THE IRRIGATION ORDINANCE, No. 45 OF 1917.

RULES under section 11 of the Irrigation Ordinance, No. 45 of 1917, made by the prescribed majority of the proprietors within the irrigation districts of Kadawata korale and Meda korale, situated in the District of Ratnapura, Province of Sabaragamuwa, and approved by His Excellency the Governor by virtue of the powers vested in him by section 19 of the Ordinance and by Article 93 of the Ceylon (State Council) Order in Council, 1931.

D. S. SENANAYAKE,
Minister for Agriculture and Lands.

Colombo, March 30, 1936.

RULES.

1. In these rules unless the context otherwise requires—

“Ordinance” means the Irrigation Ordinance, No. 45 of 1917;

“Irrigation Headman” means irrigation headman elected or appointed under the provisions of Chapter IV. of the Irrigation Ordinance, No. 45 of 1917, and commonly known in the Ratnapura District as “Vel-Vidane” or “Vel-Duraya” or by some other name of similar import as the case may be;

“majority” means the majority of proprietors as defined in the Ordinance;

“proprietor” means the proprietor as defined in the Ordinance;

“cultivator” means the person who cultivates or is in actual possession of a paddy land and includes a proprietor or a lessee from the Crown;

“Supervising Officer” means a Chief Headman or other officer appointed by the Government Agent under section 20A of the Ordinance to supervise the work of irrigation and cultivation in an irrigation district.

2. Every Irrigation Headman shall be subject to the general supervision of the Supervising Officer of his division.

3. Every Irrigation Headman shall exercise supervision over the irrigation and cultivation of paddy lands within his division, enforce the rules made in connection therewith and report all breaches thereof to the Village Tribunal. The plaint of every breach of these rules shall be authorized by a Supervising Officer.

4. The Irrigation Headman of each division shall reside within the limits of his division and shall not absent himself during the cultivation season or at other times when his services are required, without leave and without providing a substitute approved by the Government Agent or Supervising Officer.

5. Every Irrigation Headman shall prepare a register of irrigable fields in his division, showing the names of fields, names of their proprietors or lessees, extents, shares owned and, wherever possible, the tattumaru turn of cultivation of each co-owner. He shall also enter in his register the length of channel to be cleared and length of fence to be erected by the proprietors or lessees in proportion to the extents held. This register shall be revised triennially and be open for inspection by the proprietors concerned. For the purpose of the preparation of the register every proprietor of a field shall give notice to the Irrigation Headman of the division of any change of ownership of such field.

6. Each proprietor shall deliver to the Irrigation Headman, not later than two days before the commencement of the cultivation a list of the cultivators to be employed in his field. Cultivators guilty of neglect or default in respect of their cultivation without sufficient reason shall be guilty of an offence.

7. The necessary repairs to channels, water-courses, elas, drains, amunas, &c., shall be carried out by the joint labour of all proprietors simultaneously on notice given by the Irrigation Headman, and in proportion to the extent which each person holds or cultivates.

8. The work of fencing a range of fields shall be carried out by the joint labour of all proprietors simultaneously on notice given by the Irrigation Headman and in proportion to the extent which each person holds or cultivates and shall be completed within 8 days after the aforesaid notice has been given.

9. As soon as a range of fields is fully prepared for sowing the proprietors shall on being noticed to do so by the Irrigation Headman sow their portions within one week from the date of such notice, unless the weather or the peculiar position of his field renders it impossible for any proprietor to sow within the prescribed time.

10. The inspection of the amuna and water-course of each tract of fields shall be made by the local Irrigation

Headman as often as to him shall seem expedient and if minor repairs be found necessary, they shall be executed by the cultivator of the field in which such repairs shall be needed. But in the event of a serious accident happening to any amuna or water-course, and causing damage that requires immediate repair, the Irrigation Headman or Irrigation Headmen shall immediately by beat of tom-tom or otherwise, as shall appear to be most effectual, collect all the proprietors and cultivators of the fields of the tract or tracts dependent for irrigation on such amuna or water-course. All such proprietors and cultivators, and all parties interested in the cultivation of the land shall be in attendance on the spot either by day or by night as may be necessary and shall forthwith perform the needful work. As soon as practicable, the Irrigation Headman or Irrigation Headmen shall furnish a detailed report of the accident and of the work of repairs to the Supervising Officer. The Officer shall report the same to the Government Agent.

11. If there be sufficient water an entire tract of fields may be cultivated at once. But if water be scarce, the “agata” fields of a tract shall be first ploughed and first irrigated, and the “mulata” fields shall be last ploughed and last irrigated, and the intermediate fields shall be ploughed and irrigated next in order commencing with the fields that lie nearest to the “agata” fields.

