(4) Bye-laws and Conditions of Sale of Fertilizers.—The following Bye-laws and Conditions of sale of Fertilizers were adopted as Appendix "Q" to this Chamber Rules and Regulations:—

Bye-laws and Conditions of Sale of Fertilizers.

Whereas in the United Kingdom the seller of a fertilizer is required to guarantee only the total percentage of the various plant foods it contains and not the percentages in each of its ingredients the practice in Ceylon is for the buyer to specify the ingredients of the mixture, such ingredients being individually of guaranteed analysis. The buyer is, therefore, entitled to protection against ingredients being used other than those he specified and it becomes necessary for the analyst to state not only the total percentages of plant food found, but also what ingredients are present and if in the correct proportions, and to give an opinion in so far as his methods of examination made this possible, as to whether or not the mixture has been made up in conformity with the invoice.

Reasons of Rules.

It was the intention of Government to introduce a new Fertilizer Ordinance in place of the present Ordinance No. 12 of 1901 in which the above requirements would have been provided but in view of the uncertainty as to when the proposed new Fertilizer Ordinance will be introduced the following Bye-laws and Conditions of sale have been framed to regulate the sale of fertilizers between Members of the Chamber.

1. No article shall be sold as a fertilizer which is not guaranteed by the seller to contain in some form or combination, available as plant food, nitrogen, phosphoric or potash.

Fertilizers must contain plant food.

2. All fertilizers sold shall be invoiced as prescribed in Form A in the appendix hereto showing the analyses guaranteed, and such invoice shall have effect as a warranty by the seller of the statement contained therein.

Invoice to be Warranty by seller.

3. The invoice in addition to stating the weight sold and the price per ton shall state also the proportions and/or weights and analysis of each fertilizing ingredient comprising a mixture. Only the minimum guarantee of the essential constituent or constituents of ingredients shall be stated on the invoice.

Invoice to state minimum analysis.

4. The guarantee of the seller does not apply where incompatibles have been mixed on the instructions of the purchaser.

No guarantee of incompatibles.

Packing.	5. All fertilizers shall be sold ex warehouse or works packed in sound merchantable bags <sup>s</sup> on packages securely fastened, each bag or package to bear the distinctive mark shown on the invoice.
Purchasers right to have samples drawn for analysis.	6. The buyer of any fertilizer or fertilizer mixture shall be entitled to have such fertilizer or fertilizer mixture analysed by one or more of the analysts appointed by the Ceylon Chamber of Commerce and to receive from him a certificate of his analysis and, in the case of a mixture, a statement of the proportion of the various ingredients which such analysis or examination has shown to have been incorporated together with an opinion as to the correctness of the proportions.
Form of certificate.	7. The certificate of the analyst shall be as prescribed in Form B in the Appendix hereto, state the Nitrogen Phosphorus Peroxide ( $P_2O_5$ ) and Potassium Monoxide ( $K_2O$ ) and shall be substantially as prescribed.
Samples may be drawn before or after dispatch.	8. The sample to be submitted for analysis shall be taken in the manner prescribed in No. 12 of these Bye-laws and Conditions of Sale, viz., either : (a) Before dispatch ( i.e. at the Works, premises or Mills of the Seller) or (b) After dispatch ( i.e. at the Railway premises or Buyers store, shed or any convenient place specified).
Sampling before dispatch.	9. If the purchaser elects to have samples taken before dispatch he or his representative shall have power to enter the sellers works, premises or mills at any reasonable time for that purpose on advice by the Seller that the consignment is ready for sampling.
Sampling after dispatch.	10. If the purchaser elects to have samples taken after dispatch he shall give due notice in writing to the seller not later than 3 days following the receipt of the seller's dispatch note, and giving the seller five days notice of such sampling, with particulars of place, date and hour so that he or his representative may be present.
Purchaser may draw sample.	11. The sample for analysis may be drawn by the purchaser, his agent or official sampler. Samples must be drawn in accordance with Bye-law No. 12 and the sampler shall sign a declaration in triplicate as prescribed in Form C in the Appendix hereto. Where the sample is drawn by the purchaser in the presence of the seller the declaration shall be signed by the latter as well as by the buyer. One copy of the declaration shall accompany each sample and the sample sent to the analyst and shall be accompanied by a certified copy of the invoice with the name of the seller omitted. Should the sample be drawn by an analyst appointed by the Chamber or his agent, he shall be considered to act for both parties and shall sign the necessary declaration on their behalf.
Method of taking samples.	12. The method of taking samples shall be as follows :— (a) When the fertilizer is in bulk all lumps shall be broken up and scattered over the heap : equal portions of the fertilizer shall be taken from the base, top and middle of the heap totalling five per cent. of the weight of the whole up to a maximum of 5 cwt. and shall be bulked together in a separate heap. This heap shall be sampled as under (b). (b) When the fertilizer is in bags, five per cent. of the number of bags shall be selected up to a maximum of twenty bags, except in the case of small bags containing 100 lb. or less when the maximum shall be increased to 30 bags. The contents of the selected bags shall be emptied on to a clean dry floor, all lumps broken up, the whole turned over once, quartered and opposite quarters taken. These two quarters shall be mixed, quartered again, and opposite quarters taken and mixed as before. This procedure shall be continued until a heap of about 10 lb. is obtained. This shall be divided into three portions of about three lb. each : the three portions are the samples. (c) As an alternative method where neither the seller nor the buyer signifies objection thereto, fertilizers in bags may be sampled by means of a sampling spear, which shall not be less than 2 in. in diameter and twenty-four inches in length and the spear should be introduced to its full length and the bag sampled. The total quantity so abstracted for each sampling shall not be less than 5 lb. where the quantity of the fertilizer does not exceed five tons, and not less than 10 lb. where the quantity exceeds five tons, and shall be drawn from ten per cent. of the bags. (d) The process of sampling shall be continuous and as expeditious as is consistent with due care, so that the samples obtained represent the consignment. (e) The samples shall be placed in a clean dry container which can be made secure. Tin-wood or glass containers with close covers are recommended so that the sample will not be exposed to outside agencies. The junction of container and lid shall be sealed with a distinctive mark and the container labelled, and the whole shall be wrapped in a stout cover sealed at the flaps with a distinctive mark and shall be labelled in such a manner that the particulars so marked can be seen without breaking the seal or seals. The wrapped up container shall be placed in an outer wrapper for post or other transport.
Method of labelling of sample.	13. The samples shall be marked with the description and approximate weight of the consignment and with the place of sampling. They shall be signed and dated by the sampler and by the seller or his representative if present.
Disposal of sample.	14. One of the three samples drawn in the prescribed manner shall be handed or sent to the analyst, one to the seller and the third shall be retained by the buyer.
Cost of sampling and analysis,	15. All costs incidental to the drawing of samples and the obtaining of any analysis, as provided in these Bye-laws and Conditions of Sale, shall be borne by the seller or the purchaser in accordance with the results of the analysis or analyses.
Appeal against analysis	16. If the seller or purchaser objects to the certificate of the analyst, one of the samples selected may at the request of the party objecting be submitted with a certified copy of the invoice to the Government Test House, Alipora, Calcutta, for purpose of analysis and the result of such analysis shall be final and binding upon both parties.
Claims.	17. Claims may be made by the purchaser against the seller if there are any deficiencies in the ingredients of a mixture as shown by analysis and/or if the total percentage of the various plant foods are not of guaranteed analysis.
Limits of error.	18. There are variations incidental to the analysis of fertilizers which are partly due to the operator and partly inherent in certain methods employed. In addition owing to the difficulty of obtaining samples of fertilizer mixtures which are accurately representative of the bulk, it is necessary to allow for errors due to sampling and mixing. It is customary to combine the errors from all sources and to lay down "Limits of Error" defining the extremes within which the analytical figures must lie if they are to be accepted.
Unmixed Fertilizers.	In Ceylon as a result of experience, vendors of fertilizers have fixed the minimum analysis guaranteed for unmixed fertilizers to allow for these limits of error, and for the purpose of these

