Fiscal strategies to overcome crisis - Dr. Gunawardena

IRANGIKA RANGE and AMALI MALLAWAARACHCHI

Transport and Highways and Mass Media Minister Dr. Bandula Gunawardena said this budget can be defined as a budget that has been presented at a very crucial time. This is aimed at saving the country. This budget has been presented with the aim of providing relief to the people suffering from the crisis. Many Acts will be amended in the future. A budget contains state fiscal strategies to overcome the current crisis. "It is not possible to create a surplus even in the primary account for the next two or three years.

There is a problem with the payment of salaries for state workers and giving subsidies at present. The budget has proposed four remedies for this. Accordingly, increasing government income, reducing government expenditure as much as possible, increasing foreign income flowing into the country, and reducing the amount of foreign exchange flowing out of the country are among them. It is necessary to increase state revenue at least by Rs.3 billion in the future.

Required reforms identified in budget - Sabry

Foreign Affairs Minister Ali Sabry said necessary reforms have been identified to move the country forward instead of slogans.

The required foundation and background for carrying out those reforms have been prepared through this budget.

Sometimes a social mechanism should be implemented for the oppressed people through these reforms. I personally believe that it is the best budget which has been presented today despite the current situation.

Sajith says not satisfied with Interim Budget

IRANGIKA RANGE and AMALI MALLAWAARACHCHI

Opposition Leader Sajith Premadasa stated that he is not content with the Interim Budget 2022 presented by the government.

Premadasa made this observation at the parliament premises yesterday (30).

Premadasa said that there is a contradiction between the UNICEF organization statistics and the budget statistics about the families in Sri Lanka who are in need.

"We cannot agree with the number of people drastically affected by the economic crisis mentioned in the budget speech. "Because if you read the UNICEF report, you will realize the real number of mothers, children and girls who have become victims of the crisis is much larger than the numbers read out today.

According to the interim budget speech, only 61,000 families are drastically affected by the economic crisis.

"We cannot agree on these numbers. In addition, we believe that the government can do a better job in managing the government revenue. So all in all, we are not satisfied with this budget proposals," Premadasa said.

No money to maintain committees - Eran

SJB MP Eran Wickramaratne said the previous budget presented by former Finance Minister Basil Rajapaksa became a joke.

IRANGIKA RANGE and AMALI MALLAWAARACHCHI

Kegalle District SJB MP Kabir Hashim said the budget has proposed several difficult tasks that can be achieved only through hardwork. Therefore, we do not know whether the government has made a plan or not," he said.

There was lukewarm responses within the government to this budget speech. Lack of a stable government is the main reason for the economic crisis.

The same proposals put forward by the previous governments have again been included in this budget. Much attention has been given to education through this budget. This has created an opportunity for foreign students to come and study in this country.

We cannot oppose that. Before that, necessary facilities should be provided to the local students as well.

President presented a plan to build the... From page 01

He said this while commenting on the interim budget presented by President Ranil Wickremesinghe at the Parliament building yesterday. He further informed about it.

President Ranil Wickremesinghe has presented a plan to build the country's economy as an Interim Budget proposal.

It covers most of what we presented. In particular, 80 percent of the points opposed by the Podujana Peramuna are there. So the problem is how to implement this.

"We agree with the economic restructuring announced by the President. We say from the beginning that necessary steps should be taken to solve the economic problem.

"We had informed in 2020 to seek International Monetary Fund assistance. But the Podujana Peramuna Party said that they will have to walk over our bodies.

That is why the country has gone to the abyss now. But now they are forced to support this Budget.

"I cannot fully agree with the tax policy proposed by the President. Excise duty has been increased from 12% to 15%.

"At the same time, steps have been taken to levy a tax of two and a half percent as income tax. Accordingly, the tax will be increased to 20 percent. Low income earners will be hit the hardest by this tax. A tax reform is being implemented that will tax higher income earners. "We expected it.

Therefore, we cannot be satisfied with this tax policy," he added. (IR and AM) ing it could enable fix Sri Lanka's personal debt disaster, and it is open up to internet hosting such talks perhaps with China resources with awareness of the problem advised Reuters for the past seven days.

It remains unclear no matter whether prime creditor China would be a part of and a lack of clarity about Sri Lanka's finances, a single supplier told Reuters.

President Ranil Wickremesinghe told Reuters this month that Sri Lanka would question Japan to invite the principal creditor nations to talks on restructuring bilateral money owed. He said he would examine the problem with Key Minister Fumio Kishida in Tokyo in the upcoming month.

"I believe that it is important for the Sri Lankan government to test to strengthen its financial and fiscal problems in coordination with the IMF, Paris Club (of key creditor nations) and other folks, while sustaining transparency," Japanese Overseas Minister Yoshimasa Hayashi reported.

"We plan to contemplate our response, when looking at such moves and the predicament in Sri Lanka, and consulting with Sri Lanka, other donors and worldwide organisations."

The island country of 22 million people today off India's southern suggestion, with personal debt at 114% of yearly financial output, is in social and money upheaval from the impression of the COVID-19 pandemic, severely depleted foreign reserves and runaway inflation.

Interim Budget 2022

Creating a new economy

Amendment to Appropriation Act No.30 of 2021

Following is the text of the Interim Budget presented to Parliament by President Ranil Wickremesinghe in his capacity as Finance Minister:

The Interim Budget is being presented today to the Parliament, in order to prepare the basic foundation for changing the economic trajectory of our country. This is basic to the formulation of a national economic policy in accordance with the new world order. Based on this foundation, the Budget for the year 2023 will initiate the process of creating a new economy. For the process of creating a new economy, I plan to present a comprehensive set of proposals in the Budget 2023.

In presenting the Interim Budget, I wish to draw your attention to four aspects.

1. Economic Crisis

1.1 On many occasions, I have pointed out the extent and depth of the economic crisis that we are facing. We have not fallen into such an economic abyss in our recent history. Some people in our country do not yet have a real understanding of its severity. When pointing out the difficulties and hardships, they are viewed with sarcasm. They think like crabs that happily lay in the water that is on the fire, until it reaches boiling point. However, there are also those among us who think in a more responsible manner, having understood the gravity of this situation, and resolutely seek to battle in dousing the fire.

2. Causes of the Economic Crisis

2.1 It is a widespread slogan these days to claim that the country has deteriorated for 74 years after independence. Those who engage in chanting these slogans, earlier said that it was the colonial rulers who destroyed the country. This is the reality of slogan-led politics, they put forward slogans at different points in time for their own benefit. Engaging in rhetoric and politicized economic policies for their own benefit rather than the country, are the main reasons for the collapse of our economy.

2.2 Due to these short-sighted economic practices, the country's progress has been hampered from time to time. Many of those setbacks occurred in the name of the citizens who accepted those policies without any criticism.

2.3 From the time the Government nationalized businesses, most of the tax revenue of our country has been spent to cover their losses. Funds which have to be utilized for the necessities of the community, are being wasted on keeping these companies afloat. Government should be formulating policies and implementing them. However, presently the Government does everything and the people also expect such from the country's administration.

2.4 We have not been following appropriate policies, not only in relation to state enterprises, but also in attracting foreign investments. Continuously there has been no proper use of the nation's resources, that too in the guise of seeking to protect state assets.

3. Solution to the Economic Crisis

3.1 In order to solve this economic crisis, one of the basic tasks that we need is to extricate from our traditional political perspectives and impartially appraise the reality of the ground situation in the context of the global environment.

3.2 I wish to quote a recent statement made by Mr. Sunil Handunneethi of the JVP "The Government should make policies. The Government does not have a role to engage in commercial ventures."

3.3 If we can nourish our minds with creative thoughts, according to the current trends of the modern world, then we can solve the economic crisis.

4. Method of solving the crisis

4.1 This crisis will not be solved by accusing one another, nor by faulting the past. It can only be solved by adopting short- and long-term plans.

4.2 In this context, we are now adopting the short-term measures. Negotiations with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) have successfully reached its final stage. Discussions on debt restructuring will be held with the main countries that provide loan assistance to our country. The United Nations in collaboration with leading international organizations, is launching a programme to ensure food security. The process of providing daily needs like gas, electricity and fuel without a shortage has been initiated. Schools have opened, and the universities are commencing their academic activities.

4.3 All this reflects that, we are on the correct course in the short term for recovery.

4.4 However, we cannot be complacent. We should prepare a National Economic Policy for implementation continuously at least over a period of 25 years. As I mentioned at the beginning, this Interim Budget forms the basic foundation for the National Economic Policy, which is envisaged to be established through the 2023 Budget. 4.5 This Interim Budget speech, the IMF agreement and the Budget 2023 will set the framework for Economic Stabilization and Revival. Within it, we will set the Road Map.

4.6 Once the discussions with the IMF are concluded, I expect to provide the information on the same to the Parliament.

4.7 We briefly discussed the economic crisis,

President Ranil Wickremesinghe presents the Interim Budget to Parliament yesterday.

the cause of the economic crisis, the solution to the economic crisis and the method of solving the economic crisis. Now, I would like to present the Interim Budget and its proposals for your attention.

5. Macro-fiscal Framework

5.1 Our fiscal stabilization programme envisages government revenue increasing to around 15 percent of GDP by 2025 from the 8.2 percent of GDP as at end 2021.

5.2 The government is targeting a primary surplus more than 2 percent of GDP in 2025 and expects to improve upon this level thereafter.

5.3 We aim to reduce public sector debt from around 110 percent of GDP as at end 2021, to no more than 100 percent of GDP in the medium term.

5.4 It is expected that inflation will be brought back under control to a mid-single digit level in the medium term.

5.5 In line with this, interest rates are also expected to reach a moderate level gradually.

5.6 Once macroeconomic confidence is re-established and foreign exchange reserves are replenished through foreign financing, the adverse pressure on the exchange rate is also expected to abate.

5.7 With the implementation of a series of growth enhancing structural reforms, the medium-term economic growth is expected to return towards 5 percent.

6. Main items in the Interim Budget

6.1 The Interim Budget includes the provisions to accommodate the policy package introduced in January 2022, provisions for strengthening social safety net programmes, additional cost due to increased interest payments in 2022, receipts of foreign assistance through repurposed projects by the World Bank and the Asian Development Bank (ADB), and provisions for financing obtained through the Indian Line of Credit and increased cost of fertilizer subsidy, among others.

6.2 As I promised earlier, we have directed around Rs. 300 billion out of capital expenditure and less priority spending allocated in the original budget 2022 for above purposes, including the provision of relief to those who are affected by the economic crisis.

7. Revenue Proposals

7.1 A number of tax reforms pertaining to Income Tax, Value Added Tax (VAT), Telecommunication Levy and Betting and Gaming Levy have been already approved to be implemented. Some of these tax proposals have already been implemented.

7.2 In addition, the VAT rate will be increased to 15 percent from the current rate of 12 percent with effect from September 1, 2022.

7.3 Most revenue proposals introduced in May 2022 will be effective from October 1, 2022.

7.4 The implementation of these proposals will help increase the revenue. It will enable to gradually reduce the quantum of monetary financing for government expenditure.

7.5 The revenue from the above proposals is also included under the revenue estimates presented in the amendments to the 2021 Appropriation Act.

7.6 In addition, it is expected to present new revenue enhancing proposals aiming at Budget 2023.

8. Tax Administration

8.1 In our efforts to increase the revenue, tax administration must play a pivotal role in enhancing the tax collection efficiency, strengthening tax compliance and preventing tax avoidance.

8.2 In addition to the already existing requirements, I propose to introduce compulsory tax registration for all residents who are above 18 years of age without considering their annual income and tax-free thresholds.

8.3 The government is committed to implement the recommendations in the Final Report of the "Presidential Commission of Inquiry into Sri Lanka Customs". This will strengthen corporate, administrative, and operational processes of Sri Lanka Customs to discharge its responsibilities effectively and efficiently.

