Scheme for the Training of Special Apprentices in the Harbour Engineer's Department, Colombo
Port Commission.

TO enable educated Ceylonese youths who are desirous of obtaining employment in Marine Engineering posts under the Colombo Port Commission the following scheme of training which has been in force since 1918 is published for general information :—

SPECIAL APPRENTICES.

Education.—All candidates must have passed the Cambridge Senior Examination or the Senior School Certificate Examination, or other higher examinations with mathematics in each case, and must produce a certificate of good character from school.

Age.—Candidates must not be less than 17 or more than 20 years of age, must be of good physique and subject to medical examination. In the case of more applicants than vacancies, the younger applicants will be preferred.

Applications.—All applications should be made direct to the Harbour Engineer.

Probationary Period.—Apprentices will be indentured but must first serve 3 months on probation. If satisfactory this period will count as part of their training and at the end of the probationary period the apprentice or his guardian will be required to sign an indenture for 5 years from date of admission to service.

Deposit to insure Good Behaviour.—At the end of the probationary period the apprentice or his guardian will be required to deposit with the Colombo Port Commission a sum of Rs. 300 as a guarantee of good behaviour and conduct. This sum with interest earned will be paid back to the apprentice on the certification of the Harbour Engineer that the apprentice has satisfactorily concluded his apprenticeship.

If the indenture is not satisfactorily concluded or if it is cancelled for unsatisfactory conduct the deposit is liable to be forfeited.

If the indenture is cancelled on account of lack of aptitude or illness the deposit will be returned to the apprentice.

Unsatisfactory Conduct.—If an apprentice's conduct is not satisfactory the Harbour Engineer has power to terminate the indenture without previous notice.

Programme of Training.—Special Apprentices will be trained in the different workshops as decided by the Mechanical Superintendent. Technical instruction at the Government Technical College is compulsory and will be confined to two days a week or as arranged by the Harbour Engineer and Director of Education. On these days the apprentices will not attend the Harbour Engineer's Department unless specially instructed to do so. Non-attendance at the Technical College will count as absence from duty and will incur forfeiture of pay. On other working days the special apprentices will be employed at the Harbour Engineer's Department Workshops. The fees for their classes are payable by the apprentice or his parent or guardian.

Rates of Pay.—Apprentices will, subject to the approval of the Harbour Engineer, be paid at the following rates :—

			Rs. c.
First year	0 80
Second year	0 92
Third year	1 8
Fourth year	1 24
Fifth year	1 44

but no increment will be considered unless the Foreman under whom the apprentice is working certifies that he is worthy of it, and until all time lost during the previous year by any absence, without leave, has been made up.

Leave.—After satisfactory attendance and service of two years, apprentices will be entitled to full pay leave not exceeding 14 days in a year for absence certified by a Government Medical Officer as due to illness. After one year's satisfactory service leave without pay is grantable for 14 days in a year for the purpose of rest or recreation.

Employment after Completion of Apprenticeship.—Completion of this apprenticeship does not qualify the apprentices for appointment to any engineering post under the Colombo Port Commission to qualify for this, sea training and the Board of Trade First Class Certificate is necessary. Every assistance possible will be given through the Shipping Office and other sources to procure billets for suitable apprentices on sea-going vessels but the apprentice will have to depend mainly on his own efforts to obtain a billet as Colombo is not a terminal port.

To afford apprentices some slight experience which may assist their application for a billet an appointment as Junior Engineer will be available on the dredger at the rate of Rs. 2 per diem. An apprentice will be allowed to occupy this post for 6 months only and if in that time he has not obtained another billet he will have to vacate the post and make way for another apprentice. Further than this no guarantee can be given for the further employment of apprentices.

Ex Apprentices when properly qualified and holding the necessary Board of Trade Certificates will be eligible for such suitable appointments in the Harbour Engineer's Department as may from time to time fall vacant.

H. J. L. LEIGH-CLARE,
Chairman, Colombo Port Commission.

Colombo, October 15, 1935.

Note.—Two Ceylonese, who have passed through this course of apprenticeship and subsequently qualified themselves for and obtained their First Class Board of Trade Certificates after the requisite further sea training, have been appointed to Engineering posts under the Colombo Port Commission.
