An Ordinance to regulate the employment of children as domestic servants.

BE it enacted by the Governor of Ceylon, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows :—

Short title.

1 This Ordinance may be cited as the Children (Domestic Service) Ordinance, 193 , and shall come into operation on such date as may be fixed by the Governor by proclamation in the Gazette.

Interpretation.

2 In this Ordinance, unless the context otherwise requires—

- (1) " Child " means a male child under the age of fourteen or a female child under the age of sixteen.
- (2) " Delivery " means delivery whether by way of adoption or otherwise ; and " deliver " has a corresponding meaning.

- (3) "Division" means a division constituted under sections 5 and 6 of the Courts Ordinance, 1889.
- (4) "Employer" means any person to whom a child is delivered under the provisions of this Ordinance.
- (5) "Guardian" in relation to a child whose parents are dead or unknown or cannot be found means any person other than an employer who in the opinion of the Court, Police Magistrate, Justice of the Peace, or Probation Officer having cognizance of any case or matter relating to the said child is in loco parentis to the said child, or who where the child has been delivered to an employer under this Ordinance was in loco parentis to such child prior to the delivery.
- (6) "Place of safety" means any hospital, institute, house, home or other suitable place the occupier of which is in the opinion of a probation officer after due inquiry a person of respectable character and is willing to receive a child temporarily.
- (7) "Probation officer" means any person appointed to be a probation officer under section 326A of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898.

No. 1 of 1889,
VI. 357.

(cf. Vagrants
Amendment
Ordinance, 1930.)

No. 15 of 1898,
IV. 170.

3 No child shall be employed by any person, other than his or her parent or guardian, in domestic service or in any other manual service of any description, unless the child has been delivered to such person, and such delivery has been registered, in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance; and any such employment shall comply in all respects with the terms of the delivery as so registered.

Employment of children in domestic service.

4 (1) Every delivery of a child for the purposes of section 3 shall be made and registered in the following manner:—

Delivery of child to employer, how made and registered.

- (a) The parties, that is to say, the parent or guardian of the child and the person to whom the child is to be delivered and the said child shall prior to the delivery attend before the Police Magistrate of the division in which the parent or guardian of the child resides, or before a Justice of the Peace and Unofficial Police Magistrate, or a probation officer, for that division or for the district within which that division is situated.
- (b) The Police Magistrate, Justice of the Peace or probation officer shall thereupon require the parties to supply him with the particulars to be specified in the form in the Schedule, and shall fill up the said form accordingly with such modifications as may be necessary and shall require the parties to sign the same in token of their consent to the delivery, and shall himself certify in the manner set out in the said form that the parties have consented to the delivery, and that the child has been delivered accordingly in his presence.
- (c) If the delivery has been made before a Police Magistrate, and the certificate has been signed by him, he shall forthwith register the delivery in the said form in a register to be kept by him for that purpose.
- (d) If the delivery has been made before, and the certificate has been signed by, a Justice of the Peace or probation officer, the form shall be forwarded by him, together with any bond which has been required to be executed under sub-section (2), to the Police Magistrate of the division in which the parent or guardian of the child resides and the Police Magistrate shall forthwith register the delivery in the register referred to in paragraph (c).

Schedule.

(2) The Police Magistrate, Justice of the Peace or probation officer before whom the delivery was made may in his discretion, either at the time of delivery or at any time thereafter so long as the child remains with the employer to whom he or she was delivered, order that employer to execute a bond, with or without sureties, that he will exercise due care and supervision in respect of the child and will not ill-treat the child.

(3) The Police Magistrate, Justice of the Peace or probation officer shall at the time of the delivery inform the parties of the duties imposed upon them by this Ordinance in relation to the child and with respect to changes of residence, removals and transfers; and shall in particular explain clearly to them and to the child where he or she is capable of understanding the same, the provisions of section 9.

(4) The Police Magistrate shall, upon registration of the delivery as aforesaid, cause two copies of the form to be prepared, and shall give one copy to the parent or guardian of the child and the other to the employer, or, if the form has been forwarded to the Police Magistrate by a Justice of the Peace or probation officer, shall send the two copies aforesaid to the Justice of the Peace or the probation officer, who shall give them to the parent or guardian and to the employer respectively.

