4. The number of tickets to be printed monthly should not be calculated at one-twelfth of 2,000,000 tickets, as orders will be placed according to the demand.

5. Any order for tickets placed must be executed within one week of the date of placing the order, but small or emergency orders will have to be executed at very short notice.

6. 41. Failing such Registration, Shares may be sold by the Company.—If any person who shall become entitled to be registered in respect of any share under Article 40, shall not, from any cause whatever, within twelve calendar months after the event on the happening of which his title shall accrue, be registered in respect of such share, or if, in the case of the death of any Shareholder, no person shall, within twelve calendar months after such death, be registered as a Shareholder in respect of the shares of such deceased Shareholder, the Company may sell the same either by public auction or private contract, and give a receipt for the purchase money; and the purchaser shall be entitled to be registered in respect of such share, and shall not be bound to inquire whether the events have happened which entitled the Company to sell the same; the nett proceeds of such sale, after deducting all expenses and all moneys in respect of which the Company is entitled to a lien on the shares so sold shall be paid to the person entitled thereto.

42. Curator of Minor, &c., when not entitled to vote.—The curator of a minor Shareholder, the committeee or other legal guardian of any lunatic Shareholder, the husband of any female Shareholder not entitled to her shares as separate estate, and the executor or administrator or heir of any deceased Shareholder, shall not be entitled to receive notice of or to attend or vote at meetings of the Company or save as aforesaid, and save as regards the receipt of such dividends as the Board shall not elect to retain, to exercise any of the rights and privileges of a Shareholder, unless and until he shall have been registered as the holder of the shares.

SURRENDER AND FORFEITURE OF SHARES.

43. The Directors may accept Surrender of Shares.—The Directors may accept, in the name and for the benefit of the Company, and upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon, a surrender of the shares of Shareholders who may be desirous of retiring from the Company.

44. If Call or Instalment not paid, Notice to be given to Shareholder.—If any Shareholder fails to pay any call or instalment on or before the day appointed for the payment of the same, the Directors may at any time thereafter, during such time as the call or instalment remains unpaid, serve a notice on such Shareholder requiring him to pay the same, together with any interest that may have accrued, at the rate of 9 per cent. per annum, and all expenses that may have been incurred by the Company by reason of such non-payment.

45. Terms of Notice.—The notice shall name a day (not being less than one month from the date of the notice) on and a place or places at which such call or instalment and such interest and expenses as aforesaid are to be paid; the notice shall also state that, in the event of non-payment at or before the time and at the place appointed, the shares in respect of which the call was made or instalment is payable will be liable to be forfeited.

46. In default of Payment, Shares to be forfeited.—If the requisition of such notice as aforesaid be not complied with, every or any share or shares in respect of which such notice has been given may at any time thereafter, before payment of calls or instalments, with interest, and expenses due in respect thereof, be declared forfeited by a resolution of the Board to that effect.

47. Shareholder still liable to pay Money owing at Time of Forfeiture.—Any Shareholder whose shares have been so declared forfeited shall, notwithstanding, be liable to pay and shall forthwith pay to the Company all calls, instalments, interest and expenses owing upon or in respect of such shares at the time of forfeiture, together with interest thereon at 9 per cent. per annum from the time of forfeiture until payment, and the Directors may enforce the payment thereof if they think fit.

48. Surrendered or forfeited Shares to be the Property of the Company, and may be sold, &c.—Every share surrendered or so declared forfeited shall be deemed to be the property of the Company, and may be sold, re-allotted, or otherwise disposed of upon such terms and in such manner as the Board shall think fit.

49. Effect of Surrender or Forfeiture.—The surrender or forfeiture of a share shall involve the extinction of all interest in, and also of all claims and demands against, the Company in respect of the share and the proceeds thereof, and all other rights incident to the share, except only such of those rights (if any) as by these presents are expressly saved.

50. Certificates of Surrender or Forfeiture.—A certificate in writing under the hands of two of the Directors and of the Agents or Secretaries that a share has been duly surrendered or forfeited stating the time when it was surrendered or forfeited shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated as against all persons who would have been entitled to the share, but for such surrender or forfeiture such certificate and the receipt of the Company for the price of such share shall constitute a good title to such share, and a certificate of proprietorship shall be delivered to any person who may purchase the same from the Company; such purchaser thereupon shall be deemed the holder of such share, discharged from all calls due prior to such purchase, and he shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase money nor shall his title to such share be affected by any irregularity in the proceedings in reference to such forfeiture or sale.

