TRADE DISPUTE—COLOMBO OMNIBUS COMPANY, LIMITED, BORELLA.

THE Lanka Motor Workers' Union presented a petition to me under section 6 of the Essential Services (Avoidance of Strikes and Lockouts) Order, 1942, with regard to a trade dispute that had arisen between the said Union and the Colombo Omnibus Co., Ltd., Borella. The petition was referred to a Special Tribunal appointed by His Excellency the Governor under the proviso to section 5 of the said Order for adjudication.

2. The following findings and award dated March 4, 1946, made by the Special Tribunal are published for general information in terms of section 8 (4) of the above-mentioned Order:—

This trade dispute arises as the result of certain demands as regards rates of pay and other privileges and conditions of service which the petitioner has claimed as against the respondent Company which is a Motor Omnibus Company carrying on business for the transport of passengers along certain defined routes chiefly within the city of Colombo. These demands are set out in detail in the two schedules annexed to the first petition. Certain further demands embodied in a petition by the same Union dated December 19, 1945, have also been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

I shall deal with these various demands seriatim.

Item 1: Salaries of Bus Drivers, Inspectors, Conductors and Time-keepers.

One of the demands embodied in the Petition of the Lanka Motor Workers' Union dated December 19, 1945, which petition also has been referred to me is that every worker should be made permanent after a period of one month. This Bus Company, as would appear from the statement submitted, employs a very large number of drivers. This Bus Company which carries on an organized and regular bus service is bound to employ a large number of permanent employees which in fact it does. Temporary employees are taken on chiefly on account of the absenteeism of permanent employees. In all the circumstances a period of one month appears to be too short a period during which an employee can be tested for permanent employment. If, however, an employee has been continuously employed for a period of 3 months and his work is found to be satisfactory he should then be regarded as a permanent employee. I would accordingly award that an employee who has worked continuously for a period of 3 months and whose work has been found to be satisfactory should be reckoned as a permanent employee and be entitled to the rights and subject to the liabilities of permanent employment.

A. Bus Drivers.—These bus drivers who are employed to drive heavy buses along crowded thoroughfares must necessarily be skilled workmen. Their rates of pay must therefore be commensurate with the nature of the difficult duties they perform and the amount of skill, care and diligence required of them. By regulations made under the Motor Car Ordinance and published in the Government Gazette dated August 22, 1941, their daily rate of wages was fixed at Rs. 2.60. This was when the cost of Living Index stood at 123. By subsequent notification in the Gazette of July 2, 1943, when the Living Index had gone up to 198 (i.e., an increase of 57 per cent.) the daily wage was fixed at Rs. 3.25. This gave an increased wage of only 25 per cent. The cost of Living Index is now roundabout 220. The workmen have therefore a legitimate case for a proportionate increase in their wage. It is definitely clear that the increased wage in 1943 took into account the increased cost of living and included in the amount fixed an amount on account of Dearness Allowance. Any increase now given must be given expressly as a Special allowance as otherwise the workmen will doubtless claim the wage fixed to be their basic minimum wage.

On the basis that a wage of Rs. 2.60 was fixed to represent the basic wage and dearness allowance when the Index was at 123 the normal pre-war basic wage would be fixed at Rs. 2.11 a day. On this basis a rise in the cost of living by 120 per cent. would indicate a basic wage and dearness allowance amounting in the aggregate to Rs. 4.64 a day. The demand of the Union that the salary for a driver should be fixed at Rs. 120 a month which works out at Rs. 4 a day cannot be said to be an unreasonable demand. I find on the evidence that the Company pays most of its drivers Rs. 3.60 per day, an extra 25 cents as dearness allowance and certain drivers are paid an additional allowance for maintaining the buses in good condition. The High Level Road Bus Company pays its drivers Rs. 4 per diem. The South-Western Bus Company pays some of its drivers Rs. 100 per month and 15 per cent. dearness allowance. Considering prevailing rates of wages paid to drivers by most Companies which rates are in excess of the minimum rates fixed by the notification in 1943 under the Motor Car Ordinance, I consider it fair to award that in addition to the minimum wage of Rs. 3.25 fixed by the notification of July, 1943, each driver should be paid as dearness allowance a sum of 75 cents each day. Although I fixed the wages of a driver at a daily rate the permanent drivers should be paid on a monthly basis of 30 times this wage for work on 26 days, subject no doubt to deduction for absenteeism without leave or lawful excuse. Counsel for the respondent pressed me to consider the necessity of reducing the salary if payment is made on a monthly basis. Although monthly employment gives security, I have fixed the wage both for monthly-paid employees and temporary daily-paid employees on the same basis as I consider the amount fixed adequate remuneration and a living wage. I find that this Company and certain other Bus Companies pay their drivers a higher wage than the minimum basic wage of Rs. 3.25 fixed by this award. This Company too pays a large number of its drivers at the rate of Rs. 3.60 per day. Such drivers must continue to receive their wages at the rates at which they are now being paid and also any annual increments that are provided for them by the employer or under any of the regulations under the Motor Car Ordinance.

