Company all calls, instalments, interest, and expenses owing upon or in respect of such shares at the time of the forfeiture, together with interest thereon from the time of forfeiture until payment at 9 per cent. per annum, and the Directors may enforce the payment thereof if they think fit.

43. Surrendered or forfeited shares to be the property of the Company, and may be sold, &c.—Every share surrendered or so declared forfeited shall be deemed to be the property of the Company, and may be sold, re-allotted, or otherwise disposed of upon such terms and in such manner as the Board shall think fit.

44. Effect of surrender or forfeiture.—The surrender or forfeiture of a share shall involve the extinction of all interest in, and also of all claims and demands against, the Company in respect of the share and the proceeds thereof, and all other rights incident to the share, except only such of those rights (if any) as by these presents are expressly saved.

45. (a) Certificates of surrender or forfeiture.—A certificate in writing under the hands of two of the Directors and of the Agent or Secretary or Agents or Secretaries that a share has been duly surrendered or forfeited, stating the time when it was surrendered or forfeited, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated as against all persons who would have been entitled to the share but for such surrender or forfeiture; and such certificate and the receipt of the Company for the price of such share shall constitute a good title to such share, and a certificate of proprietorship shall be delivered to any person who may purchase the same from the Company; such purchaser thereupon shall be deemed the holder of such share, discharged from all calls due prior to such purchase, and he shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase money nor shall his title to such share be affected by any irregularity in the proceedings in reference to such forfeiture or sale.

(b) Forfeiture may be remitted.—The Directors may in their discretion remit or annul the forfeiture of any share within six months from the date thereof upon the payment of all moneys due to the Company from the late holder or holders of such share or shares, and all expenses incurred in relation to such forfeiture, together with such further sum of money by way of redemption money for the deficit, as they shall think fit, not being less than 9 per cent. per annum on the amount of the sums wherein default in payment had been made, but no share bona fide sold, re-allotted, or otherwise disposed of under Article 43 hereof shall be redeemable after sale or disposal.

46. Company's lien on shares.—The Company shall have a first charge or paramount lien upon all the shares of any holder or joint-holders for all moneys for the time being due to the Company by such holder, or by all or any of such joint-holders respectively, either in respect of such shares or of other shares held by such holder or joint-holders or otherwise, and whether due from any such holder individually or jointly with others, including all calls, resolutions for which shall have been passed by the Directors, although the times appointed for the payment thereof shall not have arrived; and where any share is held by more persons than one the Company shall be entitled to the said charge or lien in respect of any money due to the Company from any of such persons. The Directors may decline to register any transfer of shares subject to such charge or lien.

47. Lien how made available.—Such charge or lien may be made available by a sale of all or any of the shares subject to it, provided that no such sale shall be made except under a resolution of the Directors, and until notice in writing shall have been given to the indebted Shareholder or his executors or administrators, or the assignee or trustee in his bankruptcy, requiring him or them to pay the amount for the time being due to the Company, and default shall have been made for twenty-eight days from such notice in paying the sum thereby required to be paid. Should the Shareholder over whose share the lien exists be in England or elsewhere abroad, sixty days' notice shall be allowed him.

48. Proceeds how applied.—The nett proceeds of any such sale as aforesaid under the provisions of Articles 43 and 47 hereof shall be applied in or towards the satisfaction of such debts, liabilities, or engagements, and the residue (if any) shall be paid to such Shareholder or his representatives.

49. Certificate of sale.—A certificate in writing under the hands of two of the Directors and of the Agent or Secretary or Agents or Secretaries that the power of sale given by clause 47 has arisen, and is exercisable by the Company under these presents, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated.

50. Transfer on sale how executed.—Upon any such sale two of the Directors may execute a transfer of such share to the purchaser thereof, and such transfer, with the certificate last aforesaid, shall confer on the purchaser a complete title to such shares.

PREFERENCE SHARES.

51. Preference and deferred shares.—Any shares from time to time to be issued or created may from time to time be issued with any such right of preference, whether in respect of dividend or of payment of capital, or both, or any such other special privilege or advantage over any shares previously issued or then about to be issued (other than shares issued with a preference), or with such deferred rights as compared with any shares previously issued or then about to be issued, or subject to any such conditions or provisions, and with any such right or without any right of voting, and generally on such terms as the Company may from time to time by special resolution determine.

52. Modification of rights and consent thereto.—If at any time by the issue of preference shares or otherwise the capital is divided into shares of different classes—

- (1) The holders of any class of shares by an extraordinary resolution passed at a meeting of such holders may consent, on behalf of all the holders of shares of the class, to the issue or creation of any shares ranking equally therewith, or having any priority thereto, or the abandonment of any preference or priority, or of any accrued dividend, or the reduction for any time or permanently of the dividends payable thereon, or to any scheme for the reduction of the Company's capital affecting the class of shares;
- (2) All or any of the rights, privileges, and conditions attached to each class may be commuted, abrogated, abandoned, added to, or otherwise modified by a special resolution of the Company in General Meeting, provided the holders of any class of shares affected by any such commutation, abrogation, abandonment, addition, or other modification of such rights, privileges, and conditions consent thereto, on behalf of all the holders of shares of the class, by an extraordinary resolution passed at a meeting of such holders.

