41. The Directors may accept Surrender of Shares.—The Directors may accept, in the name and for the benefit of the Company, and upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon a surrender of the shares of Shareholders who may be desirous of retiring from the Company.

42. (a) If Call or Instalment be not paid, Notice to be given to Shareholder.—If any Shareholder fails to pay any call or instalment on or before the day appointed for the payment of the same, the Directors may at any time thereafter, during such time as the call or instalment remains unpaid, serve a notice on such Shareholder or his executors, or administrators, or heirs, or the trustee, or assignee in his bankruptcy, requiring him to pay the same, together with any interest that may have accrued, at the rate of 9 per cent. per annum, and all expenses that may have been incurred by the Company by reason of such non-payment.

(b) Terms of Notice.—The notice shall name a day (not being less than one month from the date of the notice) on and a place or places at which such call or instalment and such interest and expenses as aforesaid are to be paid; the notice shall also state that, in the event of non-payment at or before the time and at the place appointed, the shares in respect of which the call was made or instalments is payable will be liable to be forfeited.

(c) In Default of Payment, Shares to be forfeited.—If the requisition of such notice as aforesaid be not complied with, every or any share or shares in respect of which such notice has been given may at any time thereafter, before payment of calls or instalments, with interest and expenses due in respect thereof, be declared forfeited by a resolution of the board to that effect.

(d) Shareholder still liable to pay Money owing at Time of Forfeiture.—Any Shareholder whose shares have been so declared forfeited shall, notwithstanding, be liable to pay, and shall forthwith pay to the Company all calls, instalments, interest, and expenses owing upon or in respect of such shares at the time of the forfeiture, together with interest thereon from the time of forfeiture until payment at 9 per cent. per annum, and the Directors may enforce the payment thereof if they think fit.

45. (a) Certificates of Surrender or Forfeiture.—A certificate in writing under the hands of two of the Directors and of the Agent or Secretary, or Agents or Secretaries that a share has been duly surrendered or forfeited stating the time when it was surrendered or forfeited shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated as against all persons who would have been entitled to the share but for such surrender or forfeiture; such certificate and the receipt of the Company for the price of such share shall constitute a good title to such share, and a certificate of proprietorship shall be delivered to any person who may purchase the same from the Company; such purchaser thereupon shall be deemed the holder of such share, discharged from all calls due prior to such purchase, and he shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase money nor shall his title to such share be affected by any irregularity in the proceedings in reference to such forfeiture or sale.

(b) Forfeiture may be Remitted.—The Directors may in their discretion remit or annul the forfeiture of any share within six months from the date thereof upon the payment of all moneys due to the Company from the late holder or holders of such share, and all expenses incurred in relation to such forfeiture, together with such further sum of money by way of redemption money for the deficit, as they shall think fit, not being less than 9 per cent. per annum on the amount of the sums wherein default in payment had been made, but no share bona fide sold or re-allotted, or otherwise disposed of under Article 43 hereof, shall be redeemable after sale or disposal.

46. Company's Lien on Shares.—The Company shall have a first charge or paramount lien upon all the shares of any holder or joint-holders for all moneys for the time being due to the Company by such holder, or by all or any of such joint-holders respectively, either in respect of such shares or of other shares held by such holder or joint-holders or otherwise, and whether due from any such holder individually or jointly with others, including all calls, resolutions for which shall have been passed by the Directors, although the times appointed for the payment thereof shall not have arrived; and where any share is held by more persons than one the Company shall be entitled to the said charge or lien in respect of any money due to the Company from any of such persons. And the Directors may decline to register any transfer of shares subject to such charge or lien.

47. Lien how made Available.—Such charge or lien may be made available by a sale of all or any of the shares subject to it, provided that no such sale shall be made except under a resolution of the Directors, and until notice in writing shall have been given to the indebted Shareholder, or his executors, or administrators, or heirs, or the assignee or trustee in his bankruptcy, requiring him or them to pay the amount for the time being due to the Company, and default shall have been made for twenty-eight days from such notice in paying the sum thereby required to be paid. Should the Shareholder over whose share the lien exists be in England or elsewhere abroad, sixty days' notice shall be allowed him.

