Short title Operation.

1 This Ordinance may be cited for all purposes as "The Firearms Ordinance, 1900," and shall come into operation in such provinces, judicial districts, or judicial divisions, and at such times as the Governor shall, from time to time by Proclamation to be published in the Government Gazette, appoint.

Repeal.

2 From and after the coming into operation of this Ordinance in any province, judicial district, or judicial division, the enactments mentioned in column 1 of the first schedule hereto shall be repealed in respect of such province, district, or division to the extent mentioned in column 3 thereof, but such repeal shall not affect—

- (a) Any penalty, forfeiture, or punishment incurred in respect of any offence committed against any enactment hereby repealed; nor
- (b) The continuance of any legal proceeding already instituted, and which may be pending under any enactment so repealed.

Where any unrepealed Ordinance incorporates or refers to any provision of any enactment hereby repealed, such unrepealed Ordinance shall be deemed to incorporate or refer to the corresponding provision of this Ordinance.

Interpretation.

3 For the purposes of this Ordinance—

"Gun" includes every gun, rifle, revolver, and pistol, and every part of a gun, rifle, revolver, or pistol. It also includes every air-gun or other kind of gun from which any shot, bullet, or missile can be discharged, and every part of such air-gun or other kind of gun, but does not include any toy gun or toy pistol from which any shot, bullet, or missile is discharged by the force of a spring alone.

"Government agent" includes the assistant government agent of a district, but not the office assistant of any government agent. It also includes in respect of any province, judicial district, or judicial division any person specially appointed by the Governor, by notification in the Government Gazette, to issue licenses under this Ordinance within such province, judicial district, or judicial division.

License to possess
a gun.

4 From and after the coming into operation of this Ordinance within any province, judicial district, or judicial division, no person therein shall have in his custody or possess or use any gun without having first obtained a license therefor in manner hereinafter provided: Provided that nothing herein contained shall apply or extend to any manufacturer of or dealer in guns duly licensed as hereinafter provided; nor to any person actually employed by any such manufacturer or dealer to carry or convey guns for the purposes of his trade, in respect of such carriage or conveyance; nor to the custody of any gun by any person entrusted by a person duly licensed to possess a gun with the temporary custody (whether as servant of the owner or by way of security for any debt or otherwise) of any gun for which a license has been obtained; and provided also that no member of the family of a deceased person who had at the time of his decease license to possess a gun shall become liable in respect of such gun to any of the penalties

Proviso 1.

Proviso 2.

hereinafter provided for possessing a gun without a license, until after the expiration of one calendar month from the death of such licensee.

Licenses how to be obtained.

5 Every person desirous to obtain any license mentioned in the last preceding section shall make application to that effect either verbally or in writing to the government agent of the province in which the applicant is for the time being residing, specifying the name and residence of the applicant and the number and description of the gun or guns for which a license or licenses may be required. Such government agent may thereupon issue to the applicant a license for each gun specified in the application as near as is material in the form A specified in the second schedule hereto.

Stamps on licenses.

6 (1) Every license issued as in the last preceding section provided shall be on a stamp of one rupee and twenty-five cents, except in the case of a revolver or pistol, in respect of which a stamp of fifty rupees shall be required; and such license shall be annual only, and shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next ensuing after the issue thereof.

When dispensed with.

(2) It shall be lawful for the government agent in any exceptional case in which in his discretion he shall see fit so to do to issue such license free of stamp duty, but he shall forthwith report every such case to the Governor.

Guns may be marked by the government agent, if necessary.

7 Whenever any gun for which any license is required is not marked with such names or figures, or in such other manner as that the same may be readily identified, it shall be lawful for the government agent to whom the application is made, before granting the license applied for, to require the applicant to produce to him any such gun, and thereupon to cause the same to be marked, either on the stock or barrel, with some permanent mark, whereby the same may afterwards be known and identified, but in such manner as not to injure or disfigure the same; and such gun when duly marked shall, with the license relating thereto, be delivered to the said applicant; and the expenses attendant on such marking shall be defrayed by the government agent out of the public funds.

Register of licenses.

8 Every government agent shall register all such licenses so granted in a book to be kept for that purpose; and it shall be lawful for any person, at any time during office hours, to demand inspection of the said book, and also to take any copy or extract therefrom.

Proceedings where license is lost, destroyed, &c.

9 If any license granted under the provisions of this Ordinance shall be by any casualty destroyed, defaced, or lost, it shall be lawful for the person to whom the same shall have been granted to report the same to the government agent for the province wherein such person resides; and if such government agent shall be satisfied of the fact of such casualty or loss, he shall grant to such person a certificate as near as is material in the form B in the second schedule hereto, reciting such loss, and setting out the purport and effect of the license so lost, defaced, or destroyed, and such certificate shall be in lieu thereof, and of like force and effect.

Proof of ownership.

10 The occupier of any house or premises in which any gun shall be found shall, for the purposes of this Ordinance, be deemed and taken to be the possessor of such gun.

License to make or sell guns.

11 From and after the coming into operation of this Ordinance in any province, judicial district, or judicial division, no person shall make or keep for or expose to sale in such province, district, or division, by way of auction or otherwise, any gun without a license from the government agent of such province, or of the province within which such district or division is situated, which license shall be as near as is material in the form C in the second schedule hereto, and shall be on a stamp of fifty rupees. Such license shall be annual only, and shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next ensuing after the issue thereof.

Dealers to make returns.

