President tells Trade Union reps

Government will fulfill people's aspirations

I am aware that several unresolved issues exist in the Government, semi-Government sectors, Corporations and Boards. They have now reached a chaotic situation. Anomalies in salaries and promotions and the disorder in the recruitment process are some of the pressing issues. The Government is committed to resolve these problems for the benefit of workers. People elected the present Government with high expectations. Help the Government to fulfill the pledges made to the public," said President Gotabaya Rajapaksa, addressing the representatives of Trade Unions.

Recalling that the former President and the incumbent Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa is a leader who fought for and won the rights of the workers, the President said that his Government too follows the same policy and is always ready to solve issues through dialogue.

President Rajapaksa made these remarks addressing representatives of the trade unions affiliated to Sri Lanka Podujana Peramuna at the chamber of the Presidential Secretariat on Tuesday (23).

Representatives of Sri Lanka Podujana Education Services Association, Conference of the Progressive State Workers, Association of Progressive Workers in Commercial Industries and Services, Association of Provincial Progressive Workers, Sri Lanka Podujana Transport Workers Society, Sri Lanka Podujana Estate Workers Society and All Island Samurdhi Officers Association were present at the discussion.

Recognising the contribution and sacrifices made by the trade unions affiliated to Podujana Peramuna to bring the current Government to power President pointed out that the public service should be transformed into a strong, efficient and effective one in order to meet the aspirations of the people. The Government is always ready to listen to the trade unions and work in unison with them, said the President adding that he intends to meet and discuss with the trade unions once in every three months as the COVID pandemic is now easing. The President emphatically told the TU representatives to assist to make State entities of all forms efficient and profitable organisations by eliminating dependence on the Treasury for funding.

"We took over the administration of the country knowing very well the challenges ahead. The debt burden on the country was enormous. The economy was in very bad shape. We had the vision to overcome these obstacles. Despite the roadblocks to progress due to the eruption of COVID-19 pandemic, we were able to achieve remarkable successes. The country's export earnings have returned to pre-COVID period. Due to the policy adopted by the Government in the face of the pandemic, agriculture developed but did not collapse. Everything that can be grown in this country is being cultivated. Now we can see the positive effects of such actions", the President said.

"However, the tourism industry, which was a major source of income in Sri Lanka, has almost completely collapsed. It may take some time for the tourism industry to recover as most of the countries where tourists come from still remain closed. Many other income avenues are also blocked. Nevertheless, the Government was able to provide employment to 60,000 graduates waiting in the job queue. A programme was launched to employ 100,000 people selected from the poorest families. By now, 35,000 have been recruited under it. Another 35,000 will be recruited in the next phase," he added that allows private sector employees who are not called to work or are unable to come to work due to the COVID-19 pandemic to choose from either receiving half of the basic monthly salary or receiving Rs.14,500, whichever is more beneficial to the employee. De Silva also stated that this mechanism will not affect the employees who are currently employed.

Minister De Silva stated that any employee can lodge a grievance if he or she has been subjected to an injustice before the Commissioner General of Labour, and the grievance will be reviewed by an Employer-Employee Committee once a week.

The Minister pointed out that this is not a pay cut at all and that it was a good practice to maintain job security.

Minister De Silva was replying to a question raised by Samagi Jana Balawegaya MP S.M. Marikkar during the Oral Questions Round in Parliament yesterday (24).

The Minister added that even workers who are informally employed and who are not registered can complain to the Department of Labour regarding any injustice.

"This is in line with the agreement reached on the payment of wages to private sector workers, job security and in restricting workers in the face of the COVID-19 pandemic by the Task Force on Employees' and Trade Unions representing the National Labor Council," Minister De Silva explained.

"The employer must pay the contributions to the Employees Provident Fund and the Employees Trust Fund for such wages. The Government will conduct an inquiry into the institutions that do not pay such contributions. The First Phase of the mechanism was implemented in May and June 2020 as a step towards job security for private sector employees. This process has received the approval by the Cabinet. This mechanism was extended to employees in the tourism industry in October, November and December 2020. If any organisation outside the sector wants to implement this concession, it needs the approval of the Commissioner General of Labour. The Task Force comprising employees and trade unions agreed to implement this concessionary mechanism and the Ministry of Labour had only provided guidance and assistance in this regard," the Minister observed.

When asked by MP Marikkar about the dismissal of some employees during the COVID-19 pandemic, the Minister said that if the services of an employee had been unfairly terminated, a complaint can be filed with the Commissioner of Labour to seek justice under the Termination of Service Act.

"Accordingly, about 200 complaints have been received recently and legal action has been taken in connection with most of these complaints," Minister De Silva disclosed.

"Those people who had prior information about Easter Sunday terror attacks are shedding crocodile tears today," the Minister said. "They just want to know whether their names are in the Final Report of the PCoL," he added.

"Most of the people of the former Government have forgotten today that it was during their tenure that the Easter Sunday terrorist attacks took place and they are responsible for the failure of preventing the attacks. Most of the Members who represent the Opposition today had failed to stop the deadly attacks even though they were warned by the local and international intelligence agencies," Minister Fernando said. He added that the Archbishop's statements on demanding punishment for those responsible for the crime is reasonable. The victims of the attack still await justice almost two years after the horrific attacks. "We also want to mete out justice. The identity of those behind these deadly attacks should be revealed to the public. We expect that all those connected to this incident will be punished regardless of their status," the Minister added.

Whilst the Attorney General had instructed the Auditor General that there was no impediment to the audit of the two institutions by the Auditor General's Department and despite the Auditor General informing of the same in writing, COPE questioned the grounds of conducting an audit by the private company KPMG based solely on the decision of the Board of Directors.

The loss of Rs. 36 million due to the closure of branches in the Maldives and the Seychelles by the SLIC was discussed at the COPE meeting held on Tuesday under the chairmanship of Prof. Charitha Herath. COPE directed the SLIC Chairman to submit an expeditious report on the reasons for the closure of the Maldives and Seychelles branches and the financial losses and expenses incurred for opening and closing those branches.

The COPE Chairman expressed his astonishment regarding as to why Litro Gas Lanka and Litro Terminal Lanka as shareholders of SLIC owning 99.94% and 100% of shares respectively conducted an audit through a private company although the SLIC themselves is conducting their audit through the Auditor General.

Addressing the Committee, the Chairman of Litro Gas Lanka stated that there is no legal impediment for a private sector company to carry out an audit as decided by the Board of Directors. Given that the situation could adversely affect other companies, especially those owned by the SLIC in the future, the Chairman highlighted that it is everyone's responsibility to protect Government-affiliated institutions. Accordingly, COPE Chairman Prof. Charitha Herath stated that the COPE will inquire into the matter from the Attorney General and will take measures to inform of the findings through the Chief Accounting Officer.

State Ministers Susil Premajayantha, Nalaka Godahewa, MPs Jagath Pushpakumara, Patali Champika Ranawaka, Premmath C. Dolawatta, S.M. Marikkar, S. Rasamanikkam and SLIC and Litro Gas Lanka officials were present at the meeting.

It has also been reported that this Resolution has also called for the monitoring of Sri Lanka's implementation of 20th Amendment to the Constitution while stressing the importance of democratic governance.

The PSC had interdicted then Solicitor General Dilrukshi Dias Wickremasinghe, from functioning in her post (Solicitor General), the second most senior post in the Attorney General's Department following the controversial telephone conversation between Dilrukshi Dias Wickremasinghe and Avant Garde floating armoury company Chairman Nissanka Senadhipathi, an accused in the Avant Garde case. In her petition, Wickremasinghe is also seeking an order directing the Public Service Commission to expeditiously conclude the preliminary investigation into the conduct of the petitioner.

The Petitioner states that she was interdicted without holding even a preliminary investigation completely relying on a purported edited and misleading audio clip. President's Counsel Sanjewa Jayawardena appearing for the petitioner submitted to the Court that in accordance with principles and procedures established by law, the preliminary investigation has to be concluded within a period of two months following her interdiction. Jayawardena alleged in this case the preliminary investigations are still undergoing with a delay for a period of over a year and four months. He further submitted to the Court that this unnecessary delay on the part of PSC has caused serious prejudice to his client since she is due to retire in July this year.

After being satisfied with the submission made by the Counsel for the petitioner, the Court of Appeal yesterday decided to issue notices on the Public Service Commission and Attorney General returnable for March 9.

The petitioner Dilrukshi Dias Wickremasinghe has held several posts in her legal career including the position of Director General of the Bribery Commission.

President's Counsel Sanjewa Jayawardena with counsel Prashanthi Mahindaratna, Dilumi de Alwis, Rukshan Senadheera and Gimhani Attanayake appeared for the Petitioner.

Ghana gets first COVAX Vaccines

Ghana became the first country to receive a delivery of Coronavirus doses from the global effort to boost vaccine access after a plane landed Wednesday with 600,000 AstraZeneca shots.

The immunization help arrives days after President Biden pledged US$ 4 billion to the multilateral pact known as Covax, breaking with the Trump administration's shunning of the World Health Organization (WHO)-backed mission.

The West African country of 31 million was selected as the first recipient after sending a rollout plan to Covax proving its health-care teams and cold chain equipment were ready to support a quick distribution. By Wednesday, Ghana had recorded more than 80,700 cases and 580 deaths.

Others in the region are expected to soon receive similar Covax shipments.

The doses touching down in the capital, Accra, come from the Serum Institute of India, the world's largest vaccine manufacturer. Workers at the Accra airport rushed to load the Covax doses into trucks bound for communities across the country. Ghana plans to first protect the vulnerable: health-care personnel, the elderly and those with medical conditions that increase their risk of serious illness. The first shots will be administered early next week. The goal is to vaccinate 20 million people, Kwame Amponsa-Akyianu, Ghana's program manager for immunization, told reporters earlier this month.

Boxes of vaccines left Mumbai on Tuesday for Dubai, where a logistics crew picked up hundreds of thousands of syringes, before hurtling toward Africa's west coast.

"In the days ahead, front line workers will begin to receive vaccines, and the next phase in the fight against this disease can begin — the ramping up of the largest immunization campaign in history," Henrietta Fore, the executive director of the United Nations Children's Fund, said in a statement. Ghana kicked off its rollout months behind wealthier nations, highlighting the deep disparities of shot distribution as the pandemic throttles life around the globe.

Covax projects that it will deliver 2.3 billion doses by the year's end — most of which will go to poorer countries, free of charge. High-income nations, however, have already snapped up twice that amount, according to a Duke University tracker. "So far, 210 million doses of vaccine have been administered globally — but half of those are in just two countries," WHO head Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus said Tuesday in Geneva. "More than 200 countries are yet to administer a single dose."

Covax organizers have faced a long battle to secure funding, particularly after Trump opted out of participating — a decision informed by his feud with the WHO.

The African Union is pushing to inoculate 60 percent of the continent's 1.3 billion people over the next three years, but soaring global demand — coupled with the weaker buying power of poorer nations — have delayed this objective.

The body said it has obtained 670 million doses of AstraZeneca, Pfizer and Johnson & Johnson vaccines for 54 countries. Several countries, meanwhile, are negotiating vaccine packages with China and Russia. Most still rely on Covax support.

Health officials warn that uneven access to vaccines will prolong the pandemic, spawning mutations that are harder to tame.

Minister Ranatunga has appointed a nine-member high-powered Steering Committee to implement this Global Promotional Campaign.