Any extraordinary resolution passed under the provisions of this Article shall be binding upon all the holders of shares of the class, provided that this Article shall not be read as implying the necessity for such consent as aforesaid in any case in which but for this Article the object of the resolution could have been effected without it.

53. Meeting affecting a particular class of shares.—Any meeting for the purpose of the last preceding clause shall be convened and conducted in all respects as nearly as possible in the same way as an Extraordinary General Meeting of the Company, provided that no Shareholder, not being a Director, shall be entitled to notice thereof or to attend thereof, unless he be a holder of shares of the class intended to be affected by the resolution, and that no vote shall be given except in respect of a share of that class, and that at any such meeting a poll may be demanded in writing by any Shareholder personally present and entitled to vote at the meeting.

(a) Directors may make calls.—The Directors may from time to time make such calls as they think fit upon the registered holders of shares, in respect of moneys unpaid thereon, and not by the conditions of allotment made payable at fixed times; and each Shareholder shall pay the amount of every call so made on him to the persons and at the times and places appointed by the Directors, provided that two months' notice at least shall be given to the Shareholders of the time and place appointed for payment of each call.

(b) Calls, time when made.—A call shall be deemed to have been made at the time when the resolution authorizing the call was passed at a Board Meeting of the Directors or by resolution in writing in terms of Article 121.

But no Shareholder shall be entitled to any such extension except as a matter of grace or favour.

55. Interest on unpaid call.—If the sum payable in respect of any call or instalment is not paid on or before the day appointed for the payment thereof, the holder for the time being of the share in respect of which the call shall have been made, or the instalments shall have been due, shall pay interest for the same at the rate of 9 per centum per annum from the day appointed for the payment thereof to the time of the actual payment, but the Directors may, when they think fit, remit altogether or in part any sum becoming payable for interest under this clause.

56. Payments in anticipation of calls.—The Directors may at their discretion receive from any Shareholder willing to advance the same, and upon such terms as they think fit, all or any part of the amount of his shares beyond the sum actually called up.

BORROWING POWERS.

57. Power to borrow.—The Directors shall have power to procure from time to time, in the usual course of business, such temporary advances on the produce in hand, or in the future to be obtained from the Company's estates, as they may find necessary or expedient for the purpose of defraying the expense of working the Company's estates, or of erecting, maintaining, improving, or extending buildings, machinery, or plantations, or otherwise. Also from time to time, at their discretion, to borrow or raise from the Directors or other persons any sum or sums of money for the purposes of the Company, but so that the amount at any one time owing in respect of moneys so borrowed or raised shall not, without the sanction of a General Meeting, exceed the sum of Three hundred thousand Rupees (Rs. 300,000). With the sanction of a General Meeting the Directors shall be entitled to borrow such further sum or sums, and at such rate of interest as such meeting shall determine. The Directors may, for the purpose of securing the repayment of any such sum or sums of money so borrowed or raised, create and issue any mortgages, debentures, mortgage debentures, debenture stock, bonds, or obligations of the Company, charged upon all or any part of the undertaking, revenue, property, and rights or assets of the Company (both present and future), including uncalled capital or unpaid calls, or give, accept, or endorse on behalf of the Company any promissory notes or bills of exchange. Provided also that before the Directors execute any mortgage, issue any debentures, or create any debenture stock they shall obtain the sanction thereto of the Company in General Meeting, whether Ordinary or Extraordinary, notice of the intention to obtain such sanction at such meeting having been duly given. Any such securities may be issued, either at par or at a premium or discount, and may from time to time be cancelled or discharged, varied, or exchanged as the Directors may think fit, and may contain any special privileges as to redemption, surrender, drawings, allotment of shares, or otherwise. Every debenture or other instrument issued by the Company for securing the payment of money may be so framed that the moneys thereby secured shall be assignable free from any equities between the Company and the person to whom the same may be issued. A declaration under the Company's seal contained in or endorsed upon any of the documents mentioned in this Article and subscribed by two or more of the Directors, or by one Director and the Agent or Secretary or Agents or Secretaries, to the effect that the Directors have power to borrow the amount which such document may represent, shall be conclusive evidence thereof in all questions between the Company and its creditors, and no such document containing such declaration shall, as regards the creditor, be void on the ground of its being granted in excess of the aforesaid borrowing power, unless it shall be proved that such creditor was aware that it was so granted.