(5) Where the parties to any such delivery reside in different divisions, the Police Magistrate who has registered the delivery shall send a further copy of the form as so registered to the Police Magistrate of the division in which the employer resides, and that Police Magistrate shall register the delivery in a register to be kept by him for that purpose.

(6) Any such registration shall on and after the date on which the child to which it relates attains the age of fourteen, if a male child, or the age of sixteen, if a female child, be deemed to be cancelled.

(7) Notwithstanding anything in this section contained, it shall be lawful for the Police Magistrate, Justice of the Peace or probation officer, before whom the parties have attended for the purpose of making and registering the delivery of the child, to refuse to carry out the provisions of sub-section (1) (b) and to refuse to allow the delivery if after such inquiry as he may deem necessary he is of opinion that for any reason the delivery would be contrary to the interests of the child, and such refusal by a Police Magistrate shall be final and the delivery shall not be made.

Treatment of children by employers.

5 (1) Every employer shall provide any child delivered to him under this Ordinance with sufficient food and clothing of a reasonable kind, and, in case of illness, with such medical attendance, as may be reasonably necessary and shall be under the same obligation in law with regard to the education of the child as if he were the parent of the child.

(2) No employer shall overwork or ill-treat any child so delivered to him.

Penalty for gross cruelty and powers of magistrate on conviction for overwork or ill-treatment.

6 (1) In every prosecution for overwork or ill-treatment of any child under this Ordinance, the Police Magistrate trying the case shall find in fact whether such overwork or ill-treatment amounted to gross cruelty or not.

(2) In the event of such magistrate finding that any such overwork or ill-treatment amounts to gross cruelty, the offender shall be liable on summary trial and conviction to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees or to imprisonment of either description for any term not exceeding one year, or to both such fine and imprisonment, and for a second or subsequent offence to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees or to imprisonment of either description for any term not exceeding two years, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

(3) The Police Magistrate shall, on the conviction under this Ordinance of any employer for overwork or ill-treatment of a child, whether such overwork or ill-treatment amounted to gross cruelty or not, order—

(a) that the child shall be restored to his or her parent or guardian, and in any such case shall upon the restoration of the child cancel the registration of the delivery of the child; or

- (b) that the child shall continue to remain with the employer, and if no bond has been executed by the employer in respect of the child, that the employer shall execute a bond, as provided in section 4 (2) ; or
- (c) that the child shall be removed by a probation officer to a place of safety.

7 (1) Where the delivery of any child to an employer has been registered under this Ordinance, and any person other than the employer and the parent or guardian of the child desires to employ the child in domestic service or in any other manual service of any description, and the parent or guardian of the child consents to the transfer of the child to such person, the parties to the delivery and the person to whom the child is to be transferred shall attend before the Police Magistrate of the division in which the parent or guardian of the child resides.

Transfer of child from one employer to another.

(2) If the Police Magistrate, after such inquiry as he may deem necessary, is satisfied that such consent has been given either in writing or in any other manner which he may consider sufficient, and that it is in the interests of the child that the transfer should be made, he may cancel the existing registration ; and the transfer of the child to such other person may thereupon be made and registered by the Police Magistrate as if it were a delivery under the provisions of section 4, and when made and registered shall for all the purposes of this Ordinance be deemed to be a delivery of the child to such person as an employer.

8 (1) In the following cases, that is to say :—

- (a) where any child who has been delivered to an employer under this Ordinance desires to be restored to his or her parent or guardian ; or
- (b) where the parent or guardian of any such child desires the child to be restored to his custody ; or
- (c) where the employer of any such child desires to restore the child to his or her parent or guardian ; or
- (d) where any probation officer is of opinion that it is in the interests of any such child that he or she should be restored to his or her parent or guardian,

before the date on which the registration of the delivery of the child to the employer would be deemed to be cancelled under section 4 (6), it shall be lawful for the Police Magistrate of the division in which the child resides, after such inquiry as he may deem necessary upon being notified of such desire or opinion in any manner, to order the employer to restore the child to his or her parent or guardian, within a time to be fixed in the order :

Provided that in any such case, if the Police Magistrate is of opinion that there is grave objection in the interests of the child to such restoration, or if the parent and guardian of the child are unknown, or cannot be found or have died, the Police Magistrate may order the employer to restore the child to a probation officer, instead of to the parent or guardian, within a time to be fixed in the order, and upon the restoration of the child accordingly the said probation officer shall detain the child and remove him or her to a place of safety.

