Statement of Objects and Reasons.

THE Indian Legislature has by The Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920, provided for the constitution of a Bank to be called The Imperial Bank of India, which is to take over and conduct the business now carried on by the Presidency Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay. The Act is to come into force on a day to be appointed by the Governor-General of India in Council. On that day the Bank of Madras will cease to exist, and its whole undertaking will be transferred and vested in The Imperial Bank of India. The Indian Act makes the necessary provisions for this transfer, so far as India is concerned ; but the Bank of Madras has a branch in Ceylon and owns property in Ceylon, and it is necessary to make provision by an Ordinance for the transfer of the undertaking of the Bank of Madras in Ceylon to the Imperial Bank of India when it comes into existence.

H. C. GOLLAN,
Attorney-General.
