(2) The Controller or any police officer may—

- (a) seize and detain any rubber, package, vessel or vehicle liable to seizure under sub-section (1) ;
- (b) seize and detain any coupon or any document enabling rubber to be possessed, controlled, imported, exported, sold, or transferred, or any document purporting to be issued by or by the direction of the Controller which he reasonably suspects to be counterfeit, forged, altered, or stolen.

(3) In this section “ Controller ” includes any officer specially appointed by the Controller in writing for the purposes of this section.”

Amendment of section 58 of the principal Ordinance.

13 Section 58 of the principal Ordinance is hereby amended in sub-section (1) thereof as follows :—

- (1) by the substitution of the following for paragraph (b) in the definition of “ Rubber ” :—

“ (b) except in sections 30, 31, 32 and 33, all articles and things manufactured wholly or partly of rubber ; ” and

- (2) by the substitution for the words and figures "under section 19" in the definition of "standard production", of the words "under this Ordinance".

Objects and Reasons.

The principal object of this Bill is to implement an undertaking given to the Secretary of State that imports of articles manufactured wholly or partly of rubber will be excluded from the operation of section 43 of the Rubber Control Ordinance, No. 6 of 1934, and that steps will be taken to amend that section so as to enable Certificates of Origin to be required for rubber imported into the Island from all territories other than the Islands of Singapore and Penang.

The opportunity has been taken to introduce several other amendments calculated to facilitate the effective administration of the Ordinance within the Island.

2. Clause 2 amends section 13 of the principal Ordinance so as to relieve proprietors of estates and small holdings from the necessity of furnishing returns before the prescribed date in the second or other succeeding years of control unless such returns are specially required by the Controller.

3. Clause 3 amends section 14 so as to confer on the Controller wider powers of investigation exercisable at more frequent intervals.

4. A closer scrutiny of the assessments of the standard production of estates and small holdings has disclosed several cases of under-assessment and over-assessment. Under-assessment causes hardship to an individual producer while over-assessment of any particular estate or small holding results in a diminution of the exportable maxima of all other estates and small holdings. The purpose of the amendments introduced by clause 5 is to enable the Controller in an appropriate case to take necessary action for the increase or reduction of an assessment made under section 19. An appeal will lie from an order of the Controller which reduces an assessment previously made; but, subject to the decision of the Appeal Board, the standard production of an estate or small holding when once revised will remain fixed throughout the entire period of control subject, of course, to the usual allowance in respect of immature areas.

5. Clause 6 enables the necessary adjustments to be made in the exportable maxima of estates and small holdings in cases where the Controller has exercised the powers of revision conferred on him by clause 5.

6. Clause 8 effects in section 43 the amendments previously stated to be necessary in order to implement the undertaking given to the Secretary of State.

7. Clauses 9 and 10 effect consequential amendments in sections 47 (1) and 48 (3).

8. Scrap rubber imported into the Island on a Certificate of Origin issued by some other participating territory is frequently re-exported from Ceylon in smaller parcels after conversion into crepe rubber. It is considered desirable that such rubber when so re-exported should be accompanied by a Certificate of Origin issued from the territory in which it was originally produced, and not by a Ceylon Certificate of Origin. Clause 11 adds to section 50 (2) two new paragraphs enabling regulations to be made for the subdivision locally of Certificates of Origin issued by another participating territory and for the conversion of scrap rubber into crepe rubber for the purpose of re-export.

9. Clause 12 inserts in the principal Ordinance a new section which empowers the Controller or a police officer to seize any rubber or document of title to rubber in respect of which an offence has been or is being committed under the Ordinance.

10. Clause 13 effects a consequential amendment in the definition of "standard production" and amends the definition of "Rubber", so as to exclude from the application of sections 30, 31, 32 and 33 articles and things manufactured wholly or partly of rubber.