(2) Upon the conviction of any person for contravention of, or failure to comply with, any order made under this section, the Police Magistrate may issue a warrant empowering any police officer not below the rank of sub-inspector, or any probation officer, to search for and take the said child and restore him or her to the parent or guardian, or remove him or her to a place of safety, as the case may be.

(3) Upon the restoration of any child, or upon the removal of any child to a place of safety, under this section, the registration of the delivery of the child to the employer shall be forthwith cancelled by the Police Magistrate.

Case of child leaving an employer.

9 (1) When any child who has been delivered to an employer under this Ordinance leaves the place where he is being kept by the employer and does not return, the employer shall within seven days after the child has left the said place, notify the Police Magistrate of the division in which such place is situated accordingly.

(2) The Police Magistrate shall thereupon cause the parent or guardian of the child to be informed thereof, and any police or probation officer may thereafter take such child wherever he or she may be found and bring him or her before the Police Magistrate of the division within which he or she has been found, who shall summon the employer and the parent or guardian of the child and deal with the matter and make any order and take any action in relation thereto which he could have made and taken under section 6 (3), if the employer had been convicted of overworking or ill-treating the child.

Cases where parent and guardian are unknown, unable to be found, &c.

10 Where, by any of the provisions of this Ordinance—

(1) the presence, consent or signature of the parent or guardian of any child is required for the making and registration of any delivery of the child to an employer, or for any other matter; or

(2) any notice, information, or document is required to be given by or to the parent or guardian of a child in connection with any matter, and the Police Magistrate, Justice of the Peace or probation officer having cognizance of the matter is satisfied, after such inquiry as he may deem necessary, that the parent and the guardian of the child are unknown or cannot be found or have died, he may, notwithstanding anything in this Ordinance contained, deal with the matter in all respects as if those provisions had not been enacted.

Proof of age.

11 (1) In any prosecution for an offence against this Ordinance the court may, if it thinks fit and if it is satisfied that better evidence is not available, determine the age of any child by his or her physical appearance alone.

(2) But no person shall be convicted of an offence against this Ordinance—

(a) if the child with respect to whom the offence was committed appears to the court to have attained in the case of a male child, the age of fourteen, or in the case of a female child, the age of sixteen; or

(b) if the court is of opinion that the person charged had reasonable cause to believe and did in fact believe that the child was in the case of a male child, of or above the age of fourteen, or in the case of a female child, of or above the age of sixteen.

Procedure upon cancellation of registration and effect thereof on bonds.

12 (1) Whenever the registration of the delivery of a child is cancelled by the Police Magistrate of any division under this Ordinance, that Police Magistrate shall notify the Police Magistrate of any other division in which the delivery had been registered, who shall forthwith cancel the registration in his register.

(2) Whenever the registration of the delivery of a child is cancelled or deemed to be cancelled under this Ordinance, any bond executed in connection with such delivery shall be deemed to be cancelled and of no effect, but without prejudice to the enforcement of the bond in respect of any act or omission prior to the date on which it was cancelled or deemed to be cancelled.

Removal to place of safety.

13 When any child is removed to a place of safety by a probation officer or officer of police under this Ordinance, he shall report accordingly to the Police Magistrate of the division in which the place of safety is situated, and the Police Magistrate may direct that the child shall be produced before him from time to time at such time or intervals as he may specify, until other arrangements can be made for the care and custody of the child to the satisfaction of the Police Magistrate.

14 (1) Any probation officer or officer of police not below the rank of sub-inspector upon being specially authorized thereto in writing by a Police Magistrate may at all reasonable hours of the day enter (if need be by force) any place or premises in which any child who has been delivered to an employer under this Ordinance is or is reasonably suspected to be kept for the purpose of—

Powers of police and probation officers.

- (a) ascertaining whether the provisions of this Ordinance, or of any orders or regulations made thereunder, or of any bond executed thereunder in relation to such child, are being or have been observed; and
- (b) enquiring whether the child desires to be restored to his or her parent or guardian under section 9.

