THE INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES ACT, CHAPTER 131 OF THE LEGISLATIVE ENACTMENTS, CEYLON (REVISED EDITION)

THE Award transmitted to me by the Arbitrator to whom the industrial dispute which had arisen between the Government Leather Factory Workers' Union and D. I. Leather Products Corporation, Colombo, was referred by Order dated April 16, 1962, made under section 4 (1) of the Industrial Disputes Act, Chapter 131, of the Legislative Enactments, Ceylon (Revised Edition) 1956, and published in Ceylon Government Gazette No. 13,052 dated April 27, 1962, for settlement by arbitration is hereby published in terms of section 18 (1) of the said Act.

N. L. ABÉYWIĀ,
Commissioner of Labour.

Department of Labour,
Colombo, 6th October, 1962.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between

The Government Leather Factory Workers' Union,
c/o D. I. Leather Products Corporation,
Kelaniganga Mills Road, Colombo 15

and

D. I. Leather Products Corporation,
Kelaniganga Mills Road,
Colombo 15.

The Award

This is an award made under section 17 of the Industrial Dispute Act, Chapter 131 of the Legislative Enactments, Ceylon (Revised Edition, 1956), as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Acts, No. 14 of 1957, No. 62 of 1957, and No. 4 of 1962. It relates to a dispute between the Government Leather Factory Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the "Union") and the D. I. Leather Products Corporation (hereinafter referred to as the "Corporation").

2. The Honourable the Minister of Labour and Nationalised Services, by his order dated 15.4.1962, made under sections 4 (1) of the aforesaid Act, referred this matter to me for settlement by arbitration. The Acting Commissioner of Labour has, by his statement dated 11th April, 1962, stated that the matter in dispute between the Union and the Corporation is whether the non-employment of Messrs. G. Emis Singho and A. C. Fernando is justified and to what relief each of them is entitled.

3. This dispute was first referred to Mr. C. V. Ranawake for settlement by arbitration but since he died in the course of these proceedings this matter was later referred to me for settlement by arbitration and the proceedings commenced afresh. On 2nd June, 1962, the first date of the inquiry before me, Mr. Advocate A. H. Mendis stated that Mr. M. Tiruchelvam, Q. C., with himself instructed by Mr. P. A. D. Samarasekera appeared for the Union. Mr. Advocate R. A. Kannangara instructed by Messrs. D. L. & F. de Saram, appeared for the Corporation.

On the third day of the proceedings Mr. Advocate S. C. Crosette Thambayah also appeared for the Union, in addition to the counsel mentioned above. After Mr. Advocate Crosette Thambayah closed his case, a settlement was discussed and on 7th September, 1962, the Union and the Corporation agreed on the following settlement:—

It was agreed that the dismissal of the two workmen was justified. The Union withdraws the allegations against the General Manager. The Corporation agrees to pay to Emis Singho an ex-gratia payment of Rs. 2,500 and to A. C. Fernando an ex-gratia payment of Rs. 2,000 in view of their long service. The payment should be made before 30th September, 1962, to them personally when they call over at the office of the Corporation. The Corporation also undertakes to issue to the two workmen concerned their respective records of service normally issued specifically stating "work satisfactory" in the appropriate cases.

I consider the above terms of settlement just and equitable and make award accordingly.

T. DEVARAJAN, Arbitrator.

Dated at Colombo this 29th day of September, 1962.

THE INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES ACT, CHAPTER 131

THE Award transmitted to me by the Arbitrator to whom the industrial dispute which had arisen between the All Ceylon Shop and Hotel Workers' Union and Mr. H. M. Ibrahim, the proprietor of the Majestic Restaurant No. 25, Galle Road, Colombo 4, was referred under section 3 (1) (d) of the Industrial Disputes Act, Chapter 131, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Acts, Nos. 14 and 62 of 1957 and No. 4 of 1962, for settlement by arbitration, is hereby published in terms of section 18 (1) of the said Act.