48. Proceeds how Applied.—The nett proceeds of any such sale as aforesaid under the provisions of Articles 43 and 47 hereof shall be applied in or towards satisfaction of such debts, liabilities, or engagements, and the residue (if any) shall be paid to such Shareholder or his representatives.

49. Certificate of Sale.—A certificate in writing under the hands of two of the Directors and of the agent or secretary or agents or secretaries that the power of sale given by Article 47 has arisen, and is exercisable by the Company under these presents, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated.

50. Transfer on Sale how Executed.—Upon any such sale two of the Directors may execute a transfer of such share to the purchaser thereof, and such transfer, with the certificate last aforesaid, shall confer on the purchaser a complete title to such shares.

PREFERENCE SHARES.

51. Preference and Deferred Shares.—Any shares from time to time to be issued or created may from time to time be issued with any such right of preference, whether in respect of dividend or of payment of capital, or both, or any such other special privilege or advantage over any shares previously issued or then about to be issued (other than shares issued with a preference) or with such deferred rights as compared with any shares previously issued or then about to be issued, or subject to any such conditions or provisions, and with any such right or without any right of voting, and generally on such terms as the Company may, from time to time, by special resolution, determine.

52. Modification of Rights and Consent thereto.—If at any time by the issue of preference shares or otherwise the capital is divided into shares of different classes—

- (1) The holders of any class of shares by an extraordinary resolution passed at a meeting of such holders may consent, on behalf of all the holders of shares of the class, to the issue or creation of any shares ranking equally therewith, or having any priority thereto, or the abandonment of any preference or priority, or of any accrued dividend, or the reduction for any time or permanently of the dividends payable thereon, or to any scheme for the reduction of the Company's capital affecting the class of shares;
- (2) All or any of the rights, privileges, and conditions attached to each class may be commuted, abrogated, abandoned, added to, or otherwise modified by a special resolution of the Company in General Meeting, provided the holders of any class of shares affected by any such commutation, abrogation, abandonment, addition, or other modification of such rights, privileges, and conditions, consent thereto on behalf of all the holders of shares of the class, by an extraordinary resolution passed at a meeting of such holders.

Any extraordinary resolution passed under the provisions of this Article shall be binding upon all the holders of shares of the class, provided that this Article shall not be read as implying the necessity for such consent as aforesaid in any case in which but for this Article the object of the resolution could have been effected without it.

53. Meeting affecting a particular Class of Shares.—Any meeting for the purpose of the last preceding clause shall be convened and conducted in all respects as nearly as possible in the same way as an Extraordinary General Meeting of the Company; provided that no Shareholder, not being a Director, shall be entitled to notice thereof or to attend thereat, unless he be a holder of shares of the class intended to be affected by the resolution, and that no vote shall be given except in respect of a share of that class, and that at any such meeting a poll may be demanded in writing by any Shareholder personally present and entitled to vote at the meeting.

CALLS:

54. (a) Directors may make Calls.—The Directors may from time to time make such calls as they think fit upon the registered holders of shares, in respect of moneys unpaid thereon and not by the conditions of allotment made payable at fixed times; and each Shareholder shall pay the amount of every call so made on him to the persons and at the times and places appointed by the Directors, provided that two months' notice at least shall be given to the Shareholders of the time and place appointed for payment of each call.

(b) Calls, Time when made.—A call shall be deemed to have been made at the time when the resolution authorizing the call was passed at a Board Meeting of the Directors or by resolution in writing in terms of Article 121.

55. Interest on Unpaid Call.—If the sum payable in respect of any call or instalment is not paid on or before the day appointed for the payment thereof, the holder for the time being of the share in respect of which the call shall have been made, or the instalments shall have been due, shall pay interest for the same at the rate of 9 per centum per annum from the day appointed for the payment thereof to the time of the actual payment, but the Directors may, when they think fit, remit altogether or in part any sum becoming payable for interest under this clause.

BORROWING POWERS.