The members of the Steering Committee are Tourism Ministry Secretary S. Hettiarachchi, Sri Lanka Tourism Chairperson Kimarli Fernando, Sri Lanka Tourism Promotion Bureau (SLTPB) acting MD Madhubani Perera, Tourism Advisory Committee Chairman Hiran Cooray, Sri Lanka Association of Inbound Tour Operators President Thilak Weerasinghe, Hotels Association President Sanath

Ukwatte, Tourism Advisory Committee Member Rajitha Dahanayake and the Tourism Minister's Representative Nimesh Herath.

The Minister said one of the main targets is to promote Sri Lanka as a best tourist destination and one of the safest countries for travel.

"Even though, the decision taken to reopen the country for tourists was very challenging, it was taken considering the nearly three million people who are dependent on the tourist industry," he added.

IAEA-Sri Lanka talks on Nuclear Law

The IAEA hosted a virtual national seminar on topical issues of nuclear law for Sri Lanka last month. Topics presented and discussed ranged from transparency in nuclear law and the legal provisions for the safety and security of radioactive sources to benefits of the Convention on the Physical Protection of Nuclear Material (CPPNM), its Amendment and the Joint Convention on the Safety of Spent Fuel and Radioactive Waste Management.

"Over the years, Sri Lanka has benefitted from IAEA legislative assistance through various regional and national activities," said Shanta Thenuwara, Director of the Sri Lanka Atomic Energy Regulatory Council (AERC) and national coordinator. "However, this is the first concrete step we are taking to involve all stakeholders at national level in starting the process of the implementation of legal instruments, an area of special interest and importance for Sri Lanka."

More than 30 representatives attended the seminar, from the Sri Lanka AERC, Sri Lanka Atomic Energy Board, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Permanent Mission of Sri Lanka to the IAEA in Vienna, the Attorney General's Department, Legal Draftsman's Department, Ministry of Power and the State Ministry of Solar, Wind and Hydro Power Generation Projects Development.

The virtual seminar provided an opportunity to discuss civil liability for nuclear damage and the benefits of the modernized nuclear liability instruments, such as the 1997 Convention on Supplementary Compensation for Nuclear Damage (CSC), which provide a framework for countries in South Asia, including those of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC).

In his concluding remarks, Anthony Wetherall from the IAEA Office of Legal Affairs noted the importance of adherence to and implementation of the international legal instruments. He reiterated the IAEA's readiness to continue to assist the country in this regard and in developing and strengthening its national legal framework.

The seminar, implemented in the framework of the IAEA legislative assistance programme, is one of many activities conducted under the Agency's technical cooperation programme to support Member States in establishing and enhancing their national legal frameworks. (IAEA)

Ongoing relief measures will continue - Semasinghe

NIMAL WIJESINGHE

The Government is not prepared to cut or reduce the ongoing relief measures provided to the people, no matter whatever challenges that we may have to face. It is a mockery that the bankrupt Opposition politicians with sinister motives who heartlessly restricted even the Senior Citizens' dole during the period of the Good Government are leveling baseless allegations against the Government, State Minister of Samurdhi, Household Economy Micro Finance, Self Employment and Business Development Shehan Semasinghe.

He was speaking at an awareness workshop for Samurdhi community based trainers.

The workshop aimed at educating the participants regarding the various loan facility programmes being launched by the Samurdhi Development Department under the Budgetary allocations for 2021.

"The Government will thwart any attempts of money lending by unscrupulous micro financing agencies," he said.

"There are around 700 DS Divisions in the Anuradhapura District. Under the proposed relief programme, we will provide Rs.210 million to community based organisations providing training to the officials dealing with the programme in micro financing programmes. Under this programme, low income group families in rural areas will be able to obtain loans amounting to Rs.10,000 without being dependent on micro financing agencies or banks," Semasinghe said.

He said that the people would not be deprived of any social benefit being enjoyed by them. Rs.54 billion is spent annually for the payment of Samurdhi benefits.

"The previous Good Government deprived the people of the fertiliser subsidy and cut off Rs.100 from the Elders' Monthly Allowance," he pointed out.

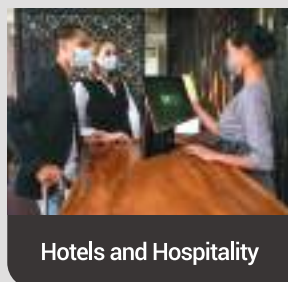

The farmers have now started paddy harvesting for the Maha Season. The Government has allocated Rs.16,500 million for purchasing paddy. The newly introduced paddy purchasing strategies and criteria are highly beneficial to the farmers as private sector dealers are compelled to purchase paddy at the stipulated guaranteed price set by the Paddy Marketing Board (PMB).

Samurdhi Director General Bandula Thilakasiri, District Samurdhi Director W. A. Wasantha and Assistant Director Mahinda Weerakoon were also present on the occasion.

AN EPOCH-MAKING VISIT

Sri Lanka and Pakistan have shared a history of strong ties in many fields including trade for decades. The bilateral ties were further cemented during the period in which Sri Lanka was fighting with one of the most ruthless terror outfits in the world.

Pakistan was one of the first countries that helped Sri Lanka to safeguard its sovereignty and territorial integrity. In this context, the visit of Pakistani Prime Minister Imran Khan to Sri Lanka marked an important milestone in the Sri Lanka – Pakistan relations.

Prime Minister Imran Khan is the first Head of State who visited Sri Lanka after President Gotabaya Rajapaksa and Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa assumed office last year and both countries reaffirmed their resolve to further strengthen the ties in many fields including technology and agriculture.

Prime Minister Khan arrived in Sri Lanka at the invitation of his Sri Lankan counterpart Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa and was accompanied by a high-level delegation comprising Ministers and Senior Government officials.

The visit reflected the warmth and goodwill between the governments and peoples of the two countries. The visiting Pakistani Prime Minister was received by Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa and the Members of the Cabinet on arrival at the Bandaranaike International Airport on Tuesday.

The visiting Prime Minister called on President Gotabaya Rajapaksa yesterday morning and the two leaders exchanged views on sharing technical know-how in order to promote agriculture in both countries.

The two leaders stated that it is their objective to develop an agricultural economy while ensuring higher revenue for the farmer and fair price for the consumer.

Inviting the Pakistani people to visit Sri Lanka with the COVID pandemic subsiding, the President shared his views on the measures to be taken to develop tourism sectors in both countries.

'Provincial Councils in full swing can resolve many issues'

EPDP submits proposals for new Constitution

Anuradhapura Additional District Group Corr.

Fisheries Minister and the leader of the Eelam People's Democratic Party (EPDP) Douglas Devananda submitted the recommendations and proposals of their party to the committee headed by President's Counsel Romesh de Silva, appointed to draft the new Constitution. Referring to the submissions of their party, Minister Devananda told the Daily News that in the new Constitution, there should be provisions to strengthen the devolution of power based on the Provincial Council system. The EPDP, in its recommendations, has brought to the attention of the committee that the Provincial Council system that resulted from the 13th Amendment should be fully empowered. Furthermore, the EPDP has levelled charges against previous governments for avoiding opportunities available to use the powers vested in the Provincial Councils established in conformity with the Indo-Lanka Agreement without being biased. It has also stated that the only solution for racial, economic, social and cultural issues and disputes is the full empowerment of the Provincial Council system.

KOICA aids post-COVID project to help estate communities

The Korea International Cooperation Agency (KOICA) provided a grant worth US$ 195,000 to the United Nations Human Settlement Programme in September 2020 for the project 'Marginalised Estate and Rural Communities in Nuwara Eliya District in Sri Lanka to Minimise Health Hazards of COVID-19 and Socioeconomic Implications of the Pandemic'. The final handing over of the facilities of the project was held in Nuwara Eliya on February 9, a press release issued by the KOICA said. The project is an extension of the 'Human Development Initiative through Empowerment and Settlement Improvement in the Plantation Settlements in Sri Lanka 2016-2018' funded by the KOICA. Representatives of the KOICA

Sri Lanka Office, including Director Kang Youn Hwa, United Nations Resident Representative for Sri Lanka Hanaa Singer Hamdy, Country Programme Manager of the United Nations Human Settlement Programme Dr. Chanaka Thalpahewa and Nuwara Eliya District Secretary Pushpakumara were present at the ceremony held at the Mahagasthota Agrarian Producers' Special Co-operative Society Limited, Nuwara Eliya. Chanaka Thalpahewa and Nuwara Eliya District Secretary Pushpakumara were present at the ceremony held at the Mahagasthota Agrarian Producers' Special Co-operative Society Limited, Nuwara Eliya. The project specifically targeted to provide aid in dealing with the negative socio-economic impacts of the COVID-19 virus. Safety messages were disseminated with instructions on how to minimize the spread of the virus. The social impact of the pandemic such as intimate partner violence and other forms of rights violations were also addressed through the interventions. The project also intervened in increasing the food security and the resilience of the marginal communities in the area. The project is in direct contribution to KOICA's efforts to support emergency responses, especially on COVID-19 and KOICA's strategy to strengthen resilience towards sustainable development and establish an economic foundation for socially vulnerable groups.

'Coconut price hike: Previous regime to be blamed'

RAJA WAIDYASEKERA
Tissamaharama Special Corr.

Irrigation Minister and National Security, Home Affairs and Disaster Management State Minister Chamal Rajapaksa said the price of coconuts has skyrocketed due to the shortsighted policies of the previous regime. He said if the previous government paid attention to large-scale coconut cultivation, the country would not have faced a coconut scarcity and price hikes today. He was addressing a meeting of the Women's Federation of Podujana Perama in the Tissamaharama Electorate at the Singapore Hall in Hambantota. The Minister said if the previous government engaged in large-scale coconut cultivation across the island, the country will be self-sufficient in coconuts now and coconuts will be available at a cheap price. He emphasised that it takes five years to obtain a coconut yield since the day of planting a sapling. Minister Rajapaksa also said the Coconut Research Institutes in Lunuwila and Puttalam have developed hybrid varieties of coconut saplings.

Norochocholai fly ash sales reel in Rs.800 million per year: Dullas

Over Rs.800 million is earned annually through the sale of fly ash obtained from the Norochchola Power Plant, Minister Dullas Alahapperuma said in Parliament yesterday.

He was answering a question raised by Samagi Jana Balawegaya (SJB) Parliamentarian Chaminda Wijesiri.

The minister said that therefore, there was minimum wastage, and that the fly ash was being used for the manufacturing of several other products, such as bricks and cement.

Before the power plant was set up, fly ash needed for the cement industry was imported tax-free from India at a cost of Rs.13,500 per metric tonne. However, today, the fly ash from the plant is being used for the construction work at the Colombo Port City as well, Alahapperuma added.

The minister said that the cost per unit power generation at the Norochchola Power Plant was Rs.8, whereas the corresponding sum at a diesel power plant was Rs.30. He added since the power plant was commissioned, it had added 41,492 million GWh to the National Grid. MP Wijesiri questioned about the number of times the Norochchola Plant's Lakvijaya Power Station has experienced breakdowns since it was set up, and what steps the government has taken to address the issue.

Minister Alahapperuma said that the frequency of breakdowns has lowered as engineers and technicians have become familiar with the plant's technology.

Rahuman raises issue over Order Paper question limitation

Samagi Jana Balawegaya (SJB) MP Mujibur Rahuman raised an issue in Parliament over his questions being omitted from the Order Paper due to limitations allowing only 10 questions. The MP said that it has happened before as well, alleging that the questions being removed were those from the Opposition.

SLPP MP Mohomad Muzammil said in response that of the 10 questions, six were from the Opposition. MP Chamara Sampath Dasanayake said that only a selected few were being allowed to raise questions. The Speaker said that this matter would be taken up at the next Party Leaders' Meeting.