N. L. ABEYWIRA,
Commissioner of Labour.

Department of Labour,
Colombo, 10th October, 1962.

No. C/I. 803.

In the matter of an industrial dispute

between

The All Ceylon Shop and Hotel Workers Union,
and

Mr. H. M. Ibrahim (also known as A. H. M. Ibrahim), the Proprietor of the Majestic Restaurant No. 25, Galle Road, Colombo 4

The Award

This is an Award under section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, Chapter 131 of the Legislative Enactments of Ceylon (Revised Edition 1956) as amended by Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Acts, No. 14 of 1957, No. 62 of 1957 and No. 4 of 1962.

2. The Acting Commissioner of Labour by his Order dated 29th May, 1962, and made under section 3 (1) (d) of the said Act has referred the above dispute to me for settlement by Arbitration.

3. The matters in dispute between the All-Ceylon Shop and Hotel Workers' Union and Mr. H. M. Ibrahim (also known as A. H. M. Ibrahim), Proprietor, Majestic Restaurant as contained in the statement furnished by the Acting Commissioner of Labour in terms of section 16 of the said Act are—

(1) Whether the refusal of work to the following employees is justified and to what relief they are entitled—

(1) Messrs. U. L. M. Haniffa, (2) M. A. Hamid, (3) N. Siddique, (4) J. A. Surajudeen, (5) M. A. Beerahu, (6) A. M. Samoon.

(2) Whether the non-employment of the following workers is justified and to what relief they are entitled—

(1) Messrs. M. I. M. Sameen, (2) M. I. M. Haniffa, (3) A. H. M. Thassim, (4) S. Jalaldeen, (5) B. V. Siripala, (6) A. M. Mohideen, (7) M. J. M. Farook, (8) A. M. Uvais.

4. As required by the regulations framed under the said Act, both parties filed their respective statements, but both refrained from filing their respective answers, even though the statement filed by the one party was transmitted to the other, and vice versa.

5. The inquiry commenced on 16th July, 1962. The usual procedure of the parties trying to reach an amicable settlement among themselves was gone through but without success. Mr. W. Mallawaratchi, Secretary, United Employers Federation appeared for Mr. A. H. M. Ibrahim (hereinafter referred to as the employer) and Mr. Prins Rajasooriya, Secretary, Ceylon Federation of Labour appeared for the All-Ceylon Shop and Hotel Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union). After recording of evidence, further hearing was put off for 1st August, 1962, on which date proceedings had to be postponed as the employer's representative moved for a date by letter supported by a medical certificate received by me on the previous day i.e., 31.7.62. Despite a telegram despatched to him on the same day stating specifically that there should be some appearance before me on the following day if the application for a date was to be considered, neither the employer nor anyone else representing him was present. On the next date of hearing, that was on 17.8.62, only the employer, Mr. A. H. M. Ibrahim, was present, and he moved for a date as his representative Mr. Mallawaratchi, had failed to turn up. The Union moved for costs not only for 17.8.62, but also for the earlier date 1.8.62, on the grounds that 14 workers had been deprived of two days wages they would have earned from temporary employment, and also on account of the loss caused to Mr. Prins Rajasooriya, who as an Advocate had been deprived of, without adequate reason, gainfully following his profession. On the next date of hearing, that was on 12.9.62, both parties were present. Mr. Mallawaratchi for the employer, expressed willingness to come to an amicable settlement with the Union. Mr. Rajasooriya for the Union was also prepared to come to a reasonable settlement. Mr. Mallawaratchi obtained permission from me to go with the Union representative and a Labour Officer, (whose services were made available to him by me), to meet one Mr. Thahir, the Attorney of the earlier Proprietor Mr. Moosakutty, and take charge of a document said to be in his possession, which according to Mr. Mallawaratchi would have assisted materially in reaching an amicable settlement. This was stated to be a record containing authenticated payments alleged to have been made by the previous owner Mr. Moosakutty to the workers as gratuities for past services, before he was compulsorily sent away to India on the expiry of his visa. The present dispute is said to have been caused chiefly by an earlier dispute regarding gratuities, which still remains unsettled, and hence Mr. Mallawaratchi's position that the settlement of that dispute would greatly facilitate the amicable settlement of the dispute which was before me for inquiry. The Union's position was that there was no such document wherein the workers had signed in acknowledgement of payments stated to have been made as gratuities, but however was agreeable to accompanying the employer, in view of what had been told by the employer's representative, Mr. Mallawaratchi. The proceedings were adjourned. After some time the parties returned and reported to me that their mission was not a success as Mr. Thahir could not be contacted. Mr. Mallawaratchi then gave an undertaking to me that he would produce the document referred to and Mr. Thahir before me on the following day at 9.30 a.m. I granted the request and adjourned proceedings for the following day, a day which had already been listed for the hearing of this case.