51. Forfeiture may be remitted.—The Directors may in their discretion remit or annul the forfeiture of any share within six months from the date thereof upon the payment of all moneys due to the Company from the late holder or holders of such share or shares, and all expenses incurred in relation to such forfeiture, together with such further sum of money by way of redemption money for the deficit, as they shall think fit, not being less than 9 per cent. per annum on the amount of the sums wherein default in payment had been made, but no share bona fide sold or re-allotted, or otherwise disposed of under Article 48 hereof, shall be redeemable after sale or disposal.

52. Company's lien on Shares.—The Company shall have a first and paramount lien upon all the shares registered in the name of each Shareholder (whether solely or jointly with others), and upon the proceeds of sale thereof, for his debts, liabilities, and engagements, solely or jointly with any other person, to or with the Company, whether the period for the payment, fulfilment, or discharge thereof shall have actually arrived or not, and no equitable interest in any share shall be created except upon the footing and condition that Article 20 hereof is to have full effect, and such lien shall extend to all dividends from time to time declared in respect of such shares and to all moneys paid in advance of calls thereon. Unless otherwise agreed, the registration of a transfer of shares shall operate as a waiver of the Company's lien (if any) on such shares.

53. Lien how made available and Proceeds how applied.—For the purpose of enforcing such lien the Board may sell the shares subject thereto in such manner as they think fit, but no sale shall be made until such time as the moneys are presently payable, and notice in writing stating the amount due, and giving notice of intention to sell, in default shall have been served on such Shareholder or the person (if any) entitled by transmission to the shares and default shall have been made for seven clear days after such notice. The net proceeds of any such sale shall be applied in or towards satisfaction of the debts, liabilities, and engagements aforesaid, and the residue (if any) shall be paid to the Shareholder or the person (if any) entitled by transmission to the shares or who would be so entitled but for such sale. Should the Shareholder over whose share the lien exists be in England or elsewhere abroad, sixty days' notice shall be allowed him.

54. Certificate of Sale.—A certificate in writing under the hands of two of the Directors and of the agents or secretaries that the power of sale given by Article 53 has arisen, and is exercisable by the Company under these presents, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated.

PREFERENCE SHARES.

56. Preference and deferred Shares.—Any shares from time to time to be issued or created may from time to time be issued with any such right of preference, whether in respect of dividend or of payment of capital, or both, or any such other special privilege or advantage over any shares previously issued or then about to be issued (other than shares issued with a preference), or with such deferred rights as compared with any shares previously issued or then about to be issued, or subject to any such conditions or provisions, and with any such right or without any right of voting, and generally on such terms as the Company may, from time to time, by special resolution, determine.

57. Modification of Rights and Consent thereto.—If at any time by the issue of preference shares or otherwise the capital is divided into shares of different classes—

- (1) The holders of any class of shares by an extraordinary resolution passed at a meeting of such holders may consent, on behalf of all the holders of shares of the class, to the issue or creation of any shares ranking equally therewith, or having any priority thereto, or the abandonment of any preference or priority, or of any accrued dividend, or the reduction for any time or permanently of the dividends payable thereon, or to any scheme for the reduction of the Company's capital affecting the class of shares.

58. Meeting affecting a particular Class of Shares.—Any meeting for the purpose of the last preceding Article shall be convened and conducted in all respects as nearly as possible in the same way as an Extraordinary General Meeting of the Company; provided that no Shareholder, not being a Director, shall be entitled to notice thereof, or to attend thereat, unless he be a holder of shares of the class intended to be affected by the resolution, and that no vote shall be given except in respect of a share of that class, and that at any such meeting a poll may be demanded by the Chairman or in writing by any Shareholder personally present and entitled to vote at the meeting. A Director although not a holder of shares of the class affected may act as proxy at any such meeting.

CALLS.

59. Directors may make Calls.—The Directors may from time to time make such calls as they think fit upon the registered holders of shares, in respect of moneys unpaid thereon, and not by the conditions of allotment made payable at fixed times; and each Shareholder shall pay the amount of every call so made on him to the persons and at the times and places appointed by the Directors, provided that two months' notice at least shall be given to the Shareholders of the time and place appointed for payment of each call.

