THE POST OFFICE ORDINANCE

IN the exercise of the powers vested in the Governor by section 20 of the Post Office Ordinance (Chapter 146), and delegated to the Postmaster General by Notification under section 91 of that Ordinance, published in the Supplement to Gazette No 8,093 of November 30, 1934, I, John Pringle Appleby, Postmaster General, do hereby make the rules set out in the Schedule hereto

October 18, 1943

J P APPLEBY,
Postmaster General

Schedule Rules

1 (1) Packing—General—Subject to the special methods of packing prescribed in rule 2 for certain kinds of articles every parcel transmitted by post shall be packed and enclosed in a reasonably strong case or cover, fastened in a manner calculated—

- to preserve the contents from loss or damage in the post,
- to prevent the contents being tampered with in the post, and
- to protect other postal articles from being damaged in any way thereby

(2) Parcels containing liquids, substances which easily liquefy, eggs and articles of glass or other fragile materials shall be clearly marked on the outside "Fragile"

2 (1) Special methods of packing for certain kinds of articles—Articles of glass or other fragile materials, liquids, substances which easily liquefy, oils, eggs, fish, meat, fruit, vegetables, butter and other grossy substances, colouring powders, cheese and other strong smelling articles transmitted by post shall be packed in the following manner—

- articles of glass or other fragile materials shall be securely packed in boxes made of metal, wood, or strong corrugated cardboard so as to avoid any risk of injury to postal officers and damage to other postal articles,
- liquids, oils and substances which easily liquefy shall be enclosed in receptacles hermetically sealed Each receptacle shall be placed in a separate box or metal, strong wood or strong corrugated cardboard containing sawdust, cotton, or other spongy material in

- sufficient quantity to absorb the liquid contents of the receptacle in the event of the breakage of the receptacle. The lid of the box shall be fixed in such a manner that it does not become easily detached,
- (c) eggs, butter and other greasy substances shall be placed in an inner cover which shall be securely closed. This inner cover shall itself be placed in an outer cover of wood, metal or leather which is sufficiently strong to prevent the contents from escaping in the course of transmission by post. The outer cover shall contain sawdust, cotton or other spongy material in sufficient quantity to absorb any contents that may escape through the inner cover,
- (d) colouring powders shall be enclosed in an inner cover, which shall be securely closed. This inner cover shall itself be placed in an outer cover of metal, wood, leather or cardboard,
- (e) fish, meat, fruit, vegetables, cheese and other strong smelling articles, shall be placed in receptacles which are rat proof and do not allow the smell of their contents to escape
- (2) Viscera (whether human or otherwise) transmitted by post shall be packed in the following manner —
- (a) the viscera shall be placed in a glass bottle or jar which shall be closed with a tight fitting stopper or cork. In cases where alcohol has been used to preserve the viscera, a ring of bees wax or candle wax shall be placed round the lip of the bottle or jar. The stopper or cork shall be kept in place by means of a tight fitting cover made of bladder or leather. The stopper or cork shall, in addition, be sealed,
- (b) the glass bottle or jar shall itself be placed in a strong wooden or tin box containing a layer of raw cotton three fourths of an inch thick, and
- (c) the box shall itself be enclosed in a cloth cover. This cover shall be securely closed and sealed. The seals shall be at intervals not exceeding 3 inches along each seam. The seals must be of the same kind of wax and shall bear distinct impressions of the same device. The device shall not be that of a current coin or merely a series of straight or crossed lines

The Designs Ordinance (Chapter 124).

IN compliance with the requirements of rule 10 of the rules made under section 32 of the Designs Ordinance (Cap 124), notice is hereby given that the copyright in the Designs Nos 749 and 750 in Class 13 in the name of The Calico Printers' Association, Limited, was duly extended for a period of five years from May 17, 1944