12. No person shall wilfully or negligently cause a wastage of water, which has been collected or is being conveyed for the irrigation of a paddy land, or otherwise cause damage on the field of another party.

13. The proprietor or cultivator of a field situated on a higher level than another adjacent field is entitled to allow the superfluous water from his own field to flow on to such lower field in such manner as the Irrigation Headman shall direct.

14. No person shall wilfully prevent water from flowing to the fields below his own; if any person infringes this rule the Irrigation Headman shall proceed to the spot with witnesses and open the gaps (wakkadas) himself.

15. No proprietor shall take water for any other purpose than that of paddy cultivation without the consent of the other proprietors.

16. The distribution of water to the fields of a tract of land shall be regulated by the Irrigation Headman in conformity with local usage.

17. The work of fencing a tract of fields shall be executed by the several cultivators in proportion to the extent of land held by each of them and the fence shall be erected before the sowing of the tract commences.

18. The Irrigation Headman shall determine the number of watch huts required for a tract of fields, and the persons who shall construct them. All the cultivators of a tract shall watch the crop of such tract by turns.

19. The several fields of a tract must be sown either with the same kind of paddy or with such kinds of paddy as will ripen at the same time.

20. If a proprietor or cultivator is unable personally to assist in clearing the main water-course, and constructing the fence of a tract of fields, and watching the crop of such tract he must furnish a substitute who shall perform his principal's share of the work.

21. Every fence protecting a paddy field shall be repaired and maintained in good order by the cultivator in charge. The fence of a tract shall not be removed until the latest crop within the enclosure shall have been thrashed, provided that such crop shall have been sown in conformity with rule 19 of these rules.

22. No person shall cut, scrape, or otherwise remove soil from any boundary ridge, or shall break or cut down or remove any landmark of a field without the consent of all parties who have an interest in the land on either side of the ridge or landmark. This rule shall not apply to any Crown landmarks which shall not be removed under any circumstances.

23. No person shall reduce the size of any path leading through a paddy field, or shall place any obstruction other than a stile, gate, or indikada across it.

24. No person shall lessen the width of a ridge on which a village path already exists.

25. The Irrigation Headman shall be paid from the crops of fields as huwandiram only four kurunics for every amunam extent sown. Any variation of this rate shall be made only by a resolution of the majority of proprietors, subject to the approval of the Government Agent. This payment shall be made at the threshing-floor.

26. Threshing of paddy shall not be delayed without sufficient reason, longer than one month from the date of removal of the crop to the threshing-floor. Notice shall be given to the Irrigation Headman before every such threshing is commenced.

27. Persons neglecting or refusing to give the Irrigation Headman the share of the huwandiram from the crops of their fields shall be guilty of an offence and shall be liable to a fine equal to twice the amount of the huwandiram

due. One half the fine shall be credited to the Fine Fund and the other half shall be paid in satisfaction of the huwandiram.

28. No paddy shall be removed from the threshing-floor at the termination of the harvest until the huwandiram share has been paid.

29. Every owner shall cultivate his field yearly if there is sufficient water unless in the opinion of the Government Agent or Supervising Officer there are adequate grounds for non-cultivation.

30. The proprietors or cultivators of fields cultivated by rain, and not by means of water-courses, amunas, or tanks shall at the proper season and at the summons of the Irrigation Headman, make and repair the pits, dams, and ridges required to retain the water, and shall repair the Mala-elas in such manner that the influx of water into them shall not carry away the dams, and in accordance with the instructions of the Irrigation Headman who shall fix the proportion of work to be done by each proprietor.

31. All labour which has to be performed in accordance with the above rules by proprietors or cultivators shall be performed in proportion to the extent of land owned or cultivated. Non-cultivation of the fields shall not relieve any proprietor from this liability unless he is specially exempted by the Government Agent or Supervising Officer.

32. The Irrigation Headman shall have power to direct in accordance with any resolution passed by the majority of proprietors at a meeting convened for the purpose and approved by the Government Agent the opening up of new channels and making new amunas, ridges, banks, drains, nawat, or kattakanda outlets for superfluous water, and pitaparas where necessary.

33. Should a case occur in which, before sowing has commenced, it is found that the supply of water to the tract of fields is insufficient to irrigate the whole extent of the tract, the majority of the proprietors intending to sow for that season shall decide on the extent and the portion of the tract to be cultivated and such portion shall be divided among such proprietors in proportion to their shares of the tract.