9. Non-Tax Revenue

9.1 Measures will be taken to enhance non-tax revenue, including royalties received for government assets. I also propose to take actions to attract foreign investors and/or technology holders to establish joint ventures with Sri Lankan partners for industrial investments with advanced technologies to ensure better utilization of our mineral resources and increase value addition without jeopardizing the interests of the national economy and the sustainable use of resources.

10. Expenditure Management

10.1 At present, measures are being taken to develop a more prudent and evidence-based prioritisation mechanism for capital expenditure projects. Funding will be channelled to priority sectors such as education, healthcare, public transport, public service digitisation, and social protection.

10.2 The effective expenditure management needs better and strong supervision as well. Hence, I propose to introduce required laws to establish a system like Inspector General (IG) in the USA, tasked with making sure government expenditure system is working well and in the way it is intended. The IG will be strongly empowered and will actively engage in protecting the integrity of the government by detecting and preventing fraud, waste, and abuse in government institutions.

10.3 A comprehensive study of movable and immovable properties, including government owned buildings, lands and vehicles will be conducted with a view to optimise the utilisation and to identify potential real estate for income generating activities.

10.4 Consolidation of identified Local Government Authorities

• There are 341 Local Government Authorities currently operating in the country consisting of 24 Municipal Councils, 41 Urban Councils and 276 Pradeshiya Sabhas. While there are local government authorities which have ample revenue streams, there are also local government authorities which do not have sufficient sources of revenue. Therefore, in order to provide a more efficient public service and to facilitate efficacies in administration, I propose to merge selected Pradeshiya Sabhas with a Municipal Council or an Urban Council adjacent to them. 22 Pradeshiya Sabhas have been selected for this programme as the initial step.

In order to making services to be efficient and easier to the public, all the local government authorities should arrange to offer online services to collect the related revenues without any delay. Accordingly, the online revenue collection programme should be implemented in all local government authorities before the end of 2022.

10.5 It is important to review the activities of the project offices and project units that have been established for various purposes as these involve significant number of staff and high amounts of payments. Hence, I propose to appoint a committee to review whether the intended purposes of such offices and units have been met and whether it is necessary to continue such entities and submit recommendations to the Cabinet of Ministers within a period of 3 months.

11. Public Sector Reforms

11.1 As a part of efficient expenditure management, I propose to rationalize the number of government employees. Already, we have allowed those who are willing to take no pay leave for 5 years or so and go abroad or engage in educational activities in the country.

11.2 It has been observed that there has been increasing unrest among unemployed youth as the government had decided to raise the mandatory retirement age of public sector employees to 65 years and that of semi-governmental employees to 62 years. Besides, it has also been reported that the increase in the retirement age has restricted the promotional opportunities available for many public sector and semi-governmental employees.

• Accordingly, it is proposed to reduce the retirement age of public sector and semi-governmental employees to 60 years. Those who have been employed beyond 60 years of age at present in the government and semi government sectors will be retired as of 31.12.2022.

11.3 The Director General of Management Services will be tasked to conduct a work study covering the entire public service for the purpose of optimally obtaining services of the primary level employees in the government entities and to submit the report to the Cabinet of Ministers within three months.

11.4 The purchase of fossil fuel-based vehicles for public sector will be suspended from hereafter as a government policy.

• As per this policy, only electric-powered vehicles will be purchased for the use of the public sector in the future and the private sector will also be encouraged to use electric vehicles.

• In purchasing vehicles for the public sector, suitable categories of vehicles are decided on the basis of the efficiency and prices of the vehicles. This proposal will be implemented step by step and will be completed by January 1, 2026.

12. National Security - 2030

12.1 As a geo-politically important country, Sri Lanka should work with everyone and design our defence policies accordingly to face the emerging realities.

12.2 Hence, I propose to have a review on our defence strategy called "National Security - 2030" to achieve these objectives and to develop capabilities and knowledge of our security forces that would be required in the modern and evolving world.

13. State Owned Enterprises

13.1 Another critical area of reform is the management of state-owned enterprises (SOEs). The major fiscal risks arise from a few key SOEs, particularly in the transportation (SriLankan Airlines) and energy sector (CEB and CPC). These entities face significant losses, negative equity (SLA/CPC), and large volumes of debt that is predominantly owed to the state banks, creating significant financial sector risk.

13.2 Some of the state-owned enterprises have been making losses on continuous basis due to issues of structural nature existed for some time. As these losses cannot be met endlessly from the General Treasury, attention should be paid to find alternative mechanism make them effective. Accordingly, it is proposed to establish the "State-Owned Enterprise Restructuring Unit" to facilitate restructuring of government owned business entities. I propose to allocate Rs. 200 million to implement this proposal.

13.3 In addition, I propose to re-activate the Statement of Corporate Intent (SCI) process for key 50 SOEs, excluding CEB, CPC and Sri Lankan Airlines, as they are under different efforts to restructure, to closely monitor the set targets.

13.4 These difficult but necessary measures pertaining to SOEs will no doubt be challenging to address, but failing to do so would create catastrophic risks, particularly for financial sector stability, and will entail even higher taxation burdens on the public in the future.

14. Fiscal legislative/oversight framework

14.1 The fiscal reforms that have been set out are not alien to us. These issues have long been recognized and until 2019, Sri Lanka was embarking on a path of fiscal stabilisation where many of these reforms were put in place. Unfortunately, these reforms were rolled back, putting the economy on a downward spiral to where we are today. We don't have any alternative. We must undertake these reforms for the benefit of the future and the betterment of the presently young people.

14.2 Therefore, it is essential that whatever reforms we put in place today are shielded from myopic and stubborn decision making that derails the economic recovery that we all hope to see. Towards this end, we will introduce new legislation under a Public Finance Management Act (PFM Act) that will include stronger Fiscal Rules.

14.3 A "Parliamentary Committee on Ways and Means" will be established to closely deal with issues and make proposals in raising government revenue.

15. Disposal of scrap materials accumulated in public sector institutions

• It is found that a large amount of scrap material are piled up in many government institutions due to non-removal/disposal of the same for a long time. Besides, the government is losing a lot of revenue that could be obtained by selling the scrap material.

• Accordingly, a committee consisting of three government officials including Comptroller General of the General Treasury, will be appointed to supervise and implement the entire process of the disposal of scrap.

16. Establishment of a National Debt Management Agency (NDMA)

• The government debt management related activities are carried out by the Central Bank of Sri Lanka, External Resources Department, National Budget Department and the Treasury Operations Department at present. As it is important to pay special attention to the management of public debt, an independent National Debt Management Agency (NDMA) will be set up under the General Treasury in lieu of current arrangement in this respect.

17. Establishment of National Agency for Public Private Partnership (NAPPP)

• A national agency will be established for the purpose of identifying and facilitating investment to be undertaken in partnership with the public and private sector. I propose to allocate Rs. 250 million for the implementation of this proposal.

18. Monetary and financial sector

18.1 The new Central Bank Act will be implemented as a key legislation to strengthen the monetary sector in the country. This legislation would provide the framework for effective implementation of inflation targeting and prevent monetary financing of the budget deficit - what is commonly known as money printing.

• The new law insulates the Central Bank of Sri Lanka from politicisation of monetary policy decisions.

• Given the weak government revenue and lack of net foreign financing of the budget, it is inevitable that a limited level of monetary financing would continue until tax policy measures help improve the government cash flow and the IMF programme unlocks foreign financing for the budget.

18.2 Allotment of 20 percent shareholding in state banks to the depositors and staff of those banks

• In order to meet recapitalization requirement borne out due to increase in interest rates, rising NPLs, loan settlement issues faced by businesses due to economic crisis, and liquidity issues faced by the state banks, it is proposed to allow 20 percent of shareholding of the Bank of Ceylon and People's Bank by their depositors and staff.

• It is noted that government's ability to provide additional capital at this stage to the state banks is very limited given the lack of fiscal space.

19. Social welfare

19.1 The Welfare Benefits Act became law in 2002, but it has not properly implemented thus far. The Welfare Benefits Board has now been activated and the data collection to establish the database or the social registry is progressing. A new mechanism for identifying beneficiaries through objective and verifiable criteria has also been established. It will ensure that transparent laws and systems are in place. With the completion of this work, the welfare programmes will be better targeted and cash transfers will be made directly to bank accounts of beneficiaries.

19.2 I am well aware of the difficulties faced by many due to the ongoing crisis. That's why I decided to cut some of the capital expenditure and find room to provide enhanced support for vulnerable communities.

19.3 As you are aware, the government spent additional amount of about Rs. 31,000 million approximately from May to July 2022 to provide an additional monthly allowance as urgent assistance to those who have affected due to loss of employment, decline in agriculture output and inability to cultivate due to many reasons.

• I propose to continue this programme for further four months to reduce the pressure of the economic crisis on the affected people mentioned above.

• I also propose to provide additional monthly allowance of Rs. 2,500 for pregnant mothers in addition to Rs. 20,000 already provided for them.

President Ranil Wickremesinghe presents the Interim Budget to Parliament yesterday.

It has been reported that there are about 61,000 food insecure families, which need urgent assistance. I will provide Rs. 10,000 per family for a period of further four months.

19.4 For all the above programmes, I will allocate Rs.46,600 million for a period of 4 months.

19.5 The recent increase in the kerosene prices has created difficulties for the owners of small boats which are used for fishing industry and for those who in the plantation areas that has no electricity services. I will provide a subsidy for these areas.

19.6 Rs. 133 billion has been allocated under the World Bank loan assistance for the implementation of programs with the view of reducing the impact of the current economic crisis and restoring social stability.

Accordingly, I have obtained approval through the Supplementary Estimate presented to Parliament before presenting this budget to provide immediate relief to around 3.2 million people affected by the current economic situation.

Under this, monthly Samurdhi allowance has been increased to an amount ranging between Rs. 5,000 to Rs. 7,500 per month for approximately 1.7 million currently Samurdhi receiving families. Apart from that, an assistance of Rs. 5,000 was provided per month temporarily to around 726,000 families who were in the waiting list for expecting Samurdhi benefits.

Also, the allowance paid for the elderly, disabled, and kidney patients was increased to an amount ranging between Rs. 5,000 to Rs. 7,500. Further, the temporary assistance of Rs. 5,000 was arranged for the people who are in the waiting lists in anticipation of receiving this assistance.

In addition to the above concessions provided under this project, US dollars 110 million (Rs. 40 billion) has been allocated for the import of Urea required for paddy cultivation in the 2022/2023 "Maha" season, and fertilizer procurement is already underway. I believe that this will enable the paddy farmers to get a good harvest in the coming season and thus will be able to get rice at a reasonable price for the rice consumers.

Further, under this loan facility, domestic cooking gas was imported and distributed in the country during a short time duration to overcome the domestic gas shortage that had arisen in the country due to the current shortage of foreign exchange. Also, we are working to meet the domestic gas requirement without shortage in the future as well. It is intended to spend about US dollars 70 million (Rs. 25 billion) from this loan assistance for that.

That is in addition to the concessions mentioned in Section 19.3 above.

20. Introduction of new laws/revision of laws

In order to stabilize the economy and facilitate the growth process, it is proposed to make appropriate revisions and introduce new laws to make reforms expeditiously in a short period of time as given below.

(a) New Laws

- i. Food Security Bill
- ii. Public Asset Management Bill
- iii. Economic Stabilisation Bill
- iv. Offshore Economic Management Bill
- v. Public Service Employment Bill
- vi. Public Finance Management Bill
- vii. The Recovery of Possession of the Premises Given on Lease (Special Provisions) Bill
- viii. Contributory National Pension Fund Bill
- ix. Agency for Overseas Sri Lankans Bill

(b). Revision of Laws

- i. Amendments to Agrarian Development Act
- ii. Amendments to Excise Ordinance
- iii. Amendments to Finance Act
- iv. Amendments to Foreign Exchange Act

20.2 We will discuss with all stakeholders to introduce a more realistic mechanism than Termination of Employment of Workman Act (TEWA) to handle employees who lose their jobs due to the crisis.

