55. Meeting affecting a particular Class of Shares.—Any meeting for the purpose of the last preceding article shall be convened and conducted in all respects as nearly as possible in the same way as an Extraordinary General Meeting of the Company; provided that no Shareholder, not being a Director, shall be entitled to notice thereof or to attend thereat, unless he be a holder of shares of the class intended to be affected by the resolution, and that no vote shall be given except in respect of a share of that class, and that at any such meeting a poll may be demanded by the Chairman or in writing by any Shareholder personally present and entitled to vote at the meeting. A Director although not a holder of shares of the class affected may act as proxy at any such meeting.

CALLS.

56. Directors may make Calls.—The Directors may from time to time make such calls as they think fit upon the registered holders of shares, in respect of moneys unpaid thereon, and not by the conditions of allotment made payable at fixed times; and each Shareholder shall pay the amount of every call so made on him to the persons and at the times and places appointed by the Directors, provided that two months' notice at least shall be given to the Shareholders of the time and place appointed for payment of each call.

Present :—Mr. M. M. Wedderburn, Chairman; the Hon. Mr. H. M. Macan Markar, M.L.C.; Mr. D. W. Subasinghe; the Hon. Mr. C. E. de Vos, M.L.C.; Mr. J. E. Perera; Mr. C. L. Wickremasinghe; Mr. F. W. Spröulé; and Mr. T. Amarasuriya.

1. The Minutes of the General Meeting of January 11, 1930, a copy thereof having been furnished to each Member, were taken as read and confirmed.

2. The Chairman referred to the death of Mr. H. C. Peiris, who had been the Council's Lawyer, since May, 1919, and moved a vote of condolence to his relatives.

The motion was carried in silence, all standing.

3. Pursuant to notice, Mr. T. Amarasuriya asked the following questions :—(1) How many blocks of galvanized iron sheds were constructed to be leased out to traders, during the period of plague control in Galle? (2) What was the estimated cost of each block? (3) What expenditure has been incurred by the Municipality over these sheds? (4) Was it suggested to the Chairman, Municipal Council, by a deputation of the Galle Mahajana Sabha, to put up a few temporary sheds for the relief of the traders whose premises were closed up owing to measures in connection with the plague control, if so, when was such representation made? (5) When were these iron structures commenced, and when was the last block completed? (6) Were tenders called for the work? If not, why? (7) To whom was the contract given, and on what terms and conditions? (8) In view of the fact that the evacuated area is now being made sanitary, in accordance with the recommendations of the Medical Officer of Health, and buildings are now permitted to be reoccupied, does the Municipality propose to retain these sheds after the evacuated area is reoccupied? (9) How many cases of enteric fever have occurred during the last twelve months in the area close to the locality enclosed by Jail road, Colombo-Galle road, Richmond Hill road, and Kandewatta road? (10) What steps have been taken to find out the sources of infection of these cases?

The Chairman replied as follows :—(1) Four blocks, of five rooms in each, were constructed. (2) Rs. 500 per room. (3) Rs. 10,400. (4) To the best of my recollection the suggestion was made by a deputation of the Galle Mahajana Sabha in July. The suggestion was also made and pressed by others, and was adopted in Council on October 12, 1929. (5) The first building was commenced on October 19, and the last completed on November 26. (6) Tenders were not called for because the construction of the buildings was a matter of urgency. (7) The work was carried out by K. P. Hinniappuhamy on departmental agreements. (8) It is proposed that the material of the buildings should be sold when they are no longer required. (9) There have been in all ten cases of enteric fever in ward No. 2, seven of which were in the locality referred to, viz., 2 in Kaluwella, 1 in Jail road, and 4 at the Convent. (10) The Medical Officer has inspected and made inquiries but has been unable to trace the cases to any definite source of infection.

4. Pursuant to notice, Mr. C. L. Wickramasinghe asked—(1) When were the last two occasions on which the following roads were repaired :—

- (1) Osanagoda section of Hume road. (2) The section of Hume road between the Richmond Hill road and the railway line. (3) Richmond Hill road excepting the short length recently done. (4) Bopé road.
- (2) What is the reason for not finishing up the repairs of Richmond Hill road beyond Assessor Walauwa?

The Chairman replied as follows :—

- (1) The last two occasions on which the roads were repaired were :—(1) 1925 and 1927, (2) 1926 and 1928, (3) 1927 and 1928, (4) 1928 and 1929.

(2) The vote was insufficient. Rs. 856.50 was spent on metalling and Rs. 1,059.95 on tarring this road.