Conductors and Bus Clerks.—As regards conductors the demand by the Union is that they be paid a monthly salary of Rs. 75. These men must be regarded as monthly-paid servants and permanent employees after 3 months' continuous service. The respondent Company is paying its conductors Rs. 2.50 a day. I find that the other Companies too pay their conductors Rs. 2.50 and in some cases more. I therefore award that conductors be paid a monthly salary of Rs. 75.

Inspectors.—The demand is that Inspectors be paid Rs. 100 a month. The respondent Company pays some of its Inspectors Rs. 2.70 a day and the majority of them Rs. 3 a day. The South-Western Bus Company pays the checking Inspectors Rs. 75 a month and Divisional Traffic Inspectors Rs. 100 a month. The Castle Omnibus Company pays its Inspectors Rs. 90 a month. Considering the fact that these Inspectors are recruited from among educated young men I would fix their basic minimum salary at Rs. 90 a month. Any employer who employs Divisional Traffic Inspectors can at their option pay such Inspectors a higher rate of salary as fixed by the employer. It should be understood that no Inspector should as a result of this award receive as salary less than what he is receiving at present.

Time-keepers.—The demand is that they should be paid Rs. 75 a month. I find that the salary now paid to Time-keepers varies with the various Companies between Rs. 2 and Rs. 3 a day. The duties performed by Time-keepers are essential to help to maintain a regular bus service according to a Time Schedule. Considering the fact that the Time-keeper should be an educated man, I consider that a fair wage to be fixed for him is Rs. 75 a month.

Dearness Allowance.—When minimum wages were fixed in 1943 by regulation under the Motor Car Ordinance the increased cost of living was certainly a factor which was taken into consideration. Between that period and now the cost of Living Index has risen from 198 to 220. It is not possible to fix the Dearness Allowance with arithmetical precision. The respondent Company is paying to each of its employees a dearness allowance of 25 cents. The South-Western Bus Company is paying its drivers a dearness allowance of 15 per cent. and certain other employees 20 per cent. of their salary. Considering the increased cost of living I would award that a dearness allowance of 75 cents for each employee should be paid until the cost of Living Index comes down to 135, when the question of the dearness allowance can be reconsidered. I find that free medical aid and certain other privileges such as a Special Bonus paid by the respondent Company to certain drivers for maintaining their buses in good condition are given. I have no doubt that these employers will continue these privileges although I make no award relating to them.

Item 2.—This item as explained by Mr. Advocate Nadesan who appeared for the Union was modified at the inquiry to a demand that the number of hours devoted to work each day (Monday to Saturday inclusive) should be restricted to 7½ hours each day so that the number of working hours per week should be only 45 hours. Section 105 of the Motor Car Ordinance fixes the maximum number of hours during which an omnibus driver can be called upon to drive the vehicle at 9 hours in any period of 24 hours. There is also provision that the driver cannot be called upon to drive the vehicle for longer than any continuous period of 4½ hours at a time. Regard being had to this provision and to the fact that a regular bus service is operated on by this Company for purposes of public utility from an early hour in the morning till 10 p.m., it is difficult to agree to the demand of restricting the number of hours of work of the employees to a maximum period of 7½ hours each day. In all the circumstances, I consider it fair that all the employees should be called upon to perform their duties during 8 hours each day (exclusive of the hour for the midday meal). If any employee is required to work for any period beyond the 8 hours, he should be paid for each extra hour beyond 8 hours at the rate of 1½ times the hourly rate calculated at ¼ of the daily wage and special allowance as shall be fixed by this award.

I therefore award that a normal working-day shall be 8 hours (exclusive of the hour for the midday meal) and that overtime payment be fixed at the rate specified herein and be paid accordingly.

