The next actuarial valuation of the Fund shall be made as on the thirty-first day of December, 1924, and thereafter triennially.

By His Excellency's command,

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, January 18, 1924.

CECIL CLEMENTI,
Colonial Secretary.

Statement of Objects and Reasons.

THE objects of the Bill are, (a) to substitute as from January 1, 1920, eight per centum for six per centum as the rate of interest legally payable on moneys of the Fund invested with the Government; (b) to make it lawful to apply new pension tables constructed on the basis of this higher rate of interest to the dependents of officers appointed after the passing of Ordinance No. 13 of 1906; (c) to delete an existing provision of the law which limits the maximum pension payable in any case to Rs. 3,000 per annum; and (d) to bring the provisions of the law in regard to certain technical matters into line with existing practice.

2. The two first-mentioned objects, (a) and (b), were suggested to the Government in April, 1920, by the Secretary of State, who expressed the opinion that there was a good case for revising the Pension Tables of the Ceylon Widows' and Orphans' Pension Fund and Scheme by substituting eight per centum for the rate of six per centum on which those tables, in common with the tables of practically all the Colonial Funds and Schemes, were then based. The Government and the Legislative Council have given effect to this suggestion so far as the Fund is concerned, and interest at eight per centum on the Fund's money invested with the Government has been voted and paid into the Fund as from January 1, 1920. Section 2 of the present Bill gives statutory authority for past and future action in this respect. No special statutory authority is required for the application of revised tables based on this higher rate of interest to pensions payable from the Fund, and revised tables have in fact already been applied to such pensions, by the procedure prescribed by section 23 of Ordinance No. 1 of 1898, as from January 1, 1920, when the higher rate of interest became payable.

3. These revised tables, in which the more liberal rate of interest allowed by Government on contributions to the Fund is reflected, cannot, however, be applied to Widows' and Orphans' pensions payable from General Revenue (i.e., the prospective and actual pensions of the dependents of officers who are or have been contributors under section 6 of Ordinance No. 13 of 1906 to what is generally known as the Ceylon Widows' and Orphans' Pension Scheme) until section 7 of the Widows' and Orphans' Pension Fund Ordinance of 1906, which provides that such pensions shall not be revised, is repealed. Consequently the "Scheme" pensions have continued to be governed by the old tables. Sections 5 and 6 of the present Bill accordingly repeal section 7 of the Ordinance of 1906 and provide for the application of the revised tables as from January 1, 1920.

4. Further revision of the tables applicable to Widows' and Orphans' pensions is not anticipated as a result of further alteration of the rate of interest assumed in the construction of the tables, but it is possible that further revision may be decided upon hereafter as a result of changes in mortality and other experiences. It has been thought desirable, therefore, in drafting the present Bill, not to insert a provision similar to that in section 7 of the Ordinance of 1906, thereby investing with immutability the tables now to be applied to the Widows' and Orphans' pensions payable from General Revenue, but to make provision for possible future actuarial revisions of the tables applicable to those pensions.

5. As regards the third object of the Bill, (c) in paragraph 1 above, section 33 of Ordinance No. 1 of 1898 limits the pension which may be paid to Rs. 3,000 per annum or such larger sum as may be fixed under section 23 of the Ordinance, and goes on to provide that no public officer is to be compelled to pay any contributions beyond such as would bring up the pension to such maximum amount. The actuaries to whom the Secretary of State referred the matter are not only of opinion that the clause may be repealed without danger to the solvency of the Fund, but state that the removal of the limitation imposed by section 33 would remove much confusion and complexity in bookkeeping. In the Bill provision is made for the repeal of this section. Its repeal will, of course, affect widows' and orphans' pensions payable from General Revenue equally with those payable from the Fund.

6. The technical matters referred to at (d) in paragraph 1 above are dealt with in sections 3 and 7 of the Bill.

7. Section 3 re-enacts sub-section (5) of section 6 of Ordinance No. 1 of 1898 which provides for an annual report on the Fund to be presented on a particular date in each year and covering a period within indicated dates. These dates have been changed more than once, and, to avoid confusion, the sub-section in question is re-enacted with the new dates as desired by the Directors.

8. Section 7 deals with the periodical valuations of the Fund. Section 9 of Ordinance No. 13 of 1906 provides for quinquennial valuations, but the practice has been, as from March 31, 1909, to make triennial valuations. These triennial valuations were made in 1912, 1915, 1918, 1921, and it is thought well to validate them expressly as well as to make provision that for the future these actuarial valuations shall be made triennially.
