Award

An industrial dispute between the above-named parties was referred to Labour Tribunal (V), Badulla, by the Honourable Minister of Labour and Employment under section 4 (1) of the Industrial Disputes Act, Chapter 131, 1956 Revised Edition, as subsequently amended, for settlement by arbitration.

In the statement of the Commissioner of Labour which accompanied the Honourable Minister's order, the matters in dispute were stated to be whether the non-employment of—

- (b) Nee'latchiamma is justified and what relief each of them is entitled to.

When the matter was taken up for inquiry, the employer raised two preliminary issues in regard to the validity of the reference.

After hearing the parties on these issues, order was made rejecting the preliminary issues raised on behalf of the employer. The Order made by the Tribunal on these preliminary issues is appended. Thereafter, the Tribunal proceeded to inquiry into the facts of the dispute on 29th July, 1970, 17th August, 1970 and 29th August, 1970.

When the matter was taken up for further inquiry on 6th September, 1970, the parties informed the Tribunal that the matters in dispute have now been resolved amicably by the parties and that no dispute exists now.

Accordingly, I make no Award.

C. J. WEERASEKERA,
President,
Labour Tribunal.

Dated at Colombo, this 30th day of September, 1970.

ORDER ON THE PRELIMINARY ISSUES

This is a dispute referred to Labour Tribunal (5), Badulla, by the Honourable Minister of Labour, in terms of section 4 (1) of the Industrial Disputes Act for settlement by arbitration.

The preliminary issues raised are connected with the action taken by the Commissioner of Labour prior to the present reference for compulsory arbitration—to settle the dispute by conciliation by invoking those provisions of the Act relating to conciliation. I shall, therefore, first set out briefly these background facts.

The Commissioner of Labour has referred the dispute in August, 1967, under section 3 (c) of the Industrial Disputes Act to an Authorised Officer (E. 4). This Authorised Officer was authorised to inquire into the causes and circumstances of the aforesaid industrial dispute, and to endeavour to settle the said dispute by conciliation and to furnish him a report in terms of sub-section (1) or (4) of section 12 of the Act.

The Authorised Officer had not succeeded in settling the dispute, and, therefore, acting in terms of sub-section 4 of section 12 of the Act, made his recommendations for settlement of the dispute by his Report No. A-717 dated 1.2.68 (E. 1). The Commissioner, on receipt of the said Report, addressed the parties in terms of section 12 (7) (a) of the Act, requesting them to inform him within 14 days of the date of the letter (E. 6B) whether the parties accept or reject the recommendations made by the Authorised Officer. It was also stated in this letter that if no reply was received within the period of 14 days, that it will be presumed by the Commissioner that the recommendations made by the Authorised Officer were acceptable to the parties. The Employer, on receipt of E6B, wrote letter dated 10th March, 1968 (E6C), informing the Commissioner of Labour, that the Management was accepting the recommendations of the Authorised Officer. The Union wrote letter dated 24.3.68 (E6D), informing the Commissioner of Labour that the recommendations made by the Authorised Officer to settle the dispute by conciliation were totally unacceptable to them, as the Authorised Officer's findings had not been based on the weight of the facts elicited in the proceedings of the said case. The Union, therefore, requested the Commissioner of Labour to refer the dispute to compulsory arbitration in terms of section 4 (1) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Commissioner of Labour, by his letter dated 24th March, 1968 (page 45 of E3), informed the Union that the matter was receiving his attention. It would, however, appear that this letter (E6D) of the Union rejecting the recommendations made by the Authorised Officer, to settle the dispute should have been sent to the Commissioner within 14 days of the date of the Commissioner's letter (E6B). Section 12 (7) (a) of the Act stipulates that 'if no reply is received from such parties or representatives within the aforesaid 14 days, such settlement shall be deemed to be accepted by them'. As the letter of the Union was not sent within 14 days, that is, on or before 19.3.68, the Commissioner of Labour, it would appear then took action in terms of section 12 (7) (b) (i) of the Act (E2A) to publish in Government Gazette No. 14,797 of 11th April, 1968 the report made by the Authorised Officer, stating that the settlement recommended in the report of the Authorised Officer is deemed to be accepted by the parties in terms of section 12 (7) (a) of the Act. I am of the view that the Commissioner of Labour acted in accordance with the law in publishing this report under section 12 (7) (a) of the Act. The Union, by its letter dated 24.4.68 (E6F) protested about this action taken by the Commissioner, explaining the circumstances in which they could not reply the letter (E6B) of the Commissioner within the stipulated period of 14 days. The Commissioner in reply by letter dated April 29, 1968 (E6G), referred the Union to section 12 (7) (a) of the Act.