6. On the following day, 13.9.62, there was no appearance for the employer, neither Mr. Mallawaratchi nor Mr. A. H. M. Ibrahim being present. As the employer and his representative both failed to attend the inquiry without sufficient cause being shown, I proceeded with the inquiry ex-parte in terms of regulation 28 framed under the Industrial Disputes Act. After hearing of evidence led by the Union I put off further hearing for 15.9.62. Notice was served on the employer to appear before me on that date, and also intimating to him that the inquiry was proceeding ex-parte on account of his failure to show sufficient cause for not attending the inquiry on 13.9.62, and also that if he continued to absent himself from the inquiry, the inquiry would continue ex-parte till award was made.

7. On 15.9.62, too there was no appearance for the employer, neither the employer, nor his representative being present. Inquiry was concluded on this date. It will be useful for a proper appreciation of the facts to mention in brief the background to this dispute. The Majestic Restaurant, situated at 25, Galle Road, Bambalapitiya, was previously owned by one Mr. P. N. Moosakutty, a temporary residence permit holder, whose visa was due to expire. He overstayed his visa and he was arrested and forcibly repatriated to India by the Immigration and Emigration Department. Thereafter one Mr. P. Thahir looked after the interests of Mr. P. M. Moosakutty, as his attorney. One Mr. P. Cader was placed in charge of the Majestic Restaurant, as its Manager. On 23.3.62, the ownership of the business changed hands, and Mr. A. H. M. Ibrahim, the present employer, came into ownership of the business. Consequent on the sudden departure of Mr. Moosakutty, the workers had become alert to the fact that as employer Mr. Moosakutty had neither paid them gratuities for their past services nor had he paid them what was due to them by law viz: overtime, and remuneration in lieu of annual and weekly holidays not granted. They had accordingly represented matters to the Labour Department. To pursue their legitimate rights in an organised way, the workers joined the All Ceylon Shop and Hotel Workers' Union. From this point onwards the tempo of events quickened, and culminated in the refusal of employment to six workers on 26.4.62, followed by a strike of the other workers, who in turn were refused employment by the employer, Mr. A. H. M. Ibrahim.