57. Power to Borrow.—The Directors shall have power to procure from time to time, in the usual course of business, such temporary advances on the produce in hand, or in the future to be obtained from the Company's estates, as they may find necessary or expedient for the purpose of defraying the expenses of working the Company's estates, or of erecting, maintaining, improving, or extending buildings, machinery, or plantations, or otherwise. The Directors shall, with the sanction of a General Meeting, be entitled to borrow or raise such further sum or sums, and at such rate of interest as such meeting shall determine. The Directors may, for the purpose of securing the repayment of any such sum or sums of money so borrowed or raised, create and issue any mortgages, debentures, mortgage debentures, debenture stock, bonds, or obligations of the Company, charged upon all or any part of the undertaking, revenue, property, and rights or assets, of the Company (both present and future), including uncalled capital or unpaid calls, or give, accept, or endorse on behalf of the Company any promissory notes or bills of exchange. Provided that before the Directors execute any mortgage, issue any debentures, or create any debenture stock, they shall obtain the sanction thereto of the Company in General Meeting, whether ordinary or extraordinary, notice of the intention to obtain such sanction at such meeting having been duly given. Any such securities may be issued either at par or at a premium or discount, and may from time to time be cancelled or discharged, varied, or exchanged as the Directors may think fit, and may contain any special privileges as to redemption, surrender, drawings, allotment of shares, or otherwise. Every debenture or other instrument issued by the Company for securing the payment of money may be so framed that the moneys thereby secured shall be assignable free from any equities between the Company and the person to whom the same may be issued. A declaration under the Company's seal contained in or endorsed upon any of the documents mentioned in this Article and subscribed by two or more of the Directors, or by one Director and the agent or secretary or agents or secretaries, to the effect that the Directors have power to borrow the amount which such document may represent, shall be conclusive evidence thereof in all questions between the Company and its creditors, and no such document containing such declaration shall, as regards the creditor, be void on the ground of its being granted in excess of the aforesaid borrowing power, unless it shall be proved that such creditor was aware that it was so granted.

Present:—Hon. Mr. W. L. Kindersley, Chairman; Hon. Mr. J. C. Ratwatte; Mr. L. H. S. Pieris; Mr. G. E. de Silva; Mr. M. S. Usoof Ismail; Mr. S. A. Wijetilleke Dr. G. P. Hay; and Mr. P. M. Bingham.

1. The Minutes of Proceedings of the Meetings held on April 26, 1924, and on May 10, 1924, having been previously submitted to the Chairman for his approval and copies thereof furnished to each Member, were taken as read and confirmed by the Chairman.

2. The following documents were submitted:—(a) Statement of receipts and disbursements from close of 1923 to April 30, 1924, on account of the Municipal Fund; (b) Progress report of works brought up to the same date; (c) Health Officer's report for April, 1924; (d) Statements of cases instituted by the several Inspectors and of work done by the Municipal Magistrate during the month of April, 1924; (e) The reservoir readings for April and from May 1 to 16, 1924.

Resolved that the statement (a), together with the Minutes of Proceedings of this Meeting, as required by section 83 of "The Municipal Councils Ordinance, No. 6 of 1910," be forwarded to the Colonial Secretary for publication in the Government Gazette.

3. The following papers were laid on the table:—Reports by the several Inspectors on laundries, bakeries, dairies, standpipes, and house-service taps inspected during April, 1924.

4. Petitions:—(1) Mr. Ratwatte presented a petition from P. Mustapha, scavenging contractor, Katugastota, praying for an extra payment of Rs. 15 a month for the additional length of drain cleansed.—Resolved that the petition be referred to the Medical Officer of Health for report.

(2) Mr. Usoof Ismail presented a petition from A. E. A. Usoof Saibo & Co. and other traders in Colombo street, praying that the charge made for the removal of trade refuse from their premises be discontinued.—Resolved that the Council adhere to their decision to levy the fee.

5. Correspondence:—Letter No. 323 of May 5, 1924, from the Provincial Engineer, Central Province (North), stating that the estimated cost of reducing the curve in Katugastota road near 2½ milepost is Rs. 7,400, and inquiring whether the Council is prepared to contribute the amount.—Resolved that the Provincial Engineer be informed that this being a Public Works Department road, the Council is of opinion that Government should bear the cost of the work. Moreover, the Council cannot afford to contribute in the present state of the Council's finances.