5. Pursuant to notice, Mr. C. L. Wickramasinghe moved—(1) That without further delay steps be taken to complete the repairs of Richmond Hill and Hume road. The Hon. Mr. C. E. de Vos seconded.

The Chairman explained that road repairs were carried out to programme. Hirimbure road, owing to the heavy traffic on it would be taken up first.

The motion was put to the meeting and carried.

(2) That when repairing the Osanagoda section of Hume road, steps be taken to reclaim those portions of this road which have been washed away. The Hon. Mr. C. E. de Vos seconded.—Carried.

Improved manufacture of leather from shark and the like fish skins.

Abstract.—When vegetable tanning agents are used the skins are first tanned, and then treated with dilute hydrochloric acid and subjected to mechanical rubbing.

When non-vegetable tanning agents are to be used the skin is first treated with a weak acid solution, for example, brine and formic acid, and is tanned after the prickles, &c., have been removed.

The claims are:—

1. A process for the production of leather from shark and the like fish skins characterized either by first tanning the skins by vegetable or organic tanning agents, then treating them with an aqueous acid solution, for example, hydrochloric acid or the like, to loosen the prickles and horn plates in the epidermis of the skins, and finally subjecting the skins to a slight mechanical treatment to remove the prickles and horn plates, or by first treating the skins with an aqueous solution of a weak acid (if necessary after soaking them and preliminarily treating them with lime, &c.) to loosen the prickles and horn plates after which the prickles and horn plates are removed by an easy mechanical treatment and the skins are tanned into leather by any suitable tanning agents.

2. A process according to claim 1, characterized in that if desired after a preliminary soaking of the raw skins and treating them with lime and animal excrement the skins are treated with a mixture of brine and formic acid or with other weak acids, especially organic acids which loosens the prickles and horn plates which are then removed by a slight mechanical treatment, after which the skins are rinsed, neutralized, and tanned by suitable tanning agents.

3. A process according to claim 2, characterized in that after the chemical treatment by which the prickles are loosened, the skins are washed with brine in a rotating drum whereby the prickles are removed and any remaining acid residuum is neutralized by sodium carbonate or sodium bicarbonate.

4. A process according to claim 1, characterized in that the prickles and horn plates which are loosened chemically are removed from the skins by treating the latter in a rotary drum or mill.

5. The process of manufacturing leather from shark skins and the like substantially as described.

6. Leather, when manufactured from shark skins and the like by the process claimed in any of the preceding claims.

Process and apparatus for sorting broken tea and similar light substances with the aid of a horizontal current of air, which carries the tea through a chamber.

Abstract.—A horizontal air current is sucked through a long chamber: the tea falls under gravity from the top near the air inlet and the air current carries the lighter particles farther along than the heavy one. The floor slopes steeply to which rub against a cylindrical casing having an inlet to the chamber and an outlet to the exterior.

The claims are :—

1. Process for sorting broken tea and similar light substances with the aid of a horizontal current of air which carries the tea through a chamber, from which the tea falls down in compartments, the bottom of which is provided with a closing device, characterized by the fact, that the tea is removed from the compartments into which it is deposited in such a way that no air can enter into or escape from the chamber.

2. Apparatus for sorting broken tea and similar light substances with the aid of a horizontal current of air which carries the tea through a chamber, from which the tea falls down in compartments, the bottom of which is provided with a closing device, characterized by the fact that the closing device comprises an axle with paddles which, with regard to the outlet, are arranged in such a way that, when the axle is rotating, the tea passes but air is prevented from entering.

2. Moulding apparatus according to claim 1, wherein the guide pulleys aforesaid are so mounted (e.g., on pivotal arms extending upwardly and inwardly from their pivots towards the drum) and the outer or inoperative lap of the endless band is so disposed that tension applied to the band for the purpose of maintaining it taut acts also to force the pulleys towards the periphery of the drum.

3. Moulding apparatus according to claim 2, wherein the outer lap of the band is supported below, and spaced apart from, the drum by an additional guide pulley (e.g., 13) which is movable in a direction to apply tension to the band and is constrained in that direction by springs or equivalent resilient means.

4. Moulding apparatus according to any one of the foregoing claims characterized by driving means (e.g., the chain drive 21 to the pulley 15) for the endless band, operable in addition to any driving effort which may be imparted by virtue of frictional engagement between the band and drum.

5. Moulding apparatus according to any one of the foregoing claims wherein the periphery of the drum or of the endless band or of each of them is so formed as to provide a plurality of separate moulding chambers located side by side across the width of the drum, for the purpose described.

6. Moulding apparatus substantially as herein described with reference to the accompanying drawings.
