The following Draft of a proposed Ordinance is published for general information :—

No. 26 of 1927.

An Ordinance to amend the Medical Ordinance, 1927.

BE it enacted by the Governor of Ceylon, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows :—

Short title.

1 This Ordinance may be cited as the Medical Amendment Ordinance, 1929.

Amendment of section 8 of the principal Ordinance.

2 Section 8 of the principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the substitution of the word " regulations " for the word " rules " in the fourth line thereof.

Amendment of section 10 of the principal Ordinance.

3 Section 10 of the principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the addition of the following paragraph at the end of sub-section (1) thereof :—

(k) A medical practitioner, nominated as aforesaid, who is neither a lecturer in the University College or the Ceylon Medical College, nor an officer in the service of the Government.

4 Section 12 of the principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the substitution of the word "regulations" for the word "rules" in the first line thereof.

Amendment of section 12 of the principal Ordinance.

5 Section 38 of the principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the addition of the words "in the course of his practice" at the end thereof.

Amendment of section 38 of the principal Ordinance.

6 Section 57 (1) (b) of the principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the deletion of the words "for gain" in the first line thereof.

Amendment of section 57 (1) (b) of the principal Ordinance.

7 Section 59 of the principal Ordinance is hereby amended by the deletion of the words "assistant, or associate," in the fourth and fifth lines thereof.

Amendment of section 59 of the principal Ordinance.

8 The following section is hereby inserted in the principal Ordinance immediately after section 61 thereof:—

Insertion of new section 61A in the principal Ordinance.

61A No person, not being a pharmacist, shall practise for gain or profess to practise or publish his name as practising pharmacy.

Restriction on practice by unqualified persons.

By His Excellency's command,

Colonial Secretary's Office, F. G. TYRRELL,
Colombo, September 24, 1929. Acting Colonial Secretary.

Objects and Reasons.

CLAUSES 2 and 4 of this Bill correct an inaccuracy in sections 8 and 12 of the Medical Ordinance, 1927, where the word "rules" has been used instead of the word "regulations". There is no power to make rules in the Ordinance, but section 16 and other sections confer a power to make regulations only.

2. Clause 3 gives effect to a suggestion made by certain members of the Select Committee on the Medical Ordinance, 1927, viz., that the Council of the Ceylon Medical College should include one medical practitioner who is not a lecturer, nor in the service of the Government, in order to associate a private medical practitioner with the work of the Council.

3. Clause 5 adds certain words to section 38 of the principal Ordinance which will entitle a medical practitioner to recover charges for medicines and surgical appliances supplied by him in the course of his practice only. This amendment brings the section into line with sections 42 and 43 which relate to the practice of medicine and recovery of charges by vedaralas, Government apothecaries, and estate dispensers. It is considered that medical practitioners should not practise pharmacy for gain except in the course of their practice as medical practitioners.

4. Clause 6 amends section 57 (1) (b) of the Ordinance which now implies that a woman who is not a midwife or a medical practitioner may attend a woman in child-birth for gain, if she does so under the direction of a medical practitioner or in case of emergency. This provision would permit an easy means of defeating the general prohibition contained in the section against the practice of midwifery for gain by unqualified persons, and the words "for gain" have therefore been deleted.

5. Clause 7 effects a small amendment in section 59 of the Ordinance, the words "assistant, or associate" being deleted. It appears that this class of person is not now registered under the Pharmacy Acts and there is no object in referring to it.

6. Clause 8 deals with section 61 of the Ordinance. This section at present makes unlawful the assumption or use of a title, &c., implying qualifications in pharmacy, but does not penalize the person who actually practises pharmacy for gain without being a pharmacist, so long as he does not assume or use the title, &c. A new section 61A has therefore been added definitely prohibiting such practice by persons who are not pharmacists.

The following Draft of a proposed Ordinance is published for general information :—

No. 15 of 1921.
II. 29.

An Ordinance further to amend the Maintenance Orders (Facilities for Enforcement) Ordinance, No. 15 of 1921.

BE it enacted by the Governor of Ceylon, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows :—

Short title.

1 This Ordinance may be cited as the Maintenance Orders (Facilities for Enforcement) Amendment Ordinance, 1929.

Substitution of a new section for section 12 of the principal Ordinance.

2 Section 12 of the principal Ordinance is hereby repealed and the following section is substituted therefor :—

Reciprocal arrangements with British Possessions or Protectorates.

Where the Governor is satisfied that reciprocal provisions have been made by the Legislature of any British possession or any territory under His Majesty's protection for the enforcement within such possession or territory of maintenance orders made by courts in Ceylon, the Governor may by Proclamation to be published in the Gazette extend this Ordinance to such possession or territory, and this Ordinance shall thereupon apply in respect of such possession or territory as though the references to England or Ireland were references to such possession or territory and the references to the Secretary of State were references to the Governor of such possession or territory.

