NOTICE

THE following specifications have been accepted

No 4,007 of May 8, 1953 (Convention application under Section 48, claiming priority date, May 9, 1952)

Demetrius Comino

"Improvements relating to constructional elements, particularly such consisting of slotted metal bars of angle section"

Abstract—This invention relates to improvements pertaining to constructional elements of the kind consisting of bars of angular iron

The nature of the invention can be ascertained from Claim 1 which reads as follows.—

1 A constructional element consisting of a metal bar of angular section, preferably an L-section, having lines of holes in its flanges for the insertion of bolts, wherein holes in one flange at least are arranged so that the said flange can be connected to the similar flange of a second such element, crossing the first element at right angles, by four bolts located at the corners of a square, the holes of one flange at least comprising elongated groups of holes.

There are 19 claims and 2 sheets of drawings.