6. Pursuant to notice Mr. Wijetilleke asked—What steps have been taken to give effect to the motions passed by this Council? (a) That two or more electrically propelled lorries should be purchased for the use of the scavenging and conservancy departments of the Council; (b) that the silt tank near the head of the lake along Victoria Drive be converted into a park with proper drainage, and that silt traps be fixed higher up to prevent the silt making its way into the lake.

The Chairman replied as follows:—(a) A vote of Rs. 30,000 was taken in the Budget for 1923 for the purchase of two electrically propelled lorries. The Council, however, at their meeting in September, 1923, resolved that the lorries be not purchased as there were no funds to meet the expenditure; (b) an estimate for Rs. 6,200 was submitted with the Budget for 1923, but laid aside for want of funds.

7. Pursuant to notice, Mr. Wijetilleke moved—That the Superintendent of Works be asked to submit an estimate for building a public latrine at a suitable spot between Mulgampola and Peradeniya. Mr. de Silva seconded.—Carried.

8. Pursuant to notice, Mr. Wijetilleke moved—That the Superintendent of Works be asked to submit an estimate for the building of a small market at Getambe or in the neighbourhood of Peradeniya. Mr. de Silva seconded.—Carried.

That the Superintendent of Works be asked to furnish an estimate to cement concrete the bottom of the bathing pond below the spill of the lake (motion standing over from last meeting for Superintendent of Works' opinion whether it would be safe for bathers to cement the bottom).

It was agreed to obtain an estimate from the Superintendent of Works for providing ten spouts at Lake Spill as decided at the meeting in October, 1923.

An improved sifter or grader for tea.

Abstract.—A tray with a wire mesh bottom is supported on flexible legs inclined at equal and similar angles to the vertical. A reciprocating motion is applied to the legs which causes the tray to oscillate in substantially a horizontal plane. When the leaf reaches one end it may be allowed to fall into a similarly operated tray below. A trough is provided beneath the wire to catch the leaf which passes through and if this trough also oscillates, the leaf passes along it.

The claims are:—

1. In a tea sifting or grading machine, the use of a length of screen mounted on a suitable frame to which reciprocating or vibratory motion may be imparted supported on flexible legs all inclined at the same angle away from the vertical and towards one end of the screen for the purpose explained.

2. A tea sifting machine as claimed in claim 1, but wherein stiff inclined legs are used articulated at the support and where they support the screen, or wherein more or less flexible legs are used with articulated joints having more or less frictional resistance to motion.

3. In a tea sifting or grading machine as firstly or secondly claimed, the use of a long trough mounted on the same frame below the screen to catch the leaf passing therethrough and to which reciprocating or vibratory motion is applied in the same manner.

4. In a tea sifting or grading machine, a series of two or more screens of different graded mesh such as firstly or secondly claimed and troughs such as thirdly claimed, arranged so that the output not passing through a screen, falls beyond or to one side of the screen or screens below, but the part passing through into the troughs is transferred on to preferably the end of the screen below, the legs being arranged that the material on a screen and its trough travels in a direction opposite to that on the screen below.

5. In a tea sifting or grading machine, a series of two or more screens of different graded meshes mounted as claimed in claim 1 or 2 parallel to each other on legs or supports all inclined in one direction, with troughs interposed between the screens but mounted on legs inclined in the opposite direction so that the tea leaf not passing through any particular screen is delivered at the further end while the leaf passing through is returned by its trough to the near end and passes therefrom to the near end of the screen below to be sorted in turn thereby.

6. In a tea sifting or grading machine as firstly or secondly claimed, the screen being composed of successive strips, each strip of a larger mesh than its predecessor in the line of travel.

7. The arrangement and combination of the parts, substantially as described and illustrated.

Process and device for the direct production of rubber sheets and moulded articles from latex.