8. The only evidence led for the employer was the evidence of Mr. A. B. M. Mushin, the brother-in-law of the employer Mr. A. H. M. Ibrahim and the Manager of the Majestic Restaurant. Most of the evidence he gave was admitted into the record only after an assurance given by the employer's representative, Mr. Mallawaratchi, that he would be calling the employer himself to give evidence. Mr. Mallawaratchi did not honour this undertaking, rendering most of the evidence given by this witness valueless. Further-more his evidence was not corroborated by other evidence, so that whether his evidence could be acted upon depended on whether he could be accepted as a reliable witness. He did not strike me as a truthful witness. He denied he was aware of the dispute which existed between the workers and the employer, who was none other than his own brother-in-law with whom, according to his own evidence he had been in the habit of discussing the affairs of the business everyday. This is patently a falsehood, because no one can believe that he discussed all matters except matters which were the subject of an open dispute between the employer and the workers, and which, from evidence available, was creating concern to both parties. This witness attributed the refusal of employment to the 6 workers referred to in the first part of the reference, to various reasons such as bad cooking, dishonestly appropriating to their use cigarettes meant to be served to customers, and consuming food meant for customers. The only action taken by him had been to warn the workers, as instructed by the employer. He further states in evidence that as the position did not improve, the employer terminated the employment of the 6 workers on the evening of 26.4.62, at one of his infrequent visits to the establishment. Hence it would be clear that the employer, if one should accept the evidence of Mushin, could not have issued charge sheets to the employees as maintained by the employer in the statement furnished by him in response to notice under regulation 21 (1). If, as the employer has maintained in his statement, the workers were issued with charge sheets calling for their explanations in writing, the witness Mr. Mushin, as Manager, would have known it, and it is inconceivable that he could have failed to mention about it in his evidence. It is significant that the employer, who should have himself testified to this matter, thought it fit to give no evidence at all, for reasons best known to himself. As against this uncorroborated testimony, the evidence led by the Union provides more reliable material from which to reasonably determine the cause of the dismissal of the first six workers, leading subsequently to the termination of services of the other 8 workers. The two workers, Messrs. U. L. M. Haniffa and M. A. Hamid, and Mr. D. G. William, the General Secretary of the All-Ceylon Shop and Hotel Workers, who testified, corroborated on the material facts in issue. The two workers both testified to the fact that after the earlier Proprietor Mr. Moosakutty left for India, they had agitated for the statutory dues which were not being paid to them at the time, on account of overtime, work done on weekly holiday, and annual holidays not granted. They also testified to the representations made by them through the Union to the Colombo Enforcement Division of the Labour Department regarding their statutory dues, and to the representations made on their behalf by the Union to the Colombo Industrial Relations Division regarding gratuities for their past services under Mr. Moosakutty. They further testified to a settlement reached between Mr. Thahir, Attorney to the Proprietor; Mr. Moosakutty, represented by Mr. W. Mallawaratchi, General Secretary of the United Employers' Federation, at a conference held at the office of the Colombo Industrial Relations Division, 21, Vauxhall Street, Colombo 2, at which the Proprietors' Attorney, Mr. P. Thahir had agreed to pay them Rs. 3,446.25 in settlement of both statutory and gratuity payments. Mr. D. G. William, the General Secretary of the Union testified to having warned the employer, after having come to know from reliable sources that the ownership of the restaurant was about to change, by a letter dated 19.2.62 of the existing disputes between the workers, represented by the Union and the then proprietor, represented by his Attorney Mr. P. Thahir, regarding statutory dues and gratuities for past services, and further to having warned him that despite the warning if he took over the business without settlement being reached on all outstanding matters, he would become "inheritor to this dispute". Regarding the cause of dismissal, the two workers testified firstly to the fact that there was bitter disappointment among the workers because the Attorney of the then Proprietor had gone back on the undertaking given at the conference held on 22.3.62 and had refused to pay the gratuities he had undertaken to pay them; secondly to the fact that on the day following the date on which the conference was held, that was on 23.3.62, the ownership of the hotel changed hands, the employer, Mr. A. H. M. Ibrahim having bought it outright from the previous owner despite the pending disputes; thirdly that they continued their struggle with the new employer, Mr. A. H. M. Ibrahim to win their statutory claims for overtime, weekly and annual holidays; fourthly that as a result of their refusing to forego their legal right to be paid for overtime work, and to sign the Shop Act Register in the manner wanted by the employer, which would have deprived them of their claims for overtime, and weekly and annual holidays, the six workers referred to were dismissed from service on the evening of 27.4.62. Regarding the other 8 workers referred to in the second part of the reference, it was common ground that on the refusal of work to the six workers referred to, these eight workers staged a stay-in-strike, resulting in their too being refused employment.