Provided that before the Directors execute any mortgage, issue any debentures or create any debenture stock they shall obtain the sanction thereto of the Company in General Meeting whether Ordinary or Extraordinary, notice of the intention to obtain such sanction at such meeting having been duly given. Any such securities may be issued, either at par or at a premium or discount, and may from time to time be cancelled or discharged, varied, or exchanged as the Directors may think fit, and may contain any special privileges as to redemption, surrender, drawings, allotment of shares, or otherwise. A declaration under the Company's seal contained in or endorsed upon any of the documents mentioned in this Article, and subscribed by two or more of the Directors, or by one Director and the agents and/or secretaries, to the effect that the Directors have power to borrow the amount which such document may represent, shall be conclusive evidence thereof in all questions between the Company and its creditors, and no such document containing such declaration shall, as regards the creditor, be void on the ground of its being granted in excess of the aforesaid borrowing power, unless it shall be proved that such creditor was aware that it was so granted.

72. Two Meetings convened by One Notice.—Where it is proposed to pass a special resolution the two meetings may be convened by one and the same notice, and it is to be no objection to such notice that it only convenes the second meeting contingently on the resolution being passed by the requisite majority at the first meeting.

73. Business requiring, and not requiring, Notification.—Every Ordinary General Meeting shall be competent, without special notice having been given of the purposes for which it is convened, or of the business to be transacted thereat, to receive and consider the profit and loss account (if any), the balance sheet of the Company, the reports of the Directors and Auditors, to elect Directors, Auditors, and other officers in place of those retiring, to fix the remuneration of the Directors and Auditors, to sanction and declare dividends, and to transact any business which under these presents ought to be transacted at an Ordinary General Meeting, and shall also be competent to enter upon, discuss, and transact any business whatever of which special mention shall have been made in the notice upon which the meeting was convened.

82. Poll.—If a poll be duly demanded, the same shall be taken in such manner, and at such time and place as the Chairman shall direct, and the result of the poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the meeting at which the poll was demanded. with such resolution, apply such sum in paying up in full (or, with the consent of the Shareholders, in part) any unissued shares or debentures, or other obligations of the Company on behalf of the Shareholders aforesaid, and appropriate such shares, or debentures, or other obligations and distribute the same credited as fully paid up (or, as the case may be, partly paid up) amongst the Shareholders in the proportions aforesaid in satisfaction of their shares and interests in the said capitalized sum, or shall apply such sum or any part thereof on behalf of the Shareholders in paying up the whole or part of any uncalled balance which shall for the time being be unpaid in respect of any issued shares held by such Shareholders or otherwise deal with such sum as directed by such resolution. Where any difficulty arises in respect of any such distribution the Directors may settle the same as they think expedient, and in particular they may issue fractional certificates, fix the value for distribution of any shares, or debentures, or other obligations, make cash payments to any Shareholders on the footing of the value so fixed in order to adjust rights, and vest any such shares, or debentures, or other obligations in trustees, upon such trusts for the persons entitled to share in the appropriation and distribution as may seem just and expedient to the Directors.

151. Notice of Dividend; Forfeiture of unclaimed Dividend.—Notice of all dividends to become payable shall be given to each Shareholder entitled thereto; and all dividends unclaimed by any Shareholder for three years after notice thereof is given may be forfeited by a resolution of the Board of Directors for the benefit of the Company, and, if the Directors think fit, may be applied in augmentation of the reserve fund. For the purposes of this Article any cheques or warrants which may be issued for dividends and may not be presented at the Company's bankers for payment within three years shall rank as unclaimed dividends.

Douglas Frank Twiss, Dunlop Rubber Company, Limited, and Edward Arthur Murphy.

An improved method and apparatus for concentrating or drying liquids.

Abstract.—A swirling motion is given, in a vessel which does not rotate on its axis, to a mixture of latex and compounding ingredients.

Means are provided for heating and cooling the mixture and for the admission of drying gases above the surface and for producing a partial vacuum. The object of the particular motion imparted is continually to renew the surface. A suitable mechanism is described.

There are eighty-two claims and two sheets of drawings.

No. 2,362 of January 10, 1929 (Date applied for under Section 50 of the Ordinance : June 26, 1928).

L'Auxiliaire Des Chemins De Fer Et De L'Industrie.