34. If from any cause the source of supply of water to the tract of fields proves insufficient, after sowing has been completed, to bring the whole extent sown to maturity, the majority of the proprietors of the fields sown shall decide as to which part of the tract shall be abandoned. The remainder of the tract shall thereafter be divided among the proprietors in proportion to the extent sown by each of them. All disputes arising in this connection shall be referred to the President of the Village Tribunal whose decision shall be final.

35. For the prevention of the paddy blight and destruction of paddy flies, all fields shall be subjected to the usual process of Bokugema, or to such other processes as are decided upon by the majority of proprietors.

36. Whenever practicable, a width of at least 10 feet of ground round the paddy field and also the banks of channels irrigating land shall be kept clear of jungle.

37. Whenever new lands are asweddumized the main channel shall be opened, worked, and repaired, or paid for according to the extent held by or asweddumized by each proprietor.

38. No person shall cultivate the bed of a tank without a permit granted by the Government Agent.

39. In the case of asweddumization of new tracts, drainage channels shall not be used as irrigation channels but suitable new channels shall be opened to take water to new fields, and drainage channels shall when possible be provided at the lowest level of the fields.

40. The "inniyara" between two lands shall be made by the joint labour of the owners or cultivators, and the "maninniyaras" or "paths" by the joint labour of the owners or cultivators who are benefited by such "maninniyaras" or "paths" according to the extent held by each.

41. The branch channels from the main channel shall be made and repaired by the joint labour of those proprietors or cultivators through whose lands such channels pass in proportion to the extent owned or cultivated by each of them.

42. No person shall divert water to asweddumize new land without the consent of the owners of the existing fields or of the Government Agent.

43. Where an area of land has been taken up for the purpose of asweddumization, and work has been commenced on one-tenth of that land, the proprietors or cultivators of the rest of the land shall open up channels as required by rule 37. If owing to their default the lands on which the work of asweddumization has been commenced are prevented from being irrigated, the necessary channels shall be opened by the Irrigation Headman acting on the orders of the Government Agent, or Supervising Officer and the cost of such work shall be recoverable in terms of section 23 of the Ordinance; provided that the asweddumization scheme has been passed by a majority of proprietors interested.

44. The fencing of new asweddums shall be directed by the Irrigation Headman in proportion to the extent cleared for cultivation.

45. A "wetahire" shall, where necessary, be made for buffaloes employed in ploughing, by the joint labour of the cattle-owning proprietors in proportion to the number of buffaloes owned by each of them.

46. Badawety or hedges or live fences that have served as fences for fields shall not be cut or interfered with, except by the proprietors of the land for which it served as a fence.

47. Where a threshing-floor is used by several proprietors it shall not be asweddumized or otherwise rendered unfit for use as such by any one of them, or by any other person without the consent in writing of the other proprietors who use such threshing-floor.

48. Channels or other water-courses irrigating paddy lands shall not be diverted or emptied for the purpose of fishing or for any other purposes.

49. No person shall open any drain from high land into a paddy field so as to damage the paddy field.

50. No person shall fell, destroy, or clear the jungle or trees growing on the borders and in the immediate vicinity of any stream, water-course, channel, or spring and required for its preservation and protection.

51. The Irrigation Headman shall have the power to cause the branches of trees, other than fruit trees or trees lying on a Government road, overhanging a paddy field to be cut down.

52. The bunds on either side of water-courses in paddy fields shall as far as possible be of the same height and breadth, so that the superfluous water or flood water shall flow over the fields on either side equally.

53. No owner of a paddy field situated in a range shall after reaping drive in cattle to his field until all the fields in the range have been reaped and their crops removed.

54. After cultivation has once commenced no cattle shall be admitted to the tract of fields, except for the necessary purposes of cultivation, until all the fields in the tract have been reaped and their crops removed.

55. It shall not be lawful for any person to trespass on paddy lands by walking through them or otherwise when such fields are under crop or are in any stage of cultivation.

56. Fowls, ducks, geese, and pigs damaging paddy may be shot and in such case the carcass shall be delivered to the owner.

57. It shall not be lawful for any person to throw, put, cast, or cause to enter into any stream, tank, irrigation channel, water-course, ela, amuna, or ulpotha from which water is taken for irrigation purposes, or into paddy fields any dirt, rubbish, stone, wood, or any other article which may foul the water or cause obstruction.

58. It shall be lawful for the Village Committee by resolution to prohibit the use of any amuna, potewa, tank, or channel or of any part of such amuna, potewa, tank, or channel as aforesaid for the bathing or washing of animals or clothes, and any person so bathing or washing animals or clothes in any such prohibited place shall be guilty of an offence.

59. Where, by the completion of new irrigation channels, water is made available for the irrigation of lands, the Irrigation Headman acting on the orders of the Government Agent or Supervising Officer shall notify to the proprietors of such irrigable lands that he is prepared to give them water for any extent of land they wish to asweddumize.