Abstract.—Latex treated with ammonia is centrifuged with the addition of dyes when desired. It is then subjected to Kataphoresis in a cell with the anode enclosed within a porous pot. The negatively charged rubber particles are driven to the surface of the porous pot covering the anode and are there coagulated by the acid ions which are travelling towards the cathode. The oxygen is set free at the anode and not at the surface of the porous pot so that the rubber is not made spongy. Arrangements are described for securing an even deposit and for preparing sheet and impregnating fabrics or paper.

The claims are:—

1. The direct manufacture of homogeneous rubber sheets from rubber latex by a process which is characterized by electrophoretically precipitating the rubber upon a supporting surface of electrically non-conductive material permeable to liquids and containing within it the anode, the precipitating surface being separated from the anode by a layer allowing the escape of the oxygen liberated at the anode and containing acid electrolyte.

2. The direct manufacture of homogeneous shaped rubber articles from rubber latex by a process which is characterized by electrophoretically precipitating the rubber upon a mould consisting of an electrically non-conductive material permeable to liquids and containing within it the anode, the precipitating surface of the mould being separated from the anode by a layer, allowing the escape of the oxygen liberated at the anode and containing acid electrolyte.

5. In the manufacture claimed in claim 4, effecting the movement of the cathode in relation to the anodic supporting surface or mould in such an irregular manner that the cathode lingers longer at points where greater thickness of deposition is required than at points requiring smaller thickness.
6. For the direct production of transparently coloured rubber sheets or shaped articles by the manufacture claimed in claims 1 or 2 or in claims 3, 4, or 5, the addition to the rubber latex of organic dyes, the ultramicros of which exhibit negative charge in the hydrosol state, thereupon removing the excess of dye which has not been absorbed by the rubber particles and depositing the rubber together with the absorbed dye electrophoretically on to the mould or supporting surface.
7. In the manufacture claimed in any of the preceding claims, mixing sulphur with the latex prior to the electrophoretic treatment.
8. In the manufacture claimed in any of the preceding claims, incorporating in the latex additional materials, the ultramicros of which in aqueous dispersion have a negative charge and depositing same simultaneously with the rubber on to the mould or supporting surface by cataphoresis.

Marconi's Wireless Telegraph Co., Ltd.

A receiving arrangement for use in wireless telegraphy and telephony.

Abstract.—The received oscillations are amplified by an ionized gas relay, without change of wave form or frequency, and the amplified oscillations are then rectified by an ordinary detector. The low frequency impulses in the detector circuit may be strengthened by passing them through the same or a separate ionized gas relay. In the arrangement shown in Fig. 2, the received waves are amplified by a relay a, and are then led to a detector, 1, the impulses from which are strengthened by a second relay a1, and passed through a transformer p to a telephone m or other indicator. The relays a, a1 comprise a cathode c heated by a battery b, an anode d, and an auxiliary anode e, preferably in the form of a net or grid. The transformer k may be dispensed with, the detector 1 being placed directly in the high-frequency circuit.

The claims are :—

1. A receiving arrangement for use in wireless telegraphy and telephony, having a gaseous path permanently ionized by a heated cathode influenced by the electrical oscillations, in which the oscillations, strengthened in known manner by an auxiliary current, are by a rectifier made capable of being received by an indicating device.

2. A receiving arrangement as in claim 1, in which the pulsating currents of comparatively low frequency are again strengthened by similar gaseous paths working with heated cathodes, before said low frequency currents are led to the indicating instrument.

3. A receiving arrangement as in claim 1, in which the strengthening of the currents of low frequency furnished by the rectifier is effected by the same gaseous path which strengthens the high frequency current.

4. An arrangement as in claim 3, in which the low frequency currents from the detector circuit are led through a transformer to the gaseous path, and the secondary coil of this transformer is inserted in the circuit leading the high frequency currents to the gaseous path, the said currents being led to the indicating instrument after strengthening through a second transformer, the primary coil of which is inserted in the circuit connecting the gaseous path and the detector, a condenser being inserted in parallel with the coils of each transformer, said condenser being of low impedance for the high frequency currents.

Marconi's Wireless Telegraph Co., Ltd.

Improvements in and relating to relay arrangements for alternating currents.