Improvements in apparatus for the condensation of Steam and the like.

Abstract.—A U tube is connected to the chamber containing the liquid to be discharged. One arm of the U is connected to the bottom of the chamber, the other to the vapour space. The last arm contains a cylinder with a piston, the upward movement of which opens an exit side tube. The piston is acted on above by the vapour pressure and on the lower by the vapour pressure plus the head of liquid; the piston is thus lifted until the liquid is discharged, when the pressure falls to the same value on either side and the piston drops under its own weight. Other variations of the method are described.

The claims are :—

1. In a device for discharging a liquid of determined density from a chamber which also contains a fluid of less density and at any pressure, without any loss of fluid, while discharging the liquid at the pressure of the fluid, as claimed in applicant's prior Ceylon Specification No. 2,340, the improvement or modification which resides in that the tube which contains the valve for controlling the discharge of liquid is a U-shaped tube, one branch whereof opens into the bottom of said chamber while the other branch opens into said chamber above, the uppermost level which may be reached by the liquid contained therein, said valve or like obturating member being so disposed in one of said branches that its upper face is constantly subjected to the pressure of the fluid, while its lower face is subjected to the pressure of the fluid increased or not by the pressure corresponding to the weight of the liquid column which may be contained in said tube, according as said tube contains liquid or not.

2. A device according to claim 1, wherein said fluid is a condensable vapor, for example steam, means being provided in the branch of said tube which is constantly filled with vapor for discharging, automatically or not, the liquid produced by the condensation of said vapor.

3. In a device for discharging a liquid of determined density from a chamber which also contains a fluid of less density and at any pressure, without any loss of fluid, while discharging the liquid at the pressure of the fluid, as claimed in applicant's prior Ceylon Specification No. 2,340, the improvement or modification which resides in that said obturating member is constituted by a diaphragm, or like deformable member, associated with a needle valve or the like.

4. A device for discharging a liquid of determined density from a chamber which also contains a fluid of less density and at any pressure, without any loss of fluid, while discharging the liquid at the pressure of the fluid, substantially as described and as shown in the appended drawing.

5. Surface heaters, or heaters wherein steam and water are mixed together, and provided with a device according to any of the claims 1 to 4, substantially as described.

Improvements relating to the manufacture or lining of pipes by centrifugal action.

Abstract.—The mould or pipe is supported on the upper stretch of two endless bands and by its weight forms depressions in which it rests. The ends of the pipe are held in position and means are provided for imparting a vibratory motion to the pipe.

The claims are :—

1. A method of centrifugally manufacturing or lining pipes and like hollow bodies, characterized by placing a mould or pipe within which centrifugalisation is to occur upon the upper stretch of an endless supporting and driving band so that the mould or pipe by its weight forms an open topped depression in said band and places the latter in tension, whereby the travel of said band rotates said mould or pipe while the latter is supported within said open topped depression.

2. A method of centrifugally manufacturing or lining pipes and like hollow bodies; characterized by placing a mould or pipe within which centrifugalisation is to take place upon the upper stretch of an endless supporting and driving band which extends around guide members located one at each side of the pipe or mould, so that the latter by its own weight forms and seats within an open topped depression in the upper stretch of the band and maintains the desired tension in the band, whereby lineal travel of the latter imparts rotary motion to said mould or pipe while it is supported within said depression.

3. A method of centrifugally manufacturing or lining pipes and like hollow bodies; characterized by passing an endless supporting and driving band around pulleys or guide members so that there is a slackness in the band, placing a mould or pipe upon the upper stretch of the belt between the pulleys or guide members, so that the pipe or mould by its weight forms and rests within an open topped depression in said upper stretch and places the belt in tension, introducing plastic material into the pipe or mould, and causing said belt to travel around its pulleys or guide members so that the pipe is rotated by said band while resting within said open topped depression.

4. A method of centrifugally manufacturing or lining pipes or like hollow bodies, which consists in arranging each of two or more endless bands to extend with slackness around pulleys or guide members so that said bands are horizontally aligned and in parallel laterally spaced relationship to each other, placing a mould or pipe upon the upper stretches of said bands so that the mould or pipe by its weight forms open topped depressions in said belt by and within which it is supported, and places the bands in tension introducing plastic material into the mould or pipe, and causing said bands to travel around their pulleys or guide members, so that the pipe is rotated by said bands while resting in said open topped depressions.