Chief Government Whip Minister Johnston Fernando said that the decision to reduce the number of questions was taken in January due to the COVID-19 pandemic. He added that it was to discuss high-priority matters first, while leaving the rest for another day. Minister Johnston Fernando accused the Opposition of suggesting discrimination on the Government's part.

Opposition MP Lakshman Kiriella requested that the time allocated for questions be extended by an hour.

He requested that Parliament be convened half an hour earlier. Minister Fernando said that the restrictions not only limited questions from the Opposition, but also from the Government.

Sajith questions migrant worker repatriation delays

Opposition Leader Sajith Premadasa raised a question in Parliament yesterday regarding delays in the repatriation of migrant workers stranded overseas. He noted that almost 40,000 Sri Lankan migrant workers are stranded overseas. Premadasa said that migrant workers have to spend all their savings to return to the country. He added that it is a humanitarian issue.

Minister Johnston Fernando, raising a Point of Order, said that not many government MPs were present in Parliament at the time to respond to that question. However, the Speaker noted that the Opposition Leader raised the issue as an urgent matter.

Minister Fernando said that the Opposition Leader could raise the issue under Standing Orders 27/2 at another time.

'Service Minute for Grama Niladharis drafted'

added that Cabinet Memoranda on the matter were submitted on September 25, 2019, and February 6, 2020 for the recommendations. Accordingly, Grama Niladhari allowances are to be reviewed, Rajapaksa added. Responding to a question raised by Samagi Jana Balawegaya (SJB) MP Buddhika Pathirana, Minister Rajapaksa said that the Government has provided Grama Niladhari officials with additional facilities to realise their goals.

Sri Lanka should be turned into centre of Skilled Labour Supply Market: Gamalath

Sri Lanka should be made a centre for the Skilled Labour Supply Market in modern industrial and technical sectors, Canals and Common Infrastructure Development in Settlements in Mahaweli Zones State Minister Siripala Gamalath said.

The state minister pointed out that creating a society full of industrial labour would help earn valuable foreign exchange.

He was addressing a ceremony to hand over National Vocational Training Certificates to a group of youth from the Mahaweli Zones who completed heavy vehicle and mechanical training courses held at the Mahaweli Center in Colombo on Tuesday.

The ceremony was held under the patronage of Irrigation Minister Chama Rajapaksa. Fifty youth from 10 Mahaweli Zones who were trained in the heavy vehicle mechanical sector received certificates. The Sri Lanka Mahaweli Authority held the training courses, in collaboration with the 'Maga Neguma' Institute.

Addressing the gathering, State Minister Gamalath said it is high time that youth entered alternative jobs in the face of unemployment issues in the country. He said, "When we visit villages, the major demand put forward before politicians by people is the need for employment. However, many job-seekers do not have the necessary qualifications. Therefore, the programme to encourage those who have dropped out of school due to economic hardship towards vocational training should be strengthened."

"President Gotabaya Rajapaksa has pointed out the need to raise happy families. The 'Vision of Prosperity and Splendour' national programme highlights that it would increase opportunities for industrial and technical vocational training. We should march towards such goals."

There are talented youth in the Mahaweli Zones. It would be a tragedy to allow their manpower to go to waste. As a government, it is our responsibility to make the necessary facilities for them to build their own economy, he said.

'Cyber Care' App launched to mark World Safer Internet Day

ASHRAFF A. SAMAD

The COVID-19 outbreak with the resultant lockdown and stay-at-home measures have led to a surge in online activity by young people. This increased online presence has heightened their susceptibility to online sexual abuse, cyber bullying, exploitation, and other risks.

To address this growing concern and to help combat online hate faced by many youth in Sri Lanka, the 'Cyber Care' mobile application was launched recently on World Safer Internet Day, commemorated each year on February 9, 2021.

The app, which was created by Team CyberWarders, a team who has successfully completed the incubation phase of the HackaDev: National Youth Social Innovation Challenge, aims to help alleviate and prevent cyber violence affecting youth of all genders in Sri Lanka.

Given the rise in cyber violence affecting youth in the country, in 2019 the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) in Sri Lanka, through its premier Youth Social Innovation Platform 'HackaDev', launched a thematic challenge for young people to develop a solution to address the escalating threat of cyber violence. Cyber violence ranges from cyber bullying, non-consensual sharing of intimate images (revenge porn), sextortion, cyberstalking, up skirting, sexual harassment, sexual abuse, threat, and blackmail among others.

Speaking at the virtual launch held recently, Deputy Resident Representative of UNDP Sri Lanka Faiza Effendi noted, "looking at how societies are transforming digitally, cyber violence needs to be understood, and acted upon as a matter of critical importance. I am heartened to see a group of young people that have come forward in seeking a solution to this challenge. Working together as UNDP, we will continue to create opportunities, take a chance on young people, and provide meaningful platforms of engagement, where innovative and entrepreneurial talents of youth can be harnessed to the fullest."

Gender Specialist of UNDP Sri Lanka Bimali Ameresekere said, "the creation of this mobile app is timely, given the research studies put forward by UNICEF in 2018 and the study undertaken by CENWOR commissioned by the National Committee on Women (NCW), which highlighted the need for greater awareness on prevention and response to cyber violence. The study identified adolescent unmarried girls and young women as the main victims of online violence in Sri Lanka, while the most common medium used to perpetrate violence was largely through social media, peer to peer networks, mobile phones and other internet-based communication platforms."

Legal Officer at Women In Need (WIN) Niroshika Hettiarachchi highlighted, "we have seen a distinct rise in the number of cases. Between July and December 2019, WIN recorded 170 complaints of cyber violence. During the first month of the COVID-19 lockdown, from March to April 2020, the WIN Helpline received 584 calls. Of these, 341 were from victims of domestic violence and 39 were as a result of cyber violence. As an organization, we have been able to support 615 persons through online interventions on Sexual and Gender Based Violence (SGBV) and other issues."

Addressing the need for more youth to take the lead in combating this online menace, Team CyberWarders stated, "Today, the Internet has become a crucial part of our lives. We noticed that many people, young and old, were unaware and made critical mistakes when sharing personal information on the internet. Bullying behind a computer is easy, but the consequences are cruel. As a team of young people, we decided it was time to take steps to put a stop to this 'online bullying culture' and to stand up for what is right. The Cyber Care App is a Sri Lankan solution, that provides awareness on cyber-violence to youth and children of this nation."

Indonesia ready to play peace-broker role in Myanmar

MYANMAR: Myanmar's military leaders came under renewed pressure Tuesday as the world's wealthiest nations condemned the junta for responding to anti-coup demonstrators "with violence", while Indonesia angled for a peace-broker role. Authorities have gradually ratcheted up their use of force against a massive and largely peaceful civil disobedience campaign demanding the return of ousted leader Aung San Suu Kyi. Late on Tuesday, Myanmar's ministry of Transportation confirmed Indonesian Foreign Minister Retno Marsudi will arrive in the capital Naypyidaw on Thursday for a day of talks. She will be the first foreign envoy to touch down in the country since the February 1 coup. Indonesia has been proactive in lobbying neighbouring countries to help mediate the crisis through the Association of Southeast Asian Nations. United Nations special envoy to Myanmar Christine Schraner Burgener is also hoping to visit the country soon. "They say I am always welcome 'but for the moment you cannot come' so it's a yes but not yet," she told France 24 ahead of a special UN General Assembly meeting on Myanmar scheduled Friday. - AFP

NASA releases extraordinary video of Mars landing

US: After a long week-end without any updates or imagery from the Perseverance Mars rover, NASA released a spectacular bounty of video Monday, including never-before-seen footage capturing the hair-raising descent to the surface of the red planet.

While previous landers captured still images during descent that later were stitched together to form a sort of stop-action movie, Perseverance was equipped with "ruggedized" off-the-shelf video cameras to shoot high-resolution imagery of the rover's plunge to landing on the floor of Jezero Crater.

Over the weekend, engineers at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, California, where Perseverance was built, downlinked 30 gigabytes of data from the rover, including 23,000 images and video frames. That allowed them to give the public a bird's eye view of a landing on Mars.

One camera mounted on the back of Perseverance's flying saucer-like aeroshell captured crystal-clear views of the spacecraft's 70.5-foot-wide parachute unfurling in the supersonic slipstream, inflating in a half second to act as a 60,000-pound brake, slowing the craft from just under 1,000 mph to a more sedate 200 mph. Along with the unprecedented video, NASA also released more photos from the surface showing the rover's landing site in Jezero Crater, which once held a 28-mile-wide lake fed by a river that deposited sediments in a broad delta. Cliffs marking the edge of that delta some 1.2 miles away to the northwest can be clearly seen by Perseverance's cameras.

Along with 25 cameras, the rover also carries two microphones. One failed to work during descent, but the other captured the sounds of the Martian wind blowing past. NASA released a snippet of audio picked up by the rover's microphone — the first sound ever recorded on another planet. - YAHOO NEWS

First COVID-19 vaccine dose cuts transmission and hospitalisation - Studies

SCOTLAND: Data from two separate studies published in the UK on Monday, one in England and another in Scotland, have shown vaccines against COVID-19 are effective in cutting disease transmission and hospitalisations from the first dose. Analysis from Public Health England has shown the vaccine manufactured by Pfizer-BioNTech reduces the risk of catching infection by more than 70 percent after a first dose.

That risk is reduced by 85 percent after a second dose. The public health body's study of real-world data also showed vaccinated people who go on to become infected are far less likely to die or be hospitalised. Hospitalisation and death from COVID-19 is reduced by over 75 percent in those who have received a dose of the Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine, according to the analysis. "This crucial report shows vaccines are working - it is extremely encouraging to see evidence that the Pfizer vaccine offers a high degree of protection against coronavirus," Health Secretary Matt Hancock said.

Britain is one of the countries hardest-hit by the COVID-19 pandemic, with 120,757 deaths. It was the first nation to begin mass vaccinations in December and more than 17 million people have now received at least a first vaccine dose - one-third of the UK's adult population. "We will see much more data over the coming weeks and months but we should be very encouraged by these initial findings," Dr Mary Ramsay, Head of Immunisation at Public Health England, said. At the same time a study in Scotland has shown the Pfizer-BioNTech and Oxford-AstraZeneca vaccinations have led to a reduction in COVID-19 admissions to hospitals after a first dose.

The study, led by the University of Edinburgh, found that by the fourth week after receiving the initial dose the Pfizer vaccine reduced the risk of hospitalisation from COVID by up to 85 percent. - AFP

Suu Kyi's lawyer staying in different lodgings to evade arrest

THAILAND: Staying in different lodgings each night to evade arrest, the lawyer representing Aung San Suu Kyi says her trial will help determine whether Myanmar's people again become "slaves" of the military. Soldiers raided the civilian leader's residence and detained her in pre-dawn raids three weeks ago, effectively ending Myanmar's 10-year experiment with democracy. The new military regime has pledged to hold elections in a year, but for now the junta wields power over all the country's political institutions - including its courts.

Khin Maung Zaw has been tasked with defending her from a pair of obscure charges for possessing unlicensed walkie-talkies and violating coronavirus restrictions. "Myanmar is now at a crucial point of history," the 73-year-old told AFP by phone from Naypyidaw, the country's capital, while reflecting on weeks of nationwide protests demanding his client's release.

"If we lose, we will become slaves of the military junta for 40 or 50 years. We have to win this battle." Despite several requests, he has still not been given permission to see his client ahead of her March 1 hearing.

Khin Maung Zaw says he's used to threats from a powerful military.

"I have no reason to be afraid for myself because I have weathered all these executions and repression," he said.

Since the coup, authorities have steadily ratcheted up their use of force to contain the massive civil disobedience campaign sweeping the country.