Item 3: Weekly Holiday.—The demand is that each workman should have 4 days in each month as a holiday. More correctly it should be 52 days in the year. As it is not practicable for a public transport service to fix upon a specified day in the week as the day fixed for the weekly holiday without bringing the transport service to a standstill on that day, it is necessary that certain groups of workmen should by arrangement between the employer and themselves be given this holiday on different specified days in the week as is arranged between the employer and the workmen. For this purpose a scheme should be drawn up beforehand whereby an arrangement is made giving to certain specified persons their weekly holiday on certain specified days. By this arrangement made known to the workmen beforehand, they will know on what day of the week they can avail themselves of the weekly holiday. I therefore award that the employer should draw up a scheme at the end of each week showing the day in the following week when each workman will be entitled to avail himself of his weekly holiday. The scheme so drawn up should be posted up in a notice-board at the office of the Company on the Saturday of each week.

Item 4.—This item relates to a demand for the grant of leave with full pay on the ground of illness of an employee. The employee is in this Company although they receive payment on daily rates of pay are in most cases regarded as permanent employees after a period of continuous service. To such of them, at all events, the grant of full pay leave on the ground of certified illness must be regarded as a privilege ordinarily granted to a workman. It is necessary, however, to provide that this privilege is not abused. I would therefore provide that an employee should furnish a certificate from a qualified medical practitioner employed and paid by the Company to entitle him to this privilege.

Item 5.—Relates to a demand for 10 days casual leave. In view of the fact that each workman is given 52 days leave with pay each year, I would restrict the period of casual leave with pay to 7 days in the year. A workman can avail himself by arrangement with the employer of this period of leave either as a continuous period if that can be so arranged or in shorter periods of 1, 2 or more days at a time. If a workman wishes to obtain this casual leave on any of the statutory holidays given for religious observance such as Wesak, the Sinhalese New Year, Christmas Day, Good Friday, and New Year's Day, or on May Day he should as far as can be arranged be able to take casual leave for any one of those days. It must clearly be understood that the grant of casual leave on a day of general religious observance such as the Sinhalese New Year or Wesak should not be claimed as of right by each workman as that would cause dislocation of the service. The management should, however, endeavour to grant leave to as many of their workmen as can conveniently be spared on such days. In order, however, to satisfy the workmen who would like to have a holiday on a day of religious observance, I would recommend that the practice which some of the employers now adopt of giving their workmen pay at double the daily rate should be continued.

Item 6.—In Schedule 1, which relates to a demand that sleeping accommodation at night for all workers should be provided in the garages. This demand was objected to by the employer on various grounds. I considered the demand and I find that it is neither feasible nor practicable for the employer to provide sleeping accommodation for all workers in the garages. The demand is rejected.

Item 7.—In Schedule 2, makes a demand for the inauguration of a Provident Fund Scheme for all employees. Among the list of demands of the subsequent date, item 10 refers to the grant of a pension after 10 years of service. No scheme or proposals have been submitted with regard to such a Pension Scheme. To my mind a Provident Fund Scheme is more easily worked. As has been awarded by me in other Trade Disputes, I would make award that the employer should contribute each month towards a Provident Fund, which should be inaugurated by him, $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the salary or wage of each permanent employee and that the workmen should contribute towards the fund 5 per cent. of his monthly earnings. The funds belonging to the Provident Fund should be placed to a separate account and there should be a Committee of management for the purposes of this fund in which Committee representatives of the employer and of the workmen should find a place.

Item 2.—In the second petition makes a demand for payment of batta for outstation work. The employees work along certain defined routes. Any work within a defined route cannot be considered to be work in an outstation entitling the employee to the payment of any batta. If, however, a driver or other employee is required to drive a bus on a special trip outside the defined route and is thereby required to be absent from his home station for a complete day or for a period over 12 hours, they should be paid batta of Rs. 5 per diem and batta at the rate of Rs. 2.50 a day for a period of 12 hours or less.

As regards item 7 in the second petition which relates to a standby wage for all workmen who report for work, in view of my decision that most employees should be made permanent after a period of 3 months and be regarded as monthly-paid servants, the question of a standby wage for all workmen who report for work effect only the temporary employees. Such employees are not usually employed every day and I find on the evidence that the South-Western Bus Company pays their temporary employees a much higher rate of wage. A Bus Company like any other employer can employ each day only such number of persons as are required for the service. The demand for a standby wage is therefore rejected.

Item 8 which relates to a demand that all the employees should be provided with a uniform was not pressed in view of the difficulty of obtaining Textile Coupons. I therefore reject this demand.

Demand 3 in the 2nd Petition.—In view of the provision already made by this award for the grant of sick leave with full pay for 14 days or more, this demand for leave on the ground of absence in consequence of an accident can adequately be met by the grant of full pay leave to any employee who has sustained injury as a result of an accident in the course of his employment.