Abstract.—In a method of amplifying wireless oscillations or telephone currents by means of an ionized gas relay, the strengthened current in the secondary circuit is led back to the primary circuit so that it is repeatedly strengthened. The same principle may be used in the generation of undamped oscillations which may be used for the transmission of signals, but are particularly suitable for use in wireless receiving systems in which the received oscillations interfere with locally produced oscillations of slightly different frequency to produce beats of audible frequency. In one arrangement a relay consists of a heated cathode 2, a main spiral wire anode 3 and auxiliary anode 4. The incoming receiving circuit is coupled to the electrodes 2 and 4, and the outgoing circuit 9 to the electrodes 2 and 3. The circuit 9 is connected inductively or otherwise with the incoming circuit. The detector circuit may be connected to the secondary circuit 9 or to a primary circuit 7. As ionized gas relays have a rectifying action on alternating currents, the use of ordinary detectors may be dispensed with, the indicating instrument being connected with the circuit carrying the strengthened relay current. The return coupling not only strengthens the received waves but magnifies the asymmetry of the half oscillations, so that finally strengthened direct current impulses act on the indicator.

The claims are:—

1. A relay arrangement for alternating currents particularly suitable for wireless telegraphy and telephony having an electric relay operating by means of an ionized gas path in which the current strengthened by the relay is led with unchanged frequency directly or indirectly to the primary circuit of the relay again, so that the whole of this current or a part thereof repeatedly passes through the relay and is thus further strengthened.
2. An arrangement as in claim 1 in which the primary current to be strengthened is directly or indirectly led both to the relay and also to the detector circuit or the indicating instrument.
3. An arrangement as in claims 1 or 2 in which the indicating instrument or the detector circuit is directly coupled with the antenna or the telephone line.
4. An arrangement as in any of the preceding claims, in which the indicating instrument (telephone) is directly connected (for example by means of a transformer) with the circuit coupled back to the primary circuit of the relay and receiving the strengthened relay current.
5. An arrangement as in claim 4 in which a regulable alternating current resistance (condenser or choking coil) is connected in parallel or in series with the telephone transformer, for regulating the reception of energy by the indicating instrument.
6. An arrangement as in claim 1 in which a closed adjustable oscillation circuit is connected with the primary current circuit or the secondary current circuit of the relay.
7. An arrangement as in claim 6 in which the closed oscillation circuit is connected both with the side of the relay taking weak current (primary) and that giving strengthened current (secondary), so that the initial oscillations excited in the oscillation circuit are strengthened by the relay and will be maintained.
8. An arrangement in which a high tension alternating current is employed to supply the oscillation generator as in claim 7.
9. An arrangement as in claim 8 in which two relays are connected in parallel with the source of alternating current in such a manner that the anode of one and the cathode of the other are always at the same pole of the source of alternating current so that both relays alternately operate corresponding to the half periods of the alternating current, thus making the generation of oscillations continuous.
10. An arrangement as in claims 7, 8, or 9 in which the return coupling of the oscillation circuit with the relay is effected through two special auxiliary electrodes placed opposite to one another in the relay, between which electrodes passes the stream of ions flowing from the cathode to the anode.
11. A relay adapted for use in an arrangement as claimed in claim 10 having two auxiliary electrodes of comb, spiral or the like shape arranged interengaging, for the purpose of strongly affecting the stream of ions.
12. In an arrangement as claimed in claims 7 to 11 a relay having the cathode material of tungsten, tantalum, osmium or carbon without a coating of oxide so that it is possible to obtain a higher load and a greater utilization of the energy of the relay in generating oscillations.
13. An arrangement as claimed in any of the preceding claims for receiving electric oscillations in which the relay connected by return coupling with a closed oscillations circuit, and thus operating as an oscillation generator, and a receiving antenna, act in common on a receiving apparatus comprising a detector and indicating instrument, and in which the frequency of the oscillations generated due to this relay is made approximately equal to the frequency of the oscillations received by interference and to make them perceptible as pure and readily audible sounds.
14. An arrangement as in claim 13 in which when the relay is supplied by alternating currents, the frequency of the alternating current supply is made low in comparison to the number of oscillations of the beats desired, to obtain pure sounds.
15. An arrangement as in claim 13 in which the coupling between the antenna and the receiving system is made as loose as possible in order to diminish the action of atmospheric disturbances on the receiving apparatus.
16. An arrangement as in claim 13 in which the frequency of the oscillations generated by the relay is variably regulated to an approximate multiple of the frequency of the oscillations received.
17. An arrangement as in claim 13 in which several relays acting as oscillation-generators each connected with a detector circuit, are employed in series for causing interference action and in which the indicator (telephone) is first connected with the last relay arrangement in order to render the receiving perceptible.
18. An arrangement as in claim 1 in which the relay is connected with two closed oscillation circuits tuned to different frequencies.
19. An arrangement as in claim 1 for receiving electric oscillations in which a relay connected with a closed oscillation circuit by return coupling and acting as a generator of oscillations is coupled with a second closed oscillation circuit, tuned to an audible frequency, and with the antenna, in such a manner that the interference produced by infringement of waves, between the oscillation of the first circuit and the oscillation of the antenna, influences the second oscillation circuit so that the signals are perceptible by changes of intensity or sound of the permanent sound produced.
20. An arrangement as in claim 19 in which an acoustic or electric resonator co-acts with the indicator in such a manner that essentially only the sound of the signal is perceptible in the indicator.
21. A relay arrangement for alternating currents substantially as described and illustrated with reference to the accompanying drawings Figures 1 to 8 and Figures 11 and 12.