Khin Maung Zaw last high-profile case was defending Reuters journalists Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo.

But Khin Maung Zaw says he does not consider the "personal aspects" of the case, which were unimportant compared to the country's efforts to avoid a return to military rule.

"I'm not representing Aung San Suu Kyi as a person - I am representing a publicly elected person under attack by the military forces," he says. "That is all in defence of democracy." - AFP

Intel failures compounded US Capitol riot - Senators

US: The deadly US Capitol riot on January 6 exposed devastating security and intelligence weaknesses, with military authorities reacting too slowly to calls for National Guard backup against an overwhelming mob, security officials told Congress Tuesday.

Among the most serious lapses revealed: the Federal Bureau of Investigation sent US Capitol Police a report on the eve of the unrest warning that extremists groups were coming to Washington "ready for war," but the document did not reach USCP leadership. And lawmakers also heard that military officials had been "reluctant" to send troops to defend Congress, even when it was clear conditions at the Capitol had deteriorated.

In the first Congressional hearing on the attack, police chiefs and the House and Senate sergeants at arms acknowledged they were blindsided by lack of intelligence and response coordination to the worst domestic insurrection since the Civil War. And Senate Rules Committee Chairwoman Amy Klobuchar, noting the "intelligence breakdown" regarding the FBI report, announced that a new hearing would be convened next week with testimony from officials at the FBI, the Department of Homeland Security and the Pentagon. - AFP

Waiting for justice

Education Minister Prof. G. L. Peiris has offered, on behalf of the Government, to discuss the Presidential Commission of Inquiry (PCol) report on the Easter Sunday massacre with His Eminence Malcolm Cardinal Ranjith and the course of action to be taken based on the Report, according to media reports. The reports quoting Prof. Peiris says it was his (minister's) opinion that the Cardinal's views on the matter as well as his proposals would be of pivotal importance. Prof. Peiris also recalled the Cardinal's leading role in the immediate aftermath of the Easter Sunday carnage in reining in his followers and preventing what would have been a bloodbath.

Of course, attacks on places of worship had taken place prior to this. Those that readily come to mind are the attacks on the Kattankudy and Palliyagodella mosques carried out by the LTTE and also the attack on the Sri Maha Bodhi in Anuradhapura. The LTTE also massacred a bus load of Samaneras (novice monks) in Arantalawa. There was a bomb attack on the Sri Dalada Maligawa. These attacks were in the context of the separatist war raging at the time and Prabhakaran and his bloodthirsty terrorists had no respect for religion or the lives of civilians.

However the Easter Sunday carnage was different. This attack was carried out during peacetime and has raised questions in the minds of many and forced the Cardinal into suspecting an international link in the whole affair. It is no secret that His Eminence had been sorely disillusioned at the pace at which things were proceeding even as the second anniversary of the tragedy is fast approaching and also the direction in which the investigations were taking.

Cardinal Ranjith had made it clear from the very outset that he and his flock would settle for nothing less than getting to the bottom of the whole episode – not just the matters surrounding the suicide bombers, but also their handlers and the identity of international agents, if any, in the entire operation. The Cardinal on several occasions has made his displeasure known in public about alleged attempts at obfuscation of the whole investigation process and has even taken certain matters to Courts. The other day he queried as to what happened to the 4,000-odd swords said to have been in circulation in the immediate aftermath of the Easter Sunday attacks, only a fraction of which had been recovered. Last week, His Eminence was seen participating in a silent demonstration at the Katuwapitiya Church which suffered the worst onslaught of the multiple bombings, where the protestors including family members of the victims, demanded justice in no uncertain terms.

It was Cardinal Ranjith who staved off retaliation by members of the victim's families and others in the community and His Eminence would naturally be obliged to keep his part of the bargain in ensuring that justice is served to these folk. However from what evident Cardinal Ranjith's patience is wearing thin with the Commission report now being submitted for further scrutiny by individuals who he feels were not competent to evaluate a report formulated by persons of eminence.

The frustration of the country's Head of the Roman Catholic Church could be gauged from the fact that His Eminence has even threatened to take his case into the international realm and also refused to meet any politician until he lays his hands on the Commission Report. He has since cancelled a scheduled meeting with all Catholic MPs.

Meanwhile, the Commission Report was scheduled to be tabled in Parliament which would be followed by a debate. President Gotabaya Rajapaksa has assured that justice would be meted out according to the laid down judicial procedure after an in-depth study of the Report to ensure that such a tragedy never takes place again in this country.

The President in his Independence Day speech too pledged to bring to book all those responsible for the Easter Sunday carnage. This hopefully would give an assurance to all those waiting in anticipation of finding out the real perpetrators of this heinous crime and praying for justice to be delivered.

As he did in the immediate aftermath of the tragedy, Cardinal Ranjith appears to be receiving the full backing of the Maha Sangha in his quest for justice to his flock. Many leading figures among the Buddhist clergy came on air to support His Eminence's insistence for the full Report of the PCol be presented to him. It recalled the rallying support he received when he was at his lowest point in the wake of the tragedy that befell his flock, by members of the Sangha who not only lent him strength and their moral support but also gathered as a single body to restore and rebuild the devastated Churches with their own resources and labour. Hence ensuring that justice is finally meted out would also vindicate the efforts of the Sangha. All Sri Lankans will stand to benefit if this whole sordid saga is laid bare and the perpetrators and masterminds punished.

A historic moment in Sri Lanka-Pakistan ties

Hindsight

LAKDEV LIYANAGAMA

Sri Lanka this week welcomed the first Head of Government since the Coronavirus pandemic enveloped the country last year, according to a warm reception to visiting Pakistani Prime Minister Imran Khan, who was in the country for a two-day visit that has attracted a great deal of interest.

Historically, Sri Lanka has had excellent relations with Pakistan for many decades. Former Pakistani Prime Minister Mohammed Ayub Khan visited Sri Lanka in 1963, followed by Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto in 1975. Then, President Zia Ul-Haq visited Sri Lanka in 1986 on a state visit.

Pakistani leaders have also visited Colombo for summits of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) and Pakistan was one of the few countries providing regular assistance to Sri Lanka during its nearly three-decade long war against the Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam (LTTE).

Prime Minister Khan himself is no stranger to Sri Lanka but that is due to his popularity as a cricketer. Khan's exploits on the cricket field are well documented, culminating in him leading Pakistan to the country's first and only Cricket World Cup win in 1992, a contest eagerly followed by Sri Lankans.

Prime Minister Khan has also been a keen supporter of Sri Lankan cricket. He first visited the country in 1976 with the Pakistani cricket team. Sri Lanka's own World Cup victory under Arjuna Ranatunga in 1996 was in Lahore, Khan's hometown and he was at hand to offer advice to the Sri Lankan players.

In this context, unlike his predecessors who visited Sri Lanka before him, Prime Minister Khan hardly needs an introduction to Sri Lanka. However, officials working in Colombo and Islamabad had to navigate through a few cross-currents to ensure that the visiting leader was welcomed warmly.

One issue that could have had the potential to pose a challenge was the directive to cremate all those who succumbed to the Coronavirus, based on expert health advice at the time. These regulations have been opposed by sections of the Muslim community and some Muslim political parties as well.

There were concerns at the highest levels in Colombo that interested parties could canvass this issue vehemently, making it impossible for the Pakistani Prime Minister to remain silent on the matter. This would have been embarrassing for both Governments as well as Prime Minister Imran Khan.

It was in such a context that Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa assured Parliament that provision would be made for Muslims who fall victim to the Coronavirus to be allowed a burial. This was in response to a question raised by Samagi Jana Balawegaya (SJB) Parliamentarian S. M. Marikkar.

COVID-19 victims

Shortly afterwards, Prime Minister Khan provided a response through social media. "We welcome Sri Lankan PM Mahinda Rajapaksa's assurance given in Sri Lankan Parliament today allowing Muslims to bury those who died from COVID-19," the Pakistani Premier said in a tweet.

There has been some consternation since then with claims that the decision to allow burials has not been implemented as yet. While this is true, it is a matter of formulating the relevant protocols and procedures and then providing the necessary guidelines to implement them, officials say.

An expert committee headed by Microbiologist and former Dean of the Colombo Medical Faculty, Professor Jennifer Perera has concluded that both cremation and burial could be permitted under certain conditions. This is also in accordance with World Health Organisation (WHO) guidelines.

Government officials say that the issue is likely to be resolved in the coming weeks, when the necessary legal and administrative infrastructure – such as gazette notifications – are put in place. They note that the Pakistani Premier has been gracious to accept Prime Minister Rajapaksa's assurances.

Another potential cause for concern was an invitation for the visiting Prime Minister to address Sri Lanka's Parliament. Previously, Pakistani Prime Ministers Mohammed Ayub Khan and Zulfikar Ali Bhutto have addressed Parliament. President Zia Ul-Haq visited Parliament but did not address it.

However, after some deliberation and dialogue between the office of the Pakistani Prime Minister and Sri Lankan authorities, Prime Minister Khan's proposed address addressed to the Sri Lankan Parliament was taken off the visiting leader's itinerary. This is what sparked the controversy.

The official reason, provided by the office of the Speaker Mahinda Yapa Abeywardena, was that it would be difficult to guarantee the safety of the visiting Prime Minister from the perspective of a Coronavirus risk. This would be extremely difficult considering the number of persons involved.

It was noted by Sri Lankan officials that Health Minister Pavithra Wanniarachchi and Minister of Water Supply Vasudeva Nanayakkara as well as several other staff in Parliament have been infected with the Coronavirus and Minister Wanniarachchi had to receive ICU care.

Therefore, inviting the 68-year-old Prime Minister Khan to the Sri Lankan Parliament was not the prudent course of action, Sri Lankan officials felt and this was conveyed to the office of the Pakistani Prime Minister. While Islamabad accepted this, it was the Indian media that attempted to capitalize on it.

They attempted to portray this as a move by Colombo to somehow indicate that Prime Minister Khan was not being given similar status to Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi who was invited to address the Sri Lankan Parliament when he visited the country six years ago.

Most of these media outlets speculated that the visiting Premier would likely take the opportunity of an address to the Sri Lankan Parliament to raise the Kashmir issue Pakistan has with India, thereby attracting world attention to it. Colombo was anxious about this, Indian media said.

However, diplomats have noted that Prime Minister Khan is well versed in diplomacy and would have used an opportunity to address the Sri Lankan Parliament, had it eventuated, in the most appropriate manner and in a way that would not have caused embarrassment to the island nation hosting his visit.

Media reports, quoting unnamed sources, also claimed that Colombo was being careful not to "anger" India further. This was a reference to the recent decision by the Sri Lankan Government not to proceed with the agreement entered into by the previous Government to lease a part of the Colombo port (the Eastern Container Terminal).

For instance, the Hindustan Times said "there were elements within the Sri Lankan Government, who did not want the speech to take place as they feared that doing so could further harm ties with India, which have already been strained after the cancellation of a deal over the East Container Terminal".

Diplomats however dismiss this type of speculation. They note that India understands and appreciates the reasons that led to the cancellation of the Colombo Port deal. Any move to invite the Pakistani Prime Minister to address Parliament would have little or no bearing on their perception, they say.

These diplomats have noted that India has in fact gone a step further to facilitate Prime Minister Khan's visit to Sri Lanka. This was done by permitting the visiting leader's Pakistan Air Force aircraft to use Indian airspace when travelling to Colombo, a practice that is not routinely adopted by Indian authorities. He would otherwise have had to take a more circuitous over-ocean route.