(2) If in the exercise of his powers under this section, any such probation officer or police officer has reason to suspect that any offence has been, or is being, or is about to be committed against this Ordinance in respect of any child, he may detain such child and remove him or her to a place of safety.

15 No prosecution for an offence against this Ordinance shall be instituted by any person other than a probation officer or an officer of police not below the rank of sub-inspector.

Prosecution by probation officer.

16 Every probation officer shall for the purpose of the execution and performance of his powers and duties under this Ordinance be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Ceylon Penal Code.

Probation officers to be public servants.

No. 2 of 1883, V. 21.

17 On proof to the satisfaction of any Police Magistrate that any child in favour of whom an order of maintenance has been made under section 3 of the Maintenance Ordinance, 1889, has been delivered to an employer under this Ordinance, the magistrate shall cancel the order:

Maintenance Orders.

No. 19 of 1889, II. 24.

Provided that a further order may be made in respect of the child at any subsequent date if it is proved to the satisfaction of the magistrate that the child has been restored to his or her parent or guardian under the provisions of this Ordinance.

18 (1) It shall be lawful for the Governor in Council to make regulations in respect of any or all of the following matters or purposes:—

Regulations.

- (a) the duties of Police Magistrates in relation to registration or cancellation of registration under this Ordinance;
- (b) the alteration or amendment of the form in the Schedule, and the addition of new forms thereto; and
- (c) generally for the carrying into effect of this Ordinance.

Schedule.

(2) All regulations made under this Ordinance shall be laid, as soon as conveniently may be, on the table of the Legislative Council at two successive meetings of the Council, and shall be brought before the Council at the next subsequent meeting held thereafter by a motion that the said regulations shall not be disapproved, and if upon the introduction of any such motion, or upon any adjournment thereof, the said regulations are disapproved by the Council, such regulations shall be deemed to be rescinded as from the date of such disapproval, but without prejudice to anything already done thereunder; and such regulations, if not so disapproved, shall be deemed to be valid. Every such disapproval shall be published in the Gazette.

(3) The form in the Schedule shall be in force until altered or amended by regulations made under this Ordinance.

19 Every person who contravenes or fails to comply with any of the provisions of this Ordinance or any order or regulation made thereunder shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance, and, unless any other penalty is expressly provided therefor, shall, on summary trial and conviction by a Police Magistrate, be liable for each offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty rupees, or to imprisonment of either description for any term not exceeding six months, or to both such fine and imprisonment, and for a second or subsequent offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees or to imprisonment of either description for any term not exceeding one year, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

Power to direct application of fines.
(cf. Ordinance No. 13 of 1907, s. 10.)

20 The Governor in Council may, notwithstanding any written law to the contrary, by order published in the Gazette, direct that the whole or any part of any fines recovered in respect of offences against this Ordinance which shall have been prosecuted on information which has been given by, or has come to the knowledge of, any officer of any society established in Ceylon for the protection of children, by whatsoever name such society shall be called, shall be paid to such society :

Provided that where in any area any such fines are by law or practice already appropriated to any public authority established in that area, such order shall only take effect in that area subject to the consent of the public authority signified by resolution published in the Gazette and to the extent authorized by such resolution.

Persons employing children in domestic service at commencement of Ordinance.

21 (1) If any person at the date of the commencement of this Ordinance has the care, custody or control of any child and, not being the parent or guardian of the child, is employing, and after the said date continues to employ, the child in domestic service or in any other manual service of any description, such person shall be liable, after the expiry of three months from the said date, to be prosecuted for an offence against section 3 unless within the said three months the delivery to him of the said child is registered in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

(2) For the purposes of this Ordinance, the delivery of the child shall after registration be deemed to have been made on the said date, and the provisions of this Ordinance shall apply in all respects to the child, and to such person as if he were the employer of the child.

Application of Ordinances Nos. 11 of 1865 and 28 of 1871.
I. 564.
I. 571.