20.3 Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code of the United States and introduction of similar provisions to Sri Lanka

Chapter 11 of the US bankruptcy Code of the United States contains provisions on how to reorganize businesses in distress due to indebtedness. Bankruptcy alone is not a reason to close the business and there are ways to reorganize the business by restructuring the assets and liabilities and by getting rid of the indebtedness while staying alive in the business. New laws in similar lines should be enacted for Sri Lanka as well.

21. Agriculture

21.1 The number of paddy farmers with 2 hectares or less who are in repayment arrears of cultivation loans given by the state banks as of 31.05.2022 due to the decrease in harvest, lack of fertilizers, agro-chemicals and inputs, abandonment of cultivation, etc., was 28,259. Aimed at strengthening of the farmers and freeing them from debt burden, actions are being taken to write off the outstanding loan amounting to Rs. 688 million (excluding interest) which is currently in default to the state banks. The money to be writing off will be paid back to the respective banks in two years in a phased manner so as not to put added pressure on the cash flow of the General Treasury. Accordingly, the respective banks should arrange to write off the interest relating to such loans. I propose to allocate Rs. 350 million for the implementation of this proposal.

21.2 We must ensure that agriculture and entrepreneurship are fused together. We should make sure we understand problems and rethink to promote our agriculture. The youth are quick to adopt new technologies. They can use innovative tools and improve efficiency across the value chain. In this context, I propose to establish Youth Agriculture Companies and link them with 331 Divisional Federation of Youth Clubs to get maximum results. Rs. 250 million will be allocated for this proposal.

21.3 It is important to develop agriculture value chains as well. For this purpose, I propose to strengthen the Domestic Agriculture Development (DAD) Value Chain Programme. The DAD pilot phase (DAD PP) is being implemented by CBSL with its own funds (Rs. 1 billion) and it is expected to expand the program in 2023 with the assistance of the development partners, while encouraging the production for the overseas market.

21.4 There is a strong need to enhance domestic dairy production. Therefore, it is prudent to implement a National Programme with the support of all stakeholders through a project that will be funded by government or a development partner. Since the productivity in the highland climate is higher, the unutilized or low productivity lands of plantations could also be utilized for this project. I propose to allocate Rs. 200 million for this initially.

21.5 Since there is a shortage of seeds and planting material due to the decrease in the cultivated area and yield in the past, the Department of Agriculture and government farms should implement an urgent programme to supply the necessary seeds and planting material to the farmers. Accordingly, I propose to allocate Rs. 400 million to the Department of Agriculture to produce the necessary seeds and planting materials.

21.6 Utilizing unemployed youth for the productive use of the existing government lands

- With the aim of efficiently and productively using government land for agriculture and livestock under the strategy for encouraging export-oriented agriculture, the government lands will be used efficiently and unemployed youth will be directed for that purpose.
 - Accordingly, it is expected that 20 acres of land will be allotted to currently unemployed youth groups (groups of about 10 members) in the area where the identified lands are located for the purpose.
 - I propose to allocate Rs.50 million to implement this proposal.
- 21.7 I also propose to introduce a "National Food Security Programme" covering broad areas, including the enhancement of production, collection, storage, and distribution of food, as well as the provision of food to those who do not have the capacity, to ensure food security and implement the same as a national priority.
- 21.8 Revision of Agricultural Insurance Programme
- Although the farmers have actively contributed to the program by providing insurance premiums from the beginning of the implementation of the agricultural insurance program, it appears that the government currently bears all the funds related to this insurance.
 - Accordingly, it should be reviewed whether it is necessary to continue the present system or whether it is possible to provide the relevant facilities to the farmers under another convenient system.

22. Research and Development (R&D)

- Improving R&D is important to improve Sri Lanka's global competitive ranking in order to be successful.
- I propose Rs. 100 million to establish a mechanism to promote R&D and commercialize the same, particularly with the startup culture, with the assistance of local universities and technological institutes.

23. Promotion of local packaging products

- There is a need to reduce wastage of agricultural produce by way of improving the marketing and storage time. Therefore, food packaging industries using local raw materials should also be promoted to preservation and marketing of agricultural produce.
- Accordingly, 50 percent import duty concession is offered on import of advanced new technology equipment/accessories for food packaging. Apart from this, the Palmyra Development Board, National Design Center and Export Development Board should jointly introduce new packaging programme and contribute to the promotion of the export market through innovative packaging.
- I propose to allocate Rs. 250 million to implement this proposal.

24. Promotion of tourism industry

24.1 In order to attract more tourists from September this year, the Ministry of Tourism should organize special programmes with the support of the Tourist Board and other institutions related to the tourism industry. Here, it is necessary to target the cultural/religious events that are unique to different races to be held in Sri Lanka in the future. Considering the importance of this industry, by the end of 2023, the number of tourist arrivals per year should be increased to more than 25 lakhs as the target.

- In addition, special attention should be paid to attract high-end tourists.
- Also, a five-member committee, representing various sectors, should be appointed to present a report focusing on the identification of new places of tourist attractions and the improvement of related facilities and a report containing their recommendations to be presented in a month for onward actions. I propose to allocate Rs. 300 million to implement these proposals.

25. Facilities from the Climate Fund

25.1 As there is a trend of increasing accidents, disasters and property damage due to weather and climate related effects in Sri Lanka, suitable measures should be taken urgently to reduce the climate effects.

25.2 For that, the Ministry in charge of the subject of environment should prepare a suitable program and obtain necessary support from the Climate Fund and implement a mitigation program accordingly.

He was taking part in distributing 35 drinking water bowzers at a cost of Rs. 490 million to the local governments in seven Provinces, 15 districts - North, East, North Central, North West, Central, Uva and South at the Sri Lanka Administrative Institute, Colombo recently.

These bowzers were distributed to selected Pradeshiya Sabhas in the districts of Jaffna, Vavuniya, Mannar, Kilinochchi, Trincomalee, Batticaloa and Ampara.

He distributed water bowzers to the selected Pradeshiya Sabhas of Anuradhapura, Polonnaruwa, Puttalam, Kandy, Matale, Badulla, Moneragala and Hambantota as well.

Affairs, Provincial Councils and Local Government Minister also said that the civilization is built on water.

"Therefore, we have to prioritise food production and agriculture and implement the programme to create self-sufficient villages island-wide.

This programme will provide water tankers for local governments in remote areas where it is difficult to get drinking water.

These water bowzers will also be useful to carry drinking water to the respective local government areas in emergency situations and natural disasters.

The bowzers equipped with modern technology are a resource worth more than 500 million Rupees. I request all local government representatives to maintain and protect those resources to serve the people.

I am aware of the water problem in the Northern and Eastern Provinces.

I think that the efforts made today have helped provide solutions to the water problem of the people in these areas."

Ministers, Parliamentarians, Prime Minister's Secretary, Ministry of Public Administration, Home Affairs, Provincial Councils and Local Government Ministry Secretary, other officials and Pradeshiya Sabha Chairmen were present.

26. Expanding higher education opportunities

26.1 Many countries in the world have opened educational opportunities to foreign students in a manner to build their foreign reserves. In the South Asian region, Bangladesh, India and Nepal have already opened up their countries to foreign students to build up their foreign reserves. Accordingly, Sri Lanka also needs to encourage private investment to provide educational opportunities to foreign students.

• Hence, I propose to facilitate the establishment of branch campuses in Sri Lanka, particularly focusing on Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) subjects as well as finance, information technology and medicine. For this purpose, the government will provide all facilities through the Board of Investment (BOI) to establish such branch campuses as per the provision laid down in the Companies Act and Universities Act and other applicable legal provisions subject to amend them when and where necessary.

• The creation of space for private investment in higher education will free up government resources that will enable the state to ensure that free education is preserved and in fact expanded beyond present levels. Scholarships will also be provided to Sri Lankan students to study in these universities.

26.2 I also propose to open a branch campus of the Kotalawala Defence University (KDU) in Kurunegala.

27. Facilitating new jobs based on skills

27.1 In the Sri Lankan labor market, there are a large number of people who are employed without any previous training and are employed by getting skills through work.

27.2 There is a need to provide more training and qualification to this group, including relevant theoretical knowledge. Through this, the productivity of work will grow, and businesses will be able to gain a competitive position in the global context by having skilled staff. Also, the job seekers will be able to find more effective employment opportunities as well as foreign employment opportunities.

27.3 As a result of the negative impact of the COVID-19 pandemic and the economic recession, there are people who are losing their jobs, so there is a need to train them for new job opportunities. Support level staff working in free trade zone factories from rural areas tend to return to the countryside after working for about five years. Here, women often lose job opportunities and men are engaged in informal jobs.

27.4 Accordingly, it is necessary to provide further training to be able to get a new job based on the skills acquired in the jobs engaged in free trade zones.

27.5 Accordingly, it will be possible under this system to train and provide NVQ certificates from the selected vocational training institutes (Youth Corps, VTA, NAITA) and TVEC, which is the regulatory body in the vocational training sector.

27.6 I propose to allocate Rs. 200 million to implement this proposal.

28. Ensuring the employment security of the community engaged in micro-scale self-employment / livelihood occupations

28.1 Many people in the community living in urban and rural areas are engaged in micro-scale self-employment/livelihood occupations. By providing part-time or short-term formal training in technology and innovation for life occupations to this community, the productivity, safety and health of those jobs will increase, and the quality of products will also improve. For this purpose, it is proposed to establish a community unit in every Vocational Training Center operating under the government to empower the community and the technical services that are not available in the training center will be obtained from outside and training facilities will be provided to the community.

28.2 Accordingly, work is being done to provide formal training in food and beverage preparation, fish drying and vegetable dehydrating, sewing knitting, beeru weaving, brass industry and black smithing as livelihood around the training center, online self-employment based on the Gig economy and other life occupations. After the training, a certificate is also being provided.

28.3 After formal training, the currently engaged profession can be done effectively and efficiently, so food and other products can be provided in quality. Through that, it is possible to confirm their job security and improve their businesses.

28.4 I will allocate Rs. 200 million to implement this proposal.

29. Use of railway facilities for vegetable and fruit transportation to make the supply chain more efficient

29.1 The transport of vegetables, fruits, flowers and tea products from the upland areas to Colombo and urban areas is important to the farmer, the producer, the trading community as well as the consumer while preserving the freshness. Hence, it is necessary to encourage the transportation of these goods by railway. Through this, waste, delays and costs can be minimized and an additional revenue will come to the Sri Lanka Railways.

29.2 As a starting point, a train with relevant facilities should be deployed to transport vegetables, fruits and other products from Hali Ela Railway Station to Colombo Fort Railway Station. Cargo loading facilities should be improved in relevant railway stations for this purpose, a system should be implemented with the participation of cooperatives and private entrepreneurs to establish cargo collection centers and provide transport facilities from those centers to the respective railway stations.

29.3 Sri Lanka Railways should work to implement a suitable program to encourage wholesalers to transport goods from Colombo to Badulla.

29.4 I propose to allocate Rs. 200 million to implement this proposal.

30. Private investment to improve quality and efficiency of the railway

30.1 Since providing efficient and high-quality transport service to the people is a priority task of the government, it is expected that private sector investments will be used for the development of the railway transport service using the existing infrastructure under this program.

30.2 Accordingly, it is expected to develop the Kelani Valley train service as a pilot project. The selection of investor/s will be based on competitive bidding process.

31. Trade and investment

31.1 The government's macroeconomic reform programme will focus on re-engaging with the global economy to tap into regional and global value chains to enhance exports and export oriented FDI.

31.2 Accordingly, the government will gradually phase out the high trade barriers in the form of para-tariffs. This will be done in conjunction with a Trade Adjustment Programme to support industries and workers adversely affected by such tariff liberalization.

31.3 The government will provide renewed support to the National Export Strategy, a well thought out framework of export support that was developed through broad stakeholder consensus in 2018.