Despite these controversies Prime Minister Khan had a busy schedule in Sri Lanka in the two days that he spent in the island. He met both President Gotabaya Rajapaksa and Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa. He also participated in a trade and investment conference in Colombo.

The visit by Prime Minister Khan comes at a time when Sri Lanka is the focus of attention at the United Nations Human Rights Council (UNHRC) where several "Core Group" countries are sponsoring a Resolution which is critical of Sri Lanka's handling of the final Eelam War 11 years ago.

Human rights

The Resolution, sponsored by Britain, Canada, Germany, Montenegro, Malawi, and North Macedonia attempts to compel Sri Lanka to embrace international judicial mechanisms to promote what it claims "accountability" for alleged human rights abuses that reportedly occurred in 2009.

There has been an attempt to draft a 'consensual' resolution which would also have Sri Lanka's support and endorsement. However, the proposed text of the resolution is such that Sri Lanka was not in a position to endorse it, Foreign Ministry officials in Colombo have said in recent weeks.

There is therefore the possibility that such a Resolution, proposed by a group of countries and opposed strongly by Sri Lanka, could be put to a vote at the upcoming sessions of the UNHRC. This is where Sri Lanka would require all the support it can get from countries it counts as 'friendly nations'.

Prime Minister Khan is reputed as a charismatic and much respected leader especially in Islamic countries. It is recognised that he wields considerable influence over these nations and their support could be quite crucial in the event the proposed resolution at the UNHRC is put to a vote.

The visit by Pakistani Prime Minister Imran Khan is of great significance not only because Pakistan has always been a friendly nation and supported Sri Lanka's cause generously but also due to the current attempts by sections of the international community to vilify Sri Lanka for crushing the LTTE.

national security to the point of reviving terrorist acts on Easter Sunday 2019 causing the deaths of hundreds. The rejection of this resolution by the people of Sri Lanka was clearly manifested in the mandate received by President Gotabaya Rajapaksa in November 2019.

UN Human Rights Commissioner Michelle Bachelet

Foreign Affairs Minister Dinesh Gunawardena making a video address to the 46th session of the United Nations Human Rights Council on Tuesday.

It is regrettable that despite the spirit of cooperation with the HRC and its mechanisms, elements working against Sri Lanka intend to table another country-specific resolution based on this OHCHR Report.

The full text of the speech: I address you today, the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) has published a report on Sri Lanka accompanied by an unprecedented propaganda campaign on that report.

Sri Lankan heroic Armed Forces militarily neutralized the LTTE in 2009 after three decades of conflict. The Sri Lanka Government acted in self-defence to safeguard the unitary state, sovereignty and territorial integrity from the world's most ruthless separatist terrorist organisation.

The LTTE is the only terrorist organisation in the world which has killed two world leaders: a serving President of Sri Lanka and a former Prime Minister of India extending its terror beyond the borders of Sri Lanka.

Nonetheless hegemonic forces colluded against Sri Lanka in bringing an unsubstantiated resolution against Sri Lanka which was defeated by the support of friendly nations who remain by Sri Lanka's side even today.

The Government which assumed office in Sri Lanka in 2015, in a manner unprecedented in human rights fora, joined as co-sponsors of Resolution 30/1 which was against our own country.

We have provided detailed updates to the OHCHR in December 2020 as well as in January 2021 on the progress of implementation of commitments that Sri Lanka had undertaken such as continuity of the existing mechanisms, appointment of a special commission of inquiry headed by a Supreme Court Judge, achieving the SDGs, progress made in returning lands, demining and creating new avenues of livelihoods.

These steps have been taken even as Sri Lanka was battling the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic for the past one year. In spite of these challenges we held a free and fair General Election in August 2020 and elected a new Government with a two-thirds majority in one of Asia's oldest Parliamentary democracies.

It is regrettable that despite the spirit of cooperation with the HRC and its mechanisms, elements working against Sri Lanka intend to table another country-specific resolution based on this OHCHR Report. This report rejected by Sri Lanka has unjustifiably broadened its scope and mandate further, incorporating many issues of governance and matters that are essentially domestic in any self-respecting, sovereign country.

I leave it to the members and observers of this Council to make their own judgement on whether Sri Lanka represents a situation that warrants the urgent attention of this Council, or if this campaign is essentially a political move that contravenes the very values and principles on which this Council has been established.

Particularly at a time when legislation has been enacted by some countries to protect their soldiers from prosecution in military operations carried out overseas, this only points to the duplicity and the hypocritical nature of their motives. This cannot but result in a significant loss of morale among countries engaged in the struggle against terrorism.

The Council must hold the scales even. Not going by hearsay, unilateral action or one angled doubtful sources but adhere to its guiding principles. Insistence on such ever-expanding externally driven prescriptions notwithstanding, our continuous cooperation and engagement with this Council can pose numerous challenges.

As the Council is aware this is a critical time to the entire world in the last hundred years where we need to be united in our efforts to overcome the COVID-19 pandemic and to revive battered economies. I appeal to the members of this Council to take note of our continued engagement and cooperation on its merit and support us by rejecting any resolution against Sri Lanka. We believe that the extent to which the resources and time of this Council has been utilized on Sri Lanka is unwarranted and carries a discouraging message to the Sovereign States of the Global South.

The need of the hour, in the face of an unprecedented pandemic, is solidarity rather than rancour and acrimony arising from divisions within this Council. In view of the circumstances set out above, we urge that this resolution be rejected by the Council and be brought to closure.

May I conclude quoting the words of the Buddha, 'Siyalu sathwayo niduk wethwa, nirogeewethwa, suwapath wethwa'. May all beings be safe, May all beings be free from suffering. May all beings be well and happy.'

International Mother Language Day

Protecting the glorious history of Sinhala and Sinhalese

NADIRA GUNATILLEKE

Last week an eye opening article was published by a female writer in a website on the reality of Sinhalese. This article should open the eyes of all Sinhalese. Last Sunday the world celebrated International Mother Language Day.

There is a part in this article which was hidden until last week. During the past centuries this fact was hidden under the carpet. This part matters more than anything else for Sinhalese in order to open their tightly shut eyes.

How many Sinhalese know this bitter truth? Did we hear this bitter truth even once in the past? Who spoke about this truth in the past at least during election periods? At least now Sri Lankan Sinhalese should open our eyes and demand protection in order to prevent becoming a minority and restricted to a small piece of land similar to Gaza Strip.

mentioned in the great epics of Mahabaratha, Mahavamsa, Manimekalai, Ramayana and Sangam. It is believed that four main clans lived in Sri Lanka before Vijaya invaded the island. The four clans are Yaksha (Yakku), Naga, Deva, and Raksha (Rakus).

It is believed that these names were attributed metaphorically to indicate their profession: Yaksha people were believed to inhabit in the mountains where they had used monsoon wind to mould iron, Raksha people were supposed to be farmers who used the steel products of the Yaksha people in their farming endeavours (the name Raksha is derived from the two syllables ra + kus, in Sinhalese kus means 'stomach'; rakus literally means the people who fulfill hunger or the people who provide rice, the staple food of the Sinhalese people).

Even today, the Sri Lankan culture has some elements that originated from the culture of the Yakkas and Nagas. The majority of the native population comprise of farmers and cattle herders. They had knowledge about healing arts (current traditional Sinhala Ayurvedic system and not Indian Ayurveda) and built irrigation systems and temples. There were hospitals and even quarantine centres in Sri Lanka by that time.

The era before the arrival of Vijaya was not well documented so much is not known about the previous native rulers of Sri Lanka. Ravana the King is considered the most famous and most powerful native King who ever reigned in Sri Lanka. The native rulers of Sri Lanka were later supplanted by the Indian rulers who invaded Sri Lanka came from Kalinga and South India. But very clearly it was King Ravana who ruled Sri Lanka before the arrival of Indians.

The Vedda community are the indigenous people still living in Sri Lanka. The Vedda minority in Sri Lanka faces the threat of becoming completely assimilated. Most speak Sinhala instead of their indigenous languages which are nearing extinction. It has been revealed that the Vedda were probably the earliest inhabitants of Sri Lanka and have lived on the island before the arrival of other ethnic groups from India. The Ratnapura District, which is part of the Sabaragamuwa Province, is known to have been inhabited by the Veddas in the distant past.

HISTORICAL EVIDENCE

Most of the races in the world have their own country with historical evidence to prove that they lived in that specific country before the arrival of others. This historical evidence matters a lot when it comes to claiming the right for a country. The historical evidence contains physical places, objects etc. But some ethnic groups which do not have a country or scientific evidence to present to claim land use other tactics to achieve their targets. They even destroy the historical evidence that stands against their fabricated claims.

The Sinhalese should do a few certain things in order to ensure the continuation of Sinhala race and the Sinhala language. First of all we need to treat Sinhala with respect. To do that we need to respect the people who speak in Sinhala. But unfortunately today we can get things done from the State sector and the private sector easily and smoothly only if we speak in English and most of the time most of the State and private institutions simply ignore the people who speak in Sinhala.

The other most important factor is that we have to educate our children from kindergarten about the true history of the Sinhalese and make sure that all Sinhala children know the real history and glorious past of the Sinhalese who existed long before the arrival of Vijaya. Our children should learn that they have a glorious history and heritage to protect.

It is very pathetic to see while all the other ethnicities are busy protecting and promoting their own races, languages, heritage etc while Sinhalese are busy degrading their own race, language and heritage. They pretend that they are westerners or Indians. They are digging their own grave while all the other ethnicities are busy protecting themselves and further expanding their communities. Some brainless sections try to apply pressure on the Sinhalese stating that Sinhalese should have more children while doing everything to degrade the Sinhalese.

But they do nothing to protect and promote the Sinhala race and Sinhala language at all other than telling fellow Sinhalese to have more children. Some 'Kalu Suddas' have undertaken the job of eradicating their own race by eradicating the subject of 'history' and related topics from school syllabi.

The Government should make sure that the Sinhala language has the same treatment, recognition and respect that Chinese, Russian, Japanese, Korean etc. languages have in specific countries. Otherwise no one will be interested in learning Sinhala, using it and especially respecting the language and language users.

If Sinhalese are not interested in protecting the continuation of their race, language and heritage, no one else will be interested in doing so. We cannot expect any other ethnicity or country to come forward and stand by Sinhalese. Which ambassador or High Commissioner came forward and spoke the rights of Sinhalese so far? Which country in the world has stood by Sinhalese so far? It is because of the number is only 15 million and the geographical area (Sri Lanka) is restricted? This is the bitter truth hidden until last week from the day on which the first page of the Mahavamsa was written.

ORIGIN OF SINHALESE

First of all we, the Sinhalese need to identify their origin accurately without trying their best to connect it to another country and its people. We have to stop believing some inaccurate belief on the origin of Sinhalese that support another country. Otherwise the Sinhalese will be extinct within a very short time forever from this tiny island.

Several different indigenous clans lived in the island of Sri Lanka during the pre-Vijaya era (before 505 BCE). These clans of Sri Lanka and the Kingdom of Lanka were

43rd Observer-Mobitel School Cricketer of the Year

Royal-Thomian Big Match set for May 6-8 in Hambantota

This year's Royal-Thomian will be played in Hambantota

DINESH WEERAWANSA

This year's Royal-Thomian Battle of the Blues cricket encounter will be played on May 6, 7 and 8 in Hambantota.

But for the first time in its 142-year-old history, this year's Big Match will be a closed door affair with the die-hard spectators who will only be able to catch the action via live television coverage.

This will be the first time that it is being played outside Colombo as the Mahinda Rajapaksa International Cricket Stadium in Sooriyawewa becomes the ninth venue to host the prestigious encounter.