Section 12 (7) (b) (ii) provides that a settlement published in these circumstances by the Commissioner in the Gazette shall have the effect as though it were a settlement signed by both parties to the dispute. Section 14 of the Act provides that every settlement, which is for the time being in force, shall be binding on the parties.

Now, section 15 (1) provides that "any party, trade union, employer or workman bound by a settlement under the Act may repudiate the settlement by written notice in the prescribed form sent to the Commissioner, and to every other party, trade union, employer and workman bound by the settlement". The Union acting in terms of the said section 15 gave notice of their repudiation of the settlement on 6th May, 1968 (E6H). The Commissioner accepted the notice of repudiation as a valid notice of repudiation and the repudiation was published in terms of section 15 (2) (b) of the Act (E3A) in Ceylon Government Gazette No. 14,305 of June 7, 1968. In E3A the Commissioner declared that 'the aforesaid settlement shall cease to be in force on and after 1st July, 1968', in terms of section 15 (2) (b) of the Act.

Thereafter, the Commissioner acting under section 4 (1) of the Industrial Disputes Act referred the matter to compulsory arbitration on 23rd November, 1968. This reference was revoked by the Commissioner in terms of the provisions of the Act, and thereafter on 2nd July, 1969, the present reference was made.

Now, the preliminary issues raised on the present reference are:—

- (1) 'The matter in dispute was the subject matter before an Authorised Officer duly appointed by the Commissioner of Labour, and the Authorised Officer after having heard both parties in proceedings No. A-717 made his recommendations. The recommendations of the Authorised Officer were deemed to have been accepted by the parties and the said dispute came to an end; and, therefore, the dispute that was referred to an Authorised Officer was resolved and finally determined. In the circumstances the dispute that has been referred to this Tribunal by the Honourable Minister's Order No. W105/830 dated 2nd July, 1969, did not exist.'
- (2) 'That as the proceedings were concluded by the Authorised Officer in A-717, and the recommendations deemed to have been accepted by the parties, and the dispute settled and published in Government Gazette No. 14,797 dated 11.4.69, the Honourable Minister of Labour was not entitled in law to refer this dispute to this Tribunal as the dispute had been settled before an Authorised Officer in A-717. The dispute referred to in the present reference for arbitration was the same dispute that existed at the time of the dispute was referred to an Authorised Officer, and the proceedings concluded therein in A-717. The dispute that existed was settled by the order of the Authorised Officer in the proceedings of A-717 with the publication of the same in the Gazette.'

It would appear that the Legislature has prescribed several methods and procedures to be adopted by authorities under the Act, in resolving an industrial dispute. In the instant case, before the Honourable Minister took action under section 4 (1) to refer the dispute for settlement by arbitration, what the Commissioner of Labour has done is to invoke the provisions of the Act relating to settlement by conciliation. It has to be noted there are special provisions in the Act relating to settlements of an industrial dispute by conciliation—vide sections 11-15 of the Act. The Commissioner of Labour, in my view, acted correctly and in terms of the provisions of the Act, in considering the recommended settlement in the report of the Authorised Officer to be deemed to have been accepted by the parties, when the Union failed to notify the Commissioner within the prescribed period of 14 days whether the Union was accepting or rejecting the settlement.