22 Ordinance No. 11 of 1865, intituled " An Ordinance to consolidate and amend the Law relating to Servants, Labourers, and Journeymen Artificers under Contracts for Hire and Service ", and Ordinance No. 28 of 1871, intituled " An Ordinance to provide for the Registration of Domestic Servants ", and all Ordinances amending or substituted for the same, shall not apply in the case of any child who is delivered to an employer under this Ordinance, during the period of his or her employment by that employer.

Exemptions.

23 (1) It shall be lawful for the Governor in Council, by order published in the Gazette, to exempt from the provisions of this Ordinance, any person or body of persons, or any society or institution, if he deems it expedient to do so.

(2) Every such order shall be deemed to be a regulation made under this Ordinance and shall be subject to the provisions of section 20 (2).

Savings.

24 (1) The provisions of this Ordinance shall be in addition to and not in derogation of any law, written or otherwise, applicable in Ceylon and relating to children, or to their care, custody, control, employment, treatment, adoption, or education.

(2) Nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed so as to prejudice or affect the right and power of the Supreme Court or any Judge thereof to grant and issue mandates in the nature of habeas corpus.

Registration No.

* This item is to be left blank at the time of the delivery, and to be filled in by the Police Magistrate registering the delivery, or making alterations in the Register under the Ordinance.

By His Excellency's command,

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, July 21, 1930.F. G. TYRRELL,
Acting Colonial Secretary.Objects and Reasons.

1. This Bill is designed to regulate and control cases where the parent or guardian of a child delivers the child to another person to be maintained and employed by that person as a domestic servant. It is considered that legislation of this kind is required, since such children are sometimes ill-treated, or cannot be traced when their parents desire to find them.

2. It appears to be not unusual when such a transaction takes place for the parties to go to the local police station or police court and there to make a statement as to the agreement at which they have arrived in relation to the child. Clause 4 of the Bill requires that such agreements be made before a Police Magistrate, a Justice of the Peace or a probation officer and provides for the registration in Police Courts of orders for delivery made by them. It also vests in these persons a discretionary power to call upon the employer to execute a bond for the due care, supervision, and proper treatment of the child. The person making the order for delivery is required to explain to the parties the duties imposed on them by the Ordinance and certain other matters, and to give each party a copy of the form by which the agreement is registered.

3. Clause 5 requires an employer to provide proper food, clothing, and medical attendance for a child, and prohibits overwork, ill-treatment, and improper punishment. Clause 6 provides a special penalty in the case of gross cruelty.

4. Clause 7 deals with the procedure to be followed when a child is transferred to another employer.

5. The restoration of children to their parents or guardians is provided for in clause 8 and refusal by an employer to restore a child after an order from a magistrate to do so will render him liable to punishment.

6. Clause 9 prescribes the procedure to be adopted when a child does not return to his employer.

7. Clause 10 provides for procedure under the Ordinance when the parent or guardian of the child is dead or cannot be traced. Clause 11 will facilitate the proof of the age of a child where the registration of his or her birth cannot be traced.

8. Clause 12 provides for the cancellation of registrations and bonds.

9. Clause 13 provides the procedure when a child is removed by a probation officer from an employer's custody.

10. The powers of police and probation officers are set out in clause 14.

11. Clause 15 restricts the right to institute proceedings under this Ordinance to probation officers and police officers not below the rank of sub-inspector. The fines recovered as a result of such prosecutions may by virtue of clause 20 be given to a society for the protection of children.

12. Clause 17 provides for the cancellation of a maintenance order made in respect of a child who is subsequently delivered to an employer under the Bill.

13. Clause 18 contains a power for the Governor in Council to make regulations, and provides in the usual manner for regulations to be considered by the Legislative Council.

14. Clause 19 imposes a general penalty of Rs. 250 or six months' imprisonment for offences.

15. Clause 21 gives those who are employing children at the commencement of this Ordinance and who continue to do so three months to comply with the requirements of the Ordinance on pain of prosecution.

16. Clause 22 provides that Ordinances Nos. 41 of 1865 and 28 of 1871 shall not apply to cases of domestic service covered by the Bill.

17. Clause 23 permits the Governor in Council to grant exemptions from the provisions of the Bill, it being considered probable that this may be necessary in some cases.

18. Clause 24 contains a saving for the law written or otherwise relating to children, and also preserves the right and power of the Supreme Court in relation to habeas corpus.