31.4 We will resume efforts towards engaging broader regional trade agreements in order to link into regional value chains which have been the driver of export growth in the South East Asian region in particular.

31.5 The Government will facilitate the expansion of renewable energy sources to enhance availability and reduce the cost of energy generation in Sri Lanka by allocation of necessary land and through the necessary operational restructuring of the CEB.

31.6 The government being the owner of around 80 percent of land will take measures to facilitate access to land with suitable utilities for domestic and foreign investment. We will implement a programme to award title deeds for lands previously handed over under numerous grants.

31.7 I also like to propose to establish an "Office for Overseas Sri Lankans", which will act as a central point of coordination to obtain the support of Sri Lankans who are living abroad to the country. This office will encompass various organisations of the Sri Lankans across the globe and focus mainly on attracting investments, promoting tourism and similar matters. In order to support this, an "Overseas Sri Lankans Fund" will also be established. It is expected to get the support of all Sinhala, Tamil, Muslim, Burgher and other Sri Lankans who live abroad for this programme.

32. Manufacture of electric bicycles

• Manufacturing of electric bicycles should be encouraged as a local industry with a view to reducing fossil fuel consumption.

• Therefore, tax concessions will be provided for imported accessories/parts required in the manufacture of electric bicycles locally with more than 50 percent value addition.

33. Strengthening governance and fighting corruption

• A comprehensive legal framework will be established to strengthen governance and fight corruption. This framework will strengthen the asset declaration system and increase independence of the Commission to Investigate Allegations of Bribery or Corruption. Further, I propose to promote technology infused systems to eliminate grounds for corruption and create transparency.

34. The End

34.1 We will prepare the foundation for the journey of creating a revitalized economy through these proposals. I would like to draw your attention to another particular issue.

34.2 As I have mentioned on several previous occasions, our aim is to create a surplus in the primary budget by the year 2025. Our effort is to stabilize the economic growth rate. Our aspiration is to establish a solid economic foundation by the year 2026. As at end 2021, public debt is about 110 percent of the Gross Domestic Product (GDP). Our target is to bring this down to less than 100 percent in the medium term.

34.3 If we build the nation and its populace based on the National Economic Policy, we would be able to become a fully developed country by the year 2048, when we celebrate the 100th anniversary of independence.

34.4 We can no longer be a nation dependent on loan assistance. We can also no longer be used as a tool of interference by other countries with strong economies. All of our collective vision should be to make our country strong and stable, in order to stand independently. We must strive to bring business entities of our country to a competitive level in the global market. We must pursue to capture a share of the global market on agricultural exports. We should seek to create a disciplined, knowledgeable society, that provides right opportunities to maintain social justice.

34.5 All this can be achieved, only if we work together in unity with common consent. I reiterate the invitation to all the parties represented in this Parliament to join an All-Party Government, since this unprecedented situation is the responsibility of us all, and therefore need to prioritize the necessities of the country and the nation.

34.6 Some parties say that they will not join an All-Party Government due to action by the Government which they cannot condone. Others express a reluctance to join due to their opposition to the policies. In this instance, I wish to emphasize that, I am not the person who decides the actions or policies of an All-Party Government. It is not an administration of a single person or a single party, and will be established according to the consent of all stakeholders of the government. Therefore, I reiterate that, if there are policies or practices which you do not condone, then you have the right and mandate to change them within an All-Party Government.

34.7 Therefore, I request all of you in this House and all the citizens of the country, to put aside your personal political goals and unite in the context of the national cause of rebuilding the country and the nation. If we all come together, we will be able to uplift our Motherland, and create a nation that competes and moves forward with the ever-changing world. If we miss these opportunities, we will be marginalized globally.

34.8 I would like to remind you, the line of the lyrics 'Aaji Thapara Lahila' written by Bandara Eheliyagoda for a tele-drama produced for the Mahapola Scholarship Fund.

'Apa pamanada ekathena kara kenne - Apa thanikara lokaya divayanne'

34.9 So, let's get together for the country, without spinning in one place anymore. Let's create a knowledgeable society with a strong economy that can run forward together with the world.

A study in resilience

That the COVID-19 Coronavirus pandemic or the prolonged teachers' strike did not have any impact on the progress in the education of our students speaks volumes for the perseverance and courage of the young against the heavy odds that stood in their way.

According to our main story yesterday, the release of the GCE Advanced Level (A/L) Examination results showed a marked increase in the success rate of both school students and private candidates who sat for the examination amidst the gloom of COVID, the teachers' strike and the lack of 'online' access for most rural students to help them prepare for the examination adequately (Television showed students in villages perched on trees to obtain 4G signals on their mobile phones).

This is confirmed by the number of students who obtained three 'A' passes which stood at nearly 10,000 (3.9 per cent of all those who sat for the exam) this time compared to 7,278 (2.9 per cent) last year. This is despite regular school closures and even when opened, classes were conducted in batches and fits and starts depending on health risks and other impediments such as transport and fuel problems.

According to Examinations Commissioner General L.M.D. Dharmasena, although there were various obstacles for school education this year, the results did not show any difference in student performance when compared to previous years' results. Accordingly, this year (2021) 63.53 per cent of students have qualified for university admission whereas this was 65.98 per cent in 2020.

True, our student population has shown keen enthusiasm in pursuing their studies whatever the obstacles but what does the future hold for them in terms of employment and job opportunities? Out of the 170,000 or so of those eligible to follow university education each year, there is room for only 41,000. This is a serious issue that begs for immediate Government attention given that job opportunities are extremely limited as a result of the economic downturn even in the private sector.

The situation is so bad that it is reported that as many as 600 graduates are working as labourers in various Government offices. What would be the fate of new graduates passing out? With the Government now slapping a ban on all State sector recruitment this avenue too is now off limits for prospective job seekers. There is a dire need for creating employment avenues to accommodate the youth who qualify but are unable to pursue university education. The ready solution would be to lay emphasis on vocational training and getting more youth involved in the IT sector that has a potential employment market.

Doubts have been expressed that even vocational training would be an exercise in futility given the paucity of economic activity and the collapse of commercial ventures due to the severe economic downturn. It is reported that thousands of workers engaged in the construction industry have been deprived of their livelihoods as a result of the Government halting all construction work in the public sector as a cost-cutting exercise.

The position is no better elsewhere with the astronomical cost of building materials stalling all construction work. With electricity tariffs and water bills raised by almost 90 per cent, there is no knowing when the boiling point would be reached given the drastic reduction in the purchasing power of even middle-income earners.

The plight of the unemployed and those thrown out of jobs could only be imagined. It is in this backdrop that the restoration of the free mid-day meal to all schoolchildren is a most welcome move given that children had borne the heaviest brunt of the crisis with the cheapest source of protein, the egg, now out of the reach of the poor.

Besides, Sri Lanka remains in the sixth slot out of countries with the highest malnutrition among children, according to UNICEF. The subject of resuming the free-midday meal to schoolchildren was broached in Parliament by Opposition Leader Sajith Premadasa whose father first implemented the scheme when he was President.

However, only the most deserving schools should be picked for the purpose. This way the really adversely affected children could be provided a wholesome meal on a regular basis. A proper census should be carried out to identify children who are malnourished and singled out for special treatment under the programme.

The move by the authorities to distribute stocks of dhal received from the USA and 10,000 metric tonnes of rice from China among the poor too should be expedited given the desperation of these souls which is given expression on TV almost daily.

At the time of writing this piece yesterday, President Ranil Wickremesinghe was presenting the Interim Budget to Parliament as Finance Minister. During his recent visit to the Anuradhapura Sacred City, meeting with a group of devotees who poured out their multitude of woes to him, the President vowed to offer them tangible relief in the Budget.

Hopefully, some positives have come out of the Budget that will make the people heave a huge sigh of relief, and signal a light at the end of the tunnel as far as the economy is concerned.

ANIMAL FARM AND MODERN WORKING CLASS TRAGEDY

RAJPAL ABEYNAYAKE

Imagine that George Orwell's Animal Farm was written today. The novel was an allegory of the Russian revolution and its betrayal. The animals rebel against the human owner Mr. Jones and though a takeover of the farm is made possible, there is a class of pigs that 'betray the rebellion' (... that's Stalin, if you must know.)

The book if written today would end up with a totally different script perhaps. Even if it's not set in Soviet Russia, working class movements have a right to succeed when the demands are just.

But if the upheaval is set in any number of countries, imagine how things would work out in the animal farm today. There would be the press that would sell the rebellion even before it gets off the ground.

Moreover, the political parties of the day have swayed over the 'pigs' in any event. Animal Farm would be more like a lesson in political skulduggery — on who is taking over the unions, who has more clout over unions in the Labour Party, or its equivalent in any country.

Today, there would not be any upheaval in the Animal Farm without the animals being sold on the idea that they can go thus far and no further. The animals are themselves convinced that they should be docile in the face of what's happening 'out there' where the fates of the people are being decided in Parliament, or some kind of equivalent assembly, depending on which country it is.

Today, there is great upheaval in parts of working class Europe for instance. The war in Ukraine has caused a major energy crunch. People are getting ready for winters, when some of the poorer among them would die because they would not have the fuel to heat their homes.

UNCONSCIONABLE

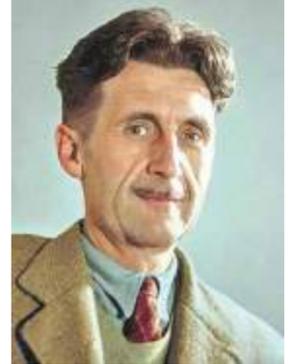

Of course working class movements — unions — are doing battle already. There was an article in a British newspaper stating that the UK is now close to being a failed state. Inflation is staggering, and amid all this the scarcity of fuel at affordable prices is making people want to brace for a winter that would surely be the biggest of their discontent.

But there is not much that's being written with hope about the working class rebellion. Unions are out in full force of course, but the Conservative party in the UK is choosing the next prime minister as if the economic crisis is unimportant, and at best a distant reality.

Animal Farm? There is an oppressor or a representative in every corner of the farmyard — and those unionists who fight are looked at as quaint people who are trying to do their bit, or to do the impossible.

The question has to be asked why there was such dependency on Russia oil and gas in the first place in most parts of Europe? Weren't these leaders warned that the Russian may pull that energy plug, in which case their attitude of waiting until the inevitable happened is unconscionable?

However, there is nothing by and large being stated by the unionists or the media about these missteps, and the union activity is by and large a sideshow. If a lot of people are going to suffer and some are going to die in the winter cold, it is as if the animals in the Animal Farm have been bracing for it apart from of course those on the frontlines of the labour movement, who are making what can sometimes thought to be the obligatory noises.

George Orwell

Today, there would not be any upheaval in the Animal Farm without the animals being sold on the idea that they can go thus far and no further. The animals are themselves convinced that they should be docile in the face of what's happening 'out there' where the fates of the people are being decided in Parliament, or some kind of equivalent assembly, depending on which country it is.

The leaders are all blaming Putin of course, and that may be convenient, but what was going to be done about the energy trap and the over dependence on Russian oil to begin with? That one is not on Putin, is it?

FOLLOWERS

Of course leaders are scrambling to put energy price caps in place and all that type of thing, but that would help if the fuel is there to burn in the first place. Already in France they are having cold showers and a cold shower in Paris, France, is not the same as a cold shower in Colombo, Sri Lanka.

Rather than having unionists — the Animal Farm — there are movements out there that are surreally, so credulity straining, to so much as behold. Canada is not a European country of course but the energy crisis is no less acute in that part of North America.

Instead of unionists however, there are populists that have suddenly emerged as potential saviours. There is a lady — her name is Romana Didulo — that's calling herself the Queen of Canada, for instance.

She is apparently a self-confessed follower of the QAnon movement which is a very large group of people, mostly internet-based, that believe in various outlandish theories. The 'Queen of Canada' so-called, is claiming that she is talking to Putin and recently she asked her followers to perform citizens' arrests by accosting and restraining policemen doing their regular duties in a Canadian city. Needless to say it did not end well for the protesters.