Bye-laws and Conditions of Sale, the guarantees contained in the Prices current of vendors shall be taken for the purpose of determining whether unmixed fertilizers conform to the guarantee of the seller, and no limits of error shall be allowed.

The following limits of error shall be taken into account when mixed fertilizers are analysed for the purpose of determining whether the mixtures conform to the guarantee of the seller :—

Nitrogen.—When the total nitrogen in the mixture guaranteed from all sources is 7 per cent. or less the limit of error shall be 0·45 per cent., with a further allowance of, viz., 0·10 per cent. for every 1 per cent. or part of 1 per cent. of nitrogen guaranteed, in excess of a total of 7 per cent.

Owing to technical difficulties in the determination of ammoniacal nitrogen in presence of certain organic materials, a correction may be applied in the case of mixtures containing blood meal or any fish or whale products. This correction shall amount to 0·20 per cent. deducted from the ammoniacal nitrogen found and added to the organic nitrogen. When the organic material consists only of cakes this correction shall not be made.

Phosphoric Acid.—Soluble or insoluble, the limit of error shall be 0·5 per cent. irrespective of the amount guaranteed.

Potash.—The limit of error shall be 0·5 per cent. irrespective of the amount guaranteed.

19. The following definitions shall be observed :—

Definitions.

Ground Nut Cake.—The residual cake after expressing the oil from ground nuts, and which shall contain not less than 7 per cent. nitrogen.

Castor Cake.—The residual cake after expressing the oil from castor seeds, and which shall contain not less than 4 per cent. nitrogen.

Crushed Fish.—The material obtained by drying and crushing fish, and which shall contain not less than 4 per cent. nitrogen and 4 per cent. Phosphoric acid.

Fish and Whale Guano.—The material obtained after the removal of part or all of the oil originally contained in fish or in whale flesh, and which shall contain not less than 7 per cent. nitrogen and 8 per cent. Phosphoric acid.

In the case of these guanos, it frequently happens that the analysis of the material after the removal of oil does not conform to the above figures and it is necessary to make additions of phosphates and /or nitrogen to bring the analysis to the required figure. In such cases the guanos shall be called "Guano compounds" and the nature of the additions shall be disclosed to the buyer if required.