9. The evidence led by the Union would appear to fit into a coherent picture, as the chain of events that preceded the non-employment of the fourteen employees, would tend to reasonably point to the cause as being the unrelenting fight put up by the workers to win their rights to which they were entitled in law. The documentary evidence scrutinised by me overwhelmingly supported the case of the Union. I will here briefly refer to them in the order of sequence. A petition signed by 12 workers and dated 13.11.1961 was addressed to the Hon. Minister of Labour and Social Services, complaining that they were being deprived of their legal dues by their employer and requesting early redress. This complaint had been looked into by the Colombo Enforcement Division of the Labour Department and a sum of Rs. 1,770.50 had been found to be due to the workers on account of overtime and weekly holidays not granted to them. The employer has failed to pay this amount to the workers. On 23.11.61 the Union on behalf of the workers wrote to the Colombo Industrial Relations Division complaining of the same matters and requesting that a conference be summoned for the early settlement of outstanding dues of the workers, as the then employer was planning to leave the Island. In this connection, conferences had been held under the aegis of the Colombo Industrial Relations Division on 28.11.61, 28.12.61 and 16.1.62, and finally on 22.3.62, when a settlement was reached (later to be repudiated by the employer) whereby the employer agreed to pay a sum of Rs. 3,446.25 to the workers both in settlement of their claims for statutory dues, and gratuity in recognition of their past services. Labour Officer Mr. E. V. Subramaniam testified to what transpired at the conference held on 23.3.62 in particular. In his testimony he referred to the fact that he was made to understand by Mr. W. Mallawaratchi that he was holding with him a sum of Rs. 4,000 in cash for payment to the workers as service gratuity. On 23.2.62 the Secretary of the United Employers Federation purporting to represent both Mr. Thahir, the Attorney of the Proprietor Mr. Moosakutty and the employer in this dispute, Mr. A. H. M. Ibrahim, addressed a letter to the Secretary of the All Ceylon Shop and Hotel Workers Union, Mr. D. G. William, regarding the question of compensation. The first paragraph of this letter is significant, which is reproduced below:—

"We have persuaded our members Messrs. Thahir and Ibrahim to grant some compensation to all the employees at Majestic Restaurant, if you would only agree to waive off the overtime and annual holiday dues in respect to the 8 employees at the Majestic Restaurant"

It is obvious from this letter the employer, Mr. Ibrahim, had not been a disinterested party, and it does help to prove the evidence of the Union that the workers had come to treat Mr. Ibrahim as the Proprietor of the business as early as even November, 1961, even before he went through the formality of finalising the purchase of the business on 23.3.62. It is also obvious from the portion underlined by me that the burning question at that time agitating the minds of both employer and workers was the question of overtime and annual holiday dues. Mr. Mushin the Manager of the Majestic Restaurant testified to the fact that no records were being maintained at the establishment, at the time he assumed duties, and that records required to be maintained under the Shop and Office Employees Act were introduced only thereafter. It is most probable that once the proper maintenance of records became imperative, the employer would have required the workers to sign the books in acknowledgment of the correctness of the entries made therein, and the workers, realising that the entries made therein did not reflect the true position as regards overtime, weekly holiday, etc., had refused to sign the books. The signing of entries regarding the hours of work, weekly holiday granted, etc., is a requirement of the law. In my opinion the six workers referred to in the first part of the reference were refused employment, as a result of the workers refusing to forego their legal right to the payment of overtime, and to sign the records as required by the employer. The question, at this stage, could be posed as to why these 6 workers had been singled out for this purpose. The answer is that these six workers were the most vociferous in the campaign carried on by the workers to secure their legal entitlements, and that the employer would have been under the impression that if he got rid of the chief agitators, he would be able to silence the other workers and make them submit to his terms. There is evidence to show that these six workers were the most prominent in the agitation carried on by the workers. It is on record that they had been, at various times, representing the local branch of the Union at conferences and discussions held by the Labour Department regarding the outstanding disputes between them and their employer referred to above. I reject as a fabrication the evidence of Mr. Mushin that these 6 workers were dismissed for the offences alleged by him.