It's as if Animal Farm is repeating itself, first as tragedy and then as farce. The fact is that this self-proclaimed Queen of Canada is having tens of thousands of internet followers who are ready to hang on to every word that she utters. She is of course the head of a cult, and the followers are willing to do anything for her, some even to lay down their lives.

To say the least she is not doing much — anything really — to alleviate the suffering of the Canadian people, especially those who are poor and are hardly able to afford the rising energy costs to heat their homes etc.,

If George Orwell would have been around today he would have been quite bewildered, and one may wonder what he would write about because the concept of Animal Farm seems to be quite dated. Animal Farm perhaps would be an idea?

FRAMEWORK

The fact is that a lot of young people are wary of joining unions. They feel that they would be offending the employer for no reason. This would have been unthinkable in a different era, or in Orwell's era of the Animal Farm.

But it is part of the reality today. Of course there still are powerful worker unions in some parts of Europe, but they are not exactly recognized by the political leadership of their countries. For example even the UK's left leaning Labour Party leader is not quite warming up towards the unions in England, because he fears that he would be seen as an out on limb radical leftist, which is not good for his party's prospects at elections, because unionist left parties have been pretty much demonized in Britain for a long time now.

So what's going on in the world is very complex these days when it comes to relations between the labour force and Managements. Much of that relationship is informed by the politics of the day, which is rather right-wing and pro-industry these days. Which is why Animal Farm would never be written in the same way that it was written by Orwell in the 40s.

He would have to consider that some of the pigs on the farm scoff at equality because they feel that they are better off being unequal — or at least something on those lines. Of course Orwell was basically advocating against the Russian revolution, but then it could not be said that he is not pro-worker.

The workers of the world are huddled out there worrying over inflation and whether they are going to make it through a harsh winter, but they are also worried that if there is a leftist takeover it would be 'Animal Farm' once more — with the revolution being betrayed. It is because they have been there before, that they don't believe in an uprising, it is being said. The economy didn't prosper under Leftist Governments in the UK, and that history militates against any type of meaningful left-politics these days even within the union framework.

However, they say the coming crisis is far worse than most expected, and that the 'worm will turn' as far as unionized labour is concerned. Suffice to say, this writer is not betting the farm on it.

ECONOMIC DOWNTURN, A RESULT OF DECADES-LONG MISMANAGEMENT

LAHIRU FERNANDO

- Politicians definitely stole some of our money, but most of it went into our pocket
- Exports are bad as they take quality goods that we can consume away

The question 'Did politicians steal our money?' has not been answered properly for decades apart from numerous arguments and criticisms between and against individuals. Even the politicians have failed to prove their guilt or innocence against this accusation. Instead, they have been pointing finger at each other claiming their rivalry faction is responsible for the country's economic downfall. The wrong economic policies of the elected Governments, misuse of state funds and the dependent population are always blamed for being the major factors that prevent Sri Lanka from achieving success. But, the main question still remains unanswered. Did politicians actually steal all our money?

While the most popular notion being that "Yes they did", an internationally renowned expert in public and private capital markets opined differently. Deshan Pushparajah, the Managing Director of Global Markets and Investment Banking is of the view that not the politicians who stole most of our money but, actually us, the citizens.

Following are the words by Pushparajah who commented on this question. He was delivering the keynote speech at the first physical session organised by the 'Liberal Youth Movement' at the Sri Lanka Foundation Institute recently.

According to him, although the decisions made during the past two years worsened the situation of our economy, the crisis we are facing today is a result of the decades-long mismanagement of the country's economy. The crisis did not happen overnight.

He pointed out four main areas out of many, due to which the present economic crisis occurred. They are namely the 'Welfare state with a capitalist tax policy', 'Money printing by the Central Bank', 'The 'Make in Sri Lanka' mafia preventing structural reforms' and the 'Price controls'.

● Welfare State with a Capitalist Tax Policy

Sri Lanka has not balanced its budget at least once in the last 50 years. It always had a budget deficit. The only time a Government made any meaningful effort to try and balance the budget was in 2017 and 2018. In the larger welfare economies of the world, the tax revenue remains 20 to 40 per cent of their Gross Domestic Product (GDP) while the Sri Lanka's situation is totally different. Sri Lanka has maintained the tax revenue at an average of 12 to 13 per cent throughout the past 50 years. The tax cuts imposed in late 2019 reduced the number of taxpayers from 1.7 Mn to 1.1 Mn thus bringing the tax revenue further down below eight per cent. On one hand we continue to reduce our tax income and on the other hand we have continued to increase the size of our public sector and subsidies etc.

The revenue in 2021 after the tax cuts was not enough to cover even our loan expenses. People believe that they have earned money fair and square. It is probably true. But, the Government has been borrowing and paying this money to you. We feel like the politicians have stolen from us. But, the reality is we had not paid enough taxes for the Government to afford everything provided to us. Most of the State Owned Enterprises (SOEs) also have been incurring losses mostly due to the subsidies and not the mismanagement. We are the beneficiaries of this subsidy. So where did the money go? It is exactly in to our pocket.

● Money Printing by Central Bank

When the Central Bank creates new money in the absence of an additional demand, it creates imbalances across the entire system. That additional money causes the inflation to go up, the interest rates to go down, the currency to depreciate and it creates asset bubble. Every time new money is created, some part of it has to go towards growth. If a country creates money more than the required amount, that extra money causes for these imbalances. When the inflation goes up and the currency depreciates, the price of assets goes up thus making the rich richer and the poor poorer. Then those who become poorer think the politicians have stolen their money. Sri Lanka has been printing money since its inception. But the extent of money that was printed in the last two years is actually unprecedented. It caused the current crisis.

● 'Make in Sri Lanka' Mafia

The 'exports are good and the imports are bad' is a widely held notion that everyone believes as correct. The exports, imports and trade deficit have nothing to do with the currency devaluation except for a very short term. Actually the times in which the trade deficit has narrowed are the exact same years in which the currency has been weak. This is the reality. The value of the currency is determined by nothing but the demand and supply for money. The concept that exports are good and beneficial to the country is not necessarily true. In fact, I would argue that exports are a bad thing. Because, exports takes away goods and services that the Sri Lankan population can consume. Also imports are good as they improve your life every time. If Sri Lanka liberalize the import of construction materials, it will probably reduce the cost of building a house by 20 to 30 per cent. This is the part that nobody talks about. We are allowing someone else to produce what they are good at while we are producing what we are good at is helpful for the economy. Import substitution reduces the quality of life and it is inefficient for the economy. Countries like Singapore and the UAE also do not manufacture much. So 'Make in Sri Lanka' in my view is a mafia. Through this the money goes into the pockets of a few businessmen while masses have suffered due to the low quality of life.

● Price Controls

We blame the Government every time the price of something goes up. Then the Government imposes price ceilings. That price ceilings create artificial shortages of goods thus paving the way for a black market. It also reduces the quality of available goods. We experienced this recently over fuel. People were blaming the three-wheeler drivers for selling fuel at black market. But, it happens naturally. The reality is the Government is just a participant in the market. It cannot provide everything. All it can do is to ensure that the market functions fairly. The Government can intervene if there are sudden surges by importing some goods. So the price ceiling and black market create environments in which a few people will benefit while the others will suffer. The only way to escape that is to allow the market to function freely. Accordingly, where did all the money go? In to the hands of a few black market merchants.

Deshan Pushparajah, Managing Director of Global Markets and Investment Banking

What Ensures Long Term Sustainable Growth for Sri Lanka?

What should we do to get out of this crisis? The answer for this question is the long term economic growth. What can we do to achieve long term economic growth?

I will answer this question with four solutions. They are, moving towards a sustainable balancing of the budget, imposing laws curtailing the ability of the Central Bank to print money under most circumstances, opening up the Economy with a structural adjustment programme to protect jobs and investing on imposing strict rule of law and creating a fair playing field for all.

Increasing Government revenue through taxes while limiting Government subsidies to revenue collected, the Government refraining from monopolizing the industries, implementing the Public Private Partnerships (PPP) for infrastructure projects and signing of trade agreements enabling Sri Lanka to become a hub for trade are some of the outstanding steps should be taken to under this process to bring sustainable economic growth for the country.

Excess of money printing has caused high inflation.

70TH ANNIVERSARY OF SRI LANKA-INDONESIA DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS

TOWARDS A STRONGER COMMUNITY IN THE ASIA PACIFIC REGION

The Lakshman Kadrigamar Institute for International Relations and strategic studies (LKI) in collaboration with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Sri Lanka was the host to commemorate the seven decades of friendly and mutually beneficial diplomatic relations between Sri Lanka and Indonesia.

This event brought together many experts, practitioners, diplomats, members of the LKI Board of Directors and other stakeholders. It was a joint effort between the LKI, the Foreign Ministry of Sri Lanka and the Embassy of the Republic of Indonesia in Sri Lanka.

Dr. Dayantha Laksiri Mendis, Executive Director of the LKI welcomed Their Excellencies, Diplomats and distinguished invitees and highlighted some of the salient points relating to the past relations between Indonesia and Sri Lanka at bilateral and multilateral levels.

Indonesia and Sri Lanka have many things in common, both being ruled by the Kingdom of the Netherlands. Indonesian Malays have come to Ceylon (as she was called then) as soldiers and workers and served Sri Lanka in an exemplary manner in the Armed Forces, Police, legal and other professions.

Since achieving Independence from British and Dutch colonial rule respectively, Sri Lanka and Indonesia as Independent countries have maintained very friendly diplomatic relations. While formal diplomatic relations date back to August 6, 1952, there have been links dating back to pre-colonial times, notably between the Sinhalese kingdom and the Sri Vijaya Empire, both being Buddhist kingdoms.

Indonesia and Sri Lanka are countries in the Indian Ocean. They encounter problems and challenges related to maritime security, the delimitation of maritime boundaries, and competition over economically significant fisheries resources and offshore oil and gas deposits.

It is important to state that Indonesia is a member of the United Nations Security Council and the Chair of the G.20 Nations. Indonesia is the largest economy of ASEAN with a GDP of over US$ 1 trillion; and culturally being the world's largest Muslim nation with a population of 272 million, yet being a voice of moderation within the grouping, exemplified by being represented by an accomplished Lady Foreign Minister and a Lady Ambassador in Sri Lanka.

Speaking from Jakarta, Her Excellency Retno L. P. Marsudi, the Indonesian Foreign Minister expressed the following points. She lauded the friendship between the two countries stressing the high level of co-operation. Indonesia has helped to ease the burden of the people of Sri Lanka by the provision of medicine at the present juncture.

The Indonesian Foreign Minister also supported for a greater effort in fostering South-South co-operation where both Indonesia and Sri Lanka would advance the interests of the developing countries. She reflected on past relations within the Non Aligned Movement. She also reflected on the 1955 Bandung Conference where Indonesia and Sri Lanka initiated the Asia-Africa Solidarity. It must be said that Bandung collaboration helped the decolonization process and established the spirit of multilateral inclusiveness.

Dewi Gustina Tobing, Ambassador of Indonesia to Sri Lanka and the Maldives addressing the seminar. Also present were Dr. Dayantha Laksiri Mendis, Executive Director/ LKI and Prof. Chaminda Padmakumara / Head of the Department of International Relations, University of Colombo.

Minister of Foreign Affairs M.U.M Ali Sabry, PC was the next speaker. Citing the past relations between the two countries notably their strong co-operation at the Bandung Conference of 1955 the Minister stated, "that the Bandung Movement gave inspiration to the birth of the Non Aligned Movement ...contributed to forge a strong pillar between Sri Lanka and Indonesia where we share global priorities in the international arena on socio-economic development and International relations".

He added that we continue to work closely in multilateral fora including membership of the United Nations and our relationship has evolved through our work at IORA, Colombo Process, Bali Process, Asia Co-operation Dialogue and Asian Regional Forum, to build a stronger community in the Asia Pacific region.