By His Excellency's command,

Colonial Secretary's Office, F. G. TYRRELL,
Colombo, September 14, 1929. Acting Colonial Secretary.

Objects and Reasons.

This Ordinance has been introduced on instructions received from the Secretary of State.

2: As a Proclamation under section 12 of the Maintenance Orders (Facilities for Enforcement) Ordinance, No. 15 of 1921, extends the provisions of the Ordinance only to the maintenance orders of another possession or territory, it has been found in practice that even where reciprocal facilities have been established,

- (a) certified copies of orders have to be forwarded through the Secretary of State, however near the other possession or territory may be (section 3) ;
- (b) a provisional order cannot be made in absentia against a person resident in any place other than in England or Ireland (section 5) ;
- (c) no provision exists for the admissibility of depositions taken or documents signed in places other than England or Ireland (section 11).

3. The object of this Ordinance is to remedy the defects enumerated above.

The following Draft of a proposed Ordinance is published for general information :—

An Ordinance to amend the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898.

No. 15 of 1898.
IV. 170.

BE it enacted by the Governor of Ceylon, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows :—

1 This Ordinance may be cited as the Criminal Procedure Amendment Ordinance, 1929.

Short title.

2 Section 3 of the principal Ordinance, as amended by the Criminal Procedure Code (Amendment) Ordinance, No. 6 of 1924, is hereby further amended as follows :—

Amendment of section 3 of the principal Ordinance.

(1) by the repeal of the definitions of " Attorney-General " and " Solicitor-General " contained therein, and by the substitution of the following definitions therefor :—

" Attorney-General " means the Attorney-General of this Island, and includes an acting Attorney-General.

" Solicitor-General " means the Solicitor-General of this Island, and includes an acting Solicitor-General, the Deputy Solicitor-General of this Island, and an acting Deputy Solicitor-General.

(2) by the addition of the following definition at the end thereof :—

" Government Analyst " includes any person appointed to be or to act as Government Analyst, or Deputy or Assistant Government Analyst.

3 Sub-section (2) of section 338 of the principal Ordinance is hereby repealed and the following sub-section is substituted therefor :—

Amendment of section 338 of the principal Ordinance.

(2) Subject to the provisions of section 335, the Attorney-General may prefer an appeal to the Supreme Court against any judgment or final order pronounced by a Police Court or District Court in any criminal case or matter, and where he so appeals, or where he sanctions an appeal, the time within which the petition of appeal must be preferred shall be twenty-eight days.

4 Section 395 of the principal Ordinance is hereby amended as follows :—

Amendment of section 395 of the principal Ordinance.

(1) by the repeal of sub-section (1) thereof and the substitution of the following sub-section therefor :—

(1) A Police Magistrate or District Judge, at any stage of any inquiry or trial, as the case may be, may in his discretion release on bail any person accused of any non-bailable offence, but he shall not be so released if there appear to be reasonable grounds for believing that he has been guilty of an offence punishable under sections 114, 191, or 296 of the Penal Code.

(2) by the substitution of the words " a person accused of a non-bailable offence " for the words " the accused " in the third line of sub-section (2) thereof ; and

(3) by the substitution of the word and figures " or 296 " for the word and figures " 295, 296, or 297 " in the third and in the sixth lines of sub-section (3) thereof.

Amendment of section 406 of the principal Ordinance.

5 Section 406 of the principal Ordinance is hereby amended as follows:—

(1) by the deletion of the words "in the course of any proceeding under this Code" in the fourth line of sub-section (3) thereof;

(2) by the substitution of the words "if in any case the Police Magistrate is of the opinion that it is necessary or expedient that, or either party to the case requests that", for the words "in any case in which the Police Magistrate or any advocate of the Supreme Court engaged in such case shall certify that in his opinion it would be necessary or expedient that" in the fourth, fifth, and sixth lines of sub-section (4) thereof; and

(3) by the addition of the words "or report, as the case may be" at the end of sub-section (5) thereof.

By His Excellency's command,

Colonial Secretary's Office, F. G. TYRRELL,
Colombo, September 20, 1929. Acting Colonial Secretary.

Objects and Reasons.

1. The object of this Bill is to effect a number of amendments in the Criminal Procedure Code, the reasons for which appear below under the particular references to the clauses of the Bill.

2. Clause 2 amends the definition of "Solicitor-General" in section 3 of the Code so as to bring the post of Deputy Solicitor-General, which was created in 1925, within the definition.