The Royal-Thomian cricket encounter has always been the prime cricket match not only among schools in Sri Lanka but the world over as the only uninterrupted Inter-School cricket match which goes back to 1879.

There had been one other cricket match in the world which is a couple of years old but that too was stopped during the World Wars. Even the first ever Test match in the world was played just two years before the inaugural match between Royal and S. Thomas' in 1877 - between England and Australia at the Melbourne Cricket Ground (MCG).

Strong bond

But the Battle of the Blues series between Royal and S. Thomas' will go down in history that a strong bond, even the two World Wars, could not stop.

Similarly, even the current COVID-19 pandemic which stopped almost every form of human activity has not been able to disrupt the 142-year-old rich Royal-Thomian traditions.

It was after the final day of last year's Royal-Thomian Big Match that the first wave of COVID-19 badly hit Sri Lanka. Amidst the midway through the second wave, Royal-Thomian is now looking forward to maintaining its unbroken sequence even during the COVID-19 threat.

The Battle of the Blues now comes to Hambantota for the first time in its 142 years as the Mahinda Rajapaksa Cricket Stadium was earlier in the plan to host the match from April 8 to 10 behind closed doors.

But the joint organisers now plan to put it off by a month and to play the three-day match from May 6.

S. Thomas' proposed to play it in June or July but agreed to play in May before the GCE Advanced Level examination.

Television coverage

There will be live local television coverage of the three-day affair, similar to the recently conducted Lanka Premier League T20.

Apart from the usual live webcast, negotiations are underway to give live TV global coverage for the benefit of the former Royalists and Thomians living in the Americas, European and Australasia regions.

When the COVID-19 pandemic first hit Sri Lanka badly in mid-March, last year's Battle of the Blues was just concluded. Most of the First XI matches of the 2019/20 season were completed by then.

Meanwhile, the 2020-2021 new Inter-School Under-19 season's first match that took place between St. Anthony's College, Katugastota and Mahanama College ended in a high-scoring draw at Katugastota last weekend.

It was the first Inter-School match to be played after 11 months due to the COVID-19 situation. It gave confidence to school cricket that it could still bounce back under difficult conditions.

Pavan Ratnayake (179) of Mahanama became the first centurion for the season while his teammate Vinuka Rubasinghe (109) soon joined the club as Mahanama made a healthy 385 for six declared. In reply, the Antonians made 251 for four with M. Kamel (85) narrowly missing his first century for the season.

It was nice to see school cricket finally becoming a reality after the COVID-19 ruined it for almost a year.

Friendly matches

The traditional two-day matches will not be counted as tournament matches this year. However, schools are permitted to play their friendly matches, provided they get the green light from the regional health authorities.

There will only be one-day limited over tournaments conducted by the schools cricket governing body.

The Secretary of the Sri Lanka Schools Cricket Association (SLCSA) J. A. K. S. Indrajith said they earlier got the approval from the Education Ministry to begin the new 2020-2021 Under-19 cricket season from March 15.

It will also be the date for the Western Province schools reopening after the postponed GCE Ordinary Level examination.

The SLCSA Secretary said now that they have got the final green light from the local health authorities a team will play five qualifying round matches each and that those matches will be played behind closed doors.

Asked whether the final round matches too would not entertain spectators, Indrajith said it will be too early to make a decision. He said it is too early to talk about that. If they get approval from the health authorities, then they could open the venue to the cricket loving public.

But as it is, they will play the matches behind closed doors to ensure the health of all parties.

Prior to the preliminary round matches, the host team will inform public health inspectors of the area.

All preliminary round league matches will be played at venues convenient to the two teams while the final round matches from the quarter-final stage will be played at neutral venues.

The SLCSA will follow all guidelines set by the Education Ministry and health authorities strictly when conducting the tournament. They will strictly follow all guidelines set by the Education and Health Ministry officials.

Royal, Trinity, D. S. Senanayake, De Mazenod, Wesley and Gurukula MV have been drawn in Division 1 Group 'A' section 'X' in the Inter-school Under-19 Limited Over Tournament to be played from next month.

The Division 1 Group 'A' section 'Y' will comprise of St. Benedict's, St. Joseph's, Mahanama, St. Thomas', Matara, St. Sebastian's and St. Anne's, Kurunegala while section 'Z' of the same group will have Nalanda, S. Thomas', St. Anthony's Katugastota, Prince of Wales, Richmond and Maliyadeva.

The Division 1 Group 'B' section 'X' will have St. Peter's, Thurstan, Mahinda, Dharmaraja, St. Aloysius' and Moratu MV while section 'Y' will comprise Ananda, Isipathana, Zahira, St. Joseph Vaz, Dharmapala MV and Maris Stella.

The section 'Z' of Division 1 Group will comprise St. Sylvester's, Dhar-masoka MV, St. Servatius', Devapathiraja, Lumbini MV and St. Anthony's, Wattala.

72 teams

A further 36 school teams will battle it out in the Division 1 Tire 'B' Tournament drawn under three groups A, B and C. There will be 72 teams competing in the Under-19 Division 1 and Division 11 Tournaments.

The SLCSA will conduct the Under-19 tournament from March 15 to May 2. There will not be any two-day tournament matches.

The one-day limited over tournaments will be conducted under two divisions with each team drawn to play five qualifying round league matches.

There will be 32 teams competing in Division One - 16 in Tier 'A' and another 16 in Tier 'B'. Similarly, there will be another 32 teams in the Division Two. There again in Division Two, 16 teams will be in Tier 'A' and another 16 in Tier 'B'.

The teams will have some 47 days to complete their matches including the finals by May 2. In between, there will be a few days break after the first round for the Sinhala and Tamil New Year.

After the qualifying league round, eight teams each will be selected to play in the final rounds from the quarter-final onwards. The maximum number of tournament matches a team has to honour is eight, including the five qualifying round games.

Meanwhile, the 43rd Observer-Mobitel School Cricketers of the Year will be launched with the most popular contests with the commencement of the 2020-21 Inter-School season.

Awards Ceremony

Six Nations: France v Scotland to go ahead despite virus outbreak

PARIS, WEDNESDAY: The Six Nations match between France and Scotland will go ahead this weekend as planned despite an outbreak of coronavirus cases in the home camp, tournament organisers said on Wednesday.

Sunday's match in Paris was placed in doubt after 15 players and staff including captain Charles Ollivon and coach Fabien Galthie contracted the virus following the February 14 win against Ireland in Dublin.

But after a fresh round of negative test results, France have now been given the go-ahead to host Gregor Townsend's squad

"Further to a meeting of the Six Nations testing oversight group this morning to review the latest test results of the French squad, the Six Nations confirm the plans to stage the France v Scotland match as originally scheduled this coming Sunday," said a Six Nations statement.

"We continue to monitor the situation very closely and are in regular contact with both unions."

All the positive cases have emerged since France returned from beating Ireland 15-13 to top the championship table and putting them in a strong position to claim their first title since 2010.

Since Galthie and forwards coach William Servat both tested positive, the French have lost 11 players to positive tests, including eight of the side that played in Dublin.

Apart from Ollivon, they will be without star scrum-half Antoine Dupont and fellow backs Arthur Vincent, Gabin Villiere and Brice Dulin as well as the entire front row of Cyril Baille, Julien Marchand and Mohamed Haouas.

Hooker Peato Mauvaka and locks Romain Taofifenua and Baptiste Pesenti have also been ruled out.

The French subsequently called up Toulouse back row forward Selesvasio Tolofua to join the squad, after showing two negative tests. His only previous Test came in the Autumn Nations Cup final against England at Twickenham in December.

The France squad resumed full training on Wednesday, joined by 10 players from the Under-20 national team "whose serological tests attest to immunity to Covid-19", said the FFR.

"These players carried out the two negative RT-PCR tests before joining the France group, and will be subjected to daily PCR tests like the rest of the group." - AFP

England collapse to 112 all out in India pink-ball Test

AHMEDABAD, WEDNESDAY: Spinner Axar Patel claimed six wickets as India skittled out England for 112 on day one of a crucial day-night third Test in Ahmedabad on Wednesday.

Patel, who recorded his second haul of five or more wickets in just his second Test, combined with Ravichandran Ashwin to end England's innings in 48.4 overs in the world's biggest cricket stadium.

India's innings witnessed a power cut with most of the new LED lights at the revamped stadium going off for two minutes after which play resumed.

India reached five for no loss at dinner with Rohit Sharma, on five, and Shubman Gill at the crease.

Gill survived a scare when he was caught at second slip off fast bowler Stuart Broad but replays suggested that Ben Stokes had grassed the ball while taking the catch.

Earlier Zak Crawley top-scored with 53 after England elected to bat first. Captain Joe Root (17) Ben Axar Patel celebrates a dismissal.

Foakes (12) and Jofra Archer (11) also got into double figures.

The England batting fell apart after fast bowler Ishant Sharma, playing his 100th Test, struck first with the wicket of Dom Sibley for nought in the third over of the day.

Crawley put on 47 runs with Root for the third wicket to put up some resistance but Ashwin claimed the England captain with his off spin.

Root reviewed the call but replays showed the ball would have hit the top of leg stump and he left the field to the loud cheers of the home crowd.

England took tea at 81 for four and wickets kept falling in the second session.

Foakes stood guard for 58 balls before Patel bowled the wicketkeeper-batsman to wrap up the innings. Ashwin took three wickets.

institutions responded really well." The Secretary noted that from releasing ethanol for sanitiser manufacture to ensuring pension distribution during the pandemic the treasury worked tirelessly to assist the economy.

Public sector accounts have mostly been compiled and will be submitted for audit shortly. Attygalle said, "This is a public sector that needs to be appreciated." Attygalle called for confidence in the economy.

APHNH commends Govt. for including private sector healthcare workers in vaccination drive

The Association of Private Hospitals and Nursing Homes (APHNH) commended the Government's recent decision to prioritize private sector healthcare workers in the country's ongoing vaccination drive. APHNH noted that more vaccine shipments are due to arrive in the coming weeks, and expressed confidence in the Government's support to complete the inoculation of all healthcare workers, health administrators and support staff in the private healthcare sector.

"As an Association, we'd like to convey our utmost gratitude to The Ministry of Health and the State Minister of Primary Health Care, Epidemics and COVID Disease Control for including private sector medical staff in the vaccine drive", remarked APHNH President Dr. Lakith Peiris.

Given that COVID-19 vaccines are in short supply globally, APHNH expressed gratitude towards government authorities for inoculating frontline healthcare workers. However, the Association noted that the private healthcare sector is yet to receive their full quota of doses to be administered on all staff.

"While we're grateful that the role of our workers has not gone unnoticed, we must not forget that this vaccination program only covers a limited number of private sector clinicians and medical staff. We hope that as more vaccine doses arrive by the end of February, the program will be expanded and immediately extended to other private sector healthcare staff - including administrative, clerical, and support staff. Every member of the health sector is a frontline hero," continued Dr. Peiris.

The Association noted that the Government's decision came at an opportune time because the sector's role in Sri Lanka's pandemic response had left their healthcare workers increasingly exposed to the virus. In addition to ensuring patients had timely access to healthcare amid a pandemic, private hospitals also set up PCR testing centres and intermediary care facilities to ease the burden of COVID-19 care from the national healthcare system.

"Under the guidance of the Ministry, the private sector has readily contributed to the country's pandemic response and will do so as required. We're certain that the Government will continue to prioritize our workers in the vaccine drive, so that we can continue doing our part in making the country safer," asserted Dr. Peiris.