The other Indonesian Speaker Dewi Gustina Tobing also covered extensively the ties between the two countries. She said that many Malay Sri Lankans of Indonesian origin settled in Colombo, Galle, Trincomalee and Jaffna to form vibrant communities. They introduced the sarong and batik to the island. There are also places with the same name found in both countries, including Jawatta and Ja-Ela. This exchange of people, ideas, and customs provided a strong foundation for the expansion of relations in the future.

Aruni Wijawardena, Secretary to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Sri Lanka was the final speaker. She described the relations between Sri Lanka and Indonesia as multi-faceted covering among other areas, defence co-operation, collaboration in fighting narcotics smuggling and combating terrorism and co-operation in education.

The foreign Secretary also covered engagements by the Parliaments of both countries as well as people to people contacts. She said that efforts are being made to develop further the economic exchanges between the two countries. Hence a joint working group has been established to expand relations in the field of trade and investment. Two meetings have been held so far in that connection. She also said that a preferential trade agreement is under discussion.

A seminar followed the opening session. The panelists were Her Excellency Dewi Tobing, the Indonesian Ambassador to Sri Lanka and the Maldives, Yasoja Gunasekera, Ambassador of Sri Lanka to Indonesia, Prof. Kushnanto Anggoro, Executive Director of the Center for Geopolitical Risk Assessment of the University of Indonesia, Jakarta and Prof. Chaminda Padmakumara, Head of Department of International Relations, University of Colombo.

Dr. Dayantha Laksiri Mendis, Executive Director of the LKI was the moderator of this interactive seminar. He said that deliberations need to cover past relations between Sri Lanka and Indonesia; Future economic relations; challenges faced by both countries; enhancing people to people connectivity and respect for international norms and standards.

Dewi Tobing, the Indonesian Ambassador to Sri Lanka and the Maldives opened the discussion at the Seminar and outlined exhaustively the economic relations between the two countries. Ambassador of Sri Lanka to Indonesia, Yasoja Gunasekera said that Sri Lankan companies have invested a total around USD750 million in Indonesia in diverse sectors including shipping, oil and apparel. Likewise, four Indonesian companies are engaged in the manufacture of apparel and the provision of tourism related services under the BOI framework.

Among the panelists, Prof. Kushnanto Anggoro described the Indonesian "Mandala concept" in international relations. This concept was influenced by South Asian strategic thinking and aimed at building strong ties with many countries. He said that in terms of Indonesian strategic thinking, Sri Lanka represents a geopolitical lynchpin state between SAARC and ASEAN.

An important element of the Mandala strategy rests on the promotion of a "non-provocative defence" policy. Whilst this strategy has stood the test of time, Prof. Anggoro stated that currently the changes in global geopolitics and growing importance of new dimensions such as digital space, would serve as a test for the effectiveness of the Mandala strategy.

Prof. Chaminda Padmakumara addressed the audience on the importance of geo-politics and geo-economics of the region. He said that Indonesia and Sri Lanka have enjoyed excellent relations for the last 70 years. The ability to maintain strong neutrality in the face of constantly changing balances of power will be a challenge for the two countries.

Perhaps in the future, economic ties will form the basis of the relations between Sri Lanka and Indonesia as there are many opportunities that can be explored.

It is therefore important for the LKI to build on the goodwill that has been established over the years and help in the formulation of strategies to take these relations forward.

Bangladesh to import rice from Vietnam and India to replenish reserves

BANGLADESH: Bangladesh is finalizing deals with Vietnam and India to import a total of 330,000 tons of rice as it races to replenish reserves and cool domestic prices, two officials with direct knowledge of the matter said on Monday.

Soaring prices of the staple grain for the country's 165 million people pose a problem for the government, which plans to expand cut-price rice sales to help people hard-hit by high costs.

The south Asian country will buy 100,000 tons of parboiled rice from an Indian public sector firm and 200,000 tons of parboiled rice and 30,000 tons of white rice from Vietnam, the government officials said.

The Bangladesh Government is also holding talks with Myanmar to import rice, the officials said, putting aside a rift over the Rohingya refugee crisis.

Bangladesh this week slashed import duty on rice to 15 percent from 25 percent, cutting it for the second time since July in a bid to boost private imports.

Bangladeshi farmers harvest rice on the outskirts of Dhaka.

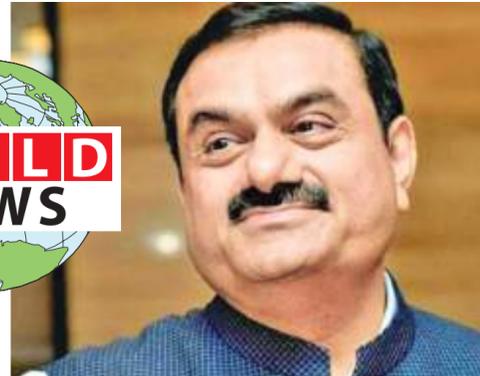

Its private rice import plan, however, faces a setback with only 36,000 tons bought since July, after the government allowed private traders to import nearly 1 million tons of the staple grain after slashing duty to 25.0 percent from 62.5 percent.

The Government will begin selling rice at a cheaper rate for 5 million poor families and expand such sales from September, in an effort to rein in surging domestic prices, which saw yet another uptick after it hiked domestic oil prices early this month.

Bangladesh, traditionally the world's third-biggest rice producer with around 35 million tons annually, uses almost all its production to feed its people. It still often requires imports to cope with shortages caused by floods or droughts.

Iraqi protesters storm Presidential Palace and take dip in swimming pool

Protesters loyal to Iraqi cleric Moqtada al-Sadr swimming in the palace's pool, some holding up a picture of al-Sadr.

IRAQ: At least 23 people have been killed in clashes between Iraqi security forces and supporters of a powerful Shia cleric in the capital, Baghdad.

Officials say dozens more were injured after protesters loyal to Moqtada al-Sadr stormed the Presidential Palace.

The violence began after Sadr announced his retirement from politics. During Monday's protests, hundreds of people pulled down cement barriers outside the government palace, breached its defences and many of them rushed into the building's marbled halls.

Pictures showed dozens of protesters swimming in the palace's pool, with some holding up a picture of Mr al-Sadr.

The military called on the cleric's supporters to withdraw immediately from the heavily fortified government zone "to prevent clashes or the spilling of Iraqi blood", according to a statement.

Iraq's government has been deadlocked since Mr al-Sadr's party won the largest share of seats in parliamentary elections in October, but not enough to secure a majority government.

Floods inflict US$ 10 billion loss

PAKISTAN: Millions of Pakistanis have been badly affected due to the unprecedented floods, the worst in a decade.

A third of Pakistan is under water as a result of flooding caused by record monsoon rains, Climate Change Minister Sherry Rehman said, calling it a 'crisis of unimaginable proportions'. The Minister termed the situation as 'monster monsoon of the decade'.

At least 1,136 have been killed due to floods and another 1,634 injured, according to the latest data issued by the National Disaster Management Authority, the chief national body tasked to deal with calamities, news agency PTI reported. Meanwhile, the devastating flash floods in Pakistan have inflicted a loss of at least US$10 billion on different sectors of the country's struggling economy, according to Minister for Finance Miftah Ismail.

"Around 949,858 houses have been partially or fully destroyed in the calamity, rendering millions of people homeless in the country," the National Disaster Management Authority (NDMA) said in its latest

Sindh Province remained the worst-hit area during the ongoing monsoon, where 347 people were killed and 1,009 others were injured in various accidents. About 3,451 km of roads, 149 bridges, and 170 shops were swept away by flash floods across the country. An estimated 719,558 livestock perished in the rains across the country.

NASA postpones debut Artemis test flight of new moon rocket after engine snag

US: An engine problem forced NASA on Monday to postpone for at least four days the debut launch of the colossal rocketship it hopes will one day fly astronauts back to the moon, more than a half-century after Apollo's last lunar mission. The US space agency cited a problem on one of the Space Launch System (SLS) rocket's main engines, as launch teams began a test that would have cooled the engines for liftoff. One of them would not cool as expected.

The delay was called two minutes after the targeted launch time, as the 32-story-tall, rocket and its Orion capsule awaited liftoff from the Kennedy Space Centre in Cape Canaveral, Florida.

The mission, dubbed Artemis I, calls for a six-week, uncrewed test flight of Orion around the moon and back to Earth for a splashdown in the Pacific.

NASA did not give a new launch date for the two-stage rocket but said its first available opportunity was Friday, September 2. The SLS-Orion rocket's first journey will mark the kickoff of NASA's highly vaunted moon-to-Mars Artemis program, the successor to the Apollo lunar missions of the 1960s and '70s.

The voyage is intended to put the 5.75-million-pound (2,608 metric tonnes) vehicle through its paces in a rigorous demonstration flight, pushing its design limits, before NASA deems it reliable enough to carry astronauts in a subsequent flight targeted for 2024.

If the first two Artemis missions succeed, NASA is aiming to land astronauts back on the moon, including the first woman to set foot on the lunar surface, as early as 2025, though many experts believe that time frame is likely to slip by a few years. - THE MALAY MAIL

Chris Rock declines offer to host 2023 Oscars after Will Smith slap

US: Comedian Chris Rock has reportedly declined an offer to host the Oscars next year after he was slapped by actor Will Smith during this year's award ceremony back in March.

As per Arizona Republic, during a comedy set at the Arizona Financial Theatre in Phoenix, Arizona, on Sunday, Chris compared going back to the Oscars to returning to the scene of a crime, People reported.

Chris said that Smith's slap itself hurt referencing the actor's turn as Muhammed Ali in the 2001 movie Ali, and explaining, "He's bigger than me. The state of Nevada would not sanction a fight between me and Will Smith."

Chris further stated he also turned down the opportunity to appear in a Super Bowl ad following the slapping incident. While presenting the best documentary feature award at the 2022 Oscars, comedian Chris made a joke about Smith's wife Jada Pinkett Smith's shaved head. Chris said he couldn't wait to see Pinkett Smith, who has alopecia areata, star in 'G.I. Jane 2' which led Smith to go up on stage and slap Chris.

While accepting his first-ever Oscar for best actor (leading role) in 'King Richard', Smith apologised to the Academy and fellow nominees but did not mention Chris.

However, after receiving backlash for his disorderly behaviour, Smith issued an apology to Chris Rock and Academy on his social media handle. The Academy has banned Smith from its membership for 10 years because of the slap.

The 2022 Oscars turned out to be more eventful than expected thanks to the incident in which Will Smith slapped Chris Rock.

'Zombie ice' from Greenland will raise sea level by 10 inches

An iceberg calving from the Apusiaajik Glacier in southeastern Greenland.

GREENLAND: Zombie ice from the massive Greenland ice sheet will eventually raise global sea level by at least 10 inches on its own, according to a study released Monday.

Zombie or doomed ice is ice that is still attached to thicker areas of ice, but is no longer getting fed by those larger glaciers. That's because the parent glaciers are getting less replenishing snow. Meanwhile the doomed ice is melting from climate change, said study co-author William Colgan, a glaciologist at the Geological Survey of Denmark and Greenland.

"It's dead ice. It's just going to melt and disappear from the ice sheet," Colgan said in an interview. "This ice has been consigned to the ocean, regardless of what climate (emissions) scenario we take now."

Study lead author Jason Box, a glaciologist at the Greenland survey, said it is "more like one foot in the grave."

The unavoidable ten inches in the study is more than twice as much sea level rise as scientists had previously expected from the melting of Greenland's ice sheet. The study in the journal Nature Climate Change said it could reach as much as 30 inches. By contrast, last year's Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change report projected a range of 2 to 5 inches for likely sea level rise from Greenland ice melt by the year 2100.

What scientists did for the study was look at the ice in balance. In perfect equilibrium, snowfall in the mountains in Greenland flows down and recharges and thickens the sides of glaciers, balancing out what's melting on the edges. But in the last few decades there's less replenishment and more melting, creating imbalance.