10. Now the question to be decided is whether the refusal of work to these six workers in the circumstances referred to above was justified. Labour legislation of this land has conferred on workers certain benefits. The Shops and Office Employees Act lays it down that an employee covered by the Act is entitled under it to claim as of right extra remuneration for work in excess of normal hours of work, and to be granted weekly and annual holidays. Under the said Act an employer commits an offence in terms of section 57 if he dismisses or otherwise punishes an employee by reason of the fact that he is entitled to any benefits by or under the Act. In this instance six workers have been refused employment by the employer by reason of the fact that they insisted on the employer granting to them the benefits provided for in law. Hence I hold the refusal of work to the six persons, namely, Messrs. U. L. M. Haniffa, M. A. Hamid, N. Siddique, J. A. Surajudeen, M. A. Beerahu and A. M. Samoon as unjustified.

11. The reasons for the non-employment of the eight workers referred to in the second part of the reference have to be determined now. As stated earlier the fact that these eight workers were refused employment because they struck work is not disputed. The employer's case was that as the workers concerned staged a stay-in strike, which he considered illegal, their services were dispensed with. Though the representative of the employer in his preliminary address stated that he would adduce arguments to prove that the workers in question had committed an offence by staging a "stay-in" strike, and justify the dismissals, he failed to do so. It is not difficult to see that the reason adduced to justify the dismissal of these 8 workers is only an after thought because the reason given by the employer at a conference held before the Assistant Commissioner of Labour, 21, Vauxhall Street, Colombo, on 30.4.62 for the non-employment of 8 employees was quite a different one. According to the notes of this conference which were produced in evidence the employer had taken up the position that as these workers who were on strike assaulted another worker, who was not a participant in the strike, he was not prepared to take them back. This allegation was hotly denied by the Union. I do not believe that the workers who struck work resorted to violence as stated by the employer, because Mr. Mushin in his evidence stated that, except for the strikers breaking some empty packing cases for the purpose of making placards, and hanging flags of red and blue, there was no disturbance whatever, and that they conducted themselves in a peaceful manner. I therefore reject the reasons given by the employer for the dismissal of the strikers, as untrue. In my opinion the strikers were dismissed not only because they struck work in sympathy with the six workers dismissed, but also because they struck work with the objective of winning their demands which were the subject of an industrial dispute existing between them and their employer.

12. What is left now to be decided is whether the non-employment of the eight workers in the circumstances of this case is justified. This question has to be viewed in the background of the fundamental principles of Industrial Relations as we know them today. The collective bargaining process is an integral part of Industrial Democracy, and it is imperative for the proper functioning of Industrial Democracy that the parties to the Collective bargaining process, workers on the one hand and employers on the other hand, should negotiate as equals, and that neither party should be permitted in the course of an industrial dispute to be in a position to destroy the other. The right to strike is accepted as an undeniable right enjoyed by the worker, though a burden is cast on him to resort to this weapon only as a last resort when all other avenues of peaceful settlement of an industrial dispute by negotiation with his employer have failed, and when the employer adopts either a persistently unreasonable or vindictive or capricious attitude. In this case there had been a long drawn out dispute between the workers and the employer on matters relating to not only the statutory dues of the workers, but also to terms and conditions of services such as the question of gratuities, in the course of which six workers who had interested themselves actively in legitimate trade union activities were dismissed unjustifiably, purely because of the stand taken by them in the defence of their legal rights. In these circumstances, I do not think the rest of the workers had any other alternative but to strike in the defence of their legal rights. The employer by his own vindictive action in dismissing six workers in the hope that he would be able to subdue the rest had forced the other workers to strike. I hold that the eight workers namely, Messrs. M. I. M. Sameem, M. I. M. Haniffa, A. H. M. Thassim, S. Jallaldeen, B. V. Siripala, A. M. Mohideen, M. J. M. Farook and A. M. Uvais struck work as a last resort and for justifiable reasons, and I hold that their non-employment is unjustified.