5. A method of centrifugally manufacturing or lining pipes and other hollow bodies, according to which two or more laterally spaced endless bands are arranged to pass around sets of pulleys or guide members so disposed that the bands extend parallel to each other in the same horizontal plane and are provided in their upper stretches with open topped depressions between the guide members of respective sets, a pipe or mould within which centrifugalisation is to take place being rested at spaced intervals in its length upon said bands within said depressions so as to be rotated by said bands.

6. A method according to any of the foregoing claims and particularly suitable for forming pipes from or lining pipes with cementitious materials; characterized by engaging a contact member with the pipe or mould or a part rotating therewith so as to impart a vibratory or shaking motion to the pipe or mould whilst it is being rotated by said band or bands, for the purpose specified.

7. Apparatus for centrifugally manufacturing or lining pipes and like hollow bodies with plastic material, comprising a set of guide members, an endless band extending around said guide members so that an open topped depression is formed in the upper stretch of said band between the guide members in order to accommodate a mould or pipe, and means for imparting lineal motion to said band, for the purpose specified.

8. Apparatus for the centrifugal manufacture or lining of pipes and other hollow bodies with plastic materials, comprising separate laterally spaced endless belts or bands, and a set of pulleys or guide members for each band, one pulley of each set constituting a driver for its band, the various pulleys or guide members of said sets being so arranged that the upper stretches of the bands have laterally aligned open topped bights or depressions to accommodate a pipe or mould, whereby the latter may be supported and frictionally rotated by said bands.

9. Apparatus for the centrifugal manufacture or lining of pipes with plastic materials, comprising separate endless bands, and a set of pulleys for each band mounted upon parallel shafts suitably spaced so as to permit of a pipe or mould being suspended in open topped bights or depressions formed in the upper stretches of said bands between adjacent pulleys, the pulleys of the various sets being driven in synchronism.

10. Apparatus according to any of the foregoing claims 7, 8, or 9, characterized in that each band passes around three or more pulleys so arranged that the upper stretch of each band is provided with a plurality of said open topped bights or depressions whereby several pipes or moulds may be supported and rotated by said bands simultaneously.

11. Apparatus according to any of the foregoing claims 7 to 10, in combination with means for adjusting the depth of the depression in the upper stretch of each endless band, for the purpose specified.

12. Apparatus according to any of the foregoing claims 7 to 11, characterized in that each band passes around a guide member or pulley which is adjustable in relation to the other guide member or pulley, for the purpose specified.

13. Apparatus according to any of the foregoing claims 7 to 12, in combination with means for imparting a vibratory or shaking motion to a pipe or mould whilst it is being supported and rotated by said band or bands, for the purpose specified.

14. Apparatus according to claim 13 wherein the means for producing said vibratory or shaking motion comprises a contact member adapted to bear against the periphery of a rotating pipe or mould or a part revolving therewith.

15. Apparatus according to claims 13 or 14, characterized by an arm or bar adapted to rest by its own weight against the exterior of the pipe or mould or a part rotating therewith, for the purpose specified.

16. Apparatus according to any of the foregoing claims, in combination with means for preventing excessive longitudinal movement of a pipe or mould while it is supported upon and rotated by said band or bands.

17. Apparatus according to claim 16 wherein said means comprises a flange or ring adapted for detachable connection to a pipe or mould, and guide members adjacent which said flange or ring is positioned, for the purpose specified.

18. Apparatus according to any of the foregoing claims 7 to 17, in combination with ramps or runners disposed above the level of said band or bands and along which the pipes or moulds may be rolled towards and away from the bights or depression in the upper stretches of said bands.

19. A method of rotating hollow bodies to be lined with plastic materials by centrifugal action, substantially as described.

20. Apparatus for the manufacture or lining of pipes by centrifugal action, consisting in means for supporting and rotating a mould or a pipe to be lined, substantially as described.

21. Apparatus for the manufacture or lining of pipes by centrifugal action, consisting in the combination of means for supporting, rotating, and vibrating the mould or the pipe to be lined, substantially as herein described.

22. Apparatus for the manufacture or lining of pipes by centrifugal action substantially as described and as illustrated in the accompanying drawings.

No. 2,373 of February 28, 1929.

Henry Edward Van den Bergh.

Improvements in and relating to blending or mixing.

