			Rs.	c.	Rs.	c.

Amendment of Schedule II of the principal Ordinance.

10 Schedule II of the principal Ordinance is amended by adding the following additional division at the end of Part I.—
Profit on Loan, viz. :—

"C—Restriction on recovery of enhanced profit :

Where a pawnbroker is entitled to enhanced profit as from any date, such enhanced profit shall not be recoverable if the pawner shows to the satisfaction of a civil court of competent jurisdiction that he failed to redeem the pledge before such date only because the pawnbroker's shop remained closed between 8 A.M. and 8 P.M. on the day preceding that date."

Objects and Reasons.

1. Clause 2 of this Bill defines a "month" for the purpose of calculating profit or interest in connection with pawning.
2. Clause 3 requires a pawnbroker to enter up his books within 48 hours of an article being taken in pawn.
3. Clause 4 requires a pawnbroker to issue pawn tickets in the form prescribed by Clause 9 (b), and Clause 5 (b) provides that the particulars regarding rates of profit in Schedule II be printed in English, Tamil and Sinhalese on the back of every such pawn ticket. The recovery of profit in excess of what is recognized in law is made an offence in Clause 5 (d).
4. The grant of a receipt by the pawnbroker for loan and interest when the pawn is redeemed, is made compulsory in Clause 5 (c), and a copy of the receipt has besides to be preserved among his books and documents by the pawnbroker.
5. False entries in a pawnbroker's books with reference to pledges dealt with in section 15, is made an offence by Clause 6.
6. The amendment made to Section 26 (Clause 7) seeks to deprive pawnbrokers of their licence on a second conviction for offences connected with their business. This consequence depends at present on the discretion of the Government Agent, but the option will in future exist only when there is one conviction.
7. For the proper control of pawnbroking, officers of the police force of and above the rank of Inspector are at present permitted by Section 29 of the Pawnbrokers Ordinance 1893, to enter and examine a pawnbroker's shop or residence. Many police stations are now in charge of Sub-Inspectors.

and there are therefore many places in which it is not possible to exercise effectually the supervision contemplated by this Section, as it stands. In addition, there are a number of licensed pawnbrokers outside police areas, and there can be no supervision of these under Section 29 even if the power conferred by that Section were extended to Sub-Inspectors. Clause 8 therefore gives the powers conferred by Section 29 to officers of police not below the rank of Sub-Inspector and to Chief Headmen. The inclusion of Chief Headmen will also permit the Ordinance to be proclaimed in other parts of the Island where there are no police stations.

8. Clause 9 provides new forms for the "Pledge Book," "Pawn Ticket," and "Sale Book of Pledges," requiring (a) in the first instance information of weight in the case of jewellery, (b) in the second mentioned of the amount of interest charged, the period for which interest is recovered and the amount handed to the pawner and (c) in the third a special entry of the amount of the interest recoverable.

9. Clause 10 prevents the recovery of any of the enhanced rates of profit in Schedule II unless, the pawnbroker had his shop open on the day before the enhanced rate comes into operation and thereby afforded the pawner an opportunity till the last of redeeming the pawn in time to forstall the higher rate.