Bone Meal.—The material obtained by crushing bones, and which shall contain not less than 3 per cent. nitrogen and 22 per cent. Phosphoric acid.

Steamed Bone Meal.—The material obtained by crushing bones after treatment with steam, and which shall contain not less than 3 per cent. nitrogen and 22 per cent. Phosphoric acid.

Blood Meal.—The material obtained by drying and crushing blood, and which shall contain not less than the percentage of nitrogen guaranteed by the seller.

Chemical Fertilizers shall conform to the description and analysis guaranteed by the vendor.

AN auction sale of the under-mentioned satinwood will be held at the Central Timber Dépôt, Kew road, Slave Island, Colombo, on Saturday, May 23, 1931, at 9 a. m., subject to the following conditions:—

1. The timber will be put up in lots to suit buyers at a rate per cubic foot, and no advance of less than 25 cents precubio foot will be accepted.
2. The highest bid will be accepted, subject to the approval or disapproval of the Conservator of Forests. The highest bidder will be required by the officer conducting the sale to sign the sale book kept for the purpose directly a lot has been knocked down to him.

and such bidder, if and when called upon to do so, shall immediately comply with this requirement. On failure to do so, his bid though it may be the highest is liable to be rejected.

4. Depot measurements must be accepted, but previous to date of auction any prospective bidder is at liberty to check the measurements recorded in the notice and to represent any differences promptly.

Improvements in and relating to methods of an apparatus for withering tea leaf.

Abstract.—A small quantity of air in the form of a stream with a high velocity is forced from a nozzle across the tops of the stacks of trays; an exhaust placed in the mixing chamber below the nozzle, causes the air stream to pass between the horizontal trays. The high speed stream, acting like a waterpump, entrains a part of the air which is on its way to the exhaust and causes it to recirculate. The proportion so entrained can be regulated and the inlet air may be conditioned.

There are twenty-six claims and two sheets of drawings.

No. 2,521 of February 16, 1931 (Date applied for under Section 48 of the Ordinance, April 12, 1926).

Abstract.—The shaft carrying the feed and compression worms can readily be removed with the worms thereon. The worm at the feed end is mounted directly on the shaft of the press and moves at the same speed as the pressing worms.

The claims are :—

1. A press comprising a barrel having openings formed therein for the passage of liquid outwardly therethrough, characterized that said barrel is so constructed and arranged that it may be separated or opened up longitudinally and has a shaft extending entirely through the barrel and beyond the ends thereof; said shaft having a plurality of worms mounted thereon and rotatable therewith, means for imparting motion to the shaft located at the forward end of the barrel; a detachable coupling interposed between said means and the adjacent end of the shaft; and a combined thrust and radial bearing for the opposite end of the shaft.

2. A press as claimed in Claim 1, having readily removable shaft supporting means at one end, and readily detachable driving and supporting means at the other end whereby upon removal of the supporting means and an opening of the shell the shaft may be moved endwise to disconnect it from the driving means.

3. A press as claimed in Claim 1 or 2, in which a feed hopper is located at one end of the barrel, means regulating the outward passage of the material being located at the discharge end of the press, the shaft having a feeding worm secured thereto having a pitch of substantially 12 inches in one turn, the forward end of said worm lying beneath the feed hopper.

4. A press of the expeller type constructed and adapted to operate substantially as hereinbefore described and shown in the accompanying drawing.

Improvements in feeding mechanism for presses.

Abstract.—A chute connects the heating trough in which is a worm conveyor, with the hopper of the press. In this chute is a spiral agitator free at its lower end and adapted to be turned at its upper end.

The convolutions of the spiral are contracted at the upper end so that it can pass the shaft of the worm conveyor. A friction device may be used.

The claims are :—

1. A press in which a chute adapted to receive material to be treated communicates with the feed inlet to the press and is provided with a spiral feeding element having a free end located within the chute, means being provided for rotating said element.

2. A press as claimed in Claim 1, in which the spiral element is formed of spring material.

3. A press as claimed in Claim 1, in which at least one feed worm is located below the inlet and free end of the spiral element to feed the material to the press.

4. A press as claimed in Claim 1 or Claim 2 in which the rotating means includes a frictional driving element adapted, when undue pressure is exerted upon the spiral member, to allow the same to come to rest.

5. A press as claimed in Claim 1, having a heating apparatus associated with the press, the chute extending from the heating apparatus to the feed inlet of the press.

6. A press as claimed in Claim 1 or Claim 2, in which the lower end of the spiral element is provided with a downwardly extending finger.

7. A press as claimed in Claim 1 or Claim 2, in which the spiral element is suspended from its upper end within the chute, the means for rotating said element being applied to its upper end.

8. A press as claimed in any one of the preceding claims, in which the convolutions of the spiral element are separated.

9. A press as claimed in Claim 5, in which the upper portion of the spiral element has its convolutions of less diameter than the remainder, so that it may pass the shaft of the heating apparatus without interference therewith.

10. A press as claimed in Claim 1, wherein the rotating means for the spiral element embodies a friction element.