As regards demand 7 in the 2nd petition the provision of the Workmen's Compensation Ordinance seem to cover this demand. The employer no doubt will take such steps as may be deemed necessary to cover his liability by means of Insurance. As this involves a question which cannot be decided off-hand without ascertaining the terms upon which an Insurance Company may be prepared to grant a suitable policy of Insurance. I am not prepared to make a specific award regarding this matter without fuller and further investigation.

I shall now make a brief summary of my award.

Award.

1. Salaries and conditions of service of Drivers, Inspectors, Conductors and Time-keepers. All these employees should be regarded as monthly paid permanent employees after a period of 3 months continuous service if found satisfactory and receive salaries on a monthly basis—

(a) Drivers' basic minimum salary of Rs. 3.25 a day and such increments as they are being paid;

- (b) Inspectors' minimum basic salary is fixed at Rs. 90 per month. A higher salary as fixed by the employer can be fixed for Divisional Traffic Inspectors;
- (c) Conductors and Bus-clerks. Their salary is fixed at Rs. 75 per mensem;
- (d) Time-keepers' salary is fixed at Rs. 75 a month.

2. Dearness Allowance: All employees who are permanent will be paid dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 22.50 a month and at the rate of 75 cents a day for temporary workmen.

3. Provident Fund: A provident fund should be started for the benefit of all employees. The employer should contribute $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the monthly salary or earnings and the employee contributing 5 per cent. thereof. There should be a Committee of Management to manage this fund consisting of representatives of the employer and employees. The number of representatives of the employees to be determined by the employer and should in no case exceed the number of representatives elected or nominated by the employer.

4. Number of hours of work in a normal working day and overtime: The number of hours during which any employee can be called upon to work is fixed at 8 hours on all working days exclusive of the hour devoted to midday meals. For any work performed beyond this period the workmen should be paid $1\frac{1}{2}$ times the hourly rate calculated at $1/8$ the salary for a normal working day.

5. Weekly holiday: There should be a weekly holiday on any specified day in the week. The employer should draw up a scheme at the end of each week prescribing a day in the following week, when each employee or group of employees can avail himself of the weekly holiday during that week as arranged between the employer and his employees. The scheme so drawn up should be posted up in a notice-board at the office of the Company on the afternoon of each Saturday.

6. Sick Leave: Every employee or every workman should be given leave with full pay for 14 days or such further period on the ground of illness certified by a qualified medical practitioner employed by the employer. If an employee is incapacitated from work as a result of an injury sustained in the course of his employment he should be given full-pay leave during such periods notwithstanding the fact that he has had sick leave during any year on the ground of illness.

7. Casual leave: In view of the fact that the workmen get 52 days during the year on account of their weekly holiday and are also awarded sick leave with pay. I restrict the number of days on which casual leave should be granted with pay to 7 days only in a year. This casual leave can be availed of either on the so-called statutory holidays such as Wesak, Sinhalese New Year Day, Christmas Day or May Day as arranged between the employer and the workmen so that all the workmen should not demand or be allowed casual leave on the same day for purposes of religious observance. In order, however, to satisfy the workmen who would like to have a holiday on a day of religious observance I would recommend that the practice which some of the employers now adopt of giving their workmen pay at double the daily rate should be continued.

8. Sleeping Accommodation: The demand for sleeping accommodation for all workers on the premises is rejected.

9. Batta: If a workman is required to perform a special trip outside the daily route he should be paid a subsistence allowance at the rate of Rs. 5 for any period of absence from his home station for more than 12 hours and at the rate of Rs. 2.50 for periods of 12 hours or less.

10. Standby wage: This demand which can now only apply to temporary employees is rejected.

11. Uniforms: This demand was not pressed and I therefore make no award.

12. Insurance of workers against accidents: The Workmen's Compensation Ordinance makes provisions to meet this case. Some of those provisions require amendment. As regards insurance against accidents, without sufficient data as to the extent of the liability which an Insurance Company may be prepared to undertake, I am unable to make any specific award.

13. Pension: In view of the provision I have made for a Provident Fund Scheme, the demand for a pension scheme is rejected.

No workman should as a result of this award receive as his basic wage a sum less than what he is paid now.

The grant of free medical aid and of privileges arising from a Distress Fund and other privileges which an employer at present accords to his workmen may be continued although I make no award relating to them.

TRADE DISPUTE—MATALE BUS COMPANY, LIMITED, MATALE.

