Sanitary Officer's Report for the Quarter ended June 30, 1895.

The general health was very bad. Dysentery was reported in different parts of Ward No. 3. The outbreak of malarial fever mentioned in my last report raged in an epidemic form along the neighbourhood of the Mátara railway line and for some distance on either side, and played sad havoc among the poor, who died chiefly of starvation. Almost every family in Ward No. 3 was fever-stricken, and many of them had about half a dozen relapses or more, and children, old people, and the starved, exhausted by repeated attacks, ultimately succumbed to the disease. The total number of deaths registered during the quarter amounted to 119.

The first cases of fever were reported, I believe, in August, 1894, in different parts of Ward No. 3, near the railway line, while the railway operations and the extensive digging up of the soil on either side of the line were going on. This was due to emanations from the disturbed soil, and subsided in about two months. The present outbreak of fever commenced about the end of February, 1895, in Talapitiya and the neighbourhood along the railway line after the setting in of the hot weather and the consequent drying up of the large number of pools of stagnant water on either side of the line. With the persistence of the drought malarial emanations given off in abundance were carried by the wind to some distance on either side of the railway line and has invaded a very large area now.

These irregular excavations all along the railway line receive the surface water from a large area on either side, where surface pollution by human excrement is extant, and the water stagnating throughout the year pollutes the neighbouring wells and gives off malarial and other unhealthy emanations. These pools of stagnant water, besides being the cause of malaria, may give rise to an epidemic of typhoid fever, dysentery, cholera, &c., with disastrous consequences. These stagnant pools, which have proved a great source of danger to the public health, and which might be the cause of more serious epidemics than the present one, should be filled with virgin soil or sea sand up to a certain level and connected so as to have a fall and efficiently drain the surface water of the extensive area on either side of the railway line into a neighbouring stream. This will greatly improve the drainage of Ward No. 3, which is very defective. The side drains of the different roads in the neighbourhood of the railway line should be so directed as to discharge into these railway drains and thence into the Pettigala-ela or some other neighbouring stream. The condition of the Pettigala-ela requires immediate attention. This is the most insanitary locality within the Municipality, and a great source of danger to the public health. It is, in fact, an open sewer, and makes matters worse by stagnating through the greater part of the year and polluting the air and the soil. Happily there are no drinking wells in the neighbourhood. The portion of built drain with the road along it is a great improvement, and has added to the health and appearance of the locality. The road and built drain should be continued after filling up the els with sea sand so that the mud may not be disturbed.

CHARLES DE SILVA,
Sanitary Officer.