Study authors looked at the ratio of what's being added to what's being lost and calculated that 3.3% of Greenland's total ice volume will melt no matter what happens with the world cutting carbon pollution, Colgan said.

YAB DATO' SRI ISMAIL SABRI BIN YAAKOB
Prime Minister of Malaysia

YB DATO' SRI SAIFUDDIN ABDULLAH
Minister of Foreign Affairs of Malaysia

Ayubowan and Salam Sejahtera to my Sri Lankan friends and fellow Malaysians. This year's 65th Anniversary of Malaysia's Merdeka Day (Independence Day) celebrations have an added meaning namely, Sri Lanka and Malaysia also celebrate 65 years of the establishment of diplomatic relations between our countries.

This year's Merdeka Day celebrations will be extra special because finally Malaysians will be able to celebrate the National Day in pre-covid-19 style. Yes, the National Day parade will definitely be making a comeback. The theme for this year's National Day celebration is "Keluarga Malaysia Teguh Bersama" meaning the Malaysian Family will be Stronger Together. The covid-19 pandemic in the past two years showed us that multi-ethnic Malaysians came together and became stronger in overcoming the unprecedented health emergency that affected the entire world. Today with covid-19 pandemic mostly behind us, Malaysia continues to forge ahead with a fully recovered economy.

Diplomatic relations between Sri Lanka and Malaysia were established in 1957 the year of our independence. Sri Lanka was one of the first countries to establish a resident Diplomatic Mission in Malaysia. Over the years, relations between the two countries have grown exponentially covering a multitude of areas of mutual benefit. During the past 65 years, high level visits between the countries have contributed to the further strengthening of relations. The depth of relations between the two countries is amply demonstrated by the conclusion of a number of Bilateral Agreements and MOUs on a broad range of subjects. Both countries also enjoyed robust trade over the years. The covid-19 pandemic temporarily reduced bilateral trade in 2020. However, a year later in 2021, trade between Sri Lanka and Malaysia recorded an 18% increase to slightly over USD 800 million. Malaysia values Sri Lanka as an important trade partner in South Asia. Malaysia is also proud to continue to play an important role in investing in Sri Lanka especially in the telecommunications sector. Malaysia stands ready to assist Sri Lanka in diversifying its economy focusing on export.

This close bilateral cooperation which started in the 19th century during the colonial period saw an increasing number of Sri Lankans living and working in Peninsular Malaysia. Over the years these Sri Lankans have contributed immensely in the development of Malaysia. The people to people bond is stronger than ever especially during these challenging times. Malaysia's relationship with Sri Lanka is founded on deep people to people ties. This was clearly evident this year when Malaysians from all walks of life rallied to support Sri Lanka in its time of need. More than 6000 kg of medicine consignments have been donated by Malaysians to Sri Lanka this year in addition to foodstuff and other necessities. Malaysia is confident that Sri Lanka will be able to bounce back from this unprecedented economic crisis that has temporarily affected Sri Lanka. Looking forward, I am confident that the bilateral ties between Sri Lanka and Malaysia will continue to expand and strengthen for years to come bringing prosperity and advancement to the people of both our countries.

Thank you.
Happy Merdeka Day

28th Annual General Meeting of Sri Lanka - Malaysia Business Council

The Sri Lanka - Malaysia Business Council of the Ceylon Chamber of Commerce held its 28th Annual General Meeting on 18th August 2022 at Cinnamon Grand Colombo. His Excellency Dato' Tan Yang Thai, the High Commissioner of Malaysia in Sri Lanka graced the occasion as the Chief Guest. Khalid Farouk was re-elected as the new President of the Business Council for the year 2022/2023.

Welcoming distinguished guests and members, the President of SLMB, Khalid Farouk said; "COVID19 remained a continuing problem. The country began facing challenges with procuring necessities such as gas, fuel, medication, etc., as a result of a festering foreign exchange crisis exasperated by certain fiscal policies adopted by the Government. Lack of fuel, and the daily power cuts began to take its toll on businesses as well as on the general public. This series of events eventually led to the change in political scenario. It was against this backdrop that the Sri Lanka Malaysia Business Council had to attempt to carry forward its mandate.

When times get challenging, businesses that are resilient will be able to weather the storm and stand tall later. As mentioned last year, now is as good a time as any to look for opportunities. We should all rise up together to face these challenges and identify ways of fostering bilateral trade and commerce between Sri Lanka and Malaysia. I thank the outgoing Committee for their services this year and welcome the incoming Committee to their new roles." His Excellency Dato' Tan Yang Thai congratulated the newly appointed SLMB Executive committee and stated "I noticed that SLMB doing very hard despite challenging years since the Covid. Since then the unprecedented situation has been very tough and challenging. This year we are celebrating the 65th anniversary of bilateral relations between Malaysia and Sri Lanka. We have been very fortunate that the bilateral relationship between Sri Lanka and Malaysia has been very strong. Medicine donations of 6000kg to Sri Lanka from various organizations in Malaysia were carried by SriLankan airlines. Several charity & religious organizations in Malaysia also supported Sri Lanka. I myself have also been involved in helping to distribute these donations from Malaysian communities.

Having said that, since April 2022, things are gradually coming back to normal, especially in Malaysia, you don't need to do PCR tests when traveling to Malaysia as long as you can show the airlines that you have been fully vaccinated. And also there are no restrictions because of the new normal everybody should travel with caution and we have also seen an increase in visa issues for Sri Lankans to visit Malaysia. Just before the Covid 19 pandemic in 2019, we issued around 54,000 visas for the whole year. Past forward to 2021, we issued only 660 visas for the whole year. Before Covid, there were 5 flights flying to Malaysia per day. Today we have may be about seven or eight flights a week. Since things are coming back to normal, the Malaysian government has decided to reopen the visa centers. Jetwing Travels in Sri Lanka has been appointed as a visa center. We are opening visa centers in anticipation of increasing visas and easing visa applicants' issues. Visa centers would be able to provide justice to those issues.

I also noticed that there are quite a number of inquiries from Malaysia and Sri Lanka, regarding foreign workers. I have also met the Minister of Labour here in Sri Lanka and we are looking forward to renewing our bilateral agreement which was concluded in 2016. So again, we have to re-look at the MOU. We are not stopping anyone from going for employment or anything as long as they follow the procedures. Sri Lanka will bounce back against Bangladesh, says coach

reporting from Dubai

Sri Lanka cricket team at their practice session at the ICC Cricket Academy in Dubai yesterday to focus on Bangladesh match in the ongoing Asia Cup cricket tournament. They have good commitment while the supporting staff are busy with the players during the training.

Sri Lankan team head coach Chris Silverwood said that he is confident that the Sri Lankan team will come back strongly to win the Bangladesh game. I think first game against Afghanistan was an eye opener for the Sri Lanka team and we have to adjust to the conditions and come back strongly, said Silverwood.

Sri Lanka beat Bangladesh in the last Test series in Bangladesh while that was the first assignment of Chris Silverwood with his assistant coach Naveed Nawaz.

Sri Lanka team is a mix of experience and youth players. "I am sure senior players will guide the juniors and this T-20 format is very important and always make less mistakes during the 20 overs".

Sri Lankan team training at ICC Cricket Academy

Sri Lanka team had a decent run rate of 7.2 in the first six overs (power play) but lost three wickets during the period. Once again two run outs including dashing stroke player Bhanuka Rajapaksa directly affected the innings in the first game against Afghanistan. These are the areas to focus more at the second Bangladesh game.

Meanwhile the debutant Pakistan paceman 19 year old Naseem

Shah really bowled well at the India game and got two vital wickets to make good fight.

Sri Lanka also have inexperienced pacemen like Dilshan Madushanka and Matheesha Pathirana while Asitha Fernando who was the most successful bowler at the last Bangladesh Test series at Dhaka. Asitha Fernando also not got a chance to play T-20 international.

Meanwhile Sri Lanka team also expected to do their final training session today.

Meanwhile Sri Lankan former leg spinner Rangana Herath who is with the Bangladesh team as a spin bowling specialized coach also busy with their players. Herath has strong spinners with the team led by Sakib-Ul Hussain while Mehedi Hassen also a good youngster strengthen the spin department.

Bangladesh played their first Asia Cup match against Afghanistan yesterday at Sharjah Stadium.

Sri Lankan skipper Dasun Shanaka earlier said playing against Bangladesh easier than Afghanistan. However Bangladesh spinner Mehedi Hassen made a reply to Shanaka said we are not going to reply to him but will show them what we are capable of during the Sri Lanka match. This is highly circulated in the social media these days.

"Target to increase public revenue to 15% of GDP by 2025 from 8.2% is another priority," he said.

A new system will be established to better target welfare, funds sent directly to bank accounts. With regard to reforms the

People's Bank resilient amidst challenging circumstances

Reports PAT of Rs. 8.3 bn for six months period ended June 30

People's Bank yesterday announced the results for its six months period ended June 30, 2022 with total operating income rising by 54.9% to reach Rs 69.3 billion, whilst total operating expenses grew by 3.7% to LKR 20.8 billion reflecting sound cost control and efficiency improvements despite mounting inflationary pressures. Impairment charges rose by 319.9% to LKR 32.8 billion reflecting macro-economic stresses including those relating to its key customer segments. Pre-tax profit amounted to LKR 11.6 billion; representing a decline of 12.5% over the same period 2021.

Net interest income, which accounted for close to 75.0% of the Bank's top line, grew by 30.5% to reach LKR 51.7 billion reflecting both asset growth and

net interest margin improvements. Fee based income grew by 160.9% to reach LKR 9.8 billion; reflecting the Bank's ongoing efforts to also improve its other non funded sources of income. Chairman of People's Bank, Sujewa Rajapakse, stated that despite extraordinary challenges from a macro front, the Bank's results provide some insight into its capacity to navigate through these circumstances.

"Needless to say, similar to most others in the industry, limited access to foreign currency is its key source of distress. As a responsible bank with a broader national role - the Bank played a leading role post COVID 19 to support the Government and the country's internal eco system function without any interruption by facilitating, amongst other, bulk of the country's essential imports including petroleum products. To ease pressure from foreign currency front, several measures are currently being explored in coordination and support of its key stakeholders" TO PAGE 18

"India among top three economies of the world by 2047"

Lucknow (Uttar Pradesh) [India], August 26 (ANI): Union Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Friday asserted that India had made a strong recovery after the onslaught of the C-19 pandemic and was on course to become one of the three top global economies of the world by 2047.

"India is the fastest growing economy...A reshaped economic recovery is happening after the Covid-19 pandemic. By 2047, India will be among the top three economies of the world," Singh said at an event at the Lucknow University.

To achieve the goal to make India among the top three economies in the world by 2047, the Defence Minister said, all efforts are being made by the Central government.

"Prime Minister Narendra Modi's target is to set India among the top three economies of the world, and we (the Central government) have been taking each and every step to achieve the goal in this direction. Singh said India has achieved an export target of USD 418 billion this year. Singh said the world did not take India as seriously earlier. "Now, the credibility of India has increased."

"Earlier, India's stance on world affairs was not taken seriously. But today, India has reached a level where the world listens to us carefully," he said. "If someone tries to hurt India's honor, then we have the power to deal with it." he said. (www.aninews.in)

IMF approves $1.1bn bailout package for Pakistan

The IMF has approved the disbursement of more than $1.1bn to Pakistan, reviving a stalled $7bn assistance package expected to help stave off default despite a severe economic crunch and devastating floods.

The IMF's board in Washington authorized the expenditure after Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif's government introduced austerity measures, including sharply increasing domestic fuel prices.

"The formal resumption of an IMF program is a major step forward in our efforts to put Pakistan's economy back on track," Sharif wrote on Twitter. Antoinette Sayeh, deputy managing director and acting chair of the IMF's executive board, said maintaining the reform measures would be crucial.