12 Every person licensed under section 11 shall, whenever required by the Inspector-General of Police, furnish him half-yearly or oftener with returns showing the number and description of the guns made or sold by such licensee, and the names and residences of the persons to whom such guns were respectively sold, together with the dates of the several sales and such other particulars as the Inspector-General of Police may reasonably require.

License may be refused or cancelled.

13 It shall be lawful for the government agent in his discretion and upon just and reasonable grounds to be recorded by him to refuse to issue, or when issued to cancel and withdraw, any license under this Ordinance, and any license so cancelled and withdrawn shall immediately cease to be of any force or effect. The government agent shall forthwith report every such refusal or cancellation, together with the grounds thereof, to the Governor, who, with the advice of the Executive Council, shall confirm or reverse such refusal or cancellation, or make other order in the matter as to him shall seem just.

Offences and penalties.

14 The following penalties are imposed for the following acts, which are hereby declared to be offences under this Ordinance :

- (1) Any person possessing or having in his custody, or using, or carrying any gun in any province, judicial district, or judicial division within which this Ordinance is in operation, without a license therefor as required by section 4, or contrary to the terms of such license, shall be liable on conviction to a fine which may extend to fifty rupees, or imprisonment, rigorous or simple, for a period which may extend in the case of a first conviction to one month, or in the case of a second or subsequent conviction to three months, and such gun shall be liable to confiscation in the discretion of the court. If such gun is proved to be the property of some person other than the person in whose custody it is so found, such other person shall be also guilty of an offence and liable to the same punishment, unless he proves that such first-mentioned person had such gun in his custody, or carried, or used it without his knowledge or against his consent.
- (2) Any person who shall wilfully obliterate, or deface, or alter, counterfeit, or forge any mark placed by any government agent on any gun under the provisions of section 7 hereof, or shall mark any gun with any mark resembling or intended to resemble any mark so used by such government agent with intent thereby to expose any person to any fine, or to defraud Her Majesty of any stamp duty, or to commit any other fraud, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine of two hundred rupees.
- (3) Any person who shall have in his custody or possession for the purpose of his trade as a maker or dealer in guns, in any province, judicial district, or judicial division within which this Ordinance is in operation, any gun without having first obtained a license as required by section 11, which license shall be still in force and unexpired, or contrary to the terms of such license, shall be liable to a fine of two hundred rupees. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent any person licensed to possess a gun under this Ordinance from selling any such gun without having obtained a license under section 11.
- (4) Any headman or officer of police or any peace officer who, having good reason to know or believe any person to be guilty of having in his custody, or using, carrying, possessing, making, or selling any gun without a license as by this Ordinance required fails to inform against such person, shall be liable to a fine of fifty rupees in respect of every failure so to inform against such person.

Police court may issue search warrant.

15 Upon its being made to appear to any police court that there are good grounds for believing that in any house, building, or place within the local limits of its jurisdiction there is to be found any gun, for the making, possession, or use of which there is no license issued under this Ordinance and in force, it shall be lawful for such court, after such inquiry as it thinks necessary, by warrant under the hand of a magistrate of such court, to authorize any peace officer, as defined in "The Criminal Procedure Code, 1898," to search such house, building, or place and take possession of and convey before such court any gun therein found, and such warrant shall be executed subject to the provisions in the said Criminal Procedure Code contained relative to the execution of search warrants issued under the said Code.

Public servant
may arrest without warrant.

16 It shall be lawful for any public servant, as defined in the Penal Code, to call upon any person possessing, carrying, or using a gun to forthwith produce his license, and to arrest without warrant any person possessing, carrying, or using a gun without a license as herein provided, and to detain such gun in his custody until such time as he can produce the same with the person arrested before a magistrate competent to try the offence for which such person shall have been arrested.

Police court to have jurisdiction.

17 Every offence under this Ordinance shall be tried in the police court having jurisdiction over the division in which such offence is committed, notwithstanding such offence is hereby made punishable by a fine which it is beyond the ordinary jurisdiction of such court to inflict. And the provisions of sections 63-66, both inclusive, of the Ceylon Penal Code shall be applicable to the cases of all convictions under this Ordinance.

Provisions of Code as to imprisonment in default of payment.

Half fines to the informer.

18 It shall be lawful for the court, in the case of any conviction under this Ordinance, to direct that any sum not exceeding half the fine actually recovered and realized shall be paid to the informer.

Proof of license to be on accused.

19 Whenever any person is charged under the provision of this Ordinance with having in his custody, or using, carrying, possessing, making, or selling any gun without a license the proof that such person is licensed shall be on such person; but it shall be lawful for the court to award a reasonable sum in lieu of costs to the accused against any person who has made a vexatious complaint against him, and such sum shall be recoverable in like manner as a fine imposed under the provisions of this Ordinance.

Compensation in lieu of costs.

Prosecutions
when barred.

20 No prosecution shall be instituted against any person for any offence committed against any of the provisions of this Ordinance after the lapse of three months from the time at which the offence is alleged to have been committed.

Exemptions.

21 Nothing in this Ordinance contained shall render it necessary for any person employed in the Prisons Department in the custody or supervision of prisoners, or for any person serving in Her Majesty's forces, or in any police force, or in any corps of pioneers or volunteers within this island to obtain a license in respect of any gun intrusted to or used by any such person in such capacity.

22 It shall be lawful for the Governor in his discretion from time to time, by writing under the hand of the Colonial Secretary, to exempt any person or the holder of any office during his tenure of such office from the operation of this Ordinance, and such exemption when made to cancel or revoke. None of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed to apply to any person so exempted while such exemption continues in force.
