At the end of this training they will be selected for and posted to Units of the Army according to their capabilities and the needs of the Units at the time.

Period of Engagement

The normal engagement is to serve for a period of 12 years, of which 5 years will be with a Regular unit and 7 years on the Reserve of the Army, after which a soldier will be discharged unless he falls within the categories set out in the two succeeding paragraphs.

An efficient soldier of good character who is recommended by his Commanding Officer for a vacancy may be permitted to continue in service till he has completed a period of 12 years' service in a Regular Unit.

At the end of 12 years a soldier will be discharged, but, if he is efficient and of good character and is recommended for a further period of engagement by his Commanding Officer to fill a vacancy, he will be permitted to re-engage for a period of 10 years.

At the end of the period of this re-engagement (i.e., 22 years after the date of original enlistment) a soldier who has the requisite rank may be permitted to extend his service for a year at a time till he has served a further 10 years provided a vacancy exists for him.

It is, therefore, possible for a man to serve as much as 32 years in a Regular Unit of the Army.