"Steadfast implementation of corrective policies and reforms remains essential to regain macroeconomic stability, address imbalances and lay the foundation for inclusive and sustainable growth," she said, including strengthening governance at state-owned enterprises. But the unpopular austerity measures have proved politically perilous at a tumultuous time for the country of 220mn. Inflation has soared, with a basket of "sensitive" food and fuel prices last week rising 45 per cent from a year earlier. Flooding has killed more than 1,000, affected more than 30mn people and destroyed rice and cotton crops. The government hopes that financial assistance from the IMF, as well as China and Saudi Arabia, will buy time for inflation to ease ahead of polls, which must be held by the second half of next year.

"I could see why people would not be so enthusiastic but my take is this: if I'd let this country default - two or three months ago it would have defaulted - things would have been much worse," Miftah Ismail, Pakistan's finance minister, told the Financial Times in an interview. (www.ft.com)

Sri Lanka SDG Investor Map launched

The Government and UNDP in Sri Lanka yesterday launched the Sri Lanka SDG Investor Map (the Map), a market intelligence tool that seeks to direct private capital where Sri Lanka's Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) priorities, Government policy and market opportunity intersect, as the country seeks to rebuild its economy sustainably, using the SDG framework as its guide. The methodology for the Map was created by UNDP SDG Impact.

While Sri Lanka is pursuing an IMF program to stabilize its macro-economy and restructure its external debt, private capital, foreign direct investments, blended finance options and public-private partnerships, are all needed. At the event, UNDP called on the private sector to adopt the SDG Impact Standards, the independent and global management standards that guide businesses and investors in their decisions to optimize interrelated economic, social and environmental impacts. Speaking at the event, W.A. Sarath Kumara, Deputy Secretary Treasury, Ministry of Finance stated, "Sri Lanka's commitment to achieving the SDGs is explicit in our continued pursuit of national policies and development plans and programmes in alignment with SDGs over the years. Innovative financing mechanisms become imperative to synergize the government, private sector, and capital markets to generate the additional resources needed to finance the SDGs."

Hanaa Singer-Hamdy, Resident Coordinator, United Nations in Sri Lanka, said "a whole-of-society approach is needed to mitigate the immediate impacts of Sri Lanka's economic crisis and assure the country's long-term sustainable development."

The Sri Lanka SDG Investor Map offers a compelling pathway for private sector entities to increase the alignment of their investments with the SDGs."

Highlighting UNDP's role, Malin Herwig, Officer-In-Charge, UNDP in Sri Lanka commented, "The SDG Investor Map has provided us market intelligence on SDG aligned investment opportunities for Sri Lanka at this critical juncture. UNDP together with the Government of Sri Lanka, through the Map, calls for development partners, IFIs and private impact investors to come together to formulate financing solutions to contribute to the country's recovery and SDG acceleration."

A Fiscal Council for Sri Lanka:

Pathway to Regaining Fiscal Credibility

By Dr LAKMINI FERNANDO

Sri Lanka was once considered a development success story. But within the last few decades, this legacy was lost to governance failures and economic mismanagement.

In recent years, the country has been characterised by a glaring lack of fiscal discipline reflected in rising deficits, debt, inefficient state expenditure and an inability to raise sufficient revenue even to cover current spending. In this context, institutions have a major role in ensuring that governments do not fail. Effective institutions can (1) assure the provision of quality services which is essential for eradicating poverty and promoting shared prosperity; (2) guarantee high-quality public spending and minimise corruption; and (3) ensure that all citizens benefit from economic growth and that development is not lop-sided. With this understanding, this blog discusses how a Fiscal Council (FC) can help Sri Lanka regain fiscal credibility and improve its overall economic performance.

Sri Lanka's Fiscal Dilemmas

The Easter Sunday bomb attacks in April 2019 and the onset of the COVID-19 Pandemic in March 2020 worsened Sri Lanka's already precarious fiscal position. By 2021, government revenue had plummeted to 8.7% of GDP (from 17.2% in 2000), and Sri Lanka's fiscal deficit was 12.2% of

GDP (Figure 1). In 2021, the overall debt was 104.6% of GDP, while foreign debt was 38.6% of GDP (Figure 2). Since the 1980s, Sri Lanka's debt has been above the safe debt threshold of 65% of GDP for middle-income countries. Sri Lanka's macroeconomic projections consistently appeared too optimistic compared to the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and the Asian Development Bank (ADB) forecasts, with projections not shared or

Note: The middle-income country debt threshold of 65% of GDP is the author's calculation using the Global Debt Database of the IMF. Since the 1980s, Sri Lanka's debt has lied above this threshold.

Note: 3.7% growth is actual in 2021 CBSL and 2022 ADB.

The bottom line is that stabilising the Sri Lankan economy is impossible institutional mechanism to guide the fiscal policymaking process. Without such an institution, ensuring sound management of public finance is challenging.

FCs for Fiscal Discipline

There is growing interest in FCs, especially when recovering from the crisis. After the global financial crisis, FCs increased from 15 in 2009 to 49 in 2021. Although the EU economies are taking the lead in adopting FCs, (developing) economies outside the EU are joining this rapidly growing group in the recent past – such as Brazil, Colombia, Vietnam and Kenya (Table 1).

FCs are publicly funded institutions staffed with technically competent persons who can guide fiscal policymaking. FCs are established to achieve three main objectives: to strengthen sustainable finances, provide macroeconomic forecasts and engage independent stakeholders in policy development. The structure, resources and design of the FCs are crucial for success.

FCs follow three broad institutional models: (1) Stand-alone institutions originate from fiscal responsibility laws; (2) FCs under the executive or legislative branch of the political system are established as a part of parliament or a ministry; (3) FCs associated with other independent institutions like central banks, audit institutions and statistical agencies.

Well-designed FCs can promote stronger fiscal discipline. FCs that are poorly designed, inadequately resourced and do not focus on quantitative measures may not provide significant benefits. The effectiveness depends on legal and operational independence, the strength of monitoring quantitative budgetary targets, credibility in budgetary forecasts and independence in sharing policy reviews.

Regaining Sri Lanka's Fiscal Credibility

Institutional reforms are now widely recognised as necessary for restoring and sustaining fiscal discipline. FCs have a potentially more significant disciplining effect in developing economies with a relatively less-developed infrastructure of unofficial bodies. The creation of an FC enables the pooling of local expertise and access to financial and informational resources not otherwise available to unofficial bodies. An FC can help Sri Lanka to create sustainable public finance by improving the reliability of projected figures through a consistent macroeconomic framework. It can provide impartial government planning and expenditure scrutiny to the public and coordinate with national and sub-national bodies for efficient expenditure management.

Good fiscal institutions are a necessary condition for achieving disciplined fiscal performance. For instance, the delegation of macroeconomic forecasting by an independent body reduces forecasting bias. There are successful FCs in several Caribbean and small island developing nations, including the Bahamas and Grenada. In 2018, Jamaica's intention to establish an independent FC helped improve fiscal sustainability perceptions. Therefore, establishing an FC must be supported through a strong and sustained political commitment for a country like Sri Lanka, where institutions are much weaker.

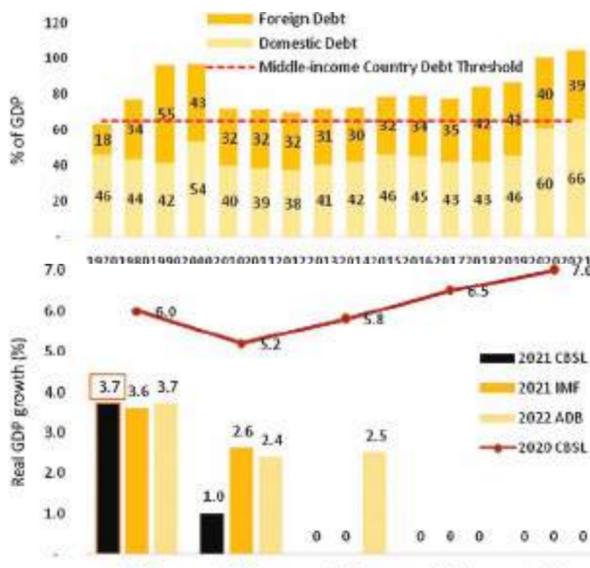

Further, the inherent weaknesses in the existing institutions and the rarity of FCs in the Asian context should not prevent the introduction of innovative institutions to the country. Sri Lanka should therefore consider creating an independent institution to provide a sound fiscal policy and sustainable public finances, one capable of preparing baseline macro forecasts and verifying adherence to transparency standards and best budgeting practices. Creating an FC will signal the government's firm commitment to sound economic management. This will positively impact the ongoing discussions with the IMF as FCs are considered critical partners during recovery. Therefore, establishing an FC would aid Sri Lanka in its efforts to restore sustainable and resilient public finances. "Are independent evaluations of fiscal policy possible?" and "Are the existing institutions capable of monitoring macroeconomic dynamics?". The answers to these questions are negative, thus indicating the lack of a solid

India provides US$1 mn to BIMSTEC to boost operational budget

India on Wednesday provided $1 million to the Bay of Bengal Initiative for Multi-Sectoral Technical and Economic Cooperation (BIMSTEC) Secretariat in Dhaka to increase its operational budget.

Indian Minister of State for External Affairs Rajkumar Ranjan Singh handed over a cheque for $1 million to BIMSTEC Secretary General Tenzin Lekphell in New Delhi.

On March 30, during the 5th BIMSTEC Summit in Colombo, Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi said his country would provide the BIMSTEC Secretariat with $1 million to increase its operational budget to strengthen its capacity.

The contribution to the operational budget will have to be used to complete key institution-building tasks collectively identified by the member states, the regional multilateral organisation said.

BIMSTEC members – Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Nepal, Sri Lanka, Myanmar and Thailand – lie in the littoral and adjacent areas of the Bay of Bengal.

SLASSCOM, LAN sign MoU to secure funds for tech entrepreneurs and start-ups

SLASSCOM and the Lankan Angel Network have signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to collaborate in assisting start-ups and entrepreneurs in Sri Lanka's tech sector to secure funding.

As a result of this partnership, Sri Lanka will directly benefit in terms of an increase in the levels of demand and supply for knowledge workers, growth in global exports and enhanced economic dynamism, greater information technology adoption and a higher incidence of technology-focused start-ups.

This MoU between SLASSCOM and LAN builds on the strengths of both entities. LAN will provide investment opportunities for potential tech entrepreneurs, who will be backed by seed funding, while also supporting start-ups in their journeys with specialist coaching and mentor services.

LAN will also provide support in the form of workshops for tech companies registered with SLASSCOM, empowering them with the skills and knowledge required to successfully pitch to Venture Capital (VC) funds and High Net-worth Investors (HNIs).

In return, SLASSCOM will reciprocate by bringing in its existing entrepreneur development programmes into this initiative. These include the WTech Entrepreneur Development Bootcamp Programme, Regional Entrepreneur Development Programme and the Tech Entrepreneur Market Access Program.

SLASSCOM Former Chairperson Sandra De Zoysa commented, "start-ups play a significant role in economic growth as they are the nucleus for innovation; creating more opportunities for employment, which in turn leads to a greater contribution towards economic success. Sri Lanka, as an emerging entrepreneurial country, has enabled many local start-ups and attracted a significant number of regional start-ups in the recent past that are seeking to scale." "Several of them are already great success stories. In fact, many of the of the highly successful IT/ BPM companies were start-ups within our eco-system that accelerated to maturity relatively fast to be the world class products and service providers that we see today. SLASSCOM's vision for 2025 is the launching 1,000 start-ups, creation of 200,000 jobs and generating $5 billion in export revenue."

LAN Chairperson Chandhi Dharmaratne noted, "it is essential that current and future technology-based start-ups are encouraged to scale, so they can become truly competitive in global markets." She further signalled that LAN had already evaluated several high-potential start-ups emerging from SLASSCOM's pipeline. Having exhibited the requisite criteria to move forward, these start-ups were being given the opportunity to pitch to LAN's Angel Fund Investment Committee.
