- (f) For the removal of persons infected with disease to hospitals or other places for medical treatment, and for their detention until they can be discharged with safety to the public.
- (g) For the cleansing and disinfecting of houses, buildings, rooms, and other places which have been occupied by any diseased person, or which are otherwise in an insanitary condition, and, if expedient, for destroying the same with or without compensation as may be deemed expedient.
- (h) For the disinfecting and, if expedient, destroying, with or without compensation as may be deemed expedient, furniture, clothing, and other goods which have been in contact with any diseased person, or which are reasonably suspected of being a vehicle for spreading disease.
- (i) For prescribing and regulating the seizure, detention, and destruction or disposal of any goods landed or otherwise dealt with in contravention of any regulation made under this Ordinance, and for prescribing and regulating the liability of the owner, or consignor or consignee, or importer of the goods for the expenses connected with the seizure, detention, and destruction or disposal thereof.
- (j) For prescribing the reporting to the Colonial Secretary by medical men of cases of disease treated by them.
- (k) For the appointment of inspectors and other officers to carry out the provisions of this Ordinance or of any regulations made thereunder, and for regulating their duties and conduct, and for investing them with all powers necessary for the due execution of their duties.
- (l) For prescribing the publication of any regulations made under this Ordinance, and for prescribing and regulating the form and mode of service or delivery of notices and other documents.
- (m) For prescribing the fine with which the contravention of any regulation made under this Ordinance shall be punishable, but so that such fine shall not exceed one thousand rupees.

(2) Provided always that nothing in this section contained shall in any way restrict or be construed to restrict the generality of the powers conferred on the Governor by the last preceding section, but such power shall extend to all matters whether similar or not to those in this section mentioned, as to which it may be expedient to make regulations for the better carrying into effect of the objects of this Ordinance.

Offence.

6 If any person, without lawful authority or excuse (proof whereof shall lie on him), does or omits to do anything which under the provisions of this Ordinance or of any regulations made thereunder he ought not to do or omit, or if he obstructs or impedes, or assists in obstructing or impeding any inspector or other officer appointed under this Ordinance, or any police officer in the execution of any provision of this Ordinance or of any regulation made thereunder, he shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance.

Punishment.

7 (1) If any person is guilty of an offence against this Ordinance for which no penalty is prescribed by regulation made thereunder, he shall be liable on conviction before a police magistrate to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

(2) A person convicted of any offence against this Ordinance, who is within a period of twelve calendar months convicted for a second or subsequent like offence against this Ordinance, shall be liable, in the discretion of the police magistrate, to imprisonment of either description for any term not exceeding two calendar months either in addition to or in lieu of fine.

(3) Nothing in this section contained shall affect the liability of any person to any punishment or penalty to which he is liable at common law, or under any enactment other than this Ordinance, but so that a person shall not be punished twice for the same offence.

Duties of inspectors and police officers.

8 (1) When a person is seen or found committing or is reasonably suspected of being engaged in committing an offence against this Ordinance, any inspector or other officer appointed under this Ordinance, or any police officer may without warrant stop and detain him, and if his name and address are not known may without warrant apprehend him.

(2) If any person obstructs or impedes an inspector or other officer appointed under this Ordinance, or any police officer in the execution of any provision of this Ordinance or of any regulation made thereunder, or assists in any such obstructing or impeding, he may be apprehended by such inspector or other officer or police officer without warrant.

(3) A person apprehended under this section shall be taken with all practicable speed before a police magistrate.

(4) Nothing in this section shall take away or abridge any power or authority that a police officer would have had if this section had not been enacted.

Presumption.

9 Where the person in charge of a diseased person is charged with an offence against this Ordinance relative to such disease, he shall be presumed to have known of the existence of such disease in such person, unless and until he shows to the satisfaction of the police magistrate before whom he is charged that he had not such knowledge, and could not with reasonable diligence have obtained such knowledge.

Officers to be public servants.

10 Inspectors and other officers appointed under this Ordinance shall be deemed public servants within the meaning of the Penal Code.

Master, agent, or consignee of ship landing person in certain cases to give security for expenses.

11 Whenever any person shall have been landed at any port or place in the island for the purpose of performing quarantine, or on the ground that such person is alleged to be of unsound mind, the ship or vessel from which such person shall have been landed shall not be entitled to receive a port clearance until sufficient security to the satisfaction of the master attendant shall have been given by the master, agent, or consignee of such ship to the master attendant for the repayment to the Government of all expenses which may be incurred by the Government in respect of such person, and also the necessary passage money of such person to the place of his original destination should such person not be conveyed thither in the ship or vessel from which he may have landed.

Execution of regulations may be delegated to local authority.

12 The Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, may delegate the enforcement and execution of any regulation made under this Ordinance to any municipal or local authority, subject to such restrictions as the Governor with the like advice may from time to time think fit to impose.

Regulations to be published.

13 All regulations made under this Ordinance shall be published in the Government Gazette, and shall from the date of such publication have the same force as if they had been enacted in this Ordinance.

By His Excellency the Governor's command,

E. NOEL WALKER,
Colonial Secretary.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, January 29, 1897.