13. Regarding the relief to which each of these workers is entitled, I do not think, in my opinion, a distinction should be drawn between the two groups of workers, because they had all been victimised in the pursuit of a common cause and therefore I have treated them all alike.

14. This is a case where the employer had deliberately chosen not only to disregard all accepted principles of healthy labour-management relations which is a sine qua non of industrial peace, but also to defy the law in as much as he has denied to the workers their legal dues secured to them under the law. If industrial peace in this country is to be a reality, every effort has to be made, whenever the opportunity presents itself, to correct any aberration in labour-management relations, not by palliatives which will make the one drift further away from the other, but by measures which will ensure that the relationship, however hard it may be, functions to the mutual benefit of both parties. The mere awarding of compensation, however great, will in my opinion serve as temporary relief only to the individuals concerned to lessen their hardships, but it will not serve the cause of healthy industrial relations as a whole in this country, besides it may only serve the object of employers, who insist on the yellow-dog contract, to pay whatever compensation ordered as a necessary evil, so long as they are free to have their own way in the pursuit of their selfish ends. What is important is that not only must relief be granted to the aggrieved workers, but in doing so the fundamental principles of industrial relations must be upheld. Workers in the exercise of their legitimate trade union rights should be protected against vindictive or capricious action on the part of the employer, which may affect the security of their employment. Hence if the ends of social justice are to be met, these employees have to be reinstated.

15. Accordingly, I make award that each of the 14 workers, whose names appear below, shall be reinstated in employment in the same capacity in which each had worked at the time their services were terminated and on terms and conditions not less favourable, and they shall be so reinstated within 10 days of the publication of this award in the Ceylon Government Gazette and they shall also be paid in addition to their earned wages for April, 1962, a further sum representing three months' wages, as back wages, computed as follows on the basis of the document

P. 6 furnished by the Union setting out the wages earned by each worker per month—

16. Regarding the application made by the Union for costs in respect of all days the inquiry was held, it has to be noted that on all six days on which the inquiry was held the union representatives and the 14 workers were present and no postponements were asked for. On the other hand the employer moved for dates on two occasions, and on the Union moving for costs for both these days, I made an interim order that the employer pays Rs. 200 costs at the rate of Rs. 100 per day. The employer appeared before me only on two or three occasions and thereafter kept away from the proceedings without showing sufficient cause, necessitating the proceedings being conducted ex-parte after a certain point. Taking into consideration that the employer was one of the parties to the agreement whereby this dispute was referred to voluntary arbitration under section 3 (1) (d) of the I. D. Act his attitude is not understood, and would appear to be contemptuous of that agreement. This irresponsible behaviour of the employer caused great inconvenience to everyone concerned and involved the Union and the workers in considerable expense, justifying the award of costs. At the rate of Rs. 50 for each of the other 4 days, I award a further sum of Rs. 200 as costs, bringing the total costs to Rs. 400. This sum of Rs. 400 shall be paid by the employer to the Union.

17. It is ordered that the amounts awarded by me viz., Rs. 3,165 being back wages awarded to the workers whose names are mentioned above, and Rs. 400 being costs awarded to the Union, shall be deposited by the employer, Mr. H. M. Ibrahim, also known as A. H. M. Ibrahim, at the office of the Assistant Commissioner of Labour, Colombo Industrial Relations Division, 167, Stafford Place, Colombo 10, within 30 days of the publication of this award in the Ceylon Government Gazette for payment to the 14 workers and the Union respectively.