A rapid opening and closing cock or valve for liquids or fluid supplies which comprises a casing having a flat seating made around and adjacent to the exit of the valve a flat machined disc valve sliding on said seating adapted to make fluid-tight contact therewith under fluid pressure and without the use of springs, or open the supply, said disc valve being carried in a yoke preferably integral with a stem about which it pivots, said stem being operated by a handle or lever exterior to the casing.
2. A valve according to claim 1, characterized by the stem bearing on a seating under the pressure of a spring washer external to the casing.
3. A valve according to the claim 2, the stem or part connected thereto being also pressed on its seating by the internal fluid pressure.
4. A valve according to any of the preceding claims, having stops on the outside of the casing to limit the movement of the operating handle.

5. A valve according to any of the preceding claims, the joint between the two halves of the casing being made with a turned groove in the one part and a V-shaped turned projecting ring on the other part.

6. A blow-off cock according to any of the preceding claims, constructed, arranged, and adapted to operate or function substantially as described with reference to the accompanying drawings.

Ammonia Casale Societa Anonima.

Improvements in or relating to apparatus for the catalytic synthesis of ammonia.

Abstract.—In an earlier application a reaction vessel was described having three concentric cylinders. The outer a pressure resisting cylinder A an inner C containing a heating element and the space between A and B containing the catalyst. In the present modification two envelopments are provided, a and b, between the cylinders A and B. The entering gas is divided into two parts one of which forms a gas cushion between A and a, the other passes between a and b where it receives heat from the exit gases, it then passes over the heating element inside C, over the catalyst between B and C and then leaves the apparatus by the passage formed by b and B, here it heats the incoming gases and is itself cooled. Minor modifications are described.

The claims are:—

1. In apparatus for the catalytic synthesis of ammonia from its constituent elements as claimed in specification No. 2,059, the arrangement in the space formed between the inner surface of the pressure resisting cylinder and the outer surface of the intermediate tube of envelopments or partitions in such manner that the reaction gases proceeding from the intermediate tube flow before leaving the apparatus, through a space formed by said intermediate tube and one envelopment, imparting in their passage heat to the incoming gases which flow along the outer wall of said envelopment.

2. In apparatus as claimed in claim 1, the arrangement of an envelopment so that the reacting gases entering the apparatus become divided into two parts, one of which flows through the space formed between said envelopment and that separating the incoming from the outgoing gases, while the other part either forms a cushion adjoining the pressure resisting cylinder or is caused to join the first part prior to entering the innermost tube.

3. A modification of the apparatus claimed in claim 1, in which the gases entering the apparatus are caused by envelopments to flow immediately within the pressure resisting cylinder first in a downward and then in an upward direction before passing into the innermost tube.