MEETINGS.

58. First General Meeting.—The First General Meeting of the Company shall be held at such time, not being more than twelve months after the registration of the Company, and at such place as the Directors may determine.

59. Subsequent General Meeting.—Subsequent General Meetings shall be held once in every year at such time and place as may be prescribed by the Company in General Meeting, and if no time or place is so prescribed, at such time and place as may be determined by the Directors.

Upon the receipt of such requisition the Directors shall forthwith proceed to convene an Extraordinary General Meeting, to be held at such time and place as they shall determine. If they do not proceed to convene the same within seven days from the delivery of the requisition, the requisitionists may themselves convene an Extraordinary General Meeting, to be held at such place and at such time as the Shareholders convening the meeting may themselves fix.

65. Business requiring and not requiring notification.—Every Ordinary General Meeting shall be competent, without special notice having been given of the purposes for which it is convened, or of the business to be transacted thereat, to receive and discuss any report and any accounts presented thereto by the Directors, and to pass resolutions in approval or disapproval thereof, and to declare dividends, and to elect Directors and Auditors retiring in rotation, and to fix the remuneration of the Auditors; and shall also be competent to enter upon, discuss, and transact any business whatever of which special mention shall have been made in the notice or notices upon which the meeting was convened.

66. Notice of other business to be given.—With the exceptions mentioned in the foregoing Articles as to the business which may be transacted at Ordinary General Meetings without notice, no General Meeting, Ordinary or Extraordinary, shall be competent to enter upon, discuss, or transact any business which has not been specially mentioned in the notice or notices upon which it was convened.

72. Minutes of General Meetings.—Minutes of the proceedings of every General Meeting, whether Ordinary or Extraordinary, shall be entered in a book to be kept for that purpose, and shall when so entered be signed as soon as practicable by the Chairman of the same meeting, or by the Chairman of the succeeding meeting, and the same when so entered and signed shall be evidence of all such proceedings and of the proper election of the Chairman.

In case there shall be an equality of votes, the Chairman at such meeting shall be entitled to give a casting vote in addition to the votes to which he may be entitled as a Shareholder and proxy and attorney; and unless a poll be immediately demanded in writing by some Shareholder present at the meeting and entitled to vote, a declaration by the Chairman that a resolution has been carried, and an entry to that effect in the minute book of the Company, shall be sufficient evidence of the fact without proof of the number of votes recorded in favour of or against such resolution.

74. Poll.—If a poll be duly demanded, the same shall be taken in such manner and at such time and place as the Chairman shall direct, and the result of the poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the meeting at which the poll was demanded. The demand of a poll shall not prevent the continuance of a meeting for the transaction of any business other than the question on which a poll has been demanded.

75. Poll how taken.—If at any meeting a poll be demanded by notice in writing signed by some Shareholder present at the meeting and entitled to vote, which notice shall be delivered during the meeting to the Chairman, the meeting shall, if necessary, be adjourned, and the poll shall be taken at such time and in such a manner as the Chairman shall direct; and in such case every Shareholder shall have the number of votes to which he may be entitled as hereinafter provided, and in case at any such poll there shall be an equality of votes, the Chairman of the meeting at which such poll shall have been demanded shall be entitled to a casting vote in addition to any votes to which he may be entitled as a Shareholder and proxy and attorney, and the result of such poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the Company in such meeting.

131. Interim dividend.—The Directors may also, if they think fit, from time to time and at any time, without the sanction of a General Meeting, determine on and declare an interim dividend to be paid, and (or) pay a bonus to the Shareholders on account and in anticipation of the dividend for the then current year.

132. Reserve fund.—Previously to the Directors paying or recommending any dividend on preference or ordinary shares, they may set aside out of the profits of the Company such a sum as they think proper as a reserve fund, and may invest the same in such securities as they shall think fit, or place the same on fixed deposit in any bank or banks.

136. Directors may deduct debt from the dividends.—The Directors may deduct from the dividend or bonus payable to any Shareholder all sums of money due from him (whether alone or jointly with any other person) to the Company, and notwithstanding such sums shall not be payable until after the date when such dividend is payable.

137. Dividends may be paid by cheque or warrant and sent through the post.—Unless otherwise directed any dividend may be paid by cheque or warrant sent through the post to the registered address of the Shareholder entitled, or, in the case of joint-holders, to the registered address of that one whose name stands first on the register in respect of the joint-holding; but the Company shall not be liable or responsible for the loss of any such cheque or dividend warrant sent through the post.

138. Notice of dividend; forfeiture of unclaimed dividend.—Notice of all dividends or bonuses to become payable shall be given to each Shareholder entitled thereto; and all dividends or bonuses unclaimed by any Shareholder for three years after notice thereof is given may be forfeited by a resolution of the Board of Directors for the benefit of the