Abstract.—The tea is carried by an elevator to the upper storey, the floor of which is composed of movable louvres. When all the tea is up the louvres are opened and the tea falls to the second floor which is shaped like an inverted pyramid; from here it passes to a chute and so to the vertical conveyors and the process is repeated.

The claims are:—

1. Mixing or blending apparatus especially for blending of tea, comprising an upper chamber or container with a floor or base, of such construction that in one position the said floor or base holds the material thereon and in another position it allows the material to pass there through means for supplying materials or tees to be mixed to the upper chamber so that the said materials or tees pile up upon the floor or base, another chamber or container below the first mentioned or upper chamber adapted to receive the materials passing through the floor when in the open position, means in connection with the lower chamber for reconveying the materials therefrom back to the upper chamber, and other means in connection with the lower chamber for removing the materials therefrom.

2. Mixing or blending apparatus as claimed in claim 1 in which the means for supplying the materials or teas to the upper chamber comprises one or more conveyors which deliver the materials or teas directly to the upper chamber or to other chutes or conveyors leading to the said upper chamber for the purpose set forth.

3. Mixing or blending apparatus as claimed in claim 2 in which one or more loading bins, hoppers or the like are provided leading to the conveyor or conveyors, the said bins or the like being adapted to receive the materials, such as the contents of chests of tea, to be blended.

4. Mixing or blending apparatus as claimed in the preceding claims in which a valve or shutter controlled gravity chute or chutes are provided leading from the lower chamber to the conveying means which supplies the material to the upper chamber for the purposes set forth.

5. Mixing or blending apparatus as claimed in the preceding claims in which the outlet from the lower chamber is provided with a valve or shutter for the purposes set forth.

6. Mixing or blending apparatus as claimed in the preceding claims in which the floor of the upper chamber is formed from a number of pivoted slats or louvres adapted to be simultaneously opened and closed for the purposes set forth.

7. Mixing or blending apparatus as claimed in claim 6 in which the simultaneous opening and closing of the louvres is effected by means of sliding rods connected by pivoted lugs to the louvres in positions remote from their pivots, the said sliding rod or rods being in turn controlled by a lever or levers carried by a shaft adapted to be rotated by suitable means.

8. Mixing or blending apparatus as claimed in claim 7 in which the shaft carries a worm wheel with which meshes a worm carried by another shaft adapted to be rotated from a hand wheel or the like, located in any suitable position, preferably in close proximity to the outlet from the lower chamber, for the purposes set forth.

9. Mixing or blending apparatus as claimed in claim 7 or 8 in which the end of the sliding rod remote from its lever connection carries a roller or the like and co-operates with a fixed guiding cam, substantially as and for the purposes set forth.

10. Mixing or blending apparatus as claimed in claim 6, 7, 8, or 9 in which suitably supported angle irons are arranged above the joints between adjacent slats, the angle irons being disposed so that the right angled edge of each iron points upwardly leaving two sloping surfaces extending downwardly for the purposes set forth.

11. Mixing or blending apparatus as claimed in claim 1, 6, 7, 8, or 9 in which the floor of the upper chamber is supported by suitably carried joists, which joists carry above them a desired number of angle irons arranged parallel and at desired distances apart, the angle irons being so disposed and fixed to the joists that the right angled edge of each iron points upwardly leaving two sloping surfaces, each angle iron carrying below it supports for a suitable pivot, a slat or louvre pivoted to the said means below each angle iron and in its upper position extending to cover in the gap or space left between two adjacent angle irons, and connecting means from the free edge of each slat to means for simultaneously moving all the slats substantially as and for the purposes set forth.

12. Mixing or blending apparatus as claimed in claim 11 in which diverting means are provided above the joists which support the angle irons, to prevent the collection of material upon the said joists, or the passage of material between the ends of aligned louvres or slats.

13. A method of mixing or blending, especially a method for blending teas, comprising conveying the materials or teas to be blended by suitable means to an upper chamber and piling them upon the floor of such chamber to a desired quantity, dropping the materials or teas through the floor (suitably formed for the purpose) to a lower chamber, reconveying the materials or teas from the lower chamber to the upper chamber, by suitable means, where they are again piled on the floor to a desired extent, repeating the above operations a desired number of times, and finally removing the materials or teas from the lower chamber, substantially as and for the purposes set forth.