4. Apparatus for the catalytic synthesis of ammonia from its constituent elements, substantially as described or shown in the accompanying drawings.

Schedule A.—TODDY RENT SALE CONDITIONS.

The conditions on which the exclusive privilege of selling fermented toddy by retail within the villages described in Schedule B, from October 1, 1924, to September 30, 1925, is sold are, in addition to the general conditions applicable to all Excise licenses which will be duly published in the Government Gazette and which will be in force during the rent period in question, as follows:—

1. The Government Agent shall have power, in his discretion, to refuse to accept any bid or tender, subject to which power the highest bidder or tenderer shall be the grantee of the privilege, and shall conform to and perform all the conditions under which the privilege is sold.

2. (a) The grantee shall, immediately on being declared the grantee, sign these conditions of sale and pay to the Government Agent a sum equivalent to two months' rent of the privilege as a security deposit, which amount shall be liable to forfeiture in whole or in part, at the discretion of the Government Agent, for breach of any of the conditions; and such forfeiture shall be in addition to any other penalty prescribed by the conditions for such breach. The grantee shall hypothecate the said security deposit by a bond in form Excise T 23 within fourteen days of sale of the privilege above prescribed.

(b) If the highest bid or tender under condition 1 exceeds the sum of Rs. 2,000, the grantee shall at the same time execute, if so required by the Government Agent, in the form sanctioned by law, a power of attorney to confess judgment in any action which may be instituted against him for the recovery of any moneys due in respect of this privilege.

(c) The grantee shall, on signing the conditions of sale, elect, and under his hand signify a post office to which all notices and processes whatever in connection with the above said privilege shall be addressed under registered post; and all such notices of processes as aforesaid so addressed to the post office so elected and posted in due course shall be considered as good and effectual to all intents and purposes as if the same were served personally.

3. The grantee shall pay to the Government Agent the purchase money or rent in twelve equal monthly instalments, and also any duty, fee, cost price, or other sum due to the Government from him. The first instalment of the purchase money or rent shall be considered due and payable on September 30, 1924, and the remainder on the last day of each succeeding month. Interest at the rate of 9 per cent. per annum shall be payable on all arrears.

4. No payment of any sum due by the grantee to the Crown shall be considered as duly made unless the grantee shall produce a Kachcheri receipt therefor; and no money which, for his own convenience, the grantee may think fit to leave in the hands of the Shroff or any other officer of the Kachcheri shall be considered as money paid under this contract.

5. If an instalment or part of the instalment of the purchase money or rent, or any duty, fee, cost price, or other sum due to the Government from the grantee remains unpaid after the same shall have become due and payable, the Government Agent shall have power, after 15 days' notice to the grantee of his intention to do so without further process of law, to cancel the license or licenses issued to the grantee, and to re-sell the privilege at the risk and loss of the grantee. The notice referred to may be given in such manner as the Government Agent may direct.

6. The grantee shall, on receipt of the license to sell, furnish to the Superintendent or Assistant Superintendent of Excise an application on the prescribed form showing the numbers and situations of the trees which he proposes to tap for the supply of fermented toddy for sale at each tavern, and no tree shall be tapped or toddy drawn for this purpose except under cover of a license setting forth the numbers and situations of the trees, the name of the drawer, and the tavern for which the fermented toddy is intended. The Superintendent of Excise or Assistant Superintendent of Excise shall have power, subject to appeal to the Excise Commissioner, to refuse any application to tap trees for any tavern if such application is, in his opinion, open to serious objection.

7. No tree shall be tapped or toddy drawn therefrom for the supply of fermented toddy for sale at a tavern unless such tree shall first have been marked for this purpose in a manner prescribed by the Excise Commissioner; nor shall toddy be transported to the tavern except under cover of a pass granted by the Superintendent of Excise or the Assistant Superintendent of Excise. Such pass shall set forth the name of the person who transports the toddy and shall be issued to the grantee, who shall hand it to the person who transports the toddy.

(a) Any renter wishing to make vinegar from toddy shall first obtain a vinegar license from the Government Agent. Provided that the Government Agent may issue licenses to non-renters on terms and subject to conditions duly approved by Government.