THE Lanka Motor Workers' Union presented a petition to me under section 6 of the Essential Services (Avoidance of Strikes & Lockouts) Order, 1942, with regard to a trade dispute that had arisen between the said Union and the Matala Bus Co., Ltd., Matala. The petition was referred to a Special Tribunal appointed by His Excellency the Governor under the proviso to section 5 of the said Order for adjudication.

2. The following findings dated March 7, 1946, of the Special Tribunal are published for general information in terms of section 8 (4) of the above mentioned Order :—

The parties half settled this dispute, but respondent repudiates that because he has since seen this driver frequenting a bar. That bar runs a billiard table and driver Ranawera is an expert cueist. It is natural for him to frequent this bar, and Mr. Mant's grounds for dropping the settlement sound to me like a pose after the manner of Mr. Stiggins.

On the other hand, Mr. Mant never definitely promised to reinstate and is not bound to reinstate.

The next issue is whether he had good cause to dismiss Ranawera. He gives 3 reasons. The first is that he found Ranawera to be in liquor on the night of the 14th June while driving a bus; but the evidence of this is thin, and I am not sure it is true.

The 2nd reason is that Ranawera made an hour's unnecessary delay in taking his bus to relieve Wilbert's disabled bus. The delay is admitted. But Ranawera tries to explain it as due to his efforts to phone Matale and get instructions. In fact, he needed no instructions and I find this explanation to be false. Still, there is extenuation of the delay in the fact that Ranawera did 14 hours' work that day.

The 3rd reason is that Ranawera halted his bus near his house, an unauthorised spot, in spite of 2 previous warnings in April. That is plainly proved. On the other hand, Ranawera had had a very long day's work and needed to notify his household of the changed programme for next day. It was not a heinous misdeed on June 14, 1945, and it may well be that his 2 halts in April had specific reason.

These halts involve breach of a regulation of the U. D. C. and disobedience of the firm's order.

In spite of the extenuations, I am not prepared to order reinstatement but he has served these people for 7 years and I award driver Ranawera 3 months' pay in lieu of notice. He has had one month's pay. Let respondent pay him 2 months' further pay.

Commissioner of Labour.

MOTOR CAR ORDINANCE, No. 45 OF 1938.

List of Applications for Licences for Lorries for 1946.

IN terms of section 46 of the Motor Car Ordinance, No. 45 of 1938, a list of applications for licences for lorries for the rest of the year, 1946, is published below for general information. The following extract from the Ordinance applies to objections against the issue of licences, &c. —

" 46(2). (a) Any licensing authority within whose area any part of the area of operation proposed by any applicant for a licence for a lorry, is situated, may make objection against the issue of that licence. (b) Any person who is the holder of a valid licence, or who is himself an applicant for a licence, for a lorry in respect of the whole or any part of the area of operation which is proposed by any other applicant may on payment of the prescribed fee, make objection against the issue of the licence to such other person.

46(4). Any person, who is entitled under sub-section (2) to make objection to the issue of any licence, may, on payment of the prescribed fee*, inspect the application for that licence at any reasonable time at the Office of the Commissioner. Provided, however, that no fee shall be payable by any licensing authority in respect of the inspection of any application."

Objections must be made in the manner stated below to the Commissioner of Motor Transport, Colombo, so as to be received by him not later than 2 P.M. ON WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17, 1946.

1. Every objection in respect of an application for a licence for a lorry shall be made by a written statement on good and suitable paper which shall be signed by the person making the objection. Where the objection is made by any body corporate or firm, it shall be signed by a person duly authorised in that behalf by such body or a partner of the firm, as the case may be.

2. Every objection shall be made in duplicate and the original shall, where the objection is made by any person other than a licensing authority, bear stamps (uncancelled) to the value of Rs. 2 50.

3. Every statement of objection shall set out the specific grounds on which the objection is based and shall indicate, by reference to the name of the applicant for the licence and to the distinctive number of the motor car, the application in respect of which the objection is made.

4. No objection relating to more than one motor car shall be made in any one statement of objection. Any objections not conforming to these requirements will be of no avail.

Objectors under section 46 (2) are requested to state clearly in their objections the facts entitling them to object, i.e., whether they are holders of valid licences or are themselves applicants for licences for lorries in respect of the whole or any part of the area of operation and additional services proposed by any applicant. They are also requested to give the registered number of their vehicles in the area applied for or cite the serial numbers of their applications as listed in the Gazette.

If the objection is in respect of any application for a licence for a lorry "under construction" the serial number given to the application in the list should be quoted.