Dr. Peiris also stated that the Association is ready and standing by to assist the Government in COVID-19 vaccine administration efforts. APHNH noted that if private hospitals were authorized to act as vaccination centres alongside the established Government centers, delivery of COVID-19 vaccinations could be expanded.

Recognizing the achievements made by these entrepreneurs will not only encourage others but also recognize the important role they play in international trade. By recognizing the exporters, it also allows the recognition of the product or service provided by them thereby attesting to the viability of the product.

I am delighted to convey my congratulations to all the Winners. On behalf of the Government, I wish you the best for all your future ventures as you set forth, embarking on a new year inspiring other men and women of Sri Lanka to contribute to uplifting the economy.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE NCE Mr. Ravi Jayawardena

As we know for every citizen of the world 2020 was the "Year of Challenges". Seems in 2021 too it will continue and Exporters have to bear a greater burden. Amidst the difficulties like the Phoenix rises from the ashes, the organizations that have excel needs appreciation and encouragement.

The National Chamber of Exporters of Sri Lanka (NCE) take pride in organising its 28th Annual Exporter Awards to felicitate these enterprises. In keeping up with health and safety protocols, this year's function is themed as a Hybrid event where its held live and also broadcast via internet.

Exports play a vital role in the National Economy of Sri Lanka, where they bring in much needed forging exchange and provide employment opportunities to many. Understanding the significance, H.E President Gotabaya Rajapaksa's Government has revived the Export Development Council (EDC) after laps of 28 years. The NCE been the only exclusive exporter lead Trade Chamber in the country envisage a seat in this Council to serve the sector better.

Historical records indicate product and market diversification are of greater importance to sustain business in these challenging times. It is very encouraging to note many exporters are successfully engaged in same. The NCE too has launched several programs to support these enterprises to achieve their objectives.

I take this opportunity to congratulate all the winners of the NCE 28th Annual Exporter Awards wish all enterprises the best of success in the future endeavours.

MESSAGE FROM THE GUEST OF HONOUR Mr. Rohan Fernando Chairman of Sri Lanka Telecom PLC

Times of stress and hopelessness trigger the entrepreneurial spirit to discover new vistas not thought of before. We are currently enduring such a period of distress and opportunity. This is the era of the free thinker, the entrepreneur and the one who challenges the norm to innovate and discover that all is not lost. To facilitate such persons to go after their dreams and make them real, I cannot think of a better forum than the NCE.

NCE being the exclusive chamber for the exporters, is in sync with the world and its needs to connect the unlimited resources and options for export ready products out of our island nation. In the days gone by it was tea, coconut and rubber our country proudly presented to the world as our main export business. Of course, the island was famous also for sapphires, rubies and plumage but not in the same magnitude of the plantation export crops. Today our country has a multitude of export ready products and new export opportunities are discovered on a regular basis, thanks to technology being available and affordable and the expanding digital foot print bringing the world to the doorstep.

Since its inception in 1986 the NCE has done a yeoman service to the exporters of Sri Lanka being the exclusive and dedicated voice for them. I had the rare opportunity to join the NCE during its formative years under the presidency of its founder, late Mr. Patrick Amarasinghe who was a fearless leader in taking up statutory issues and red tape non-conductive to the export trade. He was also instrumental in submitting valuable proposals to the government of the day to make exports the engine of growth for the nation. Several years later I was elected by the executive committee to lead the NCE as its president for several years. Many years later today, I am humbled by the invitation extended to me to deliver the keynote address at this year's awards ceremony and I have the pleasure in sending a short message for this event.

Please accept my best wishes for the success of this event and sincerely hope to see the smiles on the face of the award winners felicitated for their dedication, hard work and the undying spirit to succeed.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY GENERAL / CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER OF THE NCE Mr. Shiham Marikar

The world and its people are in the midst of an unprecedented challenge. The COVID-19 Pandemic has brought havoc in their lives. Most economies in the world are in recession. Hardly any country has been spared the adverse effects of the pandemic. Sri Lanka is no exception. Both the economy and social lives of the people have been severely affected. Our exporters especially who are the backbone of the economy, have had to face the brunt of the setbacks. Yet they are battling on bravely - demonstrating their resilience once again. They have overcome such major challenges in the past on more than one occasion.

However this time it is different. The Challenges are both in the domestic economic front which has adversely affected production, and also externally which has adversely affected Export markets. Nevertheless the NCE which is the guardian of our exporters, has continued to provide them vital services. This Chamber has done albeit with a skeleton staff, and with severe constraints, conforming to all safety and health guidelines imposed by the Authorities. Currently the Chamber provides all services in digital formats to support exporters to the best possible extent.

The crowning glory of the services provided by the Chamber, has been the prestigious Annual Export Awards. This event has hitherto been the most looked forward to event in the Business Calendar of Sri Lanka. It recognizes and rewards the achievements of our exporters in the International Market place. More importantly the event has also been able to provide the much needed exposure to our exporters among prospective buyers and business partners, because of the immense publicity it receives through all overseas trade points. As such it has become all the more important that they receive maximum publicity in the world markets, during this period of crisis, regarding their capabilities, achievements, and reliability. This enables their sustenance and expansion of the exports of the country to earn the much needed foreign exchange, to develop the economy and also to retain the skilled workforce.

This event which has been conducted amidst much glitter and glamour in September of each year, since its inception in 1992, has had to be rescheduled twice in respect of 2020, due to the lockdowns and restrictions that have been imposed because of COVID -19. This situation has been entirely beyond the control of the Chamber. Nevertheless the Chamber has been able to proceed with the highly professional evaluation process of Applicants, while maintaining social distancing and the other health guidelines.

I am proud and relieved that the event will be held on 25th February 2021, at the Shangri-La Hotel in Colombo, to maintain its hitherto uninterrupted record of conduct to honour our exporters. How ever it has to be conducted this year on a relatively subdued scale, due to the restrictions that are currently in place.

I wish to record my appreciation and thanks to the members of the Events Sub Committee of the Chamber, as well as the Management Committee and the Council of the Chamber led by the President for the guidance and assistance extended to me and the Secretariat staff to conduct the event in spite of all challenges.

In particular, the chamber wishes all the Award Winners, Applicants for Awards, as well as budding Entrepreneurs and Exporters, success in all their endeavours, to make a vital contribution to the economy of our mother land.

Lessons for life

RUWINI JAYAWARDANA

A teacher encounters different challenges in these times of social media. Yet they touch and influence lives like no one else. Most of us would have that one teacher who impacted us. Life's first lessons such as the 'thank you', the 'sorry', the 'please' and the 'may I' were learnt at school.

Teachers were authority figures we looked up to. As times changed, expectations too have changed. Social media hasn't made it any easier. In fact, one of the challenges today for the teacher is the social media and the online sessions he or she has to conduct during the pandemic.

"The pandemic has brought education into a different platform - a digital classroom. The digital classroom brings with it a range of unknown and unexplored territory, mostly due to its relative newness when compared to traditional teaching methods. There are many simple but effective practices you can follow to become a successful online teacher. Coupled with a comprehensive course load and the right resources, there's no reason why online learning can't be even more effective than a traditional classroom setting," opines Nilu Anandappa. This 32-year-old class teacher of NICE International School, Negombo, recently won international recognition for her unique teaching methods by bagging the Global Digital Teachers Excellence Award 2020. The event is designed to recognize and honour the efforts made by teachers in the education sector during a pandemic. It felicitates warriors in education who adapt innovative and path-breaking ways to impart knowledge among young learners.

"We all know, as teacher and students, that we are having a hard time facing this new learning environment. However, I believe that we should adapt to it to create a bright future for our youngsters by overcoming these stressful and challenging times," she added.

Coming from a family of three, Anandappa notes that she spent a rosy childhood, guided by the church. A product of Ave Maria Convent, Negombo, the young lass has taken part in all types of extra-curricular activities while excelling in studies.

"I have a passion for music since I was six years. My fascination towards teaching emerged during my teens when I witnessed a primary teacher struggling to get a naughty group of children to form a straight line. Soon me and my friend were engaged in a heated debate about the situation. She finally agreed that teaching young children is no walk in the park, though it may seem like a simple task on the surface. You only have to engage in it to realize how complex it is," Anandappa explained adding that a helping hand and proper guidance are the keys to leading a tiny tot along the correct path. This experience motivated her to take up the challenge of becoming a qualified teacher. She joined SGTI, a leading Teacher Training Institute, where she followed the AMI, MMI Advanced Diploma, Level 3 IVQ Advance Diploma in Training Skills 500/5784/4, and the Advance Diploma in Child Psychology. She completed the Advance Diploma in London Examinations, Graded Examinations in Trinity College, Higher Diploma in Human Resource Management and a Higher Diploma in Organization Behaviour. She is also registered to follow a BA in Special Education.

Speaking about her teaching experiences at two International schools, Anandappa says that she mainly focused on encouraging a higher order of thinking in a way that increases student performance.

"I aimed at building a long term career as an experienced teacher in a position that offers opportunities for career growth. I wanted to keep up with the cutting edge teaching technologies. Patience, empathy, self-improvement, adaptability, stress-management and communication are my strengths," she expressed adding that she teaches a wide range of subjects: mathematics, English, science, geography and history. "Mathematics is my favourite and I also conduct a Mental Maths Club as an after school activity. Its actually my second home," she mused with a smile adding that her personal theme at NICE International is "we are from different countries but still we smile using the same language."

She says that waking up and venturing to a pleasant learning environment each day boosts her energy and adds something new to her life. She loves engaging in project-based learning with her students.

"Follow your heart, not the crowd. That is the motto of my life. Stand up for what you believe in, even if you are alone," she stressed.

She thoroughly believes in the fact that winners are made, not born.

"Teachers, trainers or instructors mould them. They are the ones who are there at the beginning, during failures and after successes. The reason that champions don't give up is because their teachers didn't give up on them. Every child is unique in his or her own way. Every child's capabilities vary. You might judge a child by his or her external behaviour. Instead, try to get the hidden talent of the individual and lead the child towards the correct path. A child can be slow, weak and can achieve low marks, but don't ever underestimate the insight and the hidden capabilities of a child. We as teachers are considered as professionals. Parents and citizens would start to look at teachers in a different light if the title of professional was attached to their job," Anandappa explained the importance of becoming a qualified mentor.

Her dream is to build her own school for children with special needs.

Having bagged the Asia's Outstanding Teacher of the Year 2020/2021 title at the Asia Awards 2020 which is powered by Rula Awards and the World Research Congress, she is currently working as an Ambassador of a Women Empowering Project while coordinating with many countries.

She quotes Victoria Erickson to conclude the interview.

"Remember that you are more than skin and bones. You are one thousand stories of before - one thousand stories of potential. One thousand stories you've yet to see, know, feel and breathe. There's more to come. And it's something beautiful. Every 'no' and every rejection that came to my life had made me who I am. So listen to your heart. Listen to yourself."

Hilton Colombo Ushers in the "YEAR OF THE OX"

Pictures by Ruwan de Silva

Hilton Colombo ushered in the Chinese New Year with the tossing of the symbolic "Yee Sang" a traditional colorful salad symbolizing abundance, prosperity and vigor. "Yee Sang" is a wonderful symbol of celebration with harmonious flavors. It's a salad composed of fresh and preserved vegetables, livened up with crackers, crunchy seeds, sweet and salty sauces, and a festive plume of spices and has an auspicious significance to shower you with an abundance of luck, wealth and happiness. The "yee" in its name is the Cantonese word for fish, which can also be interpreted to mean prosperity. It is believed that the higher and more vigorous the toss, the better the new year. Whilst tossing the salad, one is expected to throw in as many wishes. The age-old custom steeped in ancient tradition and culture is enjoyed by every family during this festival. #### Why is liver health so vital?