The Union, in my view, considering the circumstances (or the predicament) in which they were placed in acted correctly and in accordance with the law when they repudiated the settlement, in terms of section 15 of the Act. The settlement was binding on the Union in terms of section 14 of the Act, so long as it was not repudiated in terms of section 15 of the Act. The Commissioner is bound in law (i.e. section 15 (2)) to accept a valid notice of repudiation and terminate a settlement, whatever may be its terms. When the Union repudiated the settlement in terms of the provisions of the Act, the dispute continued to exist in the eye of the law.

When the action taken by the Commissioner to settle the dispute by invoking the provisions of the Act relating to conciliation failed the Honourable Minister decided to invoke the provisions of the Act relating to compulsory arbitration. He was entitled in law to do so. He, therefore, referred the dispute under section 4 (1) of this Act to Labour Tribunal, Badulla, for compulsory arbitration.

I therefore reject the preliminary issues raised on behalf of the employer and the submissions made thereon and hold that the present reference is a valid reference.

In the case of regular night watchers who do night watching only, the Union reserves the right to canvass their cases separately.

Issue No. 10

The employer agrees to grant a Festival Advance of Rupees One hundred and fifty (Rs. 150) for any one festival of the workers choice to be repaid in equal instalments within a period of one year.

A worker shall not be entitled to the grant of a second festival advance unless he has fully repaid the earlier advance.

Only workers who have put in at least one year's service will be entitled to this advance.

I consider the above settlement just and equitable and make my award accordingly.

Award

The Honourable Minister of Labour, by virtue of the powers vested in him by section 4 (1) of the Industrial Disputes Act, Chapter 131 of the Legislative Enactments of Ceylon (1956 Revised Edition), as amended by Acts Nos. 14 of 1957, 62 of 1962, 4 of 1962 and 39 of 1968 (read with Industrial Disputes (Special Provisions) Act No. 37 of 1968) referred the above dispute to me on 23.7.70 for settlement by arbitration.

The matters in dispute, according to the statement of the Commissioner of Labour dated 10th July, 1970, accompanying the Honourable Minister's Order are as follows:—

- (1) Whether the non-offer to the following workers of the work that has been performed by them prior to the formation of a Branch Union at the Mills is justified and to what relief each of them is entitled.

W. Premaratne
T. G. P. Dissanayake
A. A. Weerasena Dias
M. G. Wijeratne
K. P. Pamaratne

- (2) Whether the denial of living quarters to members of the Union is justified and to what relief they are entitled.

Mr. Isidore Fernando, Advocate, instructed by Mr. C. E. Gurusinghe, Proctor, appeared for Messrs. Sedawatte Mills Limited. Mr. Edgar De Silva appeared for the Applicant Union. A. A. Weerasena Dias and M. G. Wijeratne, present.

W. Premaratne, T. G. P. Dissanayake and K. P. Pamaratne have resigned, and are no longer members of the United Tea, Rubber and Local Produce Workers' Union. K. P. Pamaratne had filed a separate case in the Labour Tribunal and had withdrawn his claim. K. P. Pamaratne has written a letter, marked 'A' stating that he is withdrawing his claim against Messrs. Sedawatte Mills Limited.

After discussions the matters in dispute were settled.

Dispute No. 1: Messrs. Sedawatte Mills Limited consented to offer work to Messrs. A. A. Weerasena Dias and M. G. Wijeratne as from 1.7.70 if they do report for work on that date. The Employer also agreed to offer them Rs. 5.80 for each day they will do loading and unloading work into lorries and bullock carts, and that they would be given the salary they were drawing before the dispute, i.e., Rs. 5.07 and Rs. 4.07, respectively, when they do work in the Yard other than loading. The Employer also agreed not to consider the period of non-employment of these two workmen as a break in the continuity of their services for the purpose of payment of gratuity, if any. This offer was accepted by Mr. Edgar De Silva and the two workmen, A. A. Weerasena Dias and M. G. Wijeratne.

Dispute No. 2: Mr. Edgar De Silva for the Union stated that he did not pursue the second matter in dispute and withdrew the demand for any relief under it.

I consider the terms of settlement just and equitable. I make award accordingly.

N. KRISHNADASAN,
Arbitrator.