60. After such notification any proprietor desiring to asweddumize his land shall give notice to the Irrigation Headman either verbally or in writing that he wishes to irrigate his land by taking water from the channel provided. He should also state in the notice the name of the land and the extent he wishes to irrigate, and give all other information regarding his land that may be required of him. If a proprietor after receiving such notification from the Irrigation Headman neglects to make the necessary application within a reasonable time, he shall become liable to forfeit his right to the use of the water.

61. The Irrigation Headman shall enter such particulars in his field register, and thereafter the following rules shall apply to the applicant referred to in rule 60.

62. Purchasers of Crown land under special leases need not give such notice.

63. After the notice prescribed in rule 60 has been given by the applicant, the Irrigation Headman acting on orders of the Government Agent or Supervising Officers shall give notice to the proprietors of lands to clear the land within such time as may be prescribed by the Government Agent or Supervising Officer.

64. The proprietors of land shall on receipt of such notice perform each and every work necessary for asweddumizing the said lands.

65. No proprietor or other person shall do any act that is likely to affect injuriously any privilege or right which other proprietors are entitled to enjoy in common with him.

66. No person other than the Government Agent or someone duly authorized by him in that behalf, shall in any way interfere with or alter the level of the spill, water, or sluice of any village tank.

67. Where a field is possessed in "tattumaru" by several co-owners, ordinary repairs to channels, amunas, ridges, banks, drains, nawat or kattakanda outlets, and pitaparas, lasting only during the turn of cultivation of the owner of the "tattumaru" shall be done by the owner of the "tattumaru" himself and all works of improvement which are likely to benefit the field permanently, shall be done by the joint labour of all the co-owners.

68. All existing customs relating to paddy cultivation which are not expressly provided for and not inconsistent with these rules shall have the force of these rules.

69. The rules made under section 16 of Ordinance No. 23 of 1889, for the irrigation district of Ratnapura published in the Gazette of August 18, 1899, and deemed in so far as they apply to the irrigation districts of Kadawata korale and Meda korale, to be in force heretofore by virtue of the provisions of section 2 of the Ordinance, are hereby repealed in so far as they apply to the aforesaid irrigation districts.

Preliminary Report on the Vital Statistics of Ceylon, 1935.

(N.B.—Figures are subject to revision.)

THE important features of the Vital Statistics of 1935 are the following :—

- (a) the marriage rate, 9.1, is the lowest recorded since 1919 ;
- (b) the birth rate, 34.4, is the lowest after 1912 ;
- (c) the death rate, 36.6, is the highest recorded in the Island, if the influenza year 1919, which had a rate of 37.6, be excluded ;
- (d) the infant mortality rate, 263, is the highest ever recorded in the Island.

Population.

2. The estimated population of the Island on December 31, 1935, was 5,617,000. The deaths registered during the year exceeded the births by 12,070 and the emigrants exceeded the immigrants by 7,861.

Marriages.

3. The number of General and Kandyan marriages registered during 1935 was 23,636 (20,000 under the General Marriage Ordinance, and 3,636 under the Kandyan Law), and corresponded to a rate of 9.1 per 1,000 of the population (excluding Muslims) as against 11.0 in 1934. Marriages were fewer owing to the economic stress caused by the malaria epidemic. There were 1,346 Muslim Marriages which were equivalent to an approximate rate of 7.2 per 1,000 of the Muslim population, as against 7.1 in the previous year.

Births.

4. The number of births registered during the year was 192,756 (98,210 males and 94,546 females). The birth rate was 34.4 per 1,000 of the population, as against 37.2 in the previous year, and the sex ratio of births was 1,039 males to 1,000 females. The birth rate in the City of Colombo was 33.4, as against 32.1 in 1934. There were 28,474 births on estates as against 26,034 in the previous year.

Deaths.

5. 204,826 deaths (101,042 males and 103,784 females) were registered in 1935. The death rate was 36.6 per 1,000 of the population as compared with 22.9 in the previous year. In the City of Colombo the death rate was 29.9 as against 28.7 in 1934. There were 20,049 deaths on estates as against 14,946 in the previous year.

Infant Mortality.

6. The deaths of infants under one year of age amounted to 50,733. The infant mortality rate was 263 per 1,000 births, as against 173 in 1934. The rate in the City of Colombo was 163 and on estates 203 as compared with 189 and 200 respectively in the previous year.

Quarterly Births and Deaths.

7. The births, deaths, and infant deaths in each quarter of the year are shown below :—

	No. of Births.	No. of Deaths.	No. of Infant Deaths.
1st quarter	61,680	81,867	22,804