3. Clause 3. Until the Supreme Court decided to the contrary in Nonis v. Appuhamy (1926) 27 New Law Reports 430, the Attorney-General was understood to possess, subject to section 335, the right to appeal to the Supreme Court against every judgment and final order made by a District Court or a Police Court in the exercise of its criminal jurisdiction. It is considered that the Attorney-General, who is responsible for the proper administration of criminal justice in the Island, should continue to have this right, and the purpose of clause 3 is to declare explicitly what was always considered to be the law and to invest the Attorney-General with a right which he exercised until 1926.

4. Clause 4 makes a number of amendments in section 395 of the Code, with the object of giving the courts a greater discretion in the matter of granting bail, and thereby avoiding the remaining of persons in custody for long periods. The effect of the amendment effected by the first paragraph of the clause is that bail may be granted by Police Courts and District Courts to persons accused of non-bailable offences, except where there are reasonable grounds for believing that the accused is guilty of an offence under sections 114, 191, or 296 of the Penal Code. The existing section allows the grant of bail except where there are such grounds for believing the accused guilty of the offence of which he is accused. In addition the references in section 395 (3) to sections 295 and 297 of the Penal Code have been removed. Section 295 is merely a declaratory section. Section 297 relates to culpable homicide not amounting to murder, and the present law is that this offence is non-bailable, save with the consent of the Attorney-General. As a result of the amendment, the offence will fall within the category of offences which are ordinarily non-bailable, except at the discretion of the court. A minor amendment, consequential upon the amendment of section 395 (1), has also been made in section 395 (2).

5. The object of clause 5 is to obviate certain difficulties which at present exist in connection with examinations and analyses made by the Government Analyst for the purpose of criminal cases. As the law stands at present (section 406 (3),

(4), (5) of the Criminal Procedure Code), a report under the hand of the Government Analyst upon a matter or thing submitted to him in the course of a criminal proceeding may be used as evidence without calling the Analyst as a witness. The Magistrate or any advocate engaged in the case may however certify that in his opinion the Analyst should be called, and in such cases the Analyst is required to attend. The court may also itself summon the Analyst for the purpose of being examined.

The difficulties that arise are—

- (1) That the matter or thing for analysis is required to be submitted to the Analyst "in the course of the proceeding"; otherwise the report cannot be accepted as evidence without the attendance of the Analyst. It is desirable in a great many cases that the matter or thing for analysis should be submitted as soon as possible to the Analyst without waiting for the institution of proceedings. It is proposed therefore to repeal the words "in the course of any proceeding under this Ordinance".
  - (2) That a defendant who is not represented by an advocate has no right to insist on the Analyst's attendance. To avoid this difficulty, section 406 (4) has been amended by the substitution of words giving either party to the case the right to have the Analyst summoned.
  - (3) That only the Government Analyst himself can be excused from attending the court. The Government Analyst cannot possibly perform all analyses himself, and any Assistant Analyst who performs an analysis must attend court in every case, which is obviously unnecessary. A new definition has therefore been added to section 3 defining "Government Analyst" as including any person appointed to be or to act as Government Analyst or Deputy or Assistant Analyst.
6. Clause 5 also amends section 406 (5) of the Code by the insertion of certain words which appear to have been omitted by an oversight.

No. 6 of 1910, III 31.

(2) Any such proclamation may be revoked, at any time before the day specified therein, by order of the Governor in Council published in the Gazette, if Councillors have been duly elected in accordance with the provisions of any Ordinance other than the Municipal Councils Ordinance, 1910, in succession to the Councillors referred to in the proclamation: Provided that, upon the coming into office of any such Councillors so elected as aforesaid, the proclamation shall be deemed to be revoked.

(3) Until the expiry or revocation of any such proclamation, the Councillors whose term of office is thereby extended shall continue to be subject to the provisions of the Municipal Councils Ordinance, 1910, and to administer the affairs of the Municipality in accordance with those provisions; and any vacancies in their number may be filled in the manner provided by that Ordinance.

By His Excellency's command,
Colonial Secretary's Office, F. G. TYRRELL,
Colombo, September 19, 1929. Acting Colonial Secretary.

Objects and Reasons.

In the ordinary course of events, the triennial elections for the Colombo Municipal Council will be held in December next. The Government proposes, as soon as possible, to introduce legislation to provide for an elected majority and an elected Chairman, but it is probable that the measure will not be passed into law until next year.

2. In the circumstances, it appears desirable that power should be taken to extend the life of the present Council pending the passing of the new legislation, as otherwise an election will be held this year, and a further election will be necessary as soon as the new legislation is passed.

3. This Bill, therefore, gives power to the Governor in Council by proclamation to declare that the existing Council shall continue in office beyond the date on which it would normally retire, if the necessity arises. The maximum period of extension is two years. If however the new legislation is passed sooner and Councillors are duly elected under it, the proclamation will be automatically revoked on the coming into office of the Councillors so elected.
