DRAFT ORDINANCE.

MINUTE.

The following Draft of a proposed Ordinance is published for general information:—

An Ordinance to amend "The Colombo Sailors' Home Ordinance, 1877."

Preamble.

WHEREAS by "The Colombo Sailors' Home Ordinance (hereinafter referred to as the 'principal Ordinance'), after reciting that the trustees therein named had commenced the erection on the land and premises mentioned in the schedule to the said Ordinance of a building to be used as a sailors' home, it was enacted amongst other things that the said home should be opened for the admission and entertainment of sailors, and that it should be thenceforth managed and governed by the said trustees in accordance with such rules and regulations as the said trustees should from time to time establish:

And whereas the said building has been completed, and has for some years past been used as a home for the admission and entertainment of soldiers as well as of sailors; and it is expedient that the said home should continue to be so used: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of Ceylon, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows:

Short title.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as "the Colombo Sailors' Home Ordinance, 1905."

2. The following section shall be added to the principal Ordinance and shall be numbered 7, namely:

Addition of section to principal Ordinance with regard to admission of soldiers into the home.

Notwithstanding anything in this Ordinance contained the trustees of the said sailors' home shall permit the buildings and premises now vested in them subject to the trusts of said home, and any further buildings and premises which may hereafter become vested in them as such trustees, to be open for the admission and entertainment of soldiers as well as of sailors, subject to such rules and regulations as the trustees may from time to time lay down for the management and government of the said home.

By His Excellency's command,

G. M. FOWLER,
Acting Colonial Secretary.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, October 25, 1905.

Objects and Reasons.

THE Colombo Sailors' Home Ordinance requires the trustees to keep the home for the use of sailors. In point of fact the Home has for some time past been open to soldiers as well as to sailors.

2. The draft Ordinance permits the trustees to use the present home and any further premises which may be acquired by them as a Home for soldiers as well as for sailors.

October 19, 1905.

ALFRED G. LASCELLES,
Attorney-General.