The liver is located in the upper right-hand portion of the abdominal cavity, beneath the diaphragm, and on top of the stomach, right kidney, and intestines.

There are 2 distinct sources that supply blood to the liver.

1. Oxygenated blood flows in from the hepatic artery
2. Nutrient-rich blood flows in from the hepatic portal vein

The liver holds about one pint (13%) of the body's blood supply at any given moment. The liver regulates most chemical levels in the blood and excretes a product called bile. This helps carry away waste products from the liver. All the blood leaving the stomach and intestines passes through the liver. The liver processes this blood and breaks down, balances, and creates the nutrients and also metabolizes drugs into forms that are easier to use for the rest of the body or that are nontoxic. More than 500 vital functions have been identified with the liver.

D. Samson Industries (Pvt) Ltd. signs MoU with SLMA

D. Samson Industries recently signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Sri Lanka Medical Association (SLMA) for the production of a Beta Brand-Diabetic Shoe Range under the NIROGI LANKA Project.

Sri Lanka Medical Association President Dr. Padma Gunarathne, Director at D. Samson Industries (Pvt) Ltd Dilshan Rajapaksa, NIROGI Lanka project Chairperson Dr. Chaturanga Ranasinghe, Dr. Thusitha Kahaduwa, Business Development

Manager at DSI Oshini Jayasooriya, and Assistant Business Development Manager at DSI Janaka Bandara were present at the signing of the MoU.

Recognizing the gap in the market for diabetic shoes and the necessity to produce footwear that is tailored to the comforts of diabetic patients, D. Samson Industries (Pvt) Ltd. has decided to collaborate with SLMA as well as the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Colombo (FOMUC). Being involved in the production and marketing of footwear in Sri Lanka and on an international level, D. Samson Industries is motivated to provide the best service for their consumers. 'NIROGI LANKA' is a project under the Sri Lanka Medical Association, which provided technical expertise to DSI in developing diabetes ulcer prevention shoes during 2016/2017 as 'NIROGI Diabetic footwear'. This collaboration further extended towards the development of beta diabetic 'prescription shoes' in accordance with the objectives of this project. Beta diabetic shoes are specially

With a protective interior made with soft material and with no stitching, and soft and stretchable material these beta diabetic shoes cater to the tenderness of diabetic feet. The special insoles that provide support and reduce pressure on the bottom of the foot coupled with the specially designed lightweight soles are for optimum comfort of the diabetic patients.

With technical advice, research and support from the FOMUC and NIROGI SLMA, the Beta brand diabetic footwear will be continuously modified and improved to ensure that it caters to the requirements of patients. NIROGI will communicate the availability of the footwear to doctors and allied healthcare professionals to facilitate an awareness of the product in the market. -CT

New Year's resolutions often fail because they require Herculean efforts to put the brakes on deep-seeded habits. However, while there may not be a shortcut to getting more sleep or going to the gym, when it comes to breaking bad beauty hangups, there are plenty of smart ways to ease the effort. Here are some behaviours worth quitting.

BREAK BAD BEAUTY HABITS!

SKIN

We thought we'd help you get a head start by starting with breaking the bad habits that can be sabotaging your skin and replacing those with techniques that will have you glowing and feel more confident.

1 Not washing your face at night

It's one of those skin care no-no's that many of us are guilty of committing. It gets late, you get tired, etc. Cleansing the skin at night removes not only oil that's built up but other grime that can damage skin cells and lead to irritations and premature aging. For those who wear makeup it's even more important. Makeup can settle into and clog pores, leading to acne and other skin irritations.

Cleanse your skin and replace it with products that nourish and care for the skin. You don't have to do a full double cleansing routine each night but it's super important to go to bed with a clean face. Yes, men, this also goes for you!

2 Using regular bar soap on your face

While we are on facial cleansing, just stop using those generic bar soaps, formulated for the body on your face!

Generic deodorant soaps are way too harsh for the delicate skin on the face. They will often upset the pH balance of the facial skin and lead to dry, flaky, rough-feeling skin. I think we can all agree that's worth taking a pass.

The skin on our face tends to be thinner and much more sensitive than the skin on other parts of the body. Plus, it's the most visible so it needs to be treated with a gentler touch.

3 Touching and picking at your skin

Yes, you are going to have to touch your skin but for those who rest their hands on their face throughout the day or can't keep their fingers away from blemishes, this is for you!

Throughout the day our hands come in contact with millions of germs that can include bacteria, viruses, allergens and a host of other nasty possibilities. Door knobs, keyboards, cellphones, etc. all contribute to this build up. Now consider transferring all that to your face each and every time you touch it throughout the day.

The biggest culprit is the chin area. This tends to be a place where most people are most susceptible to congestion. One way to try to keep blemishes and blackheads at bay is to find other places to rest your hands. Or, try to use a tissue or clean cloth as a barrier to keep the oil, dirt and grime on your hands away from the face.

4 Not moisturizing properly

Other than washing your face, moisturizing is the next most important thing you can do for your skin.

Hydrated skin just looks better. More youthful, glowing, firm, even-toned, yes moisturizer can do all of that. Even more important, proper moisturization provides a barrier that protects the skin from moisture loss, and keeps pollution and other free radicals from damaging skin cells and prematurely aging the skin. No matter the skin type or environment, daily moisturization is essential for everyone. It's about using the right formulas and ingredients.

towel dry, squeeze, or god forbid – brush it, you'll not only encourage frizz by roughing up those cuticles, but you'll potentially damage it as well.

Break the habit: Gently blot excess moisture from your hair with a towel, and detangle with a wide-tooth comb. If blow-drying, rough dry your hair

NAILS

As gel and acrylic nails are starting to rise in popularity, we foresee that nail health will start declining. Having pretty, nicely coloured nails, unfortunately, pays a price (also literally). It weakens the nail and causes brittleness, peeling and cracking. Long-term users may also suffer premature hand ageing.

1 Nail biting

A nervous habit for many, nibbling your nails can lead to skin infections and other yucky problems. Germs and bacteria hide under nails, so biting them can spread these nasties to your mouth and possibly lead to bacterial infections

To help kick this habit, try keeping your nails neatly polished with your favourite shade or adding some nail art so you'll be less apt to bite and ruin your pretty tips.

2 Incorrect gel nail removal

Sometimes nail enhancements such as acrylics, gels, and color gels can chip or start peeling off on their own, tempting you to peel or file the rest off. Other times because these can be arduous to remove (colour gel, for example, requires a 10-minute soak in acetone polish remover followed by rubbing the remnants off with an orange stick), you become impatient and again resort to peeling or filing. "This will weaken and damage your nails by ripping off some layers-or even the entire natural nail."

3 Over-buffing your nails

If you have problems with nail ridges or love to go au naturale with a shiny, no-polish nail look sometimes, buffing your nails is probably one of your favourite activities. But it's really easy to overdo it. Buffing too much or too often can lead to thinner, weaker nails, and nobody wants that!

4 Picking at your cuticles and skin

Oh, the cuticle! One tiny sliver of skin can be the source of so many big nail problems. Picking at your cuticles and the skin around your nails, or cutting your cuticles too much or incorrectly, doesn't just lead to unsightly fingertips; it also makes you more prone to bacteria and infection—and it can be incredibly painful! Because it's largely compulsive, cuticle-picking can be a tough habit to break, so it's important to become conscious of it and actively work to stop.

5 Poor diet

Nails thrive when you eat foods like salmon, chicken, eggs, coconut oil and green vegetables like spinach and avocados – as well as omega-3 fish oils and zinc, which can be found in food supplements. All are great for nail strength.

Compiled by
RUWINI JAYAWARDANA

5 Not using sunscreen everyday

By now everyone knows how damaging the sun is on the skin and body. From skin cancer to premature aging, sunscreen is a must-do. Every. Single. Day. Even when it's cloudy.

There are so many different formulas and textures there is something that works for you. But only if you use it. Make it the last thing you put on your skin (other than makeup) before getting dressed.

6 Not getting regular facials

Regular facials are well worth it if you can manage. Professional facialists and estheticians have access to products, tools and the training to treat the skin in ways that are virtually impossible for you to replicate at home.

This is especially true for things such as steaming the skin, extractions and facial massage. Monthly facials can help to control the look of blemishes, shrink the appearance of pores through deep cleansing, improve the look of lines and wrinkles and promote the appearance of glowing, youthful skin.

HAIR

Your hair helps you look and feel good, frames your face and can be styled in countless ways to compliment your appearance and your mood. Let's face it, to have beautiful hair, it does take work and most times, you may not treat your hair with the care it deserves.

1 Tying it up too much

Why it's bad: Pulling your hair back tightly all the time can put too much tension on the scalp and ultimately cause a condition called traction alopecia. Especially common around the hairline and temples, it can lead to permanent hair loss.

2 Never washing your hair brush

Why it's bad: Brushes can quickly build up with dead skin cells, oil and styling product residue, not to mention hair. If it's not removed, all of that gunk ends up being brushed back onto your clean hair and scalp.

Break the habit: Remove excess hair and wash your brush once a week in a basin of warm water that has shampoo or anti-bacterial liquid soap added.

3 Never getting a trim

Losing weight is no easy feat. The journey could prove to be an overwhelming affair for many, especially when the results are not quick. Let us tell you a secret; weight loss is a time consuming process in most cases, if you are aiming for a sustainable weight-loss plan that is. Moreover, each body takes its own time to process and adapt to the changes.

Therefore, if you are looking to lose weight, it is advised that you hang in there. Make sure you start with wise choices. Your diet plays a major role in weight management. It can make or break your fitness goals. Eating fruits may prove to be a game-changer of sorts. Fruits are not only replete with vital antioxidants and minerals, but they could also help burn belly fat naturally.

Here are some fruits that are known to cut belly fat:

5 Fruits That Could Help Cut Belly Fat

1. APPLE

Fresh and crunchy apples are packed with healthy flavonoids and fibres that may help burn belly fat. They are particularly rich in pectin fibre that breaks down slowly. The fibres present in apple promote satiety. If you feel full, you would naturally binge less. Apples are also very low in calories and sugar content, which makes it an ideal bet for weight loss.

2. TOMATO

The tangy goodness of tomato may do wonders to cut your belly fat. Tomatoes tend to stimulate the production of the amino acid called carnitine, which is an organic molecule that is known to play a crucial role in regulation of fatty acid and energy metabolism. Tomatoes are also enriched with compound known as 9-oxo-ODA that helps decrease lipids in blood and ensure healthy weight loss. Tomatoes also have high fibre content.

3. GREEN CRUNCHY

The green crunchy fruit with white flesh is one of the most loved winter fruits of all times.

It is loaded with dietary fibres, which helps keep you satiated and prevents bingeing. The glycaemic index or GI value of guava is also very low, which enables slow release of sugar in the bloodstream. This promotes better insulin activity and weight management too.

4. STRAWBERRIES

Juicy and ever-so-delightful strawberries are tremendously low in calories. A 100 grams serving of strawberries contain only 33 calories. You can tuck into them raw, blend them in smoothies or toss them up in salads as strawberries are immensely versatile.

5. KIWI

The tartly fruit is known to boost digestion naturally. Kiwi contains an enzyme known as actinidain, which helps in digestion of proteins in the body. A good digestion and sustainable weight loss goes hand in hand. Poor digestion can hamper the breakdown of food particles, which in turn could take a toll on metabolism and lead to weight gain.

Include these foods in your diet and watch out for the impact on your waistline. These nutritious fruits are sure to help you reach your fitness goals and lose weight in a healthy way. -ndtv.com
